We have heard of no upheaval in Alamance county because of the selection of two good women as members of the county educational board. We do expect to hear, however, before it is all over with, of some mighty good improvements being made in school affairs in that progressive county.—Raleigh Post.

Dr. Parkhurst continues to "tell it out." Yesterday in a sermon in New York he said Roosevelt was purely an accident. The enmity of a jealous compatriot, he said, made Mr. Roosevelt vice-president while the crazy malignity of Czolgoz made him president. The "jealous compatriot" referred was Senator Platt who was a pew-holder in Dr. Parkhurst's church until that minister said he was worse than five Crokers.—Greensboro Telegram.

BETHEL A GOOD BUSINESS TOWN.

PROSPERITY ALONG ALL LINES SINCE WHISKEY WAS TAKEN OUT.

We spent a pleasant and profitable day at Bethel Tuesday, and added a good number of new subscribers to the long list THE REFLECTOR has at that place.

Bethel is the most northern town in the county, has a population of about 500, and as a business point takes high rank. Blount Brothers have a large general store and do an immense business. They have several branch stores in other towns. Staton, Cherry & Bunting also do a very large business and have a branch store at Coneto. Other good business men there are W. A. Knox & Bro., S. T. Carson, Taylor & Bro., and T. A. Carson. Then there are a number of smaller establishments.

Bethel has two resident physicians, Dr. R. J. Grimes and Dr. F. C. James, both of whom are prominent in their profession and have a large practice.

The town also has two resident ministers, Rev. J. J. Barker pastor of the Methodist church, and Rev. J. E. Hocutt, pastor of the Baptist church.

Among the manufacturing enterprises are Holiday & Gardner, who make school desks, lawn swings and screen doors and windows; A. Ward & Son, who have a large lumber mill; Gardner & Bro., brick makers, and the Nansmond Truck Package Co., makers of barrels, crates and baskets for shipping truck. Greenville is going to rob Bethel of this latter factory, as the plant will be moved here during the coming summer.

B. L. T. Baruhill conducts a shop for repairing all kinds of vehicles and has a busy place.

The people there are very proud of their school, and justly so. They have a splendid building and always have a good school during the term.

There is not a better section of farming country anywhere than that surrounding Bethel. Besides staple crops, much truck is raised for shipment.

Robt. Staton told us of a curiosity at his home. A stray male pigeon took up about his house sometime ago. The pigeon found a hen's nest in which was one egg, took charge and has gone to setting.

S. T. Carson was about the most occupied man we saw. He had fourteen colonies of bees to swarm in one day and it kept him busy making hives to catch them so that none could get away.

We never feel like a visit to Bethel is complete without seeing our venerable and honored friend, Col. N. M. Hammond, and a chat with him was much enjoyed.

Though time has placed many years behind him and silvered his locks, he is yet vigorous and well preserved. He has been the faithful agent of the Atlantic Coast Line ever since the road was built there a quarter century ago. He has also been a constant reader of THE REFLECTOR since its birth back in '82, and never meets us without a pleasant greeting and encouraging word.

Bethel is a dry town, and the people say business is better since the sale of whiskey there was stopped.

Fresh Buckwheat, Cheese, Butter, grated cocoanuts at S. M. Schultz.

NEWS NOTES FROM WINTERVILLE.

IT IS A WARM TOWN IN SPITE OF ITS CHILLY NAME.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., May 6. F. O. Cox and family spent Sunday at G. E. Jackson's.

Misses Bessie and Kate Chapman and Mollye Bryan went to Greenville yesterday.

The new market will soon be ready for use. We hope to have plenty of nice fresh meats all the summer.

Two train loads of gravel were put off here Saturday, for the benefit of side track on West Railroad street.

Our school girls and boys are looking forward with pleasure to next week. Then they can see and be seen, hear and be heard.

The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. have just got in a mammoth double surfacer, planer and matcher, weighing several thousands pounds. It was tested yesterday afternoon and works perfectly.

It is seldom you see men more enthused than they were over the no fence law election held here yesterday. While the liquor question is of vastly greater importance we venture the assertion that a prohibition election would not have excited half the interest.

Bob Greene came all the way from Greenville Sunday, and to put it in the language of the boys, "Split our streets wide open!" It was quite a delight to some of the little folk, or they looked that way as they sailed along the street. Some of the Winterville boys say they would not object to mistaking one or two young ladies at a time but think he tries to take on too many. It makes them feel lonely.

Come again, Robt, and either let your automobile bring you or you bring it.

On last Thursday while G. E. Jackson was hooking his horse to the plow, the horse took a fright and Eddie, seeing there was danger for the children, turned the horse loose, when so soon as loose he jumped the gate and came down to see us with the lines flying. He ran in one of Harrington & Barber's stables, where he was caught. While Ambrose Johnson was examining the cuts received by the lines, his horse became frightened, and ran against a post, doing considerable damage to both buggy and harness.

A wagon is a wagon, a cart is a cart, a tobacco truck is a tobacco truck. Were it not for bruising the tobacco, wagons and carts would be all right for removing it from the patch. This difficulty is obviated in the little Handy tobacco truck manufactured by the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. What more could be desired? Novelty in farming implements are apt to prove far too expensive, to the farmer's sorrow. Those using Handy trucks get special price on tobacco flues from above named firm.

When the politicians were robbing the people the Pennsylvania papers said nothing and now that the politicians are in the saddle they will fix the papers so they can say nothing.—Durham Herald.

With pleasure we announce the arrival of the Celebrated "Regina" and "Autohav" Shoes. The factory was so overcrowded with orders that we were forced to wait quite awhile, but they are here now, some of them, and others will be here in a few days. The nobbiest and most up-to-date in town. Every part of "Regina" and "Autohav" shoes is of uniform high quality. Soles, uppers, linings and trimmings are always just as good as can be procured. From the fashioning of the last to the finishing of the shoe no expense is spared. This explains why these shoes are worn by fashionable and well-dressed women everywhere. The shoes need no introduction to those who have worn them, but to those who have not worn them, let us say if you want to know what shoe satisfaction really means, you must wear the

To Stand By Temperance.

San Francisco, May 2.—The grand commandery of the Knights Templar of California has decided by a unanimous vote that hereafter no wine shall be served at the Templar banquets. The innovation has been introduced, it is claimed, so that the order on this coast might fall in line with a general movement of the same kind in the east and because the use of wine in the lodge rooms for all of the functions is contrary to the principles of Masonry.

It is said that the grand lodge of Masons at its annual meeting next October will take the same decisive action order that all banquets given under the auspices of any Masonic lodge of the state be strictly temperate.

—F. L. S., in Atlanta Constitution.

New York is to have a saloon with chemically pure whiskey, which is to be sold at cost, and in which every man is required to pay for his own drink, treating absolutely prohibited. There are many reforms offered in the whiskey business with less sense in them than the above. To have whiskey pure is certainly desirable. This, however, is obtained in the dispensary. A law making it a misdemeanor to treat would serve a good purpose. This law was once attempted by the Georgia legislature, but failed. It may have been discussed in other legislative bodies, but if it has ever been enacted into law we have no knowledge of it. Certain it is, that many who drink too much do so because of their surroundings at the time.—Raleigh Times.

THE NEW MILITIA LAW AGAIN.

When our friend of the Wilmington Messenger gave his approval to the new militia law, we had no doubts as to his sincerity, and have none now, but in view of the facts brought out by discussion of the Dick bill, and the clearly shown purpose thereof, we had looked to the Messenger to change its mind, or at least modify its approval. By its strange silence on the question, however, we reluctantly conclude that it has done neither. Which leads us to present for the Messenger's consideration the following from the New Orleans State:

The advocates of the new militia act passed by the last congress assert that it will greatly increase the efficiency of the militia of the several states. The militia is organized for two purposes; to enforce the law and maintain order in time of peace and to repel invasion in time of war. Our state troops have never lacked efficiency and every time they have been called out they promptly suppressed mob violence and upheld the majesty of the law. The efficiency of the militia has never been questioned and there does not appear to be any good reason to increase the efficiency of it for the purpose of repelling foreign invasion because this country is entirely too powerful and resourceful for any nation on earth to invade it and thus come in contact with 15,000,000 fighting men. Should we ever have a war with any of the great powers of Europe it will be fought on the sea, therefore, we must depend on the navy for the safety of our seaports. The militia as at present organized meets every legitimate need of the states and of the country, and all that should be done is to arm the men with the new army rifle. The Norfolk-Virginian-Pilot is well within the mark when it says that the efficiency of the militia is to be increased not because it is needed for legitimate purposes, but for "the double purpose of grafting a form of militarism upon the country, and of getting the militia completely under federal control. This is shown by the fact that under the new law the governor of the state ceases to be the commander in chief of the militia, and that authority is vested in the president of the United States, who has the right to ignore governors of the states and when he desires to use the militia to issue his orders to any officer he may deem proper.

Can the Messenger afford to remain on the wrong side of this question?

At the municipal election held in Charlotte Monday, the administration ticket headed by Mayor P. M. Brown was elected by a majority of 229. There were two tickets in the field, the other being an independent ticket headed by T. S. Franklin. The campaign preceding the election was a warm and bitter one, and the contest waged until the polls were closed.

"The president's courtesy to the labor unions has offended the eastern capitalists and the president must take a back track or they will throw their support to some other candidate," says the Durham Sun. And when the president gets East his courtesies to Eastern capitalists will offend the labor unions—but he will be nominated just the same.

A Washington prophet predicts that Theodore will be politically abolished off the face of the earth. If the prophecy turns out to be correct the prophet will have been forgotten, and if it is not correct—well, Theodore will hardly let himself be forgotten.

"Good prices and no combine is the present outlook for the tobacco farmer this season," says the New Bern Journal, referring to the rumored warehouse combine. No further combine is necessary, brother. The big 'un has it all his way now.

Bill Hearst's boom is marching on. Scarcely a week passes but what some patent outside journal of civilization claims to be the original discoverer.

Kinston did herself proud Monday in the election on the question of issuing $150,000 bonds for improvements. The bonds carried by a large majority.

A candidate for alderman who went down in defeat is put to it to understand a little episode over in the second ward on the night of the primaries. Three personal friends assured him of their support on the evening the primaries convened, all of them being voters of the said ward. When the votes were counted out the candidate had just one. Early next morning he encountered all three of these friends and wanted to know if the constitutional amendment affected them, as he only got one vote out of three. Then "with one accord" they all commenced to lie, but he had the one solitary vote cast for him in his pocket and has had it framed to remind him of the ingratitude of humanity and the falsity of promises.—Greensboro Record.

The Greenville REFLECTOR observes that "Tar Heel" is becoming obsolete as applied to this state and thrusts forward the suggestion that "Strawberry State" would be more appropriate and more euphonious. The suggestion is not a bad one; the luscious strawberry could then be adopted as our state "flower."—Charlotte News.

Another white man is dismissed from a federal office in South Carolina and a negro politician appointed in his place. Thus the Roosevelt scheme to capture the negro vote goes on in the south while the president is attempting to capture the westerners by kissing the babies.—Wilmington Messenger.

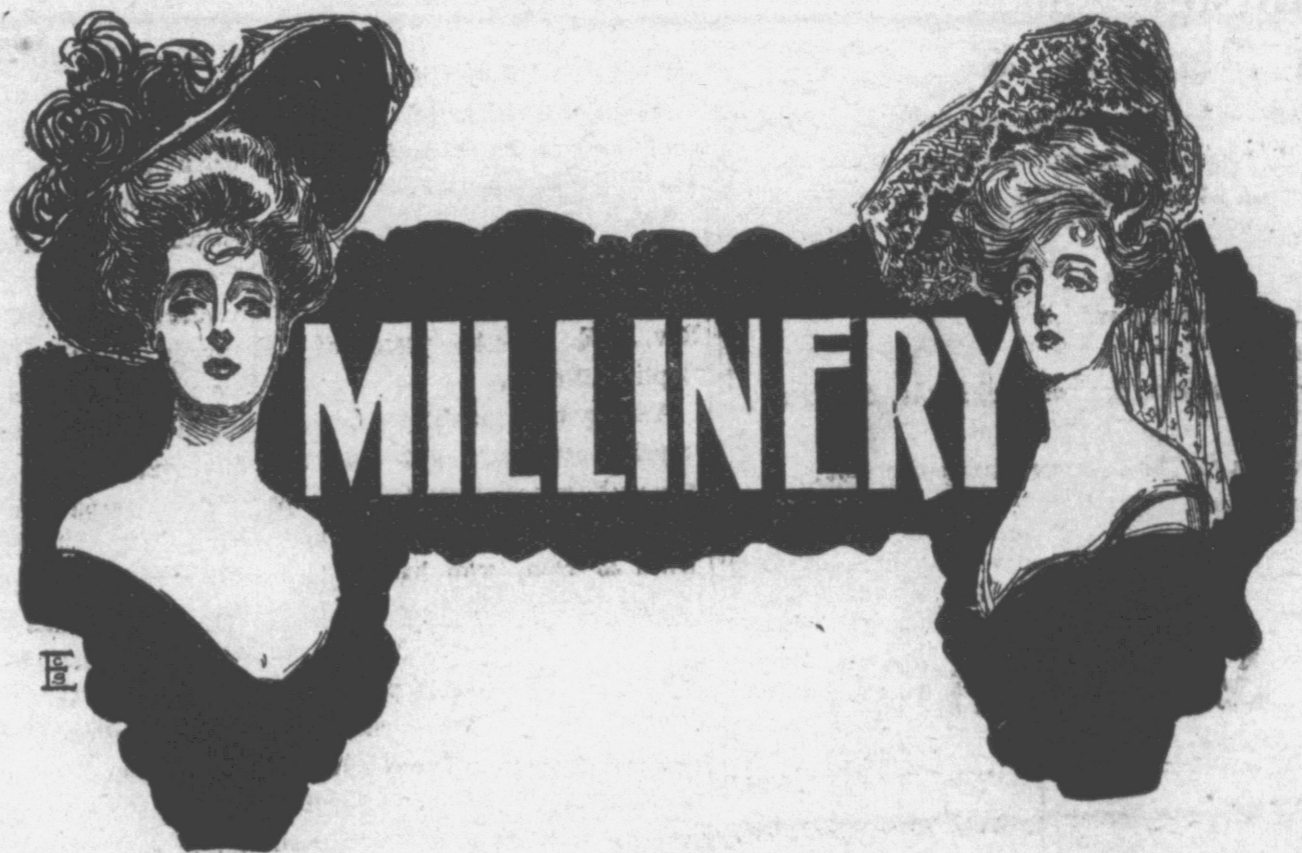

But very little corn and cotton has been planted in this section. Heretofore many of the farmers finished in April.—Roanoke-Chowan Times.

Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Still water, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

A literary wrestling match was the feature of Saturday last. Bill Jinks threw Nat Gilkins five time, and was forthwith declared the greatest poet in Billville.—Atlanta Constitution.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

"Is he much of a politician?" "No. He's only just enough of a one to succeed in getting a nomination when there's no possible chance of an election."—Chicago Evening Post.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

"Well, the thing about him any way. He's always ready to confess his faults." "Nonsense! He's forever bragging that he's a self-made man, and—That's it, exactly."—Philadelphia Press.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Stout Lady—"Don't you think it is a beautiful thing to see a young girl growing into womanhood?" Old Lady—"Yes, my dear; so many of them seem to want to grow into manhood."—Detroit Free Press.

A Little Early Riser

now and then, at bedtime will cure constipation, biliousness and liver troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the famous little pills that cure by arousing the secretions, moving the bowels gently, yet effectually, and giving such tone and strength to the glands of the stomach and liver that the cause of the trouble is removed entirely, and if their use is continued for a few days, there will be no return of the complaint. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store.

THE BEST METHOD OF TEACHING READING.

[Paper read by Miss Ada C. Ward before Pitt County Teachers' Association.]

In beginning our public school work we often find children who have passed through a series of readers and cannot read the simplest sentences correctly. Words are called in a dull uninterested manner, and are very often mis-called or entirely omitted. The ed's, ly's and s's are dropped and in every sentence a pause is made to spell some word before it can be pronounced. The fault is probably due to the fact that the previous lessons have not been made interesting or taught thoroughly—a misfortune rather than the fault of some teacher who has been taxed with the training of more classes than she could well attend to. Nevertheless these errors are often found and their correction means harder work for both teacher and pupil than it they had been avoided in the beginning. Seeing these misfortunes of our advanced classes we must strive to avoid them in training our beginners.

To do this it seems to me there are two aims that are absolutely necessary on the part of the teacher. First to arouse an interest in the class, second, to teach thoroughly every lesson. How can we arouse this interest, by confining the class to the same dull reading lessons that they have heard read, by the more advanced classes, ever since the first day they entered the school room? None of us like to read dull uninteresting books and neither would we be interested in reading lessons that we had heard and read ever since we were children.

Then in assigning the lesson select the subject you wish to have studied first, begin with the easiest and brightest lesson and very often supplement a story on the same subject from another book. If the lesson is a bird story have some members of the class tell a short story about some birds they have seen or known. Then when the story telling is finished begin some systematic method of teaching the lesson.

First, teach thoroughly the new words by having the bird stories in one group, the dog stories in another, etc.

Then if we find such reading dull how can we expect children, who delight only in the brightest and most interesting subjects, to manifest an interest in them? Would it not be more interesting for both teachers and pupils to supplement some simple bright stories instead of using, day after day, the same old readers that have been so long used in the school that the class has almost memorized by hearing it so often read? If we must use our old readers, why not group the lessons according to subjects. For instance, arrange the different members of the class read different paragraphs and as they find new words, before passing to the next paragraphs, pause to write them on the blackboard, have the class write the same on their tablets, then spell and pronounce them until they are learned by all. After all the new words are mastered more light is thrown on the lesson, and the class may, then, be taught to read correctly and with more expression by having the different members read carefully different paragraphs of the lessons. After being taught and interested in the lesson, the class will find the preparation of the lesson less difficult and will readily, begin the work with more interest.

"But," some one might say, "Your method requires too much time." Yes, it's true that our time is very precious in full schools where we have so many classes, but would it not be wiser to teach well fewer lessons than rush through with so many half learned ones? Surely a thing that's worth doing at all is worth doing well.

You May Be Cured
544 Garfield Avenue,
CHICAGO, ILL., October 9, 1902.
After doctoring for eleven months and taking forty-three bottles of medicine and finding no relief for leucorrhoea resulting from irritation of a fallen womb I took Wine of Cardui and fourteen bottles cured me. This seems strange but it is the simple truth. Wine of Cardui helped me from the time I began taking it and having heard it praised so highly by friends who had tried it I felt satisfied that it would help me, and it did. It cured me. Took every bit of ache, pain and headache, cramps and dragging down sensations away till I felt young, strong and happy once more. It is a wonderful medicine and a true friend to women. When I look back on the months of torture I had it seems like a hideous nightmare. Wine of Cardui will cure any woman I believe. I have more faith in it than all other medicines combined.
Frances Kingsley
Vice-Pres., Chicago Historical Club.

How can you refuse relief when you know you are growing worse day after day? Shooting pains, irregularity, inflammation and bearing down pains make thousands of women miserable. Why drag through life never enjoying anything? Wine of Cardui has made over 1,500,000 weak and suffering women well and strong. We ask you to go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin to take it at once. Do that and the health Mrs. Kingsley writes about will soon be yours. If you think special directions are needed in your case, address, giving symptoms, Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

"Dorothy Dodd"

THE FAULTLESS FITTING SHOE FOR WOMEN

Let us assume that your shoes fit you. Now, what next? What is most important? Unquestionably, style. If it has style you want it. If it has not style, but everything else, you do not want it. The style of a Dorothy Dodd is unique. It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the Dorothy Dodd is a totally different construction from any other ladies' shoe. Besides being exclusive in style, it holds the foot firmly at the instep, prevents the foot from slipping forward, and gives a correct poise in walking. It makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it until you see it. Just for once try the Dorothy Dodd Faultless Fitting Ladies' Shoe and prove the truthfulness of our assertion.
