NEWS NOTES FROM WINTERVILLE.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., June 27.

Mrs. J. D. Cox, and Miss Kate Chapman left Thursday morning for Gold Point to visit Misses Lyda and Vivian Roberson.

It was a jolly crowd that went on the Kinston excursion yesterday. About fifty got on at this place. A most enjoyable time was reported.

Geo. S. Wilcox's wagon was up here this morning from away down about New Bern for a wagon load of tobacco flues. Mr. Wilcox knows a good article and is willing to go to extra trouble to secure it.

Maj. Jno. B. Neal, of Scotland Neck, is spending some days in town.

Phone orders were received from our agent at Kinston yesterday for thirty odd Handy tobacco trucks to go down on the freight. No doubt they were sold mainly to excursionists who had just seen the first sample.—A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

J. D. Cox goes to Ayden today to fill his last engagement as tax lister. He tells us that the rate on real estate has been raised from 25 to about 33½ per cent.

J. L. Jackson, of this place, is perfecting an invention for the benefit of tobacco curers. It is an arrangement that he claims will ring an electric alarm bell if the heat in the barn goes either higher or lower than you wish it to be. It will also indicate visibly at the shelter where you stay whether the heat is too high or too low in any number of barns. He also has an automatic damper to help regulate the heat.

Every Handy truck is a complete miniature wagon in itself with no parts to get out of order. A gentleman from some distance was here for a set yesterday. He remarked that he bought a Tar Heel Wagon from A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. about fifteen years ago and had never had a cent's worth of repairs, adding that if the truck did half as well in proportion he would be thoroughly satisfied. He was reminded by us that it was simply a chip off the old block.

Miss Mollye Bryan returned Wednesday night from Bethel, where she has been some time.

Mrs. H. M. Hardee, of Norfolk, and little daughters are visiting Mrs. L. L. Kittrell and others in town.

While the excursion to Richmond was quite thinly attended those taking advantage of same were very fortunate. Those going from this place were very much pleased with their trip. While the car strike made it very inconvenient to visit different points of interest it was in itself an occasion which we do not have the opportunity to witness every day. The opposing factions with the militia on duty to keep them quiet made things quite lively.

Excursionists Return.

The special train carrying the Masons and others, returned from Kinston Friday night reaching here promptly at 11:30 o'clock. The cars were somewhat crowded but all had a good time. The crowd was easily managed and there was not the least disorder of any kind. The train was in charge of Capt. Blankenship, a very clever conductor.

Kinston to Morehead.

The Knights of Pythias of Kinston will run an excursion from that town to Morehead on Tuesday, 30th. The fare for the round trip is only $1. If any persons in this section wish to take advantage of this cheap trip they can go to Kinston the evening before.

AN ILL-FATED EDIFICE.

Presbyterian Church Struck by Lightning Again.

It has been said lightning does not strike twice in the same place, but the saying has proven untrue. During the storm Friday evening, lightning struck the tower of the Presbyterian church and badly damaged the building. The bolt knocked the bell out of place and tore the wood work near it into splinters. Then it seemed to divide and follow the tin valley on the roof in two directions, coming out near the front entrance and also on the rear of the building. At both places windows were shattered, timbers split and weather boarding torn from the outside, while the plastering was broken on the inside.

About three years ago the same tower was struck by lightning. While the building was going up it was injured by a wind storm, and once since completion it narrowly escaped destruction by fire.

Complimentary German.

The young men of the town gave a complimentary German in the opera house Friday night, complimentary to the visiting young ladies. The following were the participants:

Miss Barnes, of Reidsville, with J. B. Higgs.
Miss Lucy Penn, of Reidsville, with D. S. Wilson.
Miss Mattie Irvin Penn, of Reidsville, with R. C. White.
Miss Irma Allen with T. A. Vick.
Miss Alice White, of Greensboro, with J. B. James.
Miss Mabel Warren, of Wilson, with F. G. Forbes.
Miss Bessie Patrick with C. B. Mayo.
Miss Glenn Forbes with Leslie Newton.
Miss Bertha Patrick with M. I. Fleming.
Miss Nina James with T. J. Moore.
Miss Lottie Blow with Harry Skinner, Jr.
Miss Alice Blow with Norris White, of Greensboro.
Miss Helen Forbes with J. W. Shelburn.
Miss Nellie Whaley with Harvey Jones.
Stags—John Garden, J. B. Jarvis and Charlie Horne.

The Situation in Richmond.

Richmond, June 26.—As days go by the trouble between the street railway company and the striking employees grows more stubborn. The ramifications of the dispute have involved all classes and the end seems a long way off. The company today increased the number of its cars and is operating a few lines. On the Seven Pines road running to the country for a distance of 9 miles, much danger is looked for because of the thick woods along the road where law breakers may lie in waiting.

Wilmington Terrorized.

Wilmington, Del., June 26.—Last night was one of terror. Whites and negroes came into frequent conflict and revolvers, knives and clubs were at times freely used. The entire police force was on duty, as trouble had been expected because the negroes had boasted that they would do the whites. The police acted promptly and energetically. Many arrests were made.

Triple Lynching.

Albany, Ga., June 26.—Newton, the county seat of Baker county, 20 miles south of Albany, was the scene of a triple lynching last night. Three negroes charged with murder of A. S. Ballard, June 20th, were taken from the jail in Newton and hanged from a tree less than a mile away.

Will Build of Brick.

Before leaving town Friday evening, ex-Gov. Jarvis, who is chairman of the board of graded school trustees, sent us a message that "THE REFLECTOR has won out and the graded school buildings will be of brick." The trustees have let the contract for the buildings to Burwell Riddick and the work is to be completed by October 15th. This is good news and THE REFLECTOR is glad that it raised the agitation for brick buildings.

Lawn Party.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Allen gave their daughter, Miss Ima, and her guests, a lawn party at their home on Third street, Thursday evening. The front of the building and yard were illumined with Japanese lanterns. Many young people were present and the occasion was one of great pleasure to all.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, JUNE 27, 1903.

THE SOCIALISTIC SORE.

We regret that it has come to pass that the South must deal with such scenes and events as have lately taken place in Richmond. Nothing is further from the ideals and traditions of Southerners than socialism, and nothing can come to the South and bring more harm with it than this hideous evil. Rather than see armed strikers killing and pillaging in the South we would have every city in our land overgrown with cane and cotton. We would not have the reproach flung at us that in the South, the land of ideals, of honor and sentiment, working men must fight to obtain honest treatment.

The worst of it is that we are to see strikes and lockouts grow and multiply in the South as the years roll on.

It is not a compliment to Governor Aycock to be mentioned for the vice-presidency. Democracy stands a poor enough show in 1904 anyway, and a North Carolinian on the ticket, were he as good as a saint, as wise as Solomon and as incorruptible as the stars, would be defeated just because he is a North Carolinian. The time is not yet.

"Th' average mon thot looks ter his ship to come in over th' tillygraph wires along wid quotations on cotton fuchures will be a long toime takin' his boat ride," remarked Mr. Tim Toolan, the only Irish citizen.

When the Wilson mob planned to white cap Jones they felt pretty certain that they would get off with very light punishment or no punishment at all. Otherwise Jones would be alive now.

The man who told his fiancee that he would be satisfied with one kiss belongs in the class with those who think that women want them to do everything they tell them to do.

It is nothing but a waste of tax payers' money to try Jim Tillman in a county where his life-long political friends are in an overwhelming majority.

It is the irony of fate that the man who gets the least money out of the postoffice department is the one who must do the most worrying.

The Southern railroad has spent enough money for printers' ink to build a depot for every town that wants one.

Mr. Payne's heart disease is not likely to become contagious unless it begins to look like the penitentiary is yawning.

Belts are to be worn with bathing suits this summer, but through the mother hubbard the wind still bloweth where it listeth.

King Edward has cut out the Panama hat. Well, the real article does come rather high.

We may have no war in the Philippines, but the white winged dove of peace certainly is not hovering over the home plate to any extent.

No doubt the republican party will be duly appreciative of an opportunity to get on Beveridge's ticket.

Why doesn't the Richmond street car company shoot water melons at the strikers?

We are safe for the time being. Emperor William has handed us his friendliest smile.

THE STATE PRESS

That is a painfully ugly situation in Richmond. How rapidly the growth of cities is changing conditions in the South.—Morning Post.

Shook has been shookened. Anticipating the operation of the Watts act his place has been abolished, but Shook has been promised "something equally as good." Will he get it? If so, when?—News and Observer.

At first the opinion of the public was that the man Jones who was killed in Wilson probably got what he deserved. But the subsequent evidence seems to show that his murderers were about as bad a lot as ever set themselves up as reformers.—Charlotte News.

That was a great stunt of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America in striking out of its marriage service the promise of the bride to "obey." The increase in the membership of that sect will be something wonderful.—Wilmington Star.

The Iowa democrats in their convention at Des Moines refused by more than a hundred majority to put a plank in their platform endorsing the Kansas City platform. Of the eleven members of the committee on resolutions seven were gold democrats. But the Dictator at Lincoln still has his teeth lockjawed on the skeleton of free silver with a turtle-tight grip, and refuses to let go even though it thunders!—Charlotte Chronicle.

His Last Hope Realized.

[From the Sentinel, Gebro, Mont.]

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Animals Becoming Extinct.
Every century sees several species of animal becoming extinct. In the race for life the weak must yield to the strong, and because they are persistently sought for food or for feathers not only individuals but whole families cease to exist. The disappearance of the great auk can be laid to the nineteenth century. It became extinct on the American side of the Atlantic about 1840 and in Europe about 1844. The South African quagga disappeared about 1870 owing to the slaughter by hide hunters. The twin shelled tortoise of the Galapagos islands became extinct in all probability about 1875. The black emu of South Australia was also exterminated during the century, though it was abundant in 1803. The great cormorant was last seen alive about 1839, and many other species of birds from all parts of the world have likewise been exterminated. In the Darish West India islands, for example, out of fourteen species catalogued in 1795 only six still exist, and a similar history can be told of many other localities.

Shelley Liked Bread.

The poet Shelley was very simple in his tastes and found his chief pleasure in long, solitary rambles. Bread became his chief sustenance when his regimen attained to that austerity which afterward distinguished it. He could have lived on bread alone without repining.
"Do you know," he said one day to a friend, with much surprise, "that Mr. G. does not like bread? Did you ever know a person who disliked bread?" His friend explained to him that Mr. G. probably had no objection to bread in moderate quantity at a proper time and with the usual adjuncts and was only unwilling to devour several pounds of dry bread at a meal.

Shelley had no such objection; his pockets were generally well stored with bread. Sometimes he ate with his bread the common raisins which he bought at small grocers' shops.

Sea Serpents Breathe Air.

Like all other serpents, the sea serpents, though permanently inhabiting the sea, are air breathers. The lateral flattening of their tails greatly helps them to swim in any direction, and it specially enables them to rise rapidly to the surface of the water to breathe. That they may do this the more easily and securely their nostrils are placed at the very end of the muzzle and are furnished with valves, which secure them from being entered by the water in which they live.

Unlike other snakes, they cast their skins in small pieces. Their eyes are not adapted to see well out of water, and thus they cannot when in the air take a good aim to bite. They feed on small fishes, which they paralyze by means of their poison, and thus they have nothing to fear from the spines of the fishes they eat.

Mimicry in Caterpillars.

A very large caterpillar stretched itself from the foliage of a tree which I was examining and startled me by its resemblance to a small snake. The first three segments behind the head were dilatate at the will of the insect and had on each side a large black pupilated spot, which resembled the eye of the snake. It was a poisonous or viperine species mimicked and not an innocuous snake. This was proved by the imitation of keeled scales on the crown, which was produced by the recumbent feet as the caterpillar threw itself backward. I carried off the caterpillar and alarmed every one in the village where I was then living to whom I showed it.—"Records of a Naturalist in the Amazon."

Two Tales of Truffed Turkeys.

The Abbe Morelet was accustomed to say: "There needs be two to eat a truffed turkey. I never do otherwise. I have one today. We will be two—the turkey and myself."

The archbishop of Sanzal was another truffed turkey lover. His grand vicar had lost a turkey to him on a bet and delayed paying up because, as he alleged, "truffles were bad that year."

"Bah! Bah!" said the archbishop. "We will chance the truffles. This is a false report that has been circulated by the turkeys."—"The Pleasures of the Table," by G. H. Ellwanger.

Toilet of the Cat.

Cats, large and small, make the most careful toilet of any class of animals, excepting some of the opossums. The lions and tigers wash themselves in exactly the same manner as the cat, wetting the dark, rubberlike ball of the fore foot and inner toe and passing it over the face and behind the ears. The foot is thus at the same time a face sponge and brush, and the rough tongue combs the rest of the body.

Wavering.

Nervous Old Lady (addressing officer on board a passenger steamer)—Oh, captain, I wish you'd go and speak to the man at the wheel. He keeps turning it first one way and then the other, and I'm sure he doesn't know his own mind.—London King.

A Bit Unkind.

Holden—Burgess says he always says what he thinks.
Belden—That accounts for it. Saw him at the club last night, and he didn't utter a word the whole evening.—Boston Transcript.

Her Title to It.

Nell—Is she a society woman?
Belle—Yes, indeed. She belongs to no less than eighteen societies for the suppression of as many things.—Philadelphia Record.

Motherhood

MOTHERHOOD is the reward nature bestows upon healthy womanhood. Women whose vitality has been sapped by disease cannot safely give birth to children. In pregnancy and in childbirth weakness of the mother is revealed in the pain and agony she suffers.

This great medicine drives out every vestige of inflammation and weakness, and gives tone and strength to the delicate organs which mature the child. The pains of pregnancy are banished by Wine of Cardui, and miscarriages, which blast so many fond mother's hopes, are prevented. Flooding, which so often occurs after childbirth, is corrected when Wine of Cardui is used during pregnancy. Wine of Cardui babies are healthy babies, because, during the months of pregnancy, the mother is able to give them necessary vitality and strength.

With these facts presented to American women no expectant mother should be satisfied without the re-inforcement that Wine of Cardui will give her. Every mother should be able to treat herself in her home with this valuable medicine.

Wine of Cardui can be secured from any druggist at $1.00 a bottle.

Polycarp, N. C., Jan. 11, 1902.

I am the mother of seven children and while in pregnancy with the first six suffered untold misery until they were born. One month before the seventh was born I began to take a bottle of Wine of Cardui, which gave me relief after taking three doses. I used the remainder of the bottle until the birth of the child, and was stouter in three days after the birth than I was in a month after the birth of either of the first six. I am 29 years old.
