Lucama Merchants Boycott Tobacco Trust.

Lucama, N. C., Aug. 8.—Last night the merchants of Lucama unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

"Whereas the extremely low prices of leaf tobacco is viewed with alarm, and it is now very lower than the cost of producing it, and

"Whereas this condition of affairs will work ruin to both farmers and merchants in the state, and

"Whereas we believe the deplorable condition of affairs to be existing today the cause of the fixing of the present low prices of tobacco by the American Tobacco Company, and that they are solely responsible for the same; therefore be it

"Resolved 1., That we the merchants in and around Lucama denounce the American Tobacco Company and hereby agree not to handle their products in any shape or form, until they pay reasonable prices for leaf tobacco, that we will patronize Lipworth, Scales and Company, or some other independent concern.

The farmers here have already got hold of the idea that the American Tobacco Company is their enemy and will gladly accept independent goods instead of trust goods.

Boon Potter in Statesville Jail.

Statesville, N. C., August 8.—Special. Boone Potter, who was arrested in Wyoming, is expected to be placed in Iredell jail tonight. Potter is wanted in Watauga county for trial for the murder of Howel, a deputy sheriff, who was attempting to arrest him early this year on a warrant charging him with the murder of his father. Clarence Potter, an accomplice of Boone Potter, was tried by Judge Long at March term Watauga court, found guilty and sentenced to be hanged. Appeal was taken.

Boone Potter is the most noted desperado in Watauga. He is accused of having killed four men. Two indictments for murder are now pending against him. He will be kept here up til Watauga court.

Married in the Cab.

Knoxville, Tenn., August 8.—W. A. Cagill and Miss S. A. Lillie, an eloping couple from this city, were married near Walland station, on the Knoxville and Augusta railway, in the cab of the engine which pulled their train. They learned that the fireman on the engine, T. H. Hodge, was a justice of the peace, and they asked the conductor to request him to tie the wedding knot. Squire Hodge, begrimed with smoke, attired in his overalls, consented and the young couple hastened to the cab when the train stopped, and the fireman spoke the few words which made them man and wife.

Boy Drowned in the Tar.

Tarboro, N. C. Aug. 10.—Marvin Hill, a white lad nine years old was accidentally drowned while bathing with playmates in Tar river yesterday afternoon. The boy ventured into deep water, and none of them could swim. The body was recovered.

Captured.

One of the negroes recently escaped from jail at Tarboro was captured near Ayden, in this county. An officer passed through this morning with the prisoner taking him back to Tarboro.

The man who can't be a bit in the vacation season has no earthly chance in the rest of the year.

Stands at $131,000.

New Bern, N. C., Aug. 8.—One more day has passed, but it did not raise the amount of Cashier Dewey's defalcation, the amount now standing at $131,000. The most interesting topic of the day has been will the directors pay the depositors dollar for dollar. A prominent lawyer and also stockholder of the bank said it would be impossible for them to do otherwise.

The Farmers and Merchants Bank had the saving feature department attached to its business and hundreds of children were depositors and they are afraid that their savings are gone by the board. Several accounts have been offered to the public at 75 per cent, but they have found no takers.

Mrs. Dewey, the wife of the defaulting cashier, arrived here today, but she did not make any statement for publication, as she was too much affected over the actions of her husband. The entire community deeply sympathizes with the unfortunate lady.

Mr. J. O. Ellington, state bank examiner, has issued the following statement: "To whom it may concern:

"After examination of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of New Bern, N. C., I desire to state that I have discovered nothing which reflects upon the character and management of Mr. L. H. Cutler, president of the bank.

(Signed) "J. O. ELLINGTON."

A Boy's Composition.

A boy was compelled by his school teacher to write an essay on the mouth and this is what he wrote: Your mouth is the front door to your face. It is aperture to the cold storage of your anatomy. Some months look like peaches and cream and some look like a hole in a brick wall to admit a new door or window; the mouth is a red hot bed for toothache and a bung hole of oratory. The mouth is the crimson aisle to the liver; 'tis patriotism's fountain and a tool chest for pie. Without mouth the politician would be a wanderer on the face of the earth and go down to an unhonored grave. It is the grocer's friend, the orator's pride, and the dentist's hope. It puts some men on the rostrum and some in jail. It is temptation's lunch counter when attached to a man; it is the home of some unruly member, the tongue. Without it married life would be like a summer dream, and the dude would lose half of his attractions.

First Temple Brick Laid.

Today at high 12 Capt. R. Williams, Worshipful Master of Greenville Lodge No. 284, A. F. & A. M., and chairman of the building committee, laid the first brick of the Masonic temple. A few members of the lodge and some other persons were present to see the beginning of the structure.

Goes at Night.

There are several vegetable vendors who go around town every morning, and some go evenings, but Daniel King is the only one who goes around Saturday nights so the people may be supplied for Sunday.

THE MAN,

WHO regulates the prices, has marched through our store and left unmistakable signs of his visit. Wherever a broken lot or incomplete assortment was found in any department down went the price. No, we do not propose to advertise a grand clearance sale—Goods Sold Regardless of Price—Clothing at Half Price or Less Than the Cost of Manufacture—suits at the cost of the thread with which they are sewed. Such nonsensical advertisements are simply a burlesque and an insult to public intelligence. Here's our statement: We have made great reduction on all broken lots in every department. We have not marked them up and then marked them down. Simply cut the original prices. Now then, come and see for yourselves. Let the goods and prices do the talking. This is what constitutes a fair, square reduced price sale, and this is our straightforward and honorable way of doing it.

"Too Much of a Good Thing"

That's what we have—too much Silk Mull, Mercerized Pebble Cloth, Mercerized Chambray, etc., for the season. The season really lacks two months of being over, but we must reduce stock for fall goods. Consequently we are making great reductions in Wash Silks, White Goods, Embroideries, Percales, etc. The profit goes to you if you take advantage of these reductions at once. We will not carry them over. You'll not have another chance to get the same goods for anything like the same money. Note these prices:

BOYCOTTING THE TRUST.

The retail merchants association of Kinston has taken an advanced step on the question of trust-controlled tobacco, and the outcome will be watched with great interest all over the state and may become a national affair.

The Kinston retailers have declared that they will handle no more tobacco trust goods until the trust begins to pay the tobacco producer something over the cost of production for raw material. The Kinston association is affiliated with the state association of retail grocers and general merchants, a power in the state's commerce. There are associations in every town and city in North Carolina, all affiliated, and the Kinston association asks all others to join in the boycott against the A. T. Co.

The boycott is a far-reaching weapon when effectively used, and should be resorted to only in cases of extreme necessity, as the present. Every tobacco farmer in the state feels that he is being robbed by the trust, and they are not far from right. The thing has grown so powerful and mighty there is no chance of success in grappling with it single handed. Organization must be met by organization. The Dukes are getting too high. If they do not topple over from their own weight they must be pulled down. So long as any corporation makes money by fair and legitimate means, it should be countenanced as a helpful industry, but when men band together to form cruel and merciless monopolies to wring the last farthing from the people, they and theirs should be plucked up root and branch and cast outside the walls of the commonwealth. The trust will yet come to grief.

The Charlotte News says:

"One of the best signs of the times in North Carolina is the fact that so many of our leading papers are taking up the cause of temperance and fighting the saloon. Nearly all of our country exchanges are on the side of the anti-saloon league and such dailies as the News and Observer with the largest circulation in North Carolina, Raleigh Times, the Wilmington Messenger and several others we might name are, with The News, of course, committed to the proposition that the saloon is the worst solution of the liquor problem."

Yes, it is a good sign of the times, but not as good as it might be if the journals mentioned were known as papers that would not help along the liquor business by carrying advertisements of the same.

The difficulty experienced in selecting a republican vice-presidential candidate may be caused by a disinclination to associate with Theodore during a whole campaign.

A Michigan man while fishing was pullek into a stream by a cat-fish and drowned. This cat-fish will hardly come under the News and Observer's head of the best fish.

Isn't Georgia the home of Sam Jones, and don't we find that members of the Georgia legislature vote while drunk? We do.

It is not stated whether Mr. Bryan's European trip is to be for his health or for the health of the balance of us.

When a girl is on a dark piazza with a man and coughs every now and then it is a sign to her mother not to come out there too suddenly. —New York Press.

Advice to Young Men.

Henry Ward Beecher on one occasion when advising his son, said: "When working for others, sink yourself out of sight; seek their interest. Make yourself necessary to those who employ you by industry, fidelity, and scrupulous integrity." The young man who is intelligent, honest and industrious, who makes his employer's business his own, who is ever alert for an opportunity to advance the interests of his employer, soon makes himself indispensable. The watchful eyes of the shrewd business man are ever on those in his employ and he discovers quickly those who are making themselves valuable to him. Such are never long out of a lucrative position; their services are always in demand. —Lumberton Robesonian.

Hitting the Hypocrites.

The preacher who denounces, as he should, the sin of worldliness, manifested in dancing, theatre going, and gambling, certainly vitiates the effect by saying nothing concerning the disregard of financial obligations, social impurity and economic tyranny, all of which are worse, if sin can be graded, than dancing and theatre going. We have known men to talk in sepulchral horrified tones of the Christmas giddiness of gay young things and at the same time dodge a grocery store where an unpaid, unrecognized bill stares them in the face. There are pious women who frown at the young people talking in church, and at the same time talk a neighbor's good name into blisters. Here is a call for the pulpit to exercise some of its wise specializing functions. —Raleigh Christian Advocate.

At Life's Best.

Look up and let thy nature strike on mine
Like yonder morning on the blind half world;
Approach and fear not; breath upon my brows;
In that fine air I tremble, all the past
Melts mist-like into this bright hour, and this
Is morn to more, and all the rich to come
Reels, as the gold Autumn woodland reels
Athwart the smoke of burning weeds.
Forgive me,
I waste my heart in signs; let be. My bride,
My wife, my life. Oh, we will walk this world,
Yoked in all exercise of noble end,
And so through those dark gates across the wild
That no man knows. Indeed I love thee; come,
Yield thyself up; my hopes and thine are one;
Accomplish thou my manhood and thyself,
Lay thy sweet hands in mine and trust to me.
—Alfred Tennyson.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." I bought a twenty-five cent bottle and after taking three doses of it was entirely cured. I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis & Bro. Farmville.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention to collection of rents and other claims. Prompt attention to all business.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport, was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines.—Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis & Bro. Farmville.

Men of great business capacity occasionally are indifferent conversationalists.

SAVE THE CHILDREN.

Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are all caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St. Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet." Sold by J. L. Wooten.

A woman likes to talk of the luxury she enjoyed during her girlhood days.

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr. Geo. E. Wright of New London, New York. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

After a man has been married a few years he shows a desire for costly clothing.

DEWITT IS THE NAME.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles. The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures, has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on the market. The genuine bears the name of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

All women think they know how to guide a man when he strikes a snag.

EAT ALL YOU WANT.

Persons troubled with indigestion or Dyspepsia can eat all they want if they will take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. This remedy prepares the stomach for the reception, retention, digestion and assimilation of all of the wholesome food that may be eaten, and enable the digestive organs to transform the same into the kind of blood that gives health and strength. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

Men dislike to be referred to as the brother of a big man when being presented to a stranger.

POTENT PILL PLEASURE.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Phipot of Albany, Ga., says: "During a billious attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than calomel, blue-mass or any other pills I ever took and at the same time it effected me pleasantly. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by J. L. Wooten.

GRIMESLAND ITEMS.

Grimesland, N. C., Aug. 7, 1903. Railroad, railroad, all the talk is railroad now. Hon. L. I. Moore, of Greenville, was here today and talked the matter over with our people and explained it to them, and the petition for an election on the bond question goes before the town commissioners tonight, and the election will be ordered. We think our town will issue $2,500 in bonds and it does seem that we can well afford to do this if it will insure us of a railroad.

Mrs. Amanda Holliday returned Wednesday night from a visit to her son, McD. Holliday, of Dunn. T. T. Proctor and family have moved into the residence recently vacated by H. C. Venters.

Miss Jarrie Hardison took the train at Pactolus this morning to visit her sister, Mrs. Del'a Ward, of Elm City.

We had quite a windstorm yesterday and plenty of rain.

Our new mail route to Pactolus has not improved our mail facilities very much. Our daily paper go on through to Washington every night and we get them at 10 o'clock next morning. We must have them at night.

W. E. Proctor's force began building a market house this morning and tonight it is completed except windows and doors. Quick work.

Mrs. Dr. Jones went over the river this evening and will visit friends and relatives for a few days.

J. J. Lauginghouse and family returned home from Greenville today.

Miss Hennie Ragsdale is visiting Miss Lizzina Moore this week. They made a flying visit to Chococowinity this afternoon. Pretty little women they are.

Are You Guilty?

It is bad to make remarks about the food at dinner. To talk about things which only interest yourself. To contradict your friends when they are speaking. To grumble about your home and relatives to outsiders. To say smart things which may hurt one's feelings. To dress shabbily in the morning because no one will see you. To be rude to those who serve you, either in shop or at home. To think first of your own pleasure when you are giving a party. To refuse ungraciously when somebody wishes to do you a favor. To behave in a street car or train as if no one else had a right to be there. To speak disrespectfully to anyone older than yourself.—Gem.

What a Barrel of Whiskey Contains

A barrel of headaches, heartaches, of woes,
A barrel of curses, a barrel of blows;
A barrel of sorrow for a loving, weary wife,
A barrel of care, a barrel of strife.
A barrel of all unavailing regrets,
A barrel of cares, a barrel of debts;
A barrel of hunger, of poison, of pain,
A barrel of hopes all blasted and vain
A barrel of poverty, ruin and blight.
A barrel of tears that run in the night;
A barrel of crime, a barrel of groans,
A barrel of orphans' most pitiful moans.
A barrel of serpents that hiss as they pass,
That glow from the liquor in the head of the glass;
A barrel of falsehoods, a barrel of cries
That falls from the maniac's lips as he dies.

THE ACT DIVIDING MURDERS.

Judge Allen Defends the Act Dividing the Crime into Degrees but Suggests Amendments.

As intelligent citizens are advocating the repeal of the act of 1893, dividing murder into two degrees, and as I introduce it in the legislature, I have thought it might be proper to suggest a reason for its passage and retention.

Prior to the act if one man met another and without cause grossly insulted by use of the vilest language known to a man with reference to mother, wife, daughter or sister, and the party so insulted or once drew a deadly weapon and killed the other, it was murder in the first degree and punishable with death.

Juries knew this was wrong and upon the slightest pretext acquitted as they had no choice between a conviction with the death penalty attached and an acquittal. When the insult was not so great those who served on juries believed there was a distinction between the man who shot and killed face to face upon a sudden quarrel when no blow was struck and the man who shot from behind and from ambush to gratify a revengeful heart. The law made no distinction between the two and said they were both guilty of murder and that the punishment for each was the same—death.

Men who deserved some punishment frequently escaped and the administration of the law suffered because jurors themselves became violators of the law. The cry was raised then, as it is now, that the law was not being enforced and that the people would take the law into their own hands and the act of 1893 was the result.

The act first came before the Supreme Court for construction in State vs. Fuller, 114 N. C., 885. The Superior Court judge who tried that case charged the jury that "remeditation (which is an essential element of murder in the first degree) may be inferred or presumed from the use of a deadly weapon," but the Supreme Court said this was error, and that there must be evidence of premeditation outside of the use of the weapon.

All of the cases in the Supreme Court since then in which it has been held that there was not sufficient evidence to support a verdict of murder in the first degree are based on the Fuller case. The conditions now are, I submit, as they were before the act of 1893 became a law, and the reason which caused its enactment justifies its retention.

If a change should be made I suggest amendment and not repeal, and the evils complained of (with which, if they exist, I do not think the act has anything to do,) may be remedied by an amendment providing that a killing with a deadly weapon shall be evidence of premeditation and deliberation.

If this were done no judge could say, when there was a killing with a deadly weapon, that there was no evidence of murder in the first degree and in cases which justified it juries would convict of the lesser offense.—Judge W. R. Allen in the Raleigh News and Observer.

Cap. Swift Galloway.

Capt. Swift Galloway, of Snow Hill, a former resident of Southport, was here for a few hours on Thursday last. While here he was pleased to meet many of his old acquaintances, while they in turn were highly delighted to see him again, and learn of his good health. He is at present suffering with his eyes, and is being treated in Wilmington.

While here Capt. Galloway expressed the desire to be able to attend the Confederate Veterans Reunion at Supply in October, when he might again meet his old comrades and acquaintances.

He was accompanied on the trip by his niece, Miss Maye Galloway, of Wilmington.—Southport Standard.
