Mrs. Tyner's Offense Will Hardly be Prosecuted.

Washington, May 6.—Mr. Payne said today that the present administrative methods of the postal service were put in operation by former postmaster General Wanamaker, 14 years ago, and since then, the business of the department has troubled. He said that it might be that some of the methods were faulty and the practices irregular and that the investigation would be made in the hope of initiating new and better methods as well as correcting abuses. Postmaster General Payne has now received replies from ex Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith, Comptroller of the Treasury Tracewell, Postmaster Merritt of this city and Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, regarding the charges made by ex-Cashier Tulloch of the Washington postoffice. The abstraction of papers from the safe of the office of the assistant attorney general, is now regarded as practically a closed incident. The papers were taken on April 21, and the case was referred to the United States attorney for the District of Columbia a week later. The matter has not progressed further. It has not been presented to the grand jury and it is generally believed that the grand jury would not be likely to take action because of lack of proof that the papers taken were government property.

Shooting Saturday Night.

Early Saturday night some excitement was caused by a row that occurred near Five Points among some colored people. One of them used a gun, and fired several shots, but fortunately no one was wounded. The man who did the shooting was arrested and placed in jail.

Highest Market Yet.

Last week O. L. Pittman sold one hundred bales of cotton to Speight & Co. at 10 3-16. R. J. Cobb sold a few bales of extra good grade to the same firm at 10 1/2. These are the highest prices recorded for many seasons. Some years it pays to hold cotton.

LETTER TO CHAS. SKINNER.

Greenville, N. C.,

Dear Sir: One coat of Devoe is better than two of mixed paint.

The American House, at Tannersville (Catskill Mts.), N. Y., Chas. L. Wiltse, had two coats of Mixed Paint five years ago; last spring had two more coats of the same.

Owner was going to use Devoe but got his Mixed Paint a few cents less.

Right across the street, Charles Haner painted one coat of Devoe at the same time--last spring.

The Haner house is the better job; but wait five years.

The point of the story is that Wiltse is sorry already. He has learned something that not one man in a thousand knows--that a gallon of one kind of paint can contain twice as much paint as a gallon of another kind of paint.

You can't afford to put on another paint even if you have it given to you. At the same time, you see, that Mixed Paint appears to have worn five years--give the devil his due.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.

P. S.—H. L. Carr sells our paint.

Paint Your Buggy for 75c.

to $1.00 with Devoe's Gloss Carriage paint. It weighs 3 to 8 ozs. more to the pint than others, wears longer, and gives a gloss equal to new work. Sold by H. L. Carr.

Brother of McKinley's Murderer Arrested.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 7 — Acting under instructions from the secret service bureau at Washington, the police today arrested a man who is suspected of being one of the four brothers of Czolgosz, the assassin of the late President McKinley. No charge has been lodged against Czolgosz, the police simply detaining the man on suspicion until after the president shall have left Los Angeles. It is said that Czolgosz has been living in Los Angeles for several months, working in a tamale factory. His actions have not been out of the ordinary.

OPERA HOUSE.

Thursday, May 14th. Benefit, City Hospital.

Helen May Butler has selected her soloists with great care.

Little Elizabeth Shifly, known as the "Queen of Clarionetists," at the age of 12 has had few if any equals on that most elusive and difficult instrument.

The triple tongue work of Virginia Elliot, cornet soloist, surpasses every one.

Helen May Butler's Band has played more dates in the large cities than any other Band in the past 5 years. Boston leads with 203 dates, New York 20, Buffalo 110, Brooklyn 28, Atlanta 56, Chicago 14, Pittsburg 90, and Charleston 30.

This is the highest possible merit of the Band. Will appear here in opera house, Thursday, May 14.

This is the highest possible endorsement as to the merit of the Band. Will appear here in opera house, Thursday, May 14.

PACTOLUS ITEMS.

PACTOLUS, N. C., May, 9, 1903.

Sunday a wet one.

Monday some better.

J. J. Satterthwaite went to Greenville Monday.

P. E. Davenport left Monday for Chapel Hill.

W. I. Peal came in from Bethel Monday. "Yes and return back on the next train." "Tuesday evening he shows up again, guess he did not forget anything; that's him.

Our old friend J. J. Harrington is back in town again, but regret to say its for only a few hours stay. Jack, come again, old boy you will find a welcome place with us any old time.

The farmers are complaining of poor stand for both cotton and corn. We heard one say the crows had charge of his corn field, had pulled up all the corn and are now making holes for the replanter. Have you any crows?

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bradley spent Tuesday in Greenville on business.

I'll bet the largest pumpkin grown in Pactolus township that you cannot guess who. Both are good looking. Now you may have another guess.

Town commissioners held their regular meeting Tuesday night. C. E. Bradley tendered his resignation as mayor to take effect 15th.

Remarkable Career.

Mr. Eli Sutton, an aged citizen of 84 years, died on Friday morning last. He was born raised and has lived all his life in the home where he died, never had the services of a doctor in his life and was never forty miles from home. He lived in the lower section of this county near the Beaufort county line.

Oxford Ties

MADE on Oxford Lasts, our Oxfords have that firm in-step grip which prevents all slipping and rubbing at the heel and affords genuine comfort to the wearer. We have many swell and swagger styles that are entirely new; the best of leathers—all sizes and widths.

If there's one thing that a particular man wants to have just right, it's his low shoes.

And more than usual attention is paid to seeing that they fit the feet that are to wear them. RIGHT SHOES, RIGHTLY FITTED, AT RIGHT PRICES, IS THE SECRET OF OUR SUCCESS.

The Ladies' Furnishing Store.

With pleasure we announce the arrival of the Celebrated "Regina" and "Autohav" Shoes. The factory was so overcrowded with orders that we were forced to wait quite awhile, but they are here now, some of them, and others will be here in a few days. The nobbiest and most up-to-date in town. Every part of "Regina" and "Autohav" shoes is of uniform high quality. Soles, uppers, linings and trimmings are always just as good as can be procured. From the fashioning of the last to the finishing of the shoe no expense is spared. This explains why these shoes are worn by fashionable and well-dressed women everywhere. The shoes need no introduction to those who have worn them, but to those who have not worn them, let us say if you want to know what shoe satisfaction really means, you must wear the

MONDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 11, 1903.

A FRAUD.

Of all the hoary, bewhiskered frauds that pompously prance through official life at Washington, that old delusion and snare, civil service as operated by a republican regime, is about the worst thing on record. The barnacled, worm eaten old hulk is a nest of official thieves. Places are bought and sold in the post office department very much as pigs feet in the market place. The "merit system" is a hollow mockery. Appointive positions carry licenses to plunder the public purse. Incompetents, degenerates, political sharpsters to whom honor is an unknown quantity, stare at you from behind grated windows. People with a little money and no brains, who are not capable of making a living by honest effort, bid prices for government sinecures.

Where is the self righteous old humbug, civil service? The echo answers not. "Civil service," indeed! "Devil Serveus" is the looters' motto.

"Any issue that would make it necessary for the United States and Great Britain to fight side by side against a common enemy would be welcomed by the Englishmen" says the Winston Sentinel. Yes, and it would be about the most insane thing that this county could allow to come to pass.

From the evidence in hand it appears that bloodhounds are absolutely worthless, that they never catch the right party, that they are infalible and invaluable and invariably run criminals to the ground, and finally they are not bloodhounds at all.

"Turkey seems to be blindly rushing on her fate. She is determined to hold Bulgaria responsible for the conditions in Macedonia," says the Wilmington Messenger. How inconsiderate of the foolish bird—and thanksgiving away over yonder.

The Charlotte Observer is to begin the publication of an evening edition, the Evening Chronicle. Needless to say, the paper will be first class, and we wish it and its honored sire every thing that is good.

In the Gallatin, Tenn., affair Postmaster General Payne is said to have made a bid for the negro vote, but whether for himself or his employer, Theodore, is not stated.

The presidential possibility department of our esteemed Lincoln, Neb., contemporary has slipped a cog and fired a blank shot. Can it be that the e. c. has exhausted the visible possibilities?

The current issue of the Comonomer makes it plain that William J. Stone, patriot, was not in that alum baking powder deal and doesn't intend to do it again.

Our contemporaries are gravely discussing "ominous signs in the East." The Eastern sign that worries us most is the refulgent countenance of Old Sol rising above the back fence.

No, kind friend, the weather reports are not manufactured in this office—we could guess right once in a month.

Just think what a bore must life have been on the ark, with nothing to talk about except the weather.

In Memoriam.

"Confederate dead! Beneath the sod thy heroes' bones are laid, Thy souls have gone to meet their God with records bravely made. Thy ashes rest upon the earth unmarked by costly shaft, But splendid marble marks not worth nor honor more to thine may graft.

But in one single blossom fair that on thy grave may rest, Gently laid in honor there and by a pure love blessed. Is worth a thousand times and more than splendid towering stone, Which rises high into the sky toward thy eternal throne!"
—Winston Journal.

The democratic press of the country is getting right. It is crying for four more years of Grover. While the principles for which the Hon. Peter Sterling stands are correct, and the press is correct in advocating them, it is morally certain that gentleman neither seeks nor desires the democratic nomination. Give us Gorman and Aycock on the ticket, with a platform of Mr. Sterling's principles, and if we don't wollop Teddy and his crew we'll worry them so they'll not desire to tackle the job again soon.—Gaffney, S. C., Ledger.

The moral forces of North Carolina belong to all parties and we hope they will not allow the politicians to drag the temperance issue into party politics. Only let it be known that a candidate for office who favors the liquor traffic will not receive the support of any moral and decent citizen and such a candidate will find that his private business requires all his time and attention.—Thomasville Charity and Children.

If that London bill is to become a law, the regret is, that it did not have a longer tail to it. But who cares anything about a "jug law" when it can now be procured in pills or enough for a common drunk in ten cents worth of "Jamaica ginger!"—Robersonville News.

The most amusing political feature of the day is the way the advocates of the "Iowa idea" are crawling into their holes and pulling the holes in after them.—Durham Sun.

The only real argument yet brought against the election of senators by the people is that the people can't be trusted.—Durham Herald.

The Wastes of the Body.

Every seven days the blood, muscles and bones of a man of average size loses two pounds of worn-out tissue. This waste cannot be replenished and the health and strength kept up without perfect digestion. When the stomach and digestive organs fail to perform their functions, the strength lets down, health gives way, and disease sets up. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that rebuilds the tissues and protects the health and strength of the mind and body. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It is an ideal spring tonic. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

The consuming passion of humanity is self indulgence.

Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

When we say we believe in the good, old-fashioned hell, we mean for other people.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Any man who builded better than he knew evidently wasn't a government contractor.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of cholera or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

The superior mightiness of the pen or the sword depends altogether upon the hand that wields them.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Patten's Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

A large head may indicate brains, but a big head indicates that there was "something doing" the night before.

THE BULLET THAT MADE IT ALL THE SAME

(Original.)

I well remember the day we received the news in America that France had declared war against Prussia. I refer to the war of 1870. I was sitting in the garden with Aunt Margaret. I was then eighteen and Aunt Margaret was twenty-eight. She was still beautiful and was always what may be best described as a high bred dame, having great dignity and reserve. I had recently visited West Point, and everything connected with war interested me. But I noticed when I read the telegram in the newspaper that Aunt Margaret shuddered.

"You don't like war, Aunt Margaret?" I said. "I think it must be fine."

"If you had been old enough to realize what we passed through from 1861-65, you wouldn't consider it so fine. You would consider it horrible."

"Can't you tell me something to make me feel as you do about it, Aunt Margaret?"

She was silent for some time, then said:

"I shall have to touch upon a 'couquest,' but you must excuse that and not consider me vain. I was at West Point during the civil war when one of the classes was graduated. There was a little fellow in the graduating class—his name was Hutchins—who looked funnier in his cadet uniform than most of them. His hair was cropped very short, and his face was unusually red, except when he blushed, and then it was scarlet. He singled me out from among the girls for his special devotion. This amused some of the cadets, and I could see them laughing together when he came up to me all in a fidget, blushing to the tips of his ears, to ask me to go down for a walk or climb to Fort Put or to dance the second or third time during a hop. It was rather amusing to me, too, for I was used to attentions from only the most courtly young men at home.

I tried to keep the boy off without wounding his feelings, but that was impossible. He told me his classmates rallied him on what they called his assurance and poked a great deal of fun at him. "I know," he said, "that I'm making a fool of myself, but I can't help it." I did all I could to show him that he was not making a fool of himself, but at the same time gently hinted at the impossibility of anything serious between a girl with a position in society to maintain and an officer of the lowest grade in the army. He said he knew it, reiterating that he was a fool, but couldn't help being a fool. There was a pathetic look on his face when he bade me goodbye, saying that a southern bullet would doubtless make it all the same to him. Of course it wouldn't do for me to laugh at this, though I fancied he would be in love again in less than a year, possibly a few months.

At first the war was quite exciting, and the young fellows who were hurrying about in their new uniforms enjoyed it, and everybody was interested. But it dragged on and on, and after awhile an unusual number of women began to appear in mourning, the mourners increasing every year. Then I read an account of an affair where a number of men had done something very wonderful, the whole thing having been planned and the men led by Lieutenant Hutchins. I believe they entered the southerners' camp and spiked a lot of guns, though I don't know what that means. Hutchins was very badly wounded during the retreat. A bullet had entered his chest so near the heart that the surgeons did not dare to probe for it. So, after all, the bullet which was to make it "all the same for him" came and ended his career before it had fairly begun.

"He died?"

"Yes; he died in a hospital."

I waited for her to say something more, but she did not. She took up the paper, read the war dispatch and laid it aside. It seemed to me that there was something incomplete about her story. I wondered if the young man's death had affected her. She had such admirable control of herself that I could not tell. Indeed, so well poised was she, so used to the attentions of wealthy bachelors, men of the world, that I could not believe that it had been a matter of much moment.

Long after she told me the story I one day went to her dressing case to borrow an article of jewelry—for I was used to appropriating her belongings to my own use—and, rummaging through the drawers, came upon an ebony box curiously mounted. The key was in the lock, and, turning it, I lifted the lid. The first article that arrested my attention was a round leaden bullet. I closed the lid and hurried away, feeling as if I had inadvertently stumbled upon a skeleton.

"Aunt Margaret," I said later, "did they ever extract the bullet that killed your friend Hutchins?"

"Yes; he died under the operation."

"What became of it?"

"A classmate of his who was with him brought me a message from him. The messenger told me that he had the bullet. I asked for it, and he gave it to me."

I looked at Aunt Margaret to see if I dare question her why she should care to possess such a memento, but saw that it would not be safe to do so.

"Strange," I muttered and turned the subject.

Aunt Margaret has never married. When I have asked her why it is that one who has had so many suitors remained unmarried, she says the men of the world she was accustomed to meet bored her.

Appealed to Terrors.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 8.—The Fiesta Des Flores of Los Angeles made President Roosevelt its center today. Tonight found him enthusiastic but very tired. The uproar began with the arrival of the president at the Santa Fe station at 1 o'clock. There was a parade to the hotel, where the president had luncheon. After lunch the president headed the flower parade to the reviewing stand amid storms of cheers. The Chinese delegation had a long golden dragon, borne sinuously on the back of forty Chinamen. The president laughed uproariously at this. As it approached the reviewing stand the president, assuming great horror, shouted to Teddy's Terrors near by, "I know that you will protect me."

Sold to American Company.

Durham, N. C., May 8.—The R. F. Morris Manufacturing Company has been sold to the American Tobacco Company and the latter is now in charge of the business. It is learned that the price paid for the business and machinery was $105,000. An inventory is now being taken. In the purchase is included the snuff, cheroot and cigar business, but the real estate does not change hands. It is not known what will come about continuing the business. It is now closed, but may open within a short while. Very little can be learned about the deal.

Peanut Trust.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 8.—The Confectioners' Review today says: The Michigan Underwriting Company of Detroit has completed a combine of the peanut industries and that the American Edible Nut Company will soon be incorporated in New Jersey, with $1,250,000 of seven per cent preferred and $2,750,000 of common stock, and that it will absorb the eighteen plants near Norfolk, Va., where the general offices will be located.

The yearly output within eighty miles of Norfolk is 5,000,000 bushels.

The Letter "M" in Mother.

It has been pointed out as a curious fact that the letter "M" in almost all known languages—English, French, Latin, Spanish, Greek, Hebrew, Chinese and the others—is to be found in the word which stands for mother or nurse. Perhaps this is owing to its representing a sound which exists in every spoken speech and has the same pronunciation in them all. It is also exceedingly easy to utter and is one of the first sounds that children make, and it therefore naturally enters into the appellation given to the nursing parent in the first cries of recognition and affection. There is no doubt at all that "ma" and the other baby names for mother originated directly from the child.

An Observing Child.

One man in New York had social aspirations which somewhat warped his admiration of his homespun father. The father actually sometimes relapses into the barbarism of eating with his knife. But the man has a little son whose eyes seek and find out the truth. The other day the little boy licked some mashed potatoes from his knife, and his mother chided him. "Sammy, dear," she said, "only stupid people eat with their knives." "How can you say that, mamma?" cried the child. "Grandpa eats with his knife. And he made all our money!"

"Dorothy Dodd"

THE FAULTLESS FITTING SHOE FOR WOMEN

Let us assume that your shoes fit you. Now, what next? What is most important? Unquestionably, style. If it has style you want it. If it has not style, but everything else, you do not want it. The style of a Dorothy Dodd is unique. It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the Dorothy Dodd is a totally different construction from any other ladies' shoe. Besides being exclusive in style, it holds the foot firmly at the instep, prevents the foot from slipping forward, and gives a correct poise in walking. It makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it until you see it. Just for once try the Dorothy Dodd Faultless Fitting Ladies' Shoe and prove the truthfulness of our assertion.
