HYMN SAVED HIS LIFE.

And Long Years Afterward His Foeman Told Him About It.

The power of a song is something wonderful at times. This is well illustrated by a story, and a true one, told not long ago:

Two Americans who were crossing the Atlantic met in the cabin on Sunday night to sing hymns. As they sang the last hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," one of them heard an exceedingly rich and beautiful voice behind him. He looked around, and, although he did not know the face, he thought that he knew the voice. So when the music ceased he turned and asked the man if he had been in the civil war. The man replied that he had been a Confederate soldier.

"Were you at such a place on such a night?" asked the first.

"Yes," he replied, "and a curious thing happened that night which this hymn has recalled to my mind. I was posted on sentry duty near the edge of a wood. It was a dark night and very cold, and I was a little frightened because the enemy was supposed to be very near. About midnight, when everything was very still, and I was feeling homesick and miserable and weary, I thought that I would comfort myself by praying and singing a hymn. I remember this hymn:

"All my trust on Thee is stayed,
All my help from Thee I bring;
Cover my defenceless head
With the shadow of Thy wing."

"After singing that a strange peace came down upon me, and through the long night I felt no more fear."

"No," said the other, "listen to my story. I was a Union soldier and was in the woods that night with a party of scouts. I saw your face. My men had their rifles focused upon you, waiting the word to fire, but when you sang out:

"Cover my defenceless head
With the shadow of Thy wing."

I said: "Boys, lower your rifles; well go home."—Pittsburg Record.

A "Kansas Jackass."

A Kansas court has decided that to call a man a "Kansas jackass" is slanderous, and that the man to whom the epithet is applied may recover damages by process of law. An appeal has been taken and the matter will go to the Supreme court. We have no doubt that the lower court will be sustained. It is bad enough to be called a jackass, but "Kansas jackass" is simply outrageous.—Savannah Morning News.

WINTERVILLE REACHING OUT.

The progressive town of Winterville, just to the south of us, is lengthening its cords and strengthening its stakes. For some time past that town has had a department in THE REFLECTOR in which both to tell the news and advance the business interests there. Now the town has taken another long step forward in the matter of publicity by occupying three times as much space as heretofore in the semi-weekly REFLECTOR in which to talk about the town, its industries and advantages. The Winterville department will be conducted by Mr. J. M. Blow whom our readers will know is an excellent writer, as well as an earnest champion of Winterville's claims. Mr. Blow, is also the agent for THE REFLECTOR at Winterville and is authorized to transact any business for the paper.

"Me hear-rut is br-roken en-toirely, me young sowl is crushed," moaned Mr. Timothy Toolan, the only Irish citizen, as he hitched his suspenders and threw a melancholy sigh at the man on the water cart. "Oi was spendin' me vacation an' me uncle's money in Kaukakee, Illynoise, whin Oi received a posthal car rud be way of th' Posthal Tilligraft company ray-quistln' me prisence at th' Confeddyrite ray-union in Graueville, lovely village of th' long grane whiskers. Iv course yez know Oi am an Owd Souleber, havin' orce seen a piecture iv th' battle iv Gettysbur-rug, so Oi bought the yearrus' output iv a pa-aper mill an' leased a battery iv smooth bore tyewriters, an' composed a speech that would have reached a hear-rut of mar rble an' th' county court house in th' Sandwich Oilands. Now can yez imagine the mortification iv me sowl whin th' train reached Parmele an' they br-roke th' news t' me that th' train could not get across Tar river on account of the air bein all chewed up be' th' brilliant speeches iv th' gentleman who was t' wilcome th' mon who was to intrajuce th' statesman who was t' hand over th' keys iv th' town t' th' official who was to announce th' oraytor iv th' day. Well, all is fer th' best an' th' republican party.

The Durham Herald says:

"If the governor was right in commuting the sentence of that Catawba county man, then the jury that found him guilty, the judge that sentenced him and the supreme court that affirmed the decision were wrong, and you can make nothing else out of it."

And we don't believe the judge, jury and court were wrong.

Maybe the cause of the dissolution of the Hearst boom may be found in the fact that the editor of the late Edenton Transcript was a butcher before he became acquainted with booms and things.

Oft in the stilly night, ere slumber's chains have bound me, I look for a brick with which to fight the bill collector who has found me.

Mr. Hearst will hardly get home in time to attend the funeral of the North Carolina end of his boom.

As things are quieting down in Washington we judge that the treasury has that "allgone" feeling.

In spite of the fashion of wearing half hose at the seashore, the farmers are using the whole kind.

Even if Durham does get a depot interest ought to be charged for the time it has waited.

It is not necessary to sleep under blankets yet. Mosquitos have not reached life size.

These are wearisome days for the saloon men, and the worst is to come.

THE STATE PRESS

Greenville people expect to establish a brick-making plant soon. This is a suggestion as to the kind of houses to be built there in the future.—Raleigh Times.

From what the Greenville REFLECTOR says about the fourth of July exercises we infer that some members of the family talked too much while company was about.—Raleigh Times.

With Delaware, Indiana, and Illinois all crowding to the center of the stage at the same time, it is rather hard for Kentucky to keep the audience interested in the old "dark and bloody ground" act.—Durham Sun.

Salaried employes get little, if any, better compensation than they received before the cost of subsistence began the skyward movement. These are not good times to them, but they are not out on strikes. There are many men today working in Winsor-Salem for the same salary paid them ten years ago.—Winston Salem Journal.

One of Nature's Sad Errors.

Nature equipped the rooster with an absurd desire to crow at an abominable early hour in the morning.

Just when you are enjoying the best part of your sleep, some old sway-back rooster lets loose a yell that wakes you and then he keeps up his disturbance until after sunrise, and doesn't know any better. Why is a rooster's voice so badly out of proportion to his weight? The everlasting fool is composed almost exclusively of lungs, and although he doesn't weigh more than three pounds, he can make himself heard five miles away. If a man had as large a voice, proportionately, as a rooster, there would be no use for telephones. Nature has been entirely too generous to the rooster. We file a protest.—Watt Mason in Nebraska State Journal.

It takes an experienced undertaker to look solemn and conceal his satisfaction at a funeral.

Law cannot make a man moral but it can make him decidedly uncomfortable if he is immoral.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

A SURGICAL OPERATION

is always dangerous—do not submit to the surgeon's knife until you have tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It will cure when everything else fails—it has done this in thousand's of cases. Here is one of them: I suffered from bleeding and protruding piles for twenty years. Was treated by different specialists and used many remedies, but obtained no relief until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Two boxes of this salve cured me eighteen months ago and I have not had a touch of the piles since.—H. A. Tisdale, Summerton, S. C. For Blind Bleeding, Itching and Protruding Piles no remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Salve by Wooten's Drug Store.

Character is the substance; reputation the shadow.

THE FOUNDATION OF HEALTH.

Nourishment is the foundation of health—life—strength. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the one great medicine that enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest, assimilate and transform all foods into the kind of blood that nourishes the nerves and feeds the tissues. Kodol lays the foundation for health. Nature does the rest. Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all disorders of the stomach and digestive organs are cured by the use of Kodol. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store.

His satanic majesty must have a lot of branch offices.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food taken into it that fails to digest it decays and inflames the mucus membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Rhea, Coppell, Tex. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store.

Our faults are soon forgotten— if known only to ourselves.

JUST ABOUT BEDTIME

take a Little Early Riser—it will cure constipation, biliousness and liver troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are different from other pills. They do not gripe and break down the mucous membranes of the stomach, liver and bowels, but cure by gently arousing the secretions and giving strength to these organs. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store.

Take a few swimming lessons before burning your bridges behind you.

Valuable Time Saved.

Slight injuries often disable a man and cause several days' loss of time and when blood poison develops, sometimes result in the loss of a hand or limb. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment. When applied to cuts, bruises and burns it causes them to heal quickly and without maturation, and prevents any danger of blood poison. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

The Real Offender

(Original.)

One morning while Washington's headquarters were at Morristown, N. J., in a house now set apart for Revolutionary relics, Colonel Alexander Hamilton of the staff sat writing in the general's private office. Lieutenant Ralph Tower, about Hamilton's age—they were both about twenty-five—entered. "How are you, Ralph?" said Hamilton. "What can I do for you?" "I understand you represent the general in his absence." "I do." "Have full power to give passes?" Hamilton smiled assent. He was Washington's right hand man for far more important matters than writing passes.

"Where do you wish to go?" he asked. "To Trenton to visit my sweetheart, Marjorie Hastings."

"What! The daughter of that old Tory, Humphrey Hastings?"

"The same. The daughter is heart and soul with us. One of Howe's staff is in love with her, and her father is trying to force her to marry him. She has sent me a message that she needs to see me on a matter of great importance."

"I will take the risk."

"Very well. If you insist I will give you permission in the general's name. You might as well be hanged for an old sheep as a lamb, so keep your eyes and ears open for information of Howe's movements."

At 9 o'clock the same night Major Tarbel of General Howe's staff was sitting with Marjorie Hastings in her father's house at Trenton.

"There must be some reason, Marjorie," he said, "that you have not given me why you decline my offer."

"There is, but I cannot give it to you without incurring a risk of my father knowing it. If it should come to his ears he would send me to England."

"I promise on my honor to hold it sacred."

"Well, then," replied Marjorie, "I am betrothed to an officer in the Continental army."

With a sigh the major arose and, respectfully touching Marjorie's hand with his lips, was about to withdraw when both were startled by the sound of shots without. Marjorie turned pale. Major Tarbel strode to the door. As he threw it open he saw two orderlies who were awaiting him standing without and between them the figure of a young man of refined features dressed in the clothes of a countryman, his coat being of the coarsest texture and his hose of common yarn.

"Who are you?" asked Tarbel of the captive.

"Lieutenant Ralph Tower of the Continental army. I am neither spy nor skulker, but am here at the bidding of my betrothed, Marjorie Hastings."

Tarbel looked from one to the other, then directed his orderlies to remain without while their prisoner was invited to enter, and the door was closed. "Marjorie," said the major, "I find myself in a position from which I would gladly be free. It is my duty to turn over Lieutenant Tower to be dealt with by court martial."

During this brief interview Marjorie had stood pale, her hand on her bosom to still the violent beating of her heart. When Tarbel announced his intention she drew a few convulsive breaths, preparing for a desperate move, then said:

"Major Tarbel, if you hold Lieutenant Tower he will be hanged for a spy. He is not the real spy. Yesterday I sent him a message to come to me. He doesn't know what for."

"Marjorie," said Ralph, "I am sure I know. Your father is about to force you to marry against your will."

"You are wrong, Ralph. Only a few moments ago I confessed to Major Tower that I was your betrothed, and he was about to leave me, like the gentleman he is, free to act my own pleasure. It is for another matter I summoned you." She thrust her hand into her bosom, drew forth a paper and handed it to Tarbel. He opened it, scanned it and saw that it contained important information concerning General Howe's army, then looked up at Marjorie in consternation.

"Do your duty, Major Tarbel," she said. "I confess that I summoned Lieutenant Tower without his knowing my purpose to send this paper by him to General Washington. I am the real spy."

Tarbel stood spellbound for a few moments, then began to rapidly think.

"Marjorie," he said presently, "give me that paper."

"Now," he continued, when she had handed it to him, "you must leave our lines at once. It would be criminal in me to permit you to remain here after what has occurred."

"And Ralph?"

"Upon your confession I am not bound to detain him."

Ten minutes later one of Major Tarbel's orderlies called a domicile who lived close at hand. Ralph Tower and Marjorie Hastings were made one, and at midnight passed the British lines. The next morning they stepped into Colonel Hamilton's office.

"Colonel," said Tower, "I have no military information for you, but I have brought a wife. Permit me to introduce Mrs. Tower, nee Marjorie Hastings."

"He who gains a woman," said Hamilton with a smile, "gains information as well. Doubtless Mrs. Tower will tell us all we need to know."

But in this Hamilton was mistaken. The lady was too honorable to take any advantage of Major Tarbel's magnanimity. MARY C. BARROWS.

Bryan & Nichols, DRUGGISTS.

LIKE FINDING MONEY.

J. L. Wooten Offers Popular Medicine at Half Price.

J. L. Wooten, the popular druggist is making an offer that is just like finding money, for he is selling a regular 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means for it is only recently, through the solicitation of Druggist Wooten that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents. He urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount.

The result has justified a good judgment, for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, J. L. Wooten will return your money.

The specific is very pleasant to take, coming in the form of small granules, and there are sixty doses in ever package. It is especially convenient when traveling, and no one should start on a journey without a bottle of this reliable medicine.

For a lazy liver try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They invigorate the liver, aid the digestion, regulate the bowels and prevent bilious attacks. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville Farmville Pharmacy Farmville.

FARMVILLE ITEMS.

FARMVILLE, N. C., July 7, 1903.

We desire to give a personnel of many of our most successful business men of Farmville, and of the older citizens, who have done their part in the upbuilding of our town.

In glancing over the list of ads from our town, we see the name of W. M. Lang, a dealer in general merchandise. He is a most worthy successor of his father, W. G. Lang, who is spending his latter years in overlooking his farming interests. W. M. Lang possesses all the characteristics of a No. 1 business man. There is, also a social side to his disposition, which, altogether, fills up this character of a Christian gentleman, worthy of the confidence, friendship and respect of all with whom he may come in contact. "May his tribe never grow less."

R. L. Davis & Bros., hold a high place in the minds of the public. Courtesy and politeness shown to their customers evidences the confidence and business integrity of this firm. The business of R. L. Davis & Bros. is very large.

M. T. Horton & Brother occupy a very nice and convenient place for trade. Their line of goods is well adapted to the trade. They are commanding a fine trade. They are honorable, trustworthy, and are up to date business men. Mr. M. T. Horton is proprietor of the Horton Hotel, presided over by his most excellent wife, Mrs. Dora Horton, who takes great pride in making the hotel one of the best in the county.

Miss M. A. Leggett, in the millinery and fancy goods business, so ably assisted by her sister, Mrs. Edwards, holds a large and ever increasing trade. Their hats, of the latest fashion, when dressed in the artistic style which they are capable of doing, command the admiration of all who see them.

The Hardy Sisters are in the millinery business, too. Though having opened but a few months ago, seem busy all the time. Their stock of goods selected with such taste and judgment suited to this market will always find purchasers.

Messrs. J. H. Harriss & Co., dealers in general merchandise, have a very attractive line of goods, and by the pleasant manners and especial good looks of Mr. H. receive a fine and most satisfactory patronage.

Mr. G. C. Barrett is holding the fort, and in his happy, disposition and smiling face, always evincing his kindness of hearts is making the shackles drop into the money till.

We have two physicians in our town who, for medical knowledge and experience, can not be excelled. Dr. C. C. Joyner recently moved to this place, and from his gentle, many ways and social qualities he has won the hearts of many. He has an ever increasing patronage. Dr. David S. Morrill was for a while the only physician in Farmville; gentle as a woman, kind and humane, he holds his position in the hearts of his patrons, and has a fine practice. Our town is certainly blessed with two most excellent doctors. Outside of Farmville only a few miles apart are two other physicians. Dr. J. N. Bynum and Dr. Sam'l Morrill. Gentlemen of culture and experience, they enjoy the respect and confidence of the entire populace—and still control a large practice. There are other merchants and business men of whom we wish to write in our next.

In these communications we desire to write up our town and publish to the outside world the many advantages our town and community possess, and to offer to men of vim, energy and capital, eligible situations for many enterprises which will be very lucrative when undertaken.
