MACHEN CHARGED WITH TAKING BRIBE OF $22,000

HE IS ARRESTED AND PUT UNDER $20,000 BOND

It is Charged That He Was Bribed by Graff Bros., Manufacturers of Letter Box Locks--Bribe Taker and Giver Will be Prosecuted by the Government.

Washington, May 27.—August W. Machen, general superintendent of free delivery, was arrested today on a charge of having accepted $22,000 in bribes from the firm of Graff Bros. of this city, inventors and manufacturers of a patent fastener used on street letter boxes. Machen was later released on $20,000 bail, furnished by a bonding company.

Hiller B. and Samuel A. Graff, the latter a member of the Washington police force, compose the firm of Graff Bros. They were arrested tonight and will be arraigned tomorrow morning. Civil suit will be entered by the government to recover the $22,000 which Machen is alleged to have received as a bribe, and Machen and the two Graff brothers will be prosecuted criminally on the charge of conspiracy.

TARBORO TO HAVE 6 SALOONS RUN DOWN BY A STEAMER.

To Succeed the Dispensary.
Mad Dog Killed.

Tarboro, May 28.—Liquor license have been granted to six applicants, who will open bar-rooms when the dispensary goes out of existence June 1.

Yesterday a mad dog was knocked in the head with an axe and hauled into the country and left for dead, but was this morning found on the porch of its owner, where he had dragged himself, with one eye knocked out and one side paralyzed. He was then killed dead.

WAYNESVILLE'S STRANGE FATE.

Another Fire in the Western Mountain Town.

Waynesville, N. C., May 27.—Waynesville's third fire broke out last night. The dwelling house and contents owned by R. D. Love was burned. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Suttles, an old and infirm couple, who occupied the house, barely escaped with their lives.

First Confederate Flag.

The first flag raised as an emblem of confederacy by South Carolina, the mother state in the afterward named "Confederate States of America," during the Civil War, is among the valued historical relics in the possession of the late Captain Henry W. Hand, a Union naval officer during the war, and later one of the best known residents of Cape May county, N. J.

The flag is eight feet long by six feet broad. The body of it is turkey red, and the immense star and crescent in the upper left-hand corner are of white. It was sewed together by the ladies of Charleston, S. C., on the eve of that state's declaration of secession, December, 1860, and was hoisted the next morning over the Charleston custom house. Shortly afterward, the Dixie, a small privateer and blockade runner, started on its depredations, and as the young confederacy had as yet adopted no official banner, the Charleston custom house flag was presented as its colors. In the spring of 1863 the Dixie was captured by the United States steamer Keystone State.—Confederate Veteran.

Prosperity is not without its thorns, nor adversity without its roses.

Fisherman Crushed by Paddle
Wheels in Norfolk Harbor.

Portsmouth, Va., May 27.—William Herbert met a frightful death while fishing in the harbor in a small skiff. The fast river steamer Hampton, of the Old Dominion line, passing at high speed, caught the skiff under her paddles and crushed the boat and its occupant. Herbert was alive when rescued, but died within an hour.

Cast Up by the Sea.

Wilmington, May 27.—The body of James Byrd, the white man who mysteriously disappeared from his home in this city five weeks ago, was found today floating in the river. The body was in an advanced state of decomposition. The coroner's inquest discovered no evidence of foul play.

The Game Wardens

Mr. T. G. Pearson, of the Audubon Society, has been notified that two of the game wardens provided for in the Audubon law as recently passed have been duly commissioned. They are N. J. Jennett, of Dare county, and W. F. Weeks, of Southport. They get fifty dollars a month and they devote all their time to the protection of sea-birds on the North Carolina coast. Mr. Jennett guards the coast from Roanoke Island to Ocracoke. Mr. Weeks looks after the coast regions of Brunswick and New Hanover counties. Each of the wardens wears a badge bearing the words, "Game warden, North Carolina." Some idea of the extent to which the supply of sea birds has been reduced, says the Greensboro Telegram, may be had from the fact that the game wardens have reported to Prof. Pearson the finding of only five hundred birds in that portion of the coast which they travel. There should be many times that number and there will be soon if the birds are properly protected.

Fernandez a Smuggler.

New stories come to light nearly every day about the unfortunate craft, Vera Cruz. Very soon we shall be able to have material for a good novel out of the log of this peculiar derelict.

What has transpired from time to time since it was cast upon the beach is certainly good foundation for a story of adventure if nothing else.

It appears that the captain of the boat, J. M. Fernandez has been a notorious smuggler. Not only of dutiable goods but of men whom the laws of this country would prevent from landing. His operations have been watched for some time and he had known that landing his cargo was attended with considerable risk, still, like all men of his kind he was bold, and was determined to put his goods and passengers ashore where there was the least danger of molestation.

It is said that the boat bobbed along the coast for several days looking for a favorable place to land from whence he could easily disappear. He planned well and there is no doubt but he was one of the smoothest smugglers in the business.

As a modern pirate too, Fernandez was no amateur. He had the art of fleeing down fine and his practice operated on the high seas entitles him to the name and reputation of pirate.

The authorities have been unable to locate Fernandez and it is probable that he is lost for good unless the United States wants him very bad.—Newbern Journal.

LETTER TO HON. A. L. BLOW.

Greenville, N. C.,

Dear Sir: It takes 3000 gallons of paint for the two big hotels at Coney Island—Manhattan and Oriental. They are painted once in three years with Devoe lead zinc.

Why so often? Three reasons: (1) sea air cuts paint; (2) sand in the wind cuts paint; (3) hotels, especially pleasure hotels, want freshness and color as much as protection. Once in three years is often enough and not too often to paint a hotel on a windy sand beach.

How long do you think lead and oil would last there? One year. Is there anything for you in this.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.

P. S.—H. L. Carr sells our paint.

When a Young Man Graduates.

When a young man graduates from college he reads an address, wherein he says that people must do wonderful things to attain success and climb high and rugged mountains. This is not the truth. The fact is, the road to success has been blazed so clearly that no one need go astray. Success is easier than failure. There are thousands of people to direct the young man. All the young need do to win success is to follow a few simple and easy rules. It is the loafer, liar, the dishonest man, who travels a rough road and is wrecked.—Atchison Globe.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 28, 1903.

All things come to him who waits—and hustles while he waits.

The poor and the rheumatism of the Raleigh Times we have with us always.

"Cuba has several millions in her treasury," we read. Where, oh! where is Morgan?

Major Glenn is sued by a Filipino for $15,000 for unjust imprisonment. Thus doth civilization march.

Mr. Rockefeller—no matter which one—sang "Annie Laurie" the other day. We'll bet it jarred Annie.

We don't believe Lipton's yacht will win, and we don't believe very many people in this country would weep if it did.

Hanna has no more use for Roosevelt than a bob tailed mule has for flies, but Hanna can't be pushed out of the band wagon.

"In God we trust" would be much easier to stick to if some of the folks who pray loudest in His churches would pay us what they owe.

If you go near the postoffice department keep your hands on your pocket book. They haven't put any of their pet crooks in jail yet.

It's an awful come-down for the sweet girl graduate when she is at last forced to leave off regulating the world and help ma wash the dishes.

The Hon. James Kay Jones says Cleveland never was a democrat. Doubtless Jones could give you the name and address of the genuine article.

We have received the first number of the North State Industrial Journal, published by Edwin L. Tate at Greensboro. We wish it prosperity.

Business goes on with the Western Union Telegraph Company just like the Pennsylvania railroad had never stuck an axe in one of its poles.

Greensboro gets lots of good things, but some of our exchanges ought to have learned in the last twenty-two years that THE REFLECTOR belongs to Greenville.

Captain Kidd was not a pirate at all, they say. Well, we are willing to admit that he was no very great shakes as compared with some modern business men.

"Sunday liquor selling is not a necessity," says the New Bern Journal. We have never heard it argued that whiskey is necessary on any day. Doctors say it is not.

If those inquisitive persons who insist upon knowing who Judge

If the Southern railway would take the money it spends trying to defend itself in print and buy crosssties with it, the News and Observer would find fewer rotten ones to pick to pieces.

As the Winston-Salem Journal shows us pictures of hailstones measuring 2 1/2 inches, we are bound to put our faith in them, but this doesn't mean that we have become a follower of the petrified man.

The question is being discussed, "Has a wife the right to open her husband's letters?" She may not have the right, but she has a way of making him forgive her for doing it that amounts to the same thing.

If he had sense enough to think and could read the newspapers, it is probable that the negro who was hanged in Rockingham county regretted that he was not a white man and that he did not select Raleigh, Tarboro or Wilson as the scene of his murderous operations.

"From the way people are subscribing to the fund it is apparent that the legislature knew what it was doing when it refused to make an appropriation for an exhibit at St. Louis," says the Durham Herald. This is where the legislature might have saved the people from their own cussedness.

THE STATE PRESS

John Rockefeller is probably not losing any sleep, over the proposition of a Frenchman to make oil from water.—Greensboro Telegram.

The North Carolina strawberry is getting up in society as it were, as the crop has now reached beyond the million-dollar mark.—Raleigh Times.

There is nothing to show that this kind of talk has any more effect on Mr. Cleveland than did the cussing he was receiving a few years ago.—Durham Herald.

The chambermaid who refused to make up the bed that Booker Washington had slept in got a tip from the public of several thousand dollars, and it happened in the West, too. The South is not alone in its attitude towards social equality between the races. The entire country is taking a saner view of the matter.—Winston Sentinel.

Sometimes a fellow gets mad with the editor of a paper and rushes up to vent his spleen by ordering the paper discontinued. Whenever that happens to us we become overwhelmed with gratitude to think that all this time that fellow has been giving us the subscription price because he liked us and not as a compensation for the paper.—Durham Sun.

The Wastes of the Body.

Every seven days the blood, muscles and bones of a man of average size loses two pounds of wornout tissue. This waste cannot be replenished and the health and strength kept up without perfect digestion. When the stomach and digestive organs fail to perform their functions, the strength lets down, health gives way, and disease sets up. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that rebuilds the tissues and protects the health and strength of the mind and body. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It is an ideal spring tonic. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

Sweet is tasted best on the tip of the tongue, sour on the edge and bitter at the base.

Mr. Joseph Pomiuvil, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

In estimation of measurement men are more accurate than women.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Moral action in child life is more a matter of imitation than intellect.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Dull children are the most unruly children and unruly children are the dullest.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of cholera or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

A Test Of Nerve

[Original.]
"So your father insists upon your marrying the big soldier, Lisa?" said the doctor.
"He does."
"And you wish to marry that pale faced boy, Hans, who dreams and writes verses?"
"I love him."
"Well, my child, I must see what I can do for you."
The next morning Colonel Visser, Lisa's father, received a call from the doctor.
"I came to see you about your daughter," said the latter. "She has no disease, and yet her health is not good. Some mental trouble is wearing on her."
"Yes; she wants to marry that miserable poet, while I want her to marry a thorough man."
"You, being a soldier, think all the bravery is among military men. This poet may have more courage in that frail body of his than your major."
"If I thought that I would give Lisa to Hans."
"Why not put the two men to a test?"
"I am agreeable to that."
"And give Lisa to the one that stands it the better."
"Then she will go to the major. But what test would you suggest, doctor?"
"Leave that to me. I will think of some plan. Come to my office at this hour tomorrow, and I will summon both the suitors to meet you there."
"Very well. I will do as you say. But you do not seem to understand that a soldier is trained to disregard danger, and the major will win."
"We shall see."
The next day Hans reached the doctor's office a few minutes before the others, the doctor having summoned him a little earlier than they.
"Hans," said the doctor, "when I was a boy I loved a little girl. There is no passion in childhood love; it is absolutely pure. I wish you to construct a poem describing this love stealing over me while I was sitting with my little girl one summer evening watching the sunset."
"I will do so tomorrow. But why have you sent for me, doctor?"
"Begin the construction of the poem at once. It must be finished within an hour. If it is successful Lisa may be yours."
"How so?" asked the boy, wondering how a poem could produce such a result.
"Ask no questions, but do as I tell you."
Hans threw himself back into an easy chair and in imagination became a boy sitting beside his child love watching a beautiful sunset. Colonel Visser came in with the major. The colonel cast a contemptuous glance at the poet, who sat staring at the newcomers with his great black eyes. The major, a fine looking fellow, with a strong face and military bearing, looked about him wonderingly. The doctor brought something, evidently a box, covered with a cloth from a closet and set it on a stool in the middle of the room. As soon as it was in place he withdrew the cloth, exposing a glass case in which was a rattlesnake. The viper was darting his vicious eyes from one to the other, showing at the same time his venomous tongue.
"Major," said the doctor, "my friend, Colonel Visser, before giving you his daughter desires to test your bravery. There is a rattlesnake so confined that he is harmless. Do you think you could place your hand on the glass and let him strike at it without withdrawing it?"
The major stepped forward as imperturbably as he had entered upon many a duty on the field of battle and placed his hand on the glass. The serpent made a spring for it, thumping the glass. The major jerked away his hand as if he had been bitten. Coloring with mortification, he placed it a second time on the glass and withdrew it as quickly as before. Again and again he tried it and every time failed.
"That will do," said the doctor.
"Hans, come here."
Hans arose and came forward.
"Put your hand on the glass," said the doctor.
Hans mechanically stretched forth his hand and rested it upon the glass. The serpent struck at it, but Hans was in a dream and did not know it.
"That will do," said the doctor.
"Gentlemen, the object for which I summoned you has been accomplished. Good morning."
The major went out smarting under his inability to keep his hand where there was nothing but the seeming of danger. Hans stood looking out of the window. The doctor, who was near him, heard him mutter:
"But faint and sweet, like distant strains From strings in a summer night, Come thoughts of the childish sympathy That brought me such delight."
"That'll do, Hans," said the doctor.
"You may go. What do you think of his nerve, colonel?"
"Splendid. What a pity he isn't a soldier! He has won Lisa, and he shall have her."
He was standing before the snake's case and was tempted to place his hand on the glass. The snake sprang up, and the colonel sprang back.
"Great heavens!" he exclaimed. "If my men saw me do that they would despise me!"
"Don't trouble yourself, colonel. None of them could do it. Hans is the only man I have ever seen accomplish it."
And Hans could not have done it except through oblivion to the danger. The nerves which directed the motion act independently of the will. But the colonel did not know that.

Queen Quality

WILL YOU TRY IT?

Are you ever irritable? Many a woman can trace her irritability to ill fitting shoes. It is hard to be cheerful, isn't it, when all the time there is a drag and pinch upon the feet. But there is one shoe that is different in this matter of FIT. It is not made like a box into which the foot is thrust, but on the plan of a bandaged wrapped around the muscles of the foot to strengthen and sustain them.

That Shoe is the "Queen Quality"

It makes walking easier for thousands of women. It will do it for you. Will you let it?

Negro Tobacco Factory.

Richmond, Va., May 26.—In line with the policy enunciated by Booker Washington at the negro convention held here a few months ago, a large factory for the manufacture of all kinds of tobacco and to be constructed and operated exclusively by negroes, is to be started here in the near future, it is said. Moreover it is to be only one of a number of industrial enterprises, the directors of which as well as the operatives throughout, are to be negroes, exclusively. It is the first gun, so to speak, of Washington's industrial campaign in this section of the south, and Andrew Carnegie's many millions are back of the negro leader, it is understood. It is proposed among other things, that negro buyers for the tobacco factory shall go on the regular breaks, a thing which was attempted years ago, and was then met with a decided snub. It remains to be seen with what success it will be.
