Ricks & Wilkinson

April turns Mayward. April has a double function to perform. She must, by hook or crook, get Winter to leave the stage, and she is naturally disagreeable until he has gone. Then in a moment she becomes all smiles and sunshine, and gives us a foretaste of May.

Today everybody is ready to welcome the new season, and there is no place like this store to help you to the new things and make Spring favorable and delightful. Men of good judgment come to this store for their furnishings.

Most women know that we carry a splendid line of Dress Goods and Trimmings.

Standard Patterns Advance styles for June now ready The May Designer, 10 cents Fashion Sheets always free.

Woman 116 Years Old.

Montgomery, Ala., April 29.—Mrs. Maryella Keith, the oldest person in Alabama, died this morning, having celebrated her 116th birthday March 7th. She retained her intellectual faculties till death. She had eighteen children, forty-four living grand children, twenty great grand children and two great great grand children.

Cartersville, Ga., April 29.—Perry Edwards, a negro woman said to have been born in 1794, died today at her home, seven miles north of here.

Senator Hanna is a great party boss, but he owns up that he is ruled by his wife in many matters. He says he would fill his office with girl stenographers, book-keepers and clerks, instead of with men, but for his wife's objection. Mrs. Hanna will not allow him to have his way. Poor Mark! But there are others.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

This Suicide Club.

St. Petersburg, April 30.—The police have discovered a club of suicides, which has obtained considerable size and influence in Russia with branches at Moscow, Kieff and Odessa.

Members of the section are sworn to commit suicide when existence involves the expense of others. As soon as a member reaches the fatal age, he goes to other members of the sect and they wall him up in an underground vault. The police have broken up the sect arresting many of the members while engaged in their awful rites.

The state Sunday school convention will meet at Greensboro next year.

Federal Officials Salaries Not Liable to income Tax.

Raleigh, N. C., April 30.—Judge Simonton rendered his opinion in Judge Purnell's case wherein it is contended that the state cannot collect the income tax on the salary of federal officials. Judge Simonton says that North Carolina act imposing such a tax is in violation of the United States constitution, but says that the federal court has no jurisdiction in this case because the amount involved is less than two thousand dollars. According to this decision if the state insist on Judge Purnell's paying the income tax he will have to resist in the state courts, since the tax would not amount to $2,000.

Powder Works Blown Up.

Holidaysburg, Pa., Pa., April 30.—The plant of the Cresson Powder Works, owned by Pittsburg capitalists, and located on Piney creek, ten miles south of this town, was wrecked by an explosion today. Nine workmen were killed. The powder factory is located in a remote section of the county, near the limestone quarries of the American Wire and Nail Company, where 500 men are employed. Those men and the residents of the neighborhood immediately sought places of safety, fearing further disaster from the great quantities of explosives remaining in the magazines and storehouses.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., May 2.

J. M. Blow is acting as registrar at Winterville today instead of J. A. Harrington.

Mrs. J. D. Cox had three of the largest strawberries we have ever seen on exhibition here this week, being some grown in her garden. The largest measured 4½ inches in circumference and was 1½ inches long.

We cannot believe it was the lack of electric lights that caused a certain couple to fall in the ditch near the church Sunday night, but take it for granted that they were so absorbed in the sermon which they had just heard that, well, something else might possibly have been on their minds to such an extent as to prevent them from even seeing the ditch.

Major Neal, of Scotland Neck, was here yesterday.

Miss Cornelia Mumford, from near Ayden, who spent Saturday and Sunday with Misses Mimie and Dora Cox, returned home Monday afternoon.

Wiley Brown, of Greenville, stopped over a short while yesterday. He was sent to pick up a brick to hit B. F. Manning. It is thought that his reason for desisting was the thought that it would be such a great pity for good looking men like themselves to be engaged in anything of the kind.

Prof. G. E. Lineberry, who has been attending the state Sunday school convention at Kinston, returned yesterday morning.

Joshua Manning is a capital good fellow and R. G. Chapman will testify to the fact he can be depended on in an emergency. The other day while en route to Washington in crossing some swamp Joshua drove off the punching, causing the buggy to mire down (Josh said up) to the hub. They were not to be delayed by such a small occurrence, however, and after trying in vain to extricate themselves Joshua promptly stripped off shoes, rolled up pants and plunged in. First taking Mr. Chapman on his back he bore him safely to the foot logs and then bore the horse and buggy out of the swamp. He would not have the pretty girls in Washington to know this and we hope they will not find it out.

Mrs. W. J. Kittrell, of Grifton, who has been spending some days here, returned home Thursday.

Trucks, Trucks, Trucks. Farmers, while we make trucks you think trucks and don't be satisfied until you have investigated thoroughly the merits of the "Handy" trucks.

Commencement at Winterville.

Winterville High School has sent out neat invitations to the commencement exercises May 13th, 14th and 15th. There will be concerts on the 13th at 8 p. m., and on the 15th at 7 p. m. Dr. Calvin S. Blackwell, of Norfolk, will preach the sermon at 8 p. m., on the 14th. The literary address will be delivered by Gov. C. B. Aycock at 10:30 a. m. on the 15th, and the debate by the Vance Literary Society will take place at 2:30 p. m. the same day.

TAR BABY IN TAR RIVER.

RODE OFF THE BRIDGE ON A BICYCLE.

WHEEL FINDS WATERY GRAVE

BUT THE ONLY INJURY TO THE DARKY WAS THE SUDDEN AND ICY BATH.

This morning a colored man, whose name we did not know, took a dive off the bridge into the river. The feat was not premeditated nor prearranged, and no audience was invited to witness it, nor was any collection taken from those who happened to be near enough to see the plunge.

It came about after this wise: The bridge keeper had opened the draw for a boat to pass through. The colored man was going out of town on a bicycle. Down the hill leading to the bridge is an ideal place for coasting and when the rider reached this he let his wheel go at full speed. On he went faster and faster, the wheel gaining momentum at each revolution. People on the bridge waiting to pass shouted to warn the rider of the danger ahead, but the warning seemed to fall on deaf ears. Forward he sped like a shot from a cannon with never a break until rider and wheel had plunged through the opening and dived into the surging waters 30 feet below.

Those on the bridge rushed to the draw to see what went with the man and wheel. The man soon appeared on the surface of the water. He swam to a post of the bridge and held to it until rescued by some men in a skiff, but the wheel kept on to the bottom of the river.

The man was not hurt at all, a ducking and lost wheel being the only damage. He said he heard the warning of the people on the bridge, saw the draw was open, and thought he could easily dismount when nearer to it, but when he got there he just couldn't stop at all and went right over into the river.

GOEBEL'S ASSASSIN

James Howard Convicted of Murder and His Punishment Fixed at Imprisonment For Life.

Frankfort, Ky., April 30.—In the third trial of James Howard for the killing of Governor William Goebel, over three years ago, the prisoner was found guilty. The jury first reported that it could not agree. Judge Cantrill then sent its members back to the jury room with instructions to remain until an agreement was reached. A half hour later the jury reported with a verdict of guilty and fixing the punishment at life imprisonment.

The jurors all voted for a verdict of guilty, the disagreement being as to the extent of punishment. Death was favored by all but Juror Burkes, who announced that he would under no circumstances vote for the death penalty, and a verdict for life sentence was agreed upon.

Clothes of Quality

Our smart, handsome Spring Suits are decidedly well-bred—and you can call them "Clothes of Quality," for they certainly contain all the qualities appreciated by good dressers. The newest fabrics are here in single and double-breasted sacks, with the new narrow collars and lapels.

The suits have not been out of the makers' hands long enough to lose their bloom of freshness—splendid time to make your selection. Prices to please.

THE New White Front

The Ladies' Furnishing Store.

With pleasure we announce the arrival of the Celebrated "Regina" and "Autohav" Shoes. The factory was so overcrowded with orders that we were forced to wait quite awhile, but they are here now, some of them, and others will be here in a few days. The noblest and most up-to-date in town. Every part of "Regina" and "Autohav" shoes is of uniform high quality. Soles, uppers, linings and trimmings are always just as good as can be procured. From the fashioning of the last to the finishing of the shoe no expense is spared. This explains why these shoes are worn by fashionable and well-dressed women everywhere. The shoes need no introduction to those who have worn them, but to those who have not worn them, let us say if you want to know what shoe satisfaction really means, you must wear the

PACTOLUS ITEMS.

PACTOLUS, N. C., May, 1, 1903.

Saturday was quiet. Sunday, rain all day. Monday, we are having it cold but better.

Primaries Monday night. Town election next Monday, "who?"

C. E. Bradley went to Washington Tuesday on business.

R. R. Fleming returned from Washington Tuesday morning.

Our old friend, S. W. Andrews, of Elm City, was in town Tuesday. Sam looks as young as ever.

C. E. Bradley, W. I. Peal and H. G. Huntly took in the carnival at Washington Tuesday night. The boys reports a good time.

Now isn't it dull. A dog fight would cut quite a figure such days. Drummers' weather seems to be on us now. Well, its all right anyway, haven't much to do now.

Spring has smiled upon us at last. Do not bein too much hurry in dispensing with your heavy clothing, but it would be well for you to buy a new straw hat from C. E. Bradley & Co.

We live and learn, and thank ful, oh me, if the buttons don't all get blown off before budding time. We are to have something new in the near future in the way of an enterprise. Ask some one else, not me. Now who was dat.

Big Cotton Sale.

Goldsboro, N. C., April 30.—Mr. T. E. Yelverton, of Fremont, sold 311 bales of cotton to the Parker Cotton Company, of this city, for 10 1-8 cents per pound. Mr. W. R. Parker, who bought the cotton says that the cotton will all average strict middling and is the finest lot of cotton he ever saw in one lot during the several years he has been in the business. Mr. Yelverton has had some of the cotton for some time. He has been selling the low grades of his crop from year to year and as he did not need the money he kept the best for good prices. He will receive over $16,000 for the cotton he sold.

THE SOUTHERN SITUATION.

Though we are not always in accord with the policy of the Manufacturer's Record, yet it is fair to admit, that paper comes as near to the facts regarding the "Southern situation" as any paper, North or South. In its current issue the Manufacturer's Record says.

The Manufacturer's Record believes that the South must work out its own salvation, that it must face and solve all the problems of its own civilization with outside interference. It believes that the attempt of outsiders to take the lead in deciding how the South shall carry on its educational work, how it shall regulate its hours of employment, how it shall meet the race question, will inevitably do much harm. Much of this outside interference is impudence pure and simple, stimulated by a desire to run other people's affairs. Much of it is inspired wholly by a selfish desire, for the benefit of others, to injure and retard the South's progress. All of this can be said without reflecting on the well-meaning of the good, honest people who, misled by notoriety-seeking or hired agitators, have joined in this work. These agitations all retard the advancement of the best interests of the very people for whose welfare they are supposed to have been started. The race issue as "lately raised in politics, and the attempt to force upon the South "the same education for blacks and whites," coming at about the same time, have already done infinite harm to the negro, and many years will be required to overcome the ill-effect upon that race.

The worldliness of the church of today has no stronger evidence than in the fact that at the same hour when a minister is standing in the pulpit trying to teach sinners the way of salvation, most of the church members can be found at a show. When such things are so there need be little wonder at the lack of confidence the world has in the religion of the average church member.

We haven't any sympathy for the majority of those Philadelphia newspapers which have been muzzled by Quay's legislature. More than one of them have often needed a daily coating of lime or other disinfectant.

It will be noticed that the president and ex president breathed the same air at St. Louis without cussing each other out. Respectfully referred to the gentleman "in" Nebraska.

The Edenton lad says Hearst's age is no bar to his getting the presidential nomination. But there are other things that put a barb wire fence around William Randolph's ambition.

We rejoice to know that Russia does not intend to go to war against this country on account of the Manchuria incident. This is our busy baseball season.

From press accounts the dedication of the St. Louis exposition was attended by the customary frills and flammeries.

Prof. Pennypacker, of the New York high school, has set a good precedent in refusing to allow young students who smoke cigarettes to associate with the girls of the school.

Several hundred people killed and wounded by a top heavy mountain in British Columbia. Who ever heard of mountains turning turtle in North Carolina?

It is a hundred to one shot that Joe Jefferson will not travel around the country with a tale of woe about "having enough of the South."

Experience is said to be the best teacher, but it certainly did not have much effect on William Kissam Vanderbilt.

Some people are so suspicious that they count the strokes of the clock to see if it is doing good time.

We believe it has been finally decided that Pocahontas did not save the life of Sir Walter Raleigh.

"Tar Heel" is becoming obsolete as a name for North Carolina. We are the "Strawberry State."

We Three.

The Observer lifts up its voice in unison with the voices of The Greenville REFLECTOR and Raleigh Post and expresses the wish that there might be a cessation of the chat about "the negro problem." The negro is being discussed to death. Then we would like to hear a universal silence on the subject of Col. Wm. J. O'Bryan, of Newbraska—as one of our friends calls the state of that statesman, but Col. O'Bryan will not permit that.—Charlotte Observer.

A Milwaukee woman has named her child "Theodore Roosevelt Henry Clay Payne Bradenburg." Is this not a case for the society for the prevention of cruelty to children?—Durham Sun.

Stuart Robson, the veteran comedian who has just died, was once a compositor. A print shop is surely not a bad place for commencing a comedian's career. It develops more than the average number of comic situations.—Greensboro Telegram.

Jones—The Livertons are the happiest couple I know of. They are like a pair of lovers. Jaynes—And yet Liverton can say the meanest things about his wife. You know what an ass he is? He says she made him what he is.—Boston Transcript.

The English lord who once drove a hack in Charlotte has bobbed up again. But it is refreshing to find that he is still unashamed of having had to work for his living.—Greensboro Telegram.

When you ask a woman about a lecture she went to, her answer is something about colors and materials.

Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

By dissolving a little gelatin in milk the milk can be carried in solid blocks and would gain rather than lose nutrient value.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Several agents have been sent to South America by the Hungarian government to study the commercial situation.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

A Visit to the Metropolis

[Original.]

In New York on Fifth avenue, not far from the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, in the buildings which forty years ago were occupied for dwellings, are a number of shops of different kinds. One morning Howard Dyson, who had recently struck gold in Colorado and was visiting New York to see the sights, emerged from the hotel, walked a few steps on Thirty-third street, crossed Fifth avenue and proceeded leisurely southward. Suddenly he stopped and faced a shop window.

The main feature for display was a wax figure of a woman in costly attire of the very latest pattern. Never were face and shoulders more true to life. The image was not only beautiful, but there was an aristocratic mien about it which could only have been modeled from a woman of noble lineage. Dyson stood spellbound.

"It beats all," he muttered to himself, "what marvelous things are to be seen in this wonderful city. Who would ever suppose that lovely creature could be made of wax, stuffed with straw? I don't believe it's wax at all. The bosom rises and falls just like that of a human being."

Dyson watched the figure as long as he could without attracting attention, then walked down to the Fifth Avenue hotel and back, stopping and standing again before the wonderful figure; then, calling an automobile cab, he rode through Central park, returned to his hotel, lunched and, lighting a cigar, strolled out to take another view of the wax figure. This time it did not seem so lifelike. The flesh was waxy, and the hair grew out of a waxy scalp. He wondered how he could have seen anything in it to make him think that it might be a living being. He determined to enter the store, look over the goods and ask some questions. He found an old man who spoke with a strong French accent. After being shown a number of articles for which he had no use whatever he began to talk to the old man about the figure in the window.

"How do you make the thing breathe?" he asked.

"Ah, m'sieu, when I was young I visited Mme. Tussaud's waxwork show in Paris, where I saw the reclining figure of a woman made to appear to breathe. I was not content till I had made machinery for a like purpose. That machinery is now in the figure."

"When I first looked at it, there was more appearance of life about it than there is now."

"Oul? When you first saw it, the sun was in the east, the figure in shadow. Now the sun is on it."

That evening Dyson spoke to one of the clerks in his hotel and asked him about the old Frenchman.

"The Count de Guronno? He is a ruined French spendthrift who came over here recently and to make a living opened a shop."

Dyson spent a month in New York, every day passing the wax figure half a dozen times at least and always stopping to look at it. Whether it was the arrangement of the hair or the expression on the face or the attitude, or all of these, the thing seemed to have been modeled after some one who had lived long ago. Dyson finally noticed that between 11 and 12 o'clock in the morning and between 3 and 4 in the afternoon it looked like life, while at all other times it was waxy. One day he came to a sudden determination. Walking resolutely into the store, he faced the count.

"Mr. Count," he said, "you can't fool me any longer. The image is only in the window two hours each day and is no image at all. It's a woman, and the woman I want. I am a bachelor and rich. This woman is some relative of yours who has followed you in your misfortune. I desire to propose for her hand."

A cunning smile broke over the Frenchman's face.

"You are right, m'sieur."

The count admitted that the woman was his relative. He promised to speak to her about Dyson's proposition, inviting him to call the next day, shortly before 3 o'clock, when the flesh and blood would be relieved from duty by the wax image.

"M'sieur," said the count when Dyson called the next day, "if you like we will proceed to make the settlements." And he produced a contract making over $100,000 in case of marriage and a forfeit of $10,000 in case Dyson should change his mind. The lover did not like the $10,000 clause, but his mind was made up that the possession of this beautiful sinner of French nobility must be his, and he signed. A few minutes after the execution of the paper the count went to the window and under pretense of rearranging it held up a curtain behind which the transfer was effected, and the woman stepped into the shop.

"Ah, m'sieur," she said, bending her eyes to the floor, "I have heard how you have honored me," then passed to a room at the back of the shop.

Half an hour later the door through which she had emerged was opened, and an old woman shriveled to the bone entered the shop.

"Permit me, m'sieur," said the count, "to present my sister. She has been every day made up to look like a wax figure from portrait of herself painted forty years ago."

Dyson stared at the frightful apparition for a few moments, then turned and left the shop. The next morning he drew on Denver for $10,000 and paid the forfeit. He followed his draft immediately, having seen all he wanted of New York.

is best because:

1. It costs less to do a job of painting with it for it covers most surface, and spreads easiest.

2. It looks best because it brushes out evenly, the oil in it is purest, and the colors clearest and most lasting.

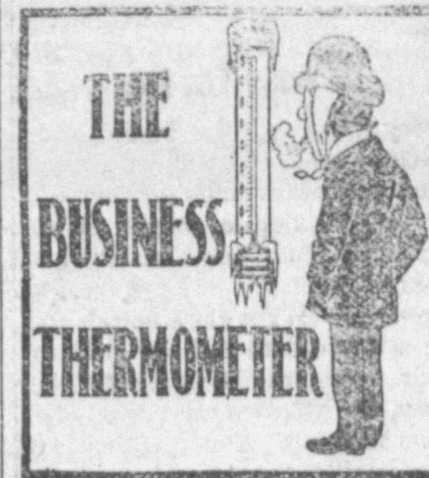

3. It wears longest, and is most economical, because it puts off for the longest time the need for repainting.

CURED WHEN OTHERS FAILED

1056 Winnemac Avenue, CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 25, 1902.

Wine of Cardui can always be relied upon to cure when everything else fails. It is a certain cure for female diseases in their worst forms. I suffered for years with ulceration. Intense pains in the womb and ovaries and dreadful headaches unfitted me for my work. Finally I grew so ill that I had to keep to my bed. The pains were so intense at times as to cause spasms and a disagreeable discharge drained my life forces. In my extremity after all else had failed, I tried Wine of Cardui. After using it for two weeks I began to improve so rapidly that I felt encouraged to keep up the treatment, which I did for eight weeks, but at the end of that time I was entirely cured. What a relief was mine and how new and beautiful life looked to me when my health was restored. Only those who have passed through such a siege of sickness as I have will understand how much I value Wine of Cardui. It is indeed a boon to sick women.

Frances Mitchell

Secretary, North Chicago Frauen Verein.

Every weak woman needs Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui cures disordered and painful menstruation, periodical headaches, falling of the womb and leucorrhoea. It cures extreme cases of these troubles. It strengthens girls approaching womanhood, helps bring children to barren homes, makes pregnancy and childbirth easier, prevents miscarriages and is the best medicine ever made for use during the change of life. Why permit the good women in your home to suffer another day? Every druggist has $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

PERSONAL NOTES

Brief Mention of People Met With in the Social World

T. M. Moore returned to Roanoke Rapids today.

Y. T. Ormand, of Kinston, spent yesterday and today here.

S. W. Andrews returned to Elm City today.

Mrs. R. H. Hunsucker and Miss Mimie Cox, of Winterville spent today here.

Deputy Sheriff L. W. Tucker is sick and yesterday went to his father's, in the country, until he gets better.

Dr. W. D. Morton, who has been holding a meeting this week in the Presbyterian church, left this morning for his home in Rocky Mount.

Preferred Hogs to Land.

They tell a good one on a prominent real estate man of Waurika. Some time ago he carried a prospector over on Beaver creek to show him a certain claim. He told the man that it was an exceptionally fine claim, that the land did not overflow and that he would sell it to him for $4,000. The man looked around and discovered some red mud way up in a tree and asked the real estate man what caused that mud in the tree tops if the land did not overflow. The agent promptly replied that there was a kind of hog raised over in the Chickasaw country which used to range on the creek and that they rubbed the mud on the trees. The prospector took a look over the land, glanced up in the tree again and told the Waurika man that he wouldn't take the claim, but he would give him $4,000 for a couple of those hogs.—Kansas City Journal.

The Cranberry.

The value of the cranberry as a medicinal agent was early recognized by the American aborigines, who prepared poultices from them to extract the venom from poisoned arrows. On the same principle they are used now as a remedy for erysipelas, taken internally or applied as a poultice. In malarial and typhoid conditions the acid of the fruit is specially commended, while dyspeptics who lack gastric juice are also offered cranberries. Eaten raw they are said to be an excellent remedy for biliousness. As a health food cranberries should not be strained, as too much of their substance is lost.

Sugar Making in 1700.

The historian Lafitau, the period of whose observation dated back to 1700-05, describes how in March the Indians make transverse incisions with their hatchets, from which trickles an abundance of water, which they afterward boil over a fire. He says the sugar thus made has nearly always a burned taste, but that the French make it better than the Indian women, from whom they learned how to make it. Bossu, writing in 1756, is equally explicit as to the source of sugar making.

Nothing to Do.

Towne—The last time I saw Jenkins he was looking pretty blue; said he had nothing to do.

Browne—He told me the same thing today when I met him, but he was quite cheerful.

Towne—Resigned to it, I suppose.

Browne—Resigned to it! No; just appointed to it. He's got a political job.—Philadelphia Press.

Soothing.

Pompous Customer—That insect powder you sold me the other day is no good. The cockroaches fatten on it.

Affable Salesman—Yes, sir. That's the first stage. They get fat on it and then die of apoplexy. Come round next week and report again. Anything I can do for you, ma'am?

Heroic Sacrifice.

Belle—Do you think Chapple loves me?

Grace—I know it. He told me today that he was going to shave off his mustache so that he could devote more thought to you.

Encouraging.

The Prospective Bride—I sometimes wish I had more experience in house-keeping and domestic life.

The Old Stager—But, my dear, if you had you would never get married.

Bravely Frank.

The Wife—What will you do when you have no little wife to mend your clothes for you?

The Wretch—Have money to buy new ones.—Exchange.

A very small boy was watching his mother sew whalebones in her dress.

"What are they, ma?" he asked.

"Bones," she replied.

"Whose?" continued the little fellow.

"Mine," she answered.

He regarded her a minute in amazement and then asked solemnly, "How did you get 'em out?"

His Shady Observation.

Miss Jones to Mr. Brown, who has survived three wives—They must get kind of mixed up in heaven with so many Mrs. Browns about.

Mr. Brown—Oh, no; I calculate not. You see, now, they're all different shades of Brown.—Life.

The Wastes of the Body.

Every seven days the blood, muscles and bones of a man of average size loses two pounds of worn-out tissue. This waste cannot be replenished and the health and strength kept up without perfect digestion. When the stomach and digestive organs fail to perform their functions, the strength lets down, health gives way, and disease sets up. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that rebuilds the tissues and protects the health and strength of the mind and body. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It is an ideal spring tonic. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

WEAK LUNGS

Weak lungs are mostly due to a neglected cough. Only a small per cent. of the millions who have consumption inherit it. A slight cold, a tickling or hacking cough is the beginning, and after it has reached a certain advanced stage there is no ending except the grave.

Any case of consumption that is curable; that is, any one having consumption whose family or friends still hold on to a ray of hope, may take comfort in the knowledge of the fact that One Minute Cough Cure will give instant relief and finally cure.

- This famous remedy does not pass immediately into the stomach, but lingers long in the throat, chest and lungs, producing the following results:
- (1) Relieves the cough.
  - (2) Makes the breathing easy.
  - (3) Cuts out the phlegm.
  - (4) Draws out the inflammation.
  - (5) Kills the germs (microbes) of disease.
  - (6) Strengthens the mucous membranes.
  - (7) Clears the head.
  - (8) Relieves the feverish conditions.
  - (9) Removes every cause of the cough and the strain on the lungs.

(10) Enables the lungs to contribute pure life-giving and life-sustaining oxygen to the blood. Cures Croup and all Cough, Lung and Bronchial Affections.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

"My physician told me one year ago that I would die of consumption inside of a year. I commenced taking One Minute Cough Cure for my lung trouble and it cured me. I have gained 20 pounds and I am a pretty live, 'dead' woman." One Minute Cough Cure saved me." MARY F. SULLIVAN, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Pleasant to the taste. Good for Children. Good for every body. For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping-Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Pneumonia and all Throat and Lung troubles no remedy is so good as

THE FAULTLESS FITTING SHOE FOR WOMEN

Let us assume that your shoes fit you. Now, what next? What is most important? Unquestionably, style. If it has style you want it. If it has not style, but everything else, you do not want it. The style of a Dorothy Dodd is unique. It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the Dorothy Dodd is a totally different construction from any other ladies' shoe. Besides being exclusive in style, it holds the foot firmly at the instep, prevents the foot from slipping forward, and gives a correct poise in walking. It makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it until you see it. Just for once try the Dorothy Dodd Faultless Fitting Ladies' Shoe and prove the truthfulness of our assertion.
