Salary Increased.

Postmaster J. J. Perkins has received notice from the postoffice department that the salary of the Greenville office will be increased $100 the first of July, making the salary $1,700 per year. The increased business of the office makes this addition to the salary.

BEAVERS IS GUESSING.

Post Office Grafter May Yet Peep Through Prison Bars.

Washington, May 29.—It is the general opinion among those in a position to know that the next sensation in the investigation of the post office scandals will be the arrest of former Superintendent Beavers of the salary and allowance division, who is now under constant surveillance at his home in Brooklyn.

There has been one specific charge against Beavers and so far that has been the only feature of the administration of the salary and allowance division that has occupied the attention of the post office inspectors.

High officials of the department express the opinion that there is no doubt that the investigation will produce evidence of absolute criminality in addition to conditions of extravagance, maladministration and irregularity.

FARMVILLE ITEMS.

FARMVILLE, N. C., May 30, 1903.

The recent rains have improved the crops a great deal in this section.

Miss Sudie Joyner, of Martin county, has been on a visit to her brother, Dr. C. C. Joyner.

A severe hail storm visited a portion of Greene county Sunday night, doing much damage to the crops.

Miss Howard, of Saratoga, is on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Walton.

Mrs. J. N. Bynum, of near here, spent Friday in town visiting Mrs. C. L. Barrett.

Miss Bettie Hardison, whose leg was amputated on the 11th of this month by Drs. Joyner, Morrill and West, is improving rapidly and will be able to be out soon.

Mr. McGowan and wife and children were in town Thursday.

Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. F. M. Davis, of the firm of Davis Bros. and Miss Lucy Bryant, of Saratoga, on June 3rd.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Shelton died Friday, 29th.

Misses Vivian Parker and Rosa Moore have returned from school at Wilson.

Rev. Mr. Jones, of Wilson, will begin a meeting on Monday night.

Southern Constitutions Involved.

Washington, D. C. May 29.—The recent decision of the Supreme court of the United States declining to interfere with the suffrage amendment to the constitution of Alabama, which vitally affects the constitution of North Carolina and other southern states where the negroes have been disfranchised, has not ended the fight to test the validity of those disfranchising laws directed at the ignorant blacks in the South. Today two more cases were brought in behalf of Jackson W. Giles, colored, of Alabama, the original complainant. One was a mandamus proceeding and the other a civil suit for damages.

Counsel for Giles made application to Justice White, in whose circuit Alabama is included, for writs of error directed to the Alabama Supreme court for a review of the cases by the Supreme court of the United States on the ground that a constitutional question is involved in each. The applications were granted by Justice White. The case if advanced will probably be heard in October.

Those who have endured the most hardship in life are usually the least sensitive to pain.

WOMAN ON WAR PATH.

Winston-Salem Lady Gets Her Shootin' Iron Out.

Winston-Salem, N. C. May 29.—William Cooper, a Southern railway freight engineer, was shot at 5:30 this afternoon by Mrs. P. E. Wilson at her boarding house on east Fourth street. Mrs. Wilson fired her pistol at Cooper three times but only one ball took effect. This entered the right arm at the elbow, causing probably only a painful flesh wound. Mrs. Wilson claims to have notified Cooper to stay away from her house, believing that he visited there for evil purposes, and threatened to kill him if he came again. She met him at the door this afternoon and commanded him to leave and his refusal to do so resulted in the shooting.

TARDY HONESTY.

"Mr. Payne may be a politician, yet from all appearances he is making an honest effort to stamp out rascality in his department," says the Durham Herald. But his honest effort comes too late. He has done everything else except attend to the business of his department. The investigation shows that when he came into office he dropped into the rut of his predecessor and simply allowed things to drift. Through the whole nauseous proceeding he has not shown the business ability of a fish peddler. North Carolina has a half hundred county sheriffs who could have managed the postoffice department better than Payne, and saved the country money and disgrace.

The Charlotte Observer says: "You notice the Charlotte people are going to Europe. For a long time they did most of their sight-seeing in New York." There should be a high tariff wall put up to guard the American gold brick industry.

Maybe "Fighting Joe" Wheeler would feel better if he had dressed like the boys in gray at the Confederate reunion in New Orleans, instead of appearing in a Federal uniform. His dress was in bad taste, to say the least, that is if he wore it.

So far Mr. Bryan appears somewhat ungrateful. The strongest support he ever received from any man came from Mr. Hearst, yet Mr. Bryan appears to have cut Mr. Hearst out of his repertoire.

Recent statistics from Washington place Robeson as the banner cotton producing county of the state with Mecklenburg a close second. Pitt comes twelfth on the list.

Charlotte goes one better—in the way of sensations by one woman cowhiding another on the street. Both were white and society, well its got something else to talk about.

Colonel Jno. B. Webster has a way of ringing in the past that must be very uncomfortable for the fellows who have flopped.

We are wondering if things are as far gone in other departments at Washington as in P. M. G. Payne's crook farm.

The Wilmington Messenger finds that the Wilson News is no respecter of persons when it comes to stealing editorials.

It is as dangerous to be a Jew in Russia as it was to be a Christian in Spain under the inquisition.

A Vassar girl jumped over a bar 4 1/2 feet high. She must have seen Carrie first.

Judge Clark evidently does not like the idea of being an also ran.

Maybe Judge Clark is waiting for his running mate to be named.

Durham might try the mental anguish game on the Southern.

The Victor cotton mills at Charlotte have gone into the hands of a receiver with liabilities placed at $80,000. The mills have been in operation 14 years.

THE STATE PRESS

From the way they are coming up our people seem to be laboring under the impression that the St. Louis exposition is to be held sometime during the next century.—Durham Herald.

As the Republicans are largely practical politicians, investigation in other departments of the Governments besides the Postoffice might bring to light a good deal of rotteness.—Winston Sentinel.

The speech of Senator Simmons on the race question in New York has drawn fire from the particular friends of the negro. This is not surprising, for Simmons has a way of stirring up the animals.—Davidson Dispatch.

The governor of Kansas makes the unique announcement that he will appoint no man to office who has not something laid away for a rainy day. And most men imagine that a public office is the place to lay away something for a rainy day.—Durham Sun.

A young lady in a neighboring town writes The Record to know if she can't get a position in the telephone exchange in Greensboro. We do not know, but our advice to her is to get married or go to jail—either is preferable to the position she wants.—Greensboro Record.

The world is beautiful. Did you ever grub for money ten to twelve hours every day, in a dirty office; ride home in a crowded car; come down again in a crowded car for another ten hours or more next day, and know all the time about the red clover blossoms, the daisies, the birds, the bees, the blue sky, the green woods, the singing brooks and all the world which is indeed pretty?

Oh! for five good angle worms, a fishing rod and two hours in the world which is pretty!—Winston Journal.

The Boarding House Sunday.

How sad to recall are the boarding-house suppers
Each dread Sunday eventide drags into view;
The hungriest tramp on his uttermost uppers.
Could scarce find a thing on the table 'twould do,
The bit of cold tongue and preserves you can bet on,
The salad laid out in its lettuce-leaf shroud,
The bread that has all of the crust it can get on—
Those Sabbath day suppers should not be allowed.
Those heart-breaking suppers, those boarding-house suppers,
Those Sabbath day suppers should not be allowed.

If ever I dwell 'neath my own vine and figtree,
And have a wee home where I (think I) am boss,
I'll let all the salad and cold pickled pig pie be
Right where I consign them when e'er I am cross,
And each Sunday evening I'll have a big dinner
Of beefsteak and mushrooms and pie and ice-cream,
At which ev'ry wretched, cold-ham-ridden sinner
May fill to the brim with the food of his dream—
Avant, ye bun suppers, ye boarding-house suppers,
Ye Sabbath day suppers that poison my dream!

The Wastes of the Body.

Every seven days the blood, muscles and bones of a man of average size loses two pounds of wornout tissue. This waste cannot be replenished and the health and strength kept up without perfect digestion. When the stomach and digestive organs fail to perform their functions, the strength lets down, health gives way, and disease sets up. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that rebuilds the tissues and protects the health and strength of the mind and body. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It is an ideal spring tonic. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

Speech the instinct of after dinner.

Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and it not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these disease should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

THE COUNT DE TOURINNE

(Original.)
Harvey Rathbone, being very rich, took life easy. After several years spent at the University of Heidelberg he married the girl of his choice, and the next few years were spent by the couple wherever they could derive the most pleasure. One winter they took a house in Paris.

Rathbone had always had implicit confidence in his wife till jealousy settled itself upon him through a very singular cause. Returning to his home late one evening when his wife was in bed, he entered an adjoining chamber in which a light was turned low and saw a man in evening dress advancing to meet him. In a twinkling there came a revelation of infidelity on the part of his wife. He was about to spring forward to grasp the man by the throat when he discovered that he was looking at his own image in a mirror. He took off his clothes and crawled into bed, but not to sleep. Suppose his wife, whom all the men admired, should thus dishonor him! The idea, having taken root, grew and expanded until it monopolized the principal part of his brain.

The time came when something more than a reflection confronted him. One evening when he desired to go to the opera his wife asked to be excused from accompanying him on the ground of feeling indisposed. Since the piece was a favorite with him he concluded to go alone. He heard little of the music, however, for an idea got into his head that his wife's indisposition was merely a subterfuge. However, he saw the opera through, then, joining some friends, went to supper at a cafe. About 1 o'clock he went home, let himself in with his night key, and was about to go up stairs when he saw a man standing on the stairs. He had been coming down when Rathbone entered and stopped.

Rathbone staggered under the load of horror that had suddenly come upon him. "Stand where you are!" he said as soon as he could get his voice. "Give me time to think. My wife's name must not be brought into this affair. We must find some other pretext."
"Go to your club," said the man, "and say that you caught the Count de Tourinne cheating at cards. You challenged him and will fight him at daylight in the morning."

"The Count de Tourinne"
"By my indiscretion my family, one of the oldest in France, must suffer the only stigma ever put upon it. But it is better thus than that your wife's reputation should suffer."

"It will not matter. I will put you where only the worms will interest you."
The count advanced, took a card from his pocket, threw it on a table and walked out of the front door. Rathbone went into the drawing room and, falling on a divan, buried his face in the cushions. Half an hour later he went to his club, where he met Spencer Hunt, a Heidelberg chem, whom he told that the Count de Tourinne had cheated him at cards and a challenge had passed.

"Go," he concluded, "to the address on the card and arrange the details of the affair."
"I am surprised beyond measure," said Hunt, "that Tourinne should have done such a thing. I am not personally acquainted with him, but his standing both socially and as a man of honor is the highest. Is not this a pretext to cover the real cause of your quarrel?"
"Hunt, as you value my friendship ask no questions. Arrange the affair to be fought out till either I or the count is killed or mortally wounded. Go at once."

Rathbone paced back and forth in the hall of the club, waiting. Men were coming and going, occasionally casting a glance at him, wondering what was the matter with him. Fortunately for Rathbone, he had been so devoted a husband that he had not frequented the club and knew only a few of the members. For an hour he paced, then, suddenly looking up, saw Hunt coming in at the door accompanied by an aristocratic looking gentleman. Both approached Rathbone, the accompanying man glaring at him.

"Is this the man whom you accused of cheating at cards?" asked Hunt.
"No."
"Count, this is my friend Harvey Rathbone. The Count de Tourinne, Harvey. There is some mistake."
The count, mollified, asked for an account of the affair and a description of the person who had been personating him, then returned to his home.

Rathbone was worn out with excitement and the load he bore and did not know what to do. Hunt took him by the arm and led him to the Place de la Concorde and thence up the Champs Elysees. There they walked and talked till the sun stood high in the sky. Then Hunt decided to take his friend home to face an investigation.
When the front door opened Mrs. Rathbone threw herself into her husband's arms, hysterically exclaiming: "Oh, Harvey, where have you been? The house has been entered and all my jewels taken!"
The two men darted glances at each other full of meaning. It was plain that a thief had played a pretty game and effected his escape.

"Thank God!" exclaimed Rathbone.
"What do you mean?" cried the wife.
"Why, my dear, I mean—the fact is I have news of the winning of a suit at home by which I will acquire quite enough to replace your jewels. Let us have breakfast."
The jewels were recovered by the police and the thief secured. He had formerly been a valet of the Count de Tourinne.

CURED WHEN OTHERS FAILED

1056 Winnemac Avenue, CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 25, 1902.

Wine of Cardui can always be relied upon to cure when everything else fails. It is a certain cure for female diseases in their worst forms. I suffered for years with ulceration. Intense pains in the womb and ovaries and dreadful headaches unfitted me for my work. Finally I grew so ill that I had to keep to my bed. The pains were so intense at times as to cause spasms and a disagreeable discharge drained my life forces. In my extremity after all else had failed, I tried Wine of Cardui. After using it for two weeks I began to improve so rapidly that I felt encouraged to keep up the treatment, which I did for eighteen weeks, but at the end of that time I was entirely cured. What a relief was mine and how new and beautiful life looked to me when my health was restored. Only those who have passed through such a siege of sickness as I have will understand how much I value Wine of Cardui. It is indeed a boon to sick women.

Frances Mitchell
Secretary, North Chicago Frauen Verein.

Are you ever irritable? Many a woman can trace her irritability to ill fitting shoes. It is hard to be cheerful, isn't it, when all the time there is a drag and pinch upon the feet. But there is one shoe that is different in this matter of FIT. It is not made like a box into which the foot is thrust, but on the plan of a bandaged wrapped around the muscles of the foot to strengthen and sustain them.

That Shoe is the "Queen Quality"

A Little Early Riser

now and then, at bedtime will cure constipation, biliousness and liver troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the famous little pills that cure by arousing the secretions, moving the bowels gently, yet effectually, and giving such tone and strength to the glands of the stomach and liver that the cause of the trouble is removed entirely, and if their use is continued for a few days, there will be no return of the complaint. Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder. If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me. Mrs. J. W. COOLBAUGH, Milo Center, N. Y.
