RIP VAN WINKLE OUTCLASSED.

Would-be Traveler Had His Sleeping Habits On.

Monday a man went to the depot a little after noon expecting to go south on the freight train. Being somewhat ahead of the train he lay down on the seats in the waiting room and went to sleep. The freight train came and left and the man slept on. Awakening later he found that he was left, so to be on time he concluded to wait on at the depot until the evening train came along. He returned to his "couch" in the waiting room and stretched out for another nap. He was still asleep when the evening train arrived, but roused up just in time to see it pulling away from the station. He grabbed his belongings and made a dash out the door of the waiting room after the moving train. But he could not make it, and finding himself out-classed in the race he went back to sleep some more and wait until another day.

WAS PETER IN THE PLOT?

Paris Newspaper Says He Directed the Assassination.

Paris, July 14.—Under the caption "The truth about the tragedy at Belgrade," Gil Blas today prints an article written by M. de Provi-grand, in which the writer openly accuses King Peter of having been the leader of the Servian conspiracy. The leader of the plot, he says, was in Geneva, and he was Peter Karageorgevitch. He it was who, through his secretary, gave the order for the assassination of King Alexander, Queen Draga, and several of the members of the cabinet.

M. de Provi-grand then gives the names of officers on whom rests the responsibility for the mutilation of the bodies of the late king and queen. He also gives what he says is the true story of the origin of the plot and the manner in which it was carried out.

Large Building Operations.

Few people, without stopping to think and calculate a little, would imagine that work is now in progress on fully $50,000 worth of buildings in Greenville. Yet a walk around town will convince them that this estimate of the aggregate is a conservative one. There are the Masonic temple, graded school, two tobacco warehouses, a mammoth stable and numbers of handsome dwellings on which work is going on. This will be an eventful year for new buildings in Greenville, and the end is not yet in sight.

Withlacoche Tribe No. 35 I. O. R. M.

This tribe at their last regular sleep raised up the following chiefs for the present term: C. P. Snuggs, Sachem; W. G. Ward, Senior Sagamore; z. V. Hooker, Junior Sagamore; S. T. White, Prophet; E. A. Coward, Chief of Records; D. W. Hardee, Keeper of Wampum; W. J. Turnage, Collector of Wampum.

Bonnet-Shaped Leaf

W. K. Woolard, of Carolina township, sent THE REFLECTOR a tobacco leaf that is the curiosity of the season. It is a very large leaf and so puffed on one side that when the ends are drawn near together gives it almost the exact shape of a bonnet.

Being in a girl's bedroom makes a bachelor as uncomfortable as being asked to hold the baby.

WASHINGTON WAS WALLOPED

By the Greenville Aggregation of Ball Players.

A ball team from Washington came up Tuesday to play a game with the Greenville boys. The game started a little after 5 o'clock with a large crowd of spectators present. It was an interesting game, both sides doing some excellent playing. At the close of the 7th inning it looked somewhat serious for the home team, but they rallied in the two last and piled up scores enough to put them well in the lead.

The line up of the clubs was as follows:

Greenville	c	Washington	Maxwell
Johnson	p		Short
James B	1b		Smith
White	2b		Carroll
Smith	3b		Shelton
James D.	ss		Wilson
Blow	rf		Moore
McGowan	lf		Litchfield

POPE---CONTINUED.

He May Die Today---and He May Not.

Rome, July 14 (2:15 p. m.)—The Pope's condition today developed features which the doctors regard as the most alarming since his illness began. Their judgment was based upon the patient having brief but recurring spells of delirium. During the period of delirium his mind wandered and he muttered incoherently. He insisted that shadows flitted about the room. In his lucid moments the Pope for the first time showed a complete realization of the gravity of his condition. He asked for Franciscan benediction, which was given. He especially asked to see Cardinal Rampolla, to whom he gave what was thought might be his final words.

Rome, July 15th (4:30 a. m.)—There is no noteworthy change in the Pope's condition. He has slept easily until occasional restless periods. His strength seems to be ebbing away.

PACTOLUS ITEMS.

PACTOLUS, N. C., July 15, 1903. Tobacco, 'bacco and tobacco. Rain, taters and grass. A long shower Monday. Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Peal returned Monday from a visit to Bethel. Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Fleming went to Washington Tuesday. The farmers' talk: "Are you through laying by? Did you make a good cure of tobacco? Lost a barn?"

What's the matter, Uncle Abe? Isn't it time for some of them mellons to be coming this way?

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, JULY 15, 1903.

TAKE IT TO THE CORPORATION COMMISSION.

Early this year petitions signed by nearly every business man in Greenville, Winterville, Ayden and Grifton were sent to the officials of the Atlantic Coast Line asking for double daily train service on this branch of their road from Weldon to Kinston. In response to these petitions Capt. W. H. Newell, division superintendent of the A. C. L., came to Greenville and conferred with the editor of THE REFLECTOR, who had forwarded the petitions, and a few others of our own business men. Assurance was given then that the company would give the matter due consideration and act upon it as soon practicable, the impression being made that the improved service would be inaugurated by the beginning of the next tobacco season.

We met Capt. Newell again a few days ago and asked him what was the prospect of getting the additional train. He replied that a recommendation had been sent to the company to put it on about October.

This looks like delaying the matter unreasonably. The service ought to have been improved long ago, and it should at least be started with the beginning of August. In view of the usual dilatoriness of the railroads in acting upon matters to increase facilities for better accommodating the public, it looks like if our people are to get the relief desired from belated trains and congested freights, the agitation must be resumed. There is work along this line that the Merchants Association, recently organized, can accomplish.

In addition to the increased service suggested in the petitions above referred to, there are many who also desire a Sunday train on this road. However, no improvements are likely to be had unless the people make demand for them and push the demand vigorously.

The unification of the Christian world looks a great deal nearer to this generation when we read the following dispatch from Chicago:

"Prayers for the speedy recovery or happy death of Pope Leo were said in all the Catholic churches of Chicago yesterday. Even in Grace Methodist Episcopal church a prayer was offered for the Pontiff."

"In Holy Family Church, West Twelfth street, nine masses were sung during the day and before each mass announcement was made of the Pope's serious illness. Fifteen thousand persons attended the masses in this church alone."

"An eulogy to the Pope was delivered in Hemenway Methodist Episcopal church, Evanson. In Grace Methodist Episcopal church a prayer for his recovery was offered."

"Mr. Quay ought to feel proud of the way the Pennsylvania youth is following in his footsteps. Two boys, aged 7 each, were caught in the act of burgling a store in Philadelphia," says the Atlanta Journal. Philadelphia must be growing better, as 5-year-olds used to be very efficient sneak thieves in the city of Brotherly Graft.

We fail to see why the report that Mark Hanna intends to engage in the harvesting machinery business should cause so much comment. Hasn't Mark been running the greatest harvesting machine on earth for eight or ten years?

Will Crumpacker, Beveridge, Hopkins, et als., demand in burning language that congress investigate negro lynchings in Northern states, also cut down representation in Delaware, Indiana, West Virginia, &c?

King Edward says he wants the bonds between England and this country strengthened. That is just Ed's way of saying that he wants more of this country's bonds.

The Durham Sun intimates that the fifth district may have something in the way of a gubernatorial possibility up its sleeve. Always in the procession.

If the prosecution at Raleigh can keep the case in court until the governor's term expires the chances of the accused may not be so good.

Durham county property valuation will probably reach 14,000,000. And every cent of it does not seem able to get Durham a depot.

It appears that the chickens that went home to roost in Northern states are in no hurry to wander again.

The indications are that Pitt county will raise a sufficient school fund without turning anybody out of jail.

The second stage in the process of not punishing the murderer of Ludlow Skinner has been reached.

"The law's delay" has kept many a guilty man out of jail and has punished many an innocent one.

A million cotton mill operatives are idle, but the New York cotton speculators are hard at work.

The man who builds air castles is the architect of his own disappointment.

And now we are told that the "graft" game has also been worked in the free seed bureau of the agricultural department. Thus it goes, first the postoffice department, the the war department, and now the agricultural department. It would indeed seem that there are opportunities for stealing in almost every department of the government and that "grasters" have neglected none of them.—Asheville Citizen.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Boque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food taken into it that fails to digest it decays and inflames the mucus membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. They do not gripe and break down the mucous membranes of the stomach, liver and bowels, but cure by gently arousing the secretions and giving strength to these organs. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store.

A BANKER'S PORTRAIT
(Original.)

Herbert Drury was a prominent portrait painter. He was not only an excellent artist, but an excellent man, giving much attention to the wants of the poor. This he did in connection with regularly organized charities, though he gave a great deal out of his own private purse.

One day Drury, who was chairman of a committee to solicit funds with which to finish a hospital, called at the banking house of Stockard, Clarke & Co. and asked to see Mr. Stockard, the head of the firm. Being admitted, he approached the desk of the great man meekly and asked for a subscription. After a great deal of preliminary talk Mr. Stockard sounded Mr. Drury to know if after a liberal subscription the institution would be called the Stockard hospital. Mr. Drury informed the banker that the name had already been irrevocably decided upon. It was to be St. Luke's, whereupon Mr. Stockard informed Mr. Drury that he had already expended the annual amount he had set apart for charity and begged to be excused. Mr. Drury departed, feeling that Mr. Stockard had offered to pay for an advertisement and had refused to contribute to a charity.

It was several years after this incident that a carriage drove up to Drury's studio and a gentleman bearing every evidence of prosperity alighted. He rang the studio bell and was admitted by the artist himself. Drury remembered him perfectly as Stockard, but the banker did not recognize Drury.

"I am Winslow Stockard," said the visitor in a tone intended to impress the artist with his importance, "and you, I believe, are Herbert Drury, the portrait painter. I would like you to paint my portrait."

"I am at your service, Mr. Stockard," replied Drury. "What are your terms?" "I will charge you $1,000." "That's too much," said the banker. "I supposed that well, a portrait of a prominent citizen, if displayed for a time to the public, and I would consent to that—should be an excellent advertisement for the artist."

"That consideration would not tempt me." After considerable haggling the order was given and the sittings began. When the work was finished Drury sent it to Mr. Stockard. The next day it was returned, with the following note:

The portrait is unsatisfactory. It doesn't resemble me in any particular. Indeed, no one would know that it had been painted for me. However, if you will send it back with a bill for $100, I will pay that amount and keep the picture.

It was plain that this was an attempt to secure the portrait for a song. Drury paid no attention to the note. A few weeks later, after finishing the work he had in hand, he placed the portrait on his easel and changed the expression from conscious affluence to conscious penury and the apparel into rags. Then he had it framed, with "Ruined" placed beneath, and sent it to a prominent dealer for display in his window.

It was not long before Mr. Stockard's attention was called to the picture, and he wrote a note to the artist demanding its instant withdrawal. Mr. Drury replied that the picture had been much admired and was making him a reputation; therefore he declined to withdraw it.

Mr. Stockard's next move was to send his attorney to Mr. Drury to notify him that the banker was about to commence legal proceedings to have the picture removed. Mr. Drury showed the attorney Mr. Stockard's note, in which he claimed that no one would know the portrait had been painted for him. After reading this letter the lawyer remarked that he thought the matter a subject for compromise. Mr. Drury replied that if Mr. Stockard wished to compromise he would be happy to see him at his studio. The same afternoon the banker drove up in his carriage, jumped out, slammed the carriage door and strode into Drury's studio.

"What do you want for my portrait?" thundered the banker. "You said it was not your portrait."

"What do you want for the picture?" "Ten thousand dollars."

"That's ridiculous. Name a reasonable sum and it will be paid."

"It may seem ridiculous to you, but not to me. That picture is gaining me clients every day. It has received the highest commendation."

"I will give you what I agreed to pay you for it."

"That sum will not now be accepted." The banker turned in a towering rage, declaring that he would spend half he was worth to land the artist in jail, and left the studio. But when he came to consult his attorney his letter stating that the portrait would not be taken for him was brought up to show that he had no case, and the attorney explained that the sympathy of every jurymen would be against him and with the artist.

"You must find some way out of this," said the banker. "It is not only mortifying, but credit is so sensitive that I fear mine will be injured. Just now"—he lowered his voice—"it needs all its strength."

"I advise compromise," replied the attorney.

"Well, go and effect the best compromise you can."

The attorney went to the artist and came back with an agreement that if the banker would pay off a $12,000 mortgage on St. Luke's hospital the picture would be withdrawn.

The terms were accepted.

GRIMESLAND ITEMS.

Grimesland, N. C., July 13 1903. We notice this morning that J. O. Proctor & Bro. are raising the frame of a large grist mill house. Their new saw mill is in Washington and will be brought in a few days and put down for work. Active people these are.

Dennis Davis, who has been at home for a few weeks, returned to Jamesville Friday and takes his old position as book keeper for the Dennis Simmons Lumber Co.

Dr. Jones and Master Ford spent Friday afternoon in Washington.

Jimmie Galloway and Misses Helen Galloway, Eula Quinn and Susie Moore went over the river Saturday afternoon to visit Misses Corrine and Louise Ward. They returned Sunday.

Rufus Galloway and Ed Boyd left here Friday afternoon on a visit to Dr. W. H. Dixon, of Edwards' Mill, and H. G. Mayo, of Aurora. They join a fishing party at Aurora and expect to have rare sport with the finny tribe.

Miss Amanda Holliday took the train at Pactolus this morning for Dunn, N. C., to visit her son, Mc. D. Holliday and family.

T. F. Proctor and Mrs. Proctor spent Sunday in the country at W. P. Buck's.

W. L. Smith, of Clay Root, was in town late Saturday afternoon. Mr. Smith is a very active man and has built up quite a large saw mill business at his place.

J. L. WOOTEN'S UNUSUAL OFFER.

Sell Dr. Howard's Specific at Half-Price, and Guarantee a Cure.

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said J. L. Wooten, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis."

"The Dr. Howard Company, in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes me to sell their regular fifty cent bottles at half-price, 25 cents, and, although I have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory.

"One great advantage of this specific," he continued, "is its small dose and convenient form. There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and every one has more medicinal power than a big pill tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

I am still selling the specific at half-price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion, or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance. You can tell your readers that if they are not satisfied with the specific they can come right back to my store and I will cheerfully refund their money.

The navy, which gives England the supremacy of the seas, costs $155,000,000 a year, or a little more than the United States pay in pensions.

Literary, Business, Teachers' Normal, Music and Shorthand. Excellent Boarding Halls and Dormitories. 280 students from 36 counties, 6 states and Cuba. 25 Free Scholarships. Splendid new buildings. Beautiful and healthful location. Expenses very reasonable. Graduates assisted to positions. 41st term opens August 26th. Illustrated catalogue free. Address, W. T. WHITSETT, Ph. D., Whitsett, N. C.

GREAT JULY SALE

of Oxford Ties for Men and Women.

Hot weather is upon us and we are now showing three of the greatest lines of Oxfords in America. Queen Quality at 2.50 and 3.00, for women. Dorsch at 5.00 and Crossett at 3.00 and 3.50 for men. The above three lines of shoes need no introduction. Their reputation keeps them before our customers. It is conceded by all that the Queen Quality is the greatest shoe on earth for women. The Crossett is the best shoe in existence for the money. And the Dorsch at 5.00 for Oxfords and 5.50 for boots is the best shoe known to the wearers of shoes. We could talk all day about our shoes but rather than say so much, we invite you to call and examine our stock of shoes. We have all leathers at all prices.

NEWS NOTES FROM WINTERVILLE.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., July, 15.

Miss Hattie Kittrell has just returned from a pleasant trip in Lenoir, where she has been visiting Miss Bessie Moore and others. She remained at home only long enough to say howdy, and now she is visiting near Falkland.

Leslie Smith, of Falkland, and Guy Taylor, of Kinston, were here Sunday. They come real often but haven't given us the secret of their visit yet.

Eld. C. C. Bland, of the Primitive Baptist church, last Sunday preached our people a sermon of the old-time fashion, full of truth, honesty and the right way to get to Heaven. It could not have been otherwise with this old battle-scarred hero of '61 and '65. As we sat and listened to his glorious words our mind reverted to the noble deeds when thrice the enemies shell had dislodged the confederate banner, equal to the occasion, as many times, under galling fire he climbed the staff and placed the old flag where it belonged. God bless these old heroes, and long may they live.

Miss Ella May has returned from Grifton.

Unless the ditch on east side and near railroad has that stagnant pool of water turned off the services of the doctor will soon be greatly in demand as well as dress goods and shirt waists for underground wear.

We don't know the exact population of the town, but would say one fourth men, one third women and the balance children is proof sufficient we live in a climate most prolific.

John Patrick, of Snow Hill, was here yesterday after a large quantity of trucks.

H. A. White, of Greenville, has been with us again.

Miss Bertha Kittrell is visiting Miss Mairiam Johnson.

Sim Chapman is at Calico.

THE STATE PRESS

Judge Boyd has not yet succeeded in getting that 'bank wrecker' out of the penitentiary and it is hoped that in this case a political pull won't work.—Durham Herald.

It is to be hoped that the tobacco men will succeed in making a creditable display at St. Louis, as the other scheme seems to have about petered out.—Durham Herald.

It is just as well to note that the pardon of Mehaffey on condition that he pay a fine of $3,000 has a mercenary flavor that is not to the taste of North Carolinians. Perhaps it is just as well that the vice president of the United States will not have the pardoning power.—Charlotte News.

While it is hot in North Carolina the weather is pleasant to what the newspapers say some of the northern cities, particularly New York, are suffering. In the good old summer time (which some people don't think so good after all) the sparsely settled parts of the country have most of the advantages. Pitiable indeed is the condition of the people in crowded Gotham for they are the ones to first suffer from extremes of either heat or cold.—Greensboro Telegram.

Temperance Meeting.

The executive and finance committees of the Anti Saloon League will meet Friday night at 8:30 o'clock in F. C. Harding's office. All friends of temperance, and especially the pastors of the different churches, are requested to be present. Business of importance. A. B. ELLINGTON, Chairman Ex-Com.
