PAYNE IS AN INGLORIOUS QUITTER.

HUSHES UP CHARGES AGAINST PERRY S. HEATH.

P. M. G. FAILS TO MAKE GOOD.

Says He Was Guilty Only of In- discretions and Drags McKinley in.

Washington, June 19.—Postmaster General Payne made the amazing statement today that no further action will be taken with reference to the alleged wrong doings of former First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath.

The charge of abuse of political and official power laid at Heath's door by Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow will be laid aside, and what is more, there will be no investigation of his record while first assistant postmaster general.

The excuse offered by the postmaster general for dropping the Heath case is that it is considered that Heath has done nothing for which the law can reach him, and that he was only guilty of indiscretion. This is Payne's excuse today. Yesterday he advanced the miserable plea that the alleged wrong doings were charged against the administration of the late President McKinley, and that since he is dead there is nothing for this administration to do.

The effort to drag the name of the dead president into the shameful affair is treated with contempt on all sides.

The belief is almost universal in Washington that Heath's high position in the republican organization has saved him from being brought to account for his gross misfeasances and malfeasances in office.

He is secretary of the republican national executive committee, of which Payne is vice-president, and there is a strong personal and political friendship between the two.

ROMANOFFS RECOGNIZE PETER I But Put Up a Bluff About Aveng- ing Alexander and Draga.

St. Petersburg, June 18.—An official note was published in the Gazette today recognizing Peter Karageorgevitch as king of Servia, and welcoming his accession to the throne.

The note declares it incumbent upon King Peter I to avenge the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, and expresses the conviction that the new king will know how to punish the guilty ones, adding that the Servian nation nor army should be punished for the crime of a few, but that it would be dangerous to the tranquility of Servia to allow the criminals to go unpunished.

True happiness consists of not wanting the things you can't get. It is never a good plan to open a jackpot with a corkscrew.

CANNOT SPARE BOOKER T.

Teddy Doesn't Want His Colored Friend to Go to South Africa.

Washington, June 18.—Booker T. Washington arrived in this city today and was immediately closeted with the president, who greeted him warmly.

It transpires that Washington has received an invitation from Lord Gray, of the British house of lords, and connected with the great South African company, to go to South Africa and make a study of conditions in English territory, especially as they relate to the African race. The negro teacher came to consult the president as to the proper course regarding the proposition. President Roosevelt would not listen to Booker's even thinking of accepting the invitation, telling him that his time and talents were too valuable for the education of the colored race in this country for him to leave this country for the length of time which the invitation contemplates.

When asked about the offer today Washington admitted that he had received a proposition from Lord Gray and W. T. Stead, the famous English publicist, to go to South Africa and make a report of his views and observations, first to the South African company and second to the English government.

Washington has assured the president that he will not accept the offer.

The Fool-Killer in Indiana.

Indianapolis, June 18.—A crowd of 1,000 people assemble in the Cyclorama building tonight to witness the looping of the loop on a pair of roller skates.

William Zimmerman, a young man of this city, attempted the foolhardy feat. He had a pair of steel skates that weighed about 100 pounds, and came down the incline at fearful speed. When he reached the highest part of the loop he was seen to turn slightly to one side. At that instant he lost his balance and fell to the ground, a distance of 20 feet. The heavy steel skates fell on him. When picked up his skull was found to be crushed. He died within an hour.

A SURPRISE AT WILSON.

Gil Ward Alone to be Tried for Murder in First Degree.

Wilson, June 19.—After court opened this morning the solicitor made the statement that only one of the defendants in the Jones murder case, Gill Ward, would be tried for murder in the first degree, and that a verdict of murder in the second degree would be asked for against Allen, Rich, Whitley and Morgan.

This move of the prosecution took the defense by surprise. A continuance was immediately asked on the ground of a change in the charge. The motion was overruled and the work of securing a jury taken up.

At the adjournment of court for dinner only four names had been chosen and 100 men of the special venire examined.

Crazy Woman's Awful Deed.

Burlington, N. C., June 18.—Near this place last night Mrs. George Webb, who is supposed to have been temporarily insane, went into the yard of her home at 2 a. m. laid her head on a log and backed her face and head in a horrible manner with an axe.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, JUNE 19, 1903.

THE PLANTING OF A SEED.

We would be highly gratified if we could impress the business men of Greenville with the importance and practicability of a retail merchants' association.

The name almost suggests the purpose of such an organization, but the full result of its existence and the benefit to be derived therefrom must be seen to be appreciated.

Perhaps the greatest benefit which a retail merchants' association brings when it is properly conducted is the considerable amount of money saved by buying large quantities of staple goods at one time, saving discounts and reducing transportation charges.

At first glance you will scarcely realize the money-saving possibilities in such an association as we suggest. It affords an opportunity to take advantage of favorable market conditions and it often has far greater weight in dealing with transportation companies than a single individual could possibly have. Anyone who has seen the effects of organization of any interests knows the last statement to be entirely correct.

It would not be necessary to confine the range of the association to Greenville. If the merchants of Ayden, Farmville, Winterville, Grifton, in fact every retail merchant in the county, would join in the movement it would be greatly strengthened.

We are merely planting the seed at this time. We shall carefully watch over its germination, its springing forth, and finally we hope to rejoice in its maturity.

The New York Tribune, the Arabella Antique of American newspapers, has not ruffled her curls in denouncing the barbarians in Indiana, though a late dispatch from that state says:

"When the inter-urban car from Evansville to Howells reached the latter place last night and was found to be in charge of a negro conductor, a dozen citizens boarded the car and gave him an unmerciful beating and then ordered him not to attempt to run a car into the town again. The beating of the negro created great excitement. Citizens patrolled the streets, declaring war on the colored race. Near midnight three other negroes were found hidden in the railroad yards and they were set upon by an excited crowd and all of them were more or less injured with stones and sticks in the hands of the whites."

There are two times when it is important to advertise—one is when people are buying and the other when people are not buying, says Ad-Art. When they are buying it is important to keep the buying up to the best possible point. When they are not buying it is important to stir them up to the point of appreciation. If it is possible to keep them stirred up it will never be wise to stop.

A rural contemporary says the sweetest sound he ever heard is made when one of his subscribers plunks down on the counter a dollar in advance. Sweet and holy as this sound may be, it is like unto a pug dog playing a piano when compared with the sound made by the subscriber who pays up five years' back dues.

"Notwithstanding the backward season, the sea serpent has registered. This time he is off the North Carolina coast resorts," says the Atlanta Journal. Yes, he had to leave the Georgia coast, as he saw some of Atlanta's bank officials "who needed the money" walking along the shore.

We have not yet recovered from the shock caused by the appearance of a column of solid editorial in the Durham Herald. If Joe King does not want to hurt the feelings of every newspaper man in the state he will start up his paragraph mill at once.

E. T. Rollins, business manager of the Durham Herald, and Miss

Bessie Steed, of Oxford, were united in marriage Wednesday morning. Our heartfelt good wishes are extended to them.

"The natives of India," says the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph, "never allow a fakir to starve." In America we put them in the postoffice department.

It is evident that some of our contemporaries are going to discuss the "Servian tragedy" until the next one comes along.

Perry S. Heath appears to have been under the impression that he was supposed to take some of everything offered him.

It is presumed that the Kentucky papers are somewhat reticent on the assassination of the Servian rulers.

Mr. Hearst's presidential ambition seems to have gone to Davy Jones' locker in the sea of matrimony.

"Hosiery will be higher this season." But just how much higher we are not supposed to know.

Greensboro has not as yet come to the front with a relative of the Servian monarch recently deceased.

You are not allowed to forget that the editor of the Charlotte News is a preacher.

If Winston-Salem does not pull off a lynching it will be a fine opportunity neglected.

He Fell Through the Open Door.

Mr. Roosevelt will please note that his "open door" let in a thieving negro in the Durham postoffice, who was no better than some of his white officials in Washington. But he was caught quicker and will be punished more speedily. Let no guilty man escape.—Durham Sun.

He Roosts on His Own Roost.

We learn from a New York paper that the Honorable Dave Bennett Hill "positively refuses to discuss political questions at the present time." That erst-while shrewd statesman evidently has no intention of being goldbricked in to another green goods game.—Winston Sentinel.

His Last Hope Realized.

[From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.]

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

LADIES AND CHILDREN INVITED.

All ladies and children who cannot stand the shocking strain of laxative syrups, cathartics, etc., are invited to try the famous little Early Risers. They are different from all other pills. They do not purge the system. Even a double dose will not gripe, weaken or sicken; many people call them the Easy Pill. W. H. Howell, Houston, Tex., says nothing better can be used for constipation, sick headache, etc. Bob Moore, Lafayette, Ind., says all others gripe and sicken, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers do their work well and easy. Sold by John L. Wooten.

A Betrothal Prayer

Pledging his life and love, he humbly begged:
"Fair bride, O let your constant prayer be,
With downcast eyes and lowly bended head,
"Lord, daily make him worthier of me!"

Each day she cast her eyes upon the ground,
And prayed with bended head. The shadows dim
Grew solemn with the prayer of her heart:
"Lord, daily make me worthier of him!"

The Dead at Heppner.

Heppner, Ore., June 17.—The confusion has been so great here that no accurate estimate of the number of lives lost by the flood could be made. Last night 130 bodies had been recovered. It is believed that the number of dead will not exceed 200. Martial law prevails here while the work of rescuing the bodies continues.

Free lunches have been established. Provisions are arriving from all towns. A second special train with provisions and $7,000 cash, raised by Portland yesterday, reached the Lexington end of the railroad and is being forwarded by team. Ghasts are looting the bodies still in the wreckage.

A Bad Striker.

Norfolk, Va., June 17.—C. H. Buck, a marine engineer on one of the strikes, was tried today before the U. S. steamboat inspectors on the charge of inducing one of the firemen to tamper with the machinery of the ferry boat Elizabeth. He is charged with instructing the fireman how to kick the telltale out and to cut off the electric lights so the steamer would not obey the engineer and would smash into the dock, breaking the dock and herself and injuring the passengers. The trial was concluded and the inspectors will give their verdict after consideration.

A VOICE FROM THE PAST.

The Wise Man of Princeton Has Buried His Boom.

Princeton, N. J., June 18.—George M. Bailey, the Washington correspondent of the Galveston News, sends the following dispatch to his paper tonight:

"The man who knows more about the desires and ambitions of Grover Cleveland than anybody else in the world, utterly repudiates the suggestion that the president is trimming his sails for another experience with the presidency. That man is Cleveland himself."

"It is perfectly absurd," said Mr. Cleveland to the journalist, "to suppose for an instant that I have any desire to re-enter public life, nor have I even remotely entertained the thought of it since I left Washington over six years ago. The matter is as far from any thoughts as it was in 1896, and all must admit it was not within my hearing or sight then. I have no higher aspirations than to pass my days in peace, with my family around me, taking no part in politics which any private citizen cannot with the utmost propriety take."

Sans Souci Book Club.

[Reported for THE REFLECTOR.]

The regular meeting of the Sans Souci Book Club was held Tuesday, June 11th, being charmingly entertained by Miss Jerushia Whedbee. After being called to order by Miss Whedbee, the president, the minutes of last meeting were read and approved. At a previous meeting it had been decided to change and revise the constitution of the club. The new constitution had been drawn up and was then read; meeting the approval of the club, it was ordered that same should go into effect.

Miss Rosalind Rountree then read a delightful paper on Mrs. Humphrey Ward. The subject had been well handled and the reading was thoroughly enjoyed.

The question of whether the club should be continued during the summer was then brought up. After some discussion it was decided to discontinue the meetings for the summer months, to meet again the first Tuesday in September.

After this Miss Whedbee entertained all present by reading a paper on Father Ryan, which was well rendered and much appreciated.

Miss Barnes, of Reidsville, N. C., then recited, in a charming manner, the poem, by James Whitcomb Riley, "A Old Sweetheart of Mine," which was very well received.

There being no further matters to be brought up, the business meeting was adjourned to discuss the dainty refreshments then served by the hostess. This was voted one of the most pleasant features of the evening.

This meeting proved one of the most enjoyable sessions ever held by the club, made more so by the presence of the following visitors: Miss Rosa Quinerly, of Grifton, N. C., Misses Lucy and Mattie Irvin Penn and Miss Annie Barnes, of Reidsville, N. C.

Crops Backward.

We hear some talk that neither tobacco or cotton crops are up to the average. Too much cool weather in June has retarded growth. Cotton will have a better chance than tobacco to develop as of the growth of the former comes in July.

Come Look at Pitt.

The Wilmington Star speaks of Auson county as having 150 acres in tobacco. Just think of 150 acres in a whole county! Here in Pitt we have a number of individual planters who have nearly that many acres in tobacco.

The weather prophet never bet on his own predictions.
