The Old Folks of Farmville.

DEAR EDITOR:

Today we will comment upon the past. We would pull aside the curtains of the years which are sleeping their beautiful dreams of the past, and call up the sacred memories which have lain in the deep, recesses of the heart, and bid them speak of the years ago. When we look around us, we see many young men and women, the middle aged, who are engaged in the work of life, and we are forced to ask ourselves the questions: "Our fathers—where are they?" And the reply comes back to us in silent echo, "Where are they?" We see so very, few old persons now. The busy streets of the cities and towns reverberate to the footsteps of the vigorous younger men and women, intent upon the prosecution of their several occupations, and the old fathers and mothers yet living, are resting from their toils and cares of former years, waiting for the call to go into the great eternity beyond.

In our good town of Farmville there are but few of the original settlers. Mr. McD. Horton, Sr., father of our worthy townsmen, M. T. and McD. Horton, Jr., is now quite afflicted, having had the misfortune to injure his hip, which accident renders him unable to do active labor.

There are some most estimable ladies who have lived here for a good while. Mrs. Belchor, member of the generation past most of their associates having gone to their eternal reward.

Mr. John Barrett, living only a few miles from the town, has lived in this section for many years. He is now upon a bed of pain and affliction. We fear that the sands of his life are slowly ebbing, and time's hour glass will cease its running. He has lived the full time of the old man, his three score years, and ten have passed away. He is waiting just on time's shore for the white robed angel boatman to guide him across death's dark river, unto Heaven's fair shore.

These thoughts present to every mind the solemn truth that we, too, in the years to come, must pass through the ordeal required of us; we must pass through it with no earthly help or guidance. Happy are we if shall have the Redeemer of Sinners with us, whose promises shall never fail.

Mr. Jerry Fields, one of our best citizens, though at times quite feeble, can go in and out among his friends, and attends to his farming affairs with his old time energy. We like to talk with this good and kind neighbor. His genial manners and instructive conversation give the younger minds an insight into the past, and the good advice given, if followed, would prevent many an inexperienced person from making very grave mistakes. God grant his last days, together with those of his friends who are still alive, may be their best days. And when their earthly existence shall have ended, may they, trusting in the merits of a crucified Lord, find salvation in His blood.

The health of our town with few exceptions is good. Some of the dear little children are sick. May our Heavenly Father comfort the hearts of the anxious parents who watch with care at the cradle side of their loved ones and heat their prayer as they plead for the life of their loved ones.

PROF. BURKETT WINS.

Appointed Crop Statistician for North Carolina.

Washington, D. C. July 10.—After a long and animated contest Prof. Charles Burkett, of the North Carolina A. & M. College, has been appointed crop statistician for North Carolina, notwithstanding the fact that the selection was vigorously opposed by Judge Pritchard before he went on the bench, and latterly by Thos. S. Rollins, head of the republican organization in North Carolina. One of the interesting features of this fight is that Prof. Burkett was endorsed by the two democratic senators for the state, and therefore this is the first instance that they have triumphed in a political matter when opposed by the republican organization. It is believed here that it was not so much the influence of the two senators that secured Prof. Burkett the position as it was the influence of friends in the department who desired to see him appointed.

AYDEN ITEMS.

AYDEN, N. C., July 10, 1903. A. W. Morgan and J. S. Dye, of Baltimore, are in Ayden in the interest of their mercantile houses.

J. P. Mayo, of Old Sparta, is soliciting life insurance in Ayden and vicinity.

Miss Mattie Williams and Mrs. Annie Meadows, of Kinston, returned home Friday evening.

The Bank of Ayden has presented each of its patrons with a handsomely printed check book with owner's name and business on each check. The business of the bank is growing all the time.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

J. L. Gaskins has retired from the firm of L. H. Weatherington & Co. and bought the entire interest of E. Tripp & Co. F. Lillie has purchased the former's interest of J. L. Gaskins in the firm of Weatherington & Co.

E. Tripp retired from the mercantile business and will devote his time to the service of the guests of Hotel Tripp.

W. E. Hooks, the popular and successful life insurance agent, has taken an agency for the Fidelity Mutual.

Charles Skinner returned to Greenville Friday evening.

A visit to Grifton Friday convinces us that all of the towns in this section of Pitt county are talking on new life. Eight or ten handsome brick stores are going up and will be ready for occupancy by the first of August. The building of these stores away from the nest of wooden buildings crowded along narrow streets is a good move for the town and will surely result in a saving of from eight to nine percent. in insurance rates.

The county commissioners have ordered an election here on the 7th of August for the purpose of ascertaining the wishes of the people on increasing taxes for school purposes 30 cents more on the $100 valuation of property and 90 cents more on the poll.

Town commissioners met on Friday night in regular meeting.

The daughters of Rebekah held their regular session Friday night. F. G. Buhmann and Stencil Hodges went to Winterville Thursday evening.

Household furniture is selling well in Ayden. Wise old women tell us this is a sign of coming marriages.

Mrs. J. W. Quinerly, with her two little boys, William and Simp,

New Negligee Shirts.

THEY are here. Take of that stiff starched Shirt—no wonder you are uncomfortable. Put on one of our Negligees and you'll feel like a different man—cool as a cucumber.

Soft as a government job, but not as hard to get, for they cost only 50c., 75c., 1.00, 1.25 and 1.50. Many new patterns, some are pure white, some are pleated. French Percales, Cheviots, Madras, etc. If you have never worn a Negligee during hot weather, try one, and you will feel under lasting obligations to us for the suggestion. See display of 50c. Shirts in our window.

W. H. Patrick and R. A. Dawson of Grifton, were in Ayden Thursday evening.

Miss Olivia Berry came home from Greenville Thursday evening.

Miss May Anderson is visiting friends and relatives near Farmville.

Mrs. Olga Edwards returned Friday from a visit to Ormondsville, accompanied by her father, Elias Turnage.

T. Doc Frizzelle was in Ayden Friday.

Notice.

The board of commissioners of Pitt county will meet on Monday, July 13th, for the purpose of revising the tax list for 1903, and hearing complaints of same. Any person having failed to list taxes can list on that date by paying a fee of 25 cents to the register of deeds.

By order of the board of commissioners.

WHAT SHALL THE HARVEST BE?

An earnest Baptist minister in this state said a couple of years ago: "If I could purge the rolls of my church of a third of its membership, if I could cull out those who use the church as a shield for unrighteousness, and who make only pretense of obeying both church and moral laws, my church and my sincere people would experience a new awakening such as the whole church and her followers stand in need of today. The strength of our church used to be in the absolutely pure and wholesome lives of its members, but now so much chaff has crept in that the world stands off and calls us hypocrites, because we have hypocrites among us. When the young people are approached on the subject of giving their hearts to Him who saves and their lives to the church through which He saves, they say to us: 'Brothers, don't you know you have old man So-and-so in your church, and a dozen or more just like him, who keep a jug of liquor in their houses and use it, who permit their children to play cards until midnight, often winning or losing valuable articles. If these folks have been in the church all their lives and still keep up these practices, how can I believe that the church will help me any more than it appears to have helped them?'"

The above words, which are truth's very essence, are recalled by an incident which happened some time ago in a town not a thousand miles from Greenville. A husband and wife, both resting in the cooling shades of the twilight of life, were giving a party to their friends in celebration of their golden wedding. They are not members of any church but when one of the guests requested permission to play cards, they forbade it, saying, "No, we made a compact long years ago not to play cards or allow them to be played in our home."

Now isn't this a beautiful example for non-members to set the church, whose members often wink at the grossest violations of church and moral laws and common decency? Isn't it bound to reflect upon the church in the minds of those who look upon one picture and then upon the other? On the one hand they see two lives guided along the paths of right and duty by the fixed star of conscience; on the other scores of people who call themselves, and whom the church calls Christians, drifting and floundering hither and thither, with no duty, no conscience in their lives—nothing to save them from hell-fire except their names writ on the roll of the church. What shall the harvest be?

"Shepard and Aycock" sounds all right, but that is not what elects men. The writer has lived for years in all parts of the North and West, and knows that the people up there will not stand for Governor Aycock as a candidate for the vice presidency. Every G. A. B. Post from Maine to Michigan would howl against it. The time for such a combination is not yet, and will not be for years, and any such attempt will mean certain defeat.

In two hours the people of the town of Dunn got together and raised eleven thousand dollars in cash for the removal of the Greensboro Female college to the bustling Harnett town. In addition a beautiful site was offered free. This is enterprise, push, progress and hustle all bunched together, and we sincerely hope Dunn will get the college.

The genial lightning rod agent has registered in Northampton county, as evidence of which the following is taken from the Roanoke-Chowan Times.

"Dodge the lightning-rod agent, or say NO in big capital letters when he offers to rod your buildings in a 'scientific' manner. Sign no contracts of any description for him and you will not have to pay $300 for a $10 job. Might as well be struck by lightning as by one of these fellows."

The race riot has reached Philadelphia, from which we gather that all the public money has been stolen and the natives are turning to a new diversion.

The republican campaign is warming up in Kentucky. Ammunition and undertakers are arriving on every train.

A Baltimore man claims he was asleep when he killed his wife. Counsel for the Wilson defendants ought to get hold of this.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

A SURGICAL OPERATION

is always dangerous—do not submit to the surgeon's knife until you have tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It will cure when everything else fails—it has done this in thousand's of cases. Here is one of them: I suffered from bleeding and protruding piles for twenty years. Was treated by different specialists and used many remedies, but obtained no relief until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Two boxes of this salve cured me eighteen months ago and I have not had a touch of the piles since.—H. A. Tisdale, Summerton, S. C. THE FOUNDATION OF HEALTH.

Nourishment is the foundation of health—life—strength. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the one great medicine that enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest, assimilate and transform all foods into the kind of blood that nourishes the nerves and feeds the tissues. Kodol lays the foundation for health. Nature does the rest. Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all disorders of the stomach and digestive organs are cured by the use of Kodol. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food taken into it that fails to digest it decays and inflames the mucus membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucus, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Rhea, Coppell, Tex. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store.

When a woman is not on good terms with her husband she has an idea that the only reason he doesn't get rich is to keep her from having all the things she desires.

JUST ABOUT BEDTIME

take a Little Early Riser—it will cure constipation, biliousness and liver troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are different from other pills. They do not gripe and break down the mucous membranes of the stomach, liver and bowels, but cure by gently arousing the secretions and giving strength to these organs. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store.

Valuable Time Saved.

Slight injuries often disable a man and cause several days' loss of time and when blood poison develops, sometimes result in the loss of a hand or limb. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment. When applied to cuts, bruises and burns it causes them to heal quickly and without maturation, and prevents any danger of blood poison. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Characteristic of the Old Roman.

Gen. Matt W. Ransom, the "Old Roman" of North Carolina history, spent last night in the city and regaled a number of his friends with reminiscences of bygone days. He delivered an address to the Confederate veterans at Greenville yesterday and ran over to spend last night in Kinston.

From one attending the reunion at Greenville yesterday the following interesting item was learned, which is characteristic of the "Old Roman":

After General Ransom had finished his talk to the surviving "Johnny Rebs" yesterday, an old soldier stepped up and, extending his hand, said: "Howdy do, General; I guess you don't know me." General Ransom grasped his hand and replied: "Why, how are you, Tom? That I do know you," recognizing him, though he had not seen him since the war.

The old veteran then recalled an incident which happened at the first battle of Kinston in the early part of the civil war, which ran like this:

He with six others, was being tried for desertion, and General Ransom, not believing them guilty, appeared before the court-marshal in their behalf and gained their discharge.

Afterward the men made up a purse of $750 and offered it to the general, but he refused the purse and told them to send it to their wives.

This generous act made a deep impression on the men, and they never forgot it.

General Ransom returned to his home in Halifax county this morning.—Kinston Free Press.

New Order of Worship.

Asbury Park, N. J., July 9—The joint commission of the Methodist Episcopal church, north and south, has completed its ritual revision labors in Ocean Grove. The new order of worship adopted lays special stress upon reverent worship and provides for kneeling in silent prayer on entering a church.

There are extensive changes in the catechism. In future a primary and a standard catechism, almost new, will be used in the place of the three now in use. Bishop S. M. Merrill, of Chicago, in an interview says:

"The utmost harmony has prevailed and the Methodist Episcopal churches, north and south are closer today than they have been since they separated in the days of slavery."

The order of worship is practically the same as now used in the church north.

Why Senator Bate Does Not Smoke.

The aged Senator Bate, of Tennessee, does not smoke but carries an unlighted cigar in his mouth nearly all the time. Governor Bob Taylor, while here last Tuesday, told privately why the senior senator from his state does not light a cigar and why he never smokes. At the battle of Shiloh General Bate, who was an inveterate smoker, wanted to smoke, and finding that he did not have a match, called to his younger brother, who was on his staff, for a light. His brother struck a match and reached over the neck of his horse to touch it to the end of the cigar, but just at that moment a bullet struck him and he fell dead with the lighted match in his hand. From that day to this General Bate has carried an unlighted cigar.—Monroe Enquirer.

PACTOLUS ITEMS.

PACTOLUS, N. C., July 10, 1903.

Heavy rain Saturday. Monday more rain. Cotton, grass and warm weather are now in order.

D. R. Willis, of Washington, spent Tuesday here with his wife's father.

R. R. Fleming, Jr., left last week for Raleigh, where he will be for several weeks.

Tobacco curing is on a boom now. I. R. Baker is showing some nice samples of the weed.

A. M. Watters is here looking after machinery which arrived to today from Norfolk. He will locate a large shingle mill in the Ward's bridge section, about three miles from here.

Stop in to see C. E. Bradley when you go to Pactolus and let him write you up for THE REFLECTOR. He has the list for Pactolus and the surrounding community. Any one owing back subscription can pay him, get receipts &c, all advertising matters left with him will have prompt attention.

Wanted—To buy 4 or 5 small pigs 6 or 8 weeks old.

C. E. BRADLEY.

J. L. WOOTE'S UNUSUAL OFFER.

Sell Dr. Howard's Specific at Half-Price, and Guarantee a Cure.

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said J. L. Wooten, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis.

"The Dr. Howard Company, in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes me to sell their regular fifty cent bottles at half-price, 25 cents, and, although I have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory.

"One great advantage of this specific," he continued, "is its small dose and convenient form. There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and every one has more medicinal power than a big pill tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

I am still selling the specific at half-price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion, or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance. You can tell your readers that if they are not satisfied with the specific they can come right back to my store and I will cheerfully refund their money.

GREAT JULY SALE

of Oxford Ties for Men and Women.

Hot weather is upon us and we are now showing three of the greatest lines of Oxfords in America. Queen Quality at 2.50 and 3.00, for women. Dorsch at 5.00 and Crossett at 3.00 and 3.50 for men. The above three lines of shoes need no introduction. Their reputation keeps them before our customers. It is conceded by all that the Queen Quality is the greatest shoe on earth for women. The Crossett is the best shoe in existence for the money. And the Dorsch at 5.00 for Oxfords and 5.50 for boots is the best shoe known to the wearers of shoes. We could talk all day about our shoes but rather than say so much, we invite you to call and examine our stock of shoes. We have all leathers at all prices.

Alabama Peonage Cases.

Washington, July 10.—The peonage cases in Alabama will eventually number 1,000. The government intends to prosecute them to the limit. Other Southern states are said to be seats of similar practices. The violator of personal liberty will have all they can do in the future to preserve their own. Southern sentiment is almost unanimously sympathetic with the department of justice and its workers.

Miss Sadie Exum returned today from a visit in Lenoir county.

Sheriff and Mrs. O. W. Harrington left this afternoon for Seven Springs.

NEWS NOTES FROM WINTERVILLE.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., July, 11.

Closs Hearne, of Greenville, has been here courting, but he was too sharp for us. We couldn't spot him.

We have the crack cook of the state. Josh can't be beat. His services have already been secured. None other need apply.

B. F. Manning and A. D. Johnson went to Greenville Thursday.

Another factory is on the tapis and still another at no distant day. Surely Winterville seems to be blessed with a continuous boom.

The little dog of ice cream fame has come to life, but he shuns freezers.

G. A. Kittrell, H. B. Nobles and Prof. Nye, all of whom have been sick, are rapidly improving.

Miss Hattie Kittrell who has been spending sometime at the various summer resorts is expected home today.

Mesdames B. T. Cox and R. G. Chapman went to Greenville shopping Friday and returned on the evening train.

The health, progressiveness, vim and energy of Winterville we will place in comparison with any other place in North Carolina, and the result therefrom will cause no earthquake beneath our equilibrium, either.

S. V. Joyner and S. P. Erwin, of Beaver Dam, were here Friday.

Te Doc. Frizzelle, of Greene, spent a short while with us Friday.

"Aunt Polly" Smith, one of the most refined and highly intelligent ladies of our acquaintance, though 78 years of age, took a walk of two miles and back Friday.

No one will accuse us of boasting but really we must say Winterville is not only the garden spot of the world, has the prettiest girls under the sun, the most progressive town of its size in the universe and has attractions so numerous we cannot enumerate.

Our people are looking forward with much pleasure to the meeting of the teachers here and are making every effort to show their appreciation of the honor in having the institute held in their midst for two consecutive terms. It is an honor and we are proud of it.

Claud Dawson, of Grifton, was here one day last week.

Miss Tessie Speight, of Bountree, has been visiting Miss Effie Kittrell.

Miss Sophia Peele, of Portsmouth, came Wednesday evening and left yesterday for Greenville. While here she visited the Misses Dawson.

Prof. J. F. Stokes, after an absence of several days, has returned.

Maj J. B. Neal, of Scotland Neck, the clever, genial, whole-souled insurance agent, is again with us. He is an interesting conversationalist and a welcome guest at any time and anywhere.

The rush for the present season in the various factories here is nearly over and the workmen are anticipating a much needed rest from the long strain they have been subjected to.

We insist and urge upon our friends the necessity of making the Winterville department as interesting and attractive as possible; hence the necessity of their assistance in furnishing every item of news, however trivial it may appear. It will greatly add to the growth and development of our community and be to each and every one of us a source of pleasure.

George Kittrell and Joe Blow spent Wednesday in Greenville.

Prof. J. L. Jackson had his hand badly mashed Thursday while manufacturing his thermometer.

John D. Hurst has accepted a position in the country.

William and Allie Ware, children of Rev. and Mrs. W. K. Ware, of Winston, are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Clara Brown, near Greenville.

NOT DEAD YET.

Pope of Rome Reluctant to Leave This World.

Rome, July 10.—By Sbeer will power, apparently the mere shadow of a man at the vatican, whose struggles with death all the world is watching, lives all physical laws, belies the prophecies of his physicians and devies on. He not only chats, but with undiminished virility he discourses with those around him on a great variety of human affairs. Yesterday he reviewed reminiscences of 75 years ago with the new physician who had been called in for consultation. Today after again submitting to a painful puncturing of the chest he urged the summoning of all the college of cardinals to consult as to the best interests of the church regarding his successor. His doctors insisted upon vetoing this growing demonstration of mind over matter, but the flames of this wonderful intellect burns on. No fuel remains in the exhausted body and its functions have almost ceased. Medical men who are able to prophesy almost with certainty in an ordinary case of the same nature, confess their knowledge at fault. The pope has no right to be alive, scientifically speaking, yet nobody now ventures to say when the end will come.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

H. B. Philips went to Norfolk today.

Thos. Blow has returned from Baltimore.
