GREENVILLE'S "FISHERS"

The following is Greenville's contribution to the News and Observer's "fishing symposium," published Sunday:

To the editor: "Fishing," said ex-Governor Thomas J. Jarvis, who has just returned from Morehead, "is very onartin," and the best fish and the best place for fishing vary according to moods and circumstances. I eat all kinds of fish and cannot give a decided preference to any. Down at Morehead I ate nothing but fish, corn bread and coffee, and I call that living like a lord. We hired a boat large enough to carry a fisherman's galley and had a man along to take the fish right out of the water, cook them, and serve them with hot coffee and crisp corn bread. The salt air and the zest of the sport gave us appetites that kings might envy, and under those circumstances the fish you are eating at the moment are the best.

"If you insist upon it I will make three selections, which appeal to me, but there is no best fish, where all are good. For broiling about sunrise—mullet; for a baked dinner—sheepshead—for panning—Currituck white perch. I could no more tell which I like best than I could say which of my sisters I love best. When a man is fish hungry the commonest thing that sports fish is best to him.

"The best fishermen I ever knew are W. L. Kennedy, of Lenoir county, and Tom Martin, of Durham. It is hard to say which these fellows used to like best, fish or fishing. They went early in the morning and stayed all day, and did nothing else but fish. That's why they didn't have to lie about the big fish that got away."

Major Henry Harding, another of those young fellows of 60 65, says his choice fish is the mullet, though adding that the majority of people hereabouts prefer the fine white shad that come up the Tar in the spring. "But plain North Carolina herring are hard to beat" said the major. "I remember one spring I was riding along a swampy road in Beaufort county. Water had cut runs across the road and filled them with herrings. I came to a run where an old man was actually dipping herrings out of the road. He had a big pile beside him, and replied to my inquiry that he had caught a thousand. A little further down the road I saw another fisher who was very much engaged. A colored woman had tied her skirt up around her waist so as to form a bag. She had bent a young ash sappling to a circle and tied her underskirt to it, making a useful if not orthodox dip-net, and with both skirts doing valiant service she was raking 'em in."

"Spanish mackerel and Grindle Creek pike," said Senator A. L. Blow, Colonel Isaac A. Sugg and Captain J. J. Chery unanimously and simultaneously. "Grindle Creek pike," continued Senator Blow, "may be unknown to fame, but they deserve as much as a man with an easy conscience. You catch hold of the head and pull out every bone. Then you have something rare—something that will heal a family feud of forty years' standing."

Mayor Whedbee endorses Spanish mackerel and recalls the fishing experience of his life many years ago, with ex-Congressman T. G. Skinner and Wilson Hollowell, of Perquimans. Mayor Whedbee embarked upon a fishing expedition in the vicinity of Nag's Head. The party fished one day, catching 1,450 fishes of all kinds, classes, colors and previous condition of servitude.

"The most popular fish in North Carolina or anywhere else," gravely announced Colonel William A. B. Hearne, "is the sucker. There is no best place for fishing. That idea was simply a Waltonic imagination."

D. J. Whichard, who has the patience and perseverance of the true fisherman, acknowledges the supremacy of sheepshead in his interior economy.

In conclusion, I wish to protest against the use of the word "fisherman." I have used it in the preceding lines, but only in submission to custom. "Fisherman" is lumbering, unsightly, untrue. All who fish are not fishermen. It would be just as correct and desirable to say doctorman, lawyerman, sailorman or hunterman. For the sake of graceful phrasing let us say "fisher."

PAUL R. OUTLAW.

Baby Thrown From Railroad Track.

Asheville, N. C. August 10.—A shocking accident occurred on the Murphy branch of the Southern railway yesterday afternoon. The two year old son of a section foreman was struck by a train bound for Asheville. While members of the family were in another room the child left the house and went straight to the railroad track. The train was due at the time and when it approached the little fellow started directly across the track. The engineer did his best to stop the train but was unable to do so, and the child was hurled for some distance a physician was summoned and gave medical attention. The boy may live.

Fire at Warrenton.

Warrenton, N. C. August 10.—The recitation room of the Shiloh institute, colored, was burned to the ground last night at 9:30 o'clock. Close by the burned building stood the main building and sleeping apartments of the students, but by the very heroic efforts of Warrenton fireman, and citizens the latter were saved. The fire was of incendiary origin, as kerosene oil was found all about the building. Colored people have been in possession of the property for several years but only finished paying for it the 4th of July this year. There is much talk of friction between the factions of the management.

Ft. Fisher Reunion.

Wilmington, N. C., Aug. 10.—The reunion of the battle of Ft. Fisher will take place Wednesday at the ruins of the fort, about 18 miles below Wilmington on the east side of Brunswick bay. It will be a great and appropriate celebration overshadowing almost any veterans' reunion ever held in North Carolina. All arrangements for the occasion have been completed. Indications now point to a large attendance of survivors and they will not be confined to the gray, as veterans of both sides of the bloody conflict have been invited and the foes of the 60's will meet on the old battlefield as friends to talk over the bombardment.

Miles Succeeds Dewey.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—When Admiral Dewey resigned the presidency of the Jefferson Memorial association the board of governors elected Gen. Nelson A. Miles to the vacancy. The chairman of the board today received Gen. Miles' letter of acceptance.

"Too Much of a Good Thing"

That's what we have—too much Silk Mull, Mercerized Pebble Cloth, Mercerized Chambray, etc., for the season. The season really lacks two months of being over, but we must reduce stock for fall goods. Consequently we are making great reductions in Wash Silks, White Goods, Embroideries, Percales, etc. The profit goes to you if you take advantage of these reductions at once. We will not carry them over. You'll not have another chance to get the same goods for anything like the same money. Note these prices.

Silk Mulls, all colors, was 40c, now 25c.
Mercerized Pebble Cloths, was 30c., now 20c.

NO BITTER LIQUOR CAMPAIGN.

It is probable that at no distant date Greenville will be confronted by the question, "dispensary or no dispensary?" It is one of the problems of civilization to which we of this generation fall heir, and one that we must solve some way or other.

The position of THE REFLECTOR on the liquor question has been well known for more than 21 years. We are against whiskey in any shape or form and have opposed it all our lives. But we don't think we have any special license from heaven to force the balance of creation to think as we do. We have our opinions and we advocate them freely and fairly.

The point we wish to make is that a rabid, bitter whiskey campaign in a small town or city is an evil only of lesser magnitude than whiskey itself. Take the town of Reidsville, for instance. The two newspapers of that town have boiled over the pot of public sentiment and made a disgusting spectacle of what should have been a dignified discussion. Each side has its partisans and they contend bitterly for their "principles." Bad feeling and strife are sure to result, leaving sores that many years will not heal.

There will be no such campaign in Greenville indulged in by THE REFLECTOR. Upon any public question which arises we shall express our opinions without fear or favor, but there shall be no billing gate, no vituperation. Whatever we believe to be best for the town, county and state's moral, educational and industrial interests, that we shall advocate to the best of our ability, as we have been doing for the past 20 years.

The depreciation in value of stocks and bonds generally throughout the country also embarrasses Greenville to some extent. Gilt-edge securities are selling at such a high rate of interest that our internal improvement bonds find no takers at this time. The board has been advised by experienced financiers to hold on to the bonds, waiting for the inevitable reaction to set in, when our bonds can readily be sold at 5 per cent. This delays the work of internal improvement, but so far as we can see, there is no help for it. We are borrowers, and must wait the pleasure of the lenders. However, the delay will probably be short, as already a steadier feeling is apparent in the stock and bond market.

Senator Tillman, who has waged vociferous war against free railroad passes since Hector was a pup, had his Burlington pass stolen from his pocket while on his recent tour with Senator Burton, of Kansas. He probably had his hands on a half dozen of those passes at the very moment he was preaching against them.

From all accounts those Robbins are as good postal employees as there are in the service, but it appears that Uncle Samuel does not like too many birds of a feather.

Between 1880 and 1890 the wealth of the South increased 45 per cent. according to the Manufacturers' Record. Now let's have the figures regarding the Northern industry of coffin making for lynched negroes.

General Miles went out with a dull sickening thud, but he is not dead, neither sleeping, and he will give somebody a few punches in the slats as time rolls on.

It is said that Colonel R. B. Glenn will make his announcement regarding the governorship about September first. We can almost hear something drop.

The cardinals must be different kind of mortals from the balance of us, since none of them have exhibited any sore spots over the recent election of a pope.

These are delightful front porch evenings, especially for those girls who look better in the shadows than in the light.

"Practice makes perfect," and that is why a man cannot talk as much as a woman—hasn't time to practice.

Harry Lehr, the social missing link, is said to wear a rose in his hair when he sleeps. Tough on the rose.

A girl was caught swimming in a Chicago lake without a bathing suit—but she had on a mother Hubbard.

Mr. Dewey, late of New Bern, may be a warm member, but it is probably cool where he is.

We regret to note that the Rocky Mount robins' nest has been thrown on the cold, crool world.

The sensible husband getteth not in the way of his wife, or he getteth not forgiven.

The really unhappy woman is the one who can't find anything to be unhappy over.

Will Asheville please tell us how it intends exhibiting its scenery at St. Louis?

Dedicated to Flync.

There're none so young and none so old

Who may not, on a pinch,
Be found about the midnight hour,
With furrowed brow and temper sour,
Still wrangling over Flync.

A brand new game made for old maids,

For their sweet recreation;
To meet the need of lonely years,
When hopes lie buried neath the tears
Of heartsick dssolation.

But here of late it seems to be
Old maids have lost their innings;
For widows young and widows old,
Matrons and benedicts, we're told,
All enter for the winnings.

Sad, sad, indeed, to see the way
These old folks take to reckless play,
And dote on dissipation;
Young folks no longer have a cinch
On gaming, since they call it Flync;
Yet change the name but by an inch
And it would be degradation.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." I bought a twenty-five cent bottle and after taking three doses of it was entirely cured. I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis & Bro. Farmville.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport, was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines.—Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis & Bro. Farmville.

A wellcooked breakfast will go farther toward preserving peace in the family than a dozen "Bless Our Home" mottoes.

SAVE THE CHILDREN.

Ninety nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are all caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St. Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet." Sold by J. L. Wooten.

There's something wrong with the political convention that doesn't either "point with pride" or "view with alarm."

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr. Geo. E. Wright of New London, New York. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

No person envies the lowly turtle, yet he has a great snap.

DEWITT IS THE NAME.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles. The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures, has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on the market. The genuine bears the name of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

Shorter hours for the bakers may not mean shorter piecrust.

EAT ALL YOU WANT.

Persons troubled with indigestion or Dyspepsia can eat all they want if they will take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. This remedy prepares the stomach for the reception, retention, digestion and assimilation of all of the wholesome food that may be eaten, and enable the digestive organs to transform the same into the kind of blood that gives health and strength. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

Some men are so busy reforming everything in general that they haven't time to reform anything in particular.

POTENT PILL PLEASURE.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Piphot of Albany, Ga., says "During a billions attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than calomel, blue-mass or any other pills I ever took and at the same time it effected me pleasantly. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by J. L. Wooten.

Chicago's Marriage Market.

The Sun told the up-to-date story of a Chicago lady, Mrs. Grace Spell Coffin-Coffin-Walker-Coffin-Layman, aged 37, who is seeking a divorce from Mr. Layman, said to be her fifth husband, and who, in anticipation of success in her suit, has just telegraphed to the mate from whom she has been thrice divorced: "Please marry me just once more, Frank dear!" Mrs. "Snell and so on"—as the dispatch to The Sun for the sake of brevity calls her—was married to Mr. Layman less than a year ago; but he has no money, and her heart reverts to Frank Coffin, her first, second and fourth husband. The lady has found time, notwithstanding her matrimonial occupation, to cultivate literature and is a writer of romance.

Her own career affords her, doubtless, many romantic incidents. The berione of five weddings and five divorce suits cannot but be a walking encyclopedia of sentiment, having over and over sounded all the octaves of nuptial rapture and despair. To her practiced ear the wedding march is a familiar tune, and she could give points to lady reporters whose function it is to describe wedding presents and wedding trousseaus—indescribable lingerie going-away dresses, coming-home dresses, etc. Mr. So on's five marriages suggest, in view of her age, an average duration for each union and a reunion of about three years, whereas trousseaus are calculated to last five years. She is therefore probably the possessor of a considerable accumulation of lingerie and dresses suited to all occasions, from the wedding breakfast to the divorce court.

Should "Frank, dear," consent to wed her again, he need not fear that he will soon be called on for an outfit. But Mr. Coffin is said to be slow to acquiesce in her anticipatory offer of her hand. To her tender message—for it seems to be in good form in Chicago for the lady to "propose"—Frank replies rather unfeelingly "No more at present," he says. "I think I've married you for positively the last time." But for this Chicagoan, as for the Wife of Bath, there is no "positively the last time," for while there is life there is hope of another match. Mrs. So-on complains of the divorce law—that she has to wait a whole year before she can get her divorce. "Isn't it dreadful?" she exclaims. The world moves fast nowadays, but it is all too slow for Mrs. Snell Coffin-Coffin-Walker-Coffin-Layman.—Baltimore Sun.

The absconding New Bern cashier is the same gentleman, we believe, who at the recent convention of the bankers at Wrightsville, was on the program with Mr. L. L. Jenkins, of Gastonia, to discuss "exchange and collections." The newspaper account of their efforts said that Mr. Dewey "spoke like the business man" and Mr. Jenkins, the "fiery orator." So it seems that the "business man" really knew how to collect what his bank had and exchange localities with himself.—Gastonia Gazette.

Some men are so busy reforming everything in general that they haven't time to reform anything in particular.

A Fiend Dead.

Norfolk, Va. Aug. 10.—At Lambert's point, a suburb of Norfolk, today Henry Carpenter shot his young wife three times, and after shooting to kill his sister-in-law blew his own brains out. As yet Carpenter is the only one of the three who is dead. The wife has a dangerous wound in her breast and may die, though the chances would indicate her recovery. Her sister is unhurt.

Carpenter was a young street car motorman in the employ of the Norfolk Railway & Light Company. He and wife had been living unhappily, it is said, for some months.

Killed by Lightning.

Albemarle, Aug. 9.—An unusually severe rain and electric storm passed through this section last night, resulting in the death of Miss Addie Smith, and injury to a number of other persons. The loss to crops and other property is severe. The rise of water in the lowland sections, in many instances, destroyed the corn crop.

Elkin, Aug.—During an electric storm last Wednesday evening, lightning struck the dwelling of Mr. John Kennedy, a farmer living eight miles from here, and instantly killed his eldest daughter and severely shocked Mr. Kennedy and his wife.

Storm at Kinston.

There was a severe storm at Kinston Monday night and much damage was done. The electric light plant was disabled by lightning so that for the time the town was in darkness. Midyette's dairy was set on fire by lightning and destroyed. There were 29 cows, 10 calves and 1 horse lost with the dairy buildings.

Small Fire.

A bad flue caused the roof of a house occupied by colored people on Cotanch street to catch on fire about 10:30 o'clock this morning. The department turned out but its services were not needed, as the fire was put out with a few buckets of water. As long as the engine was steamed up it was taken to the cistern for practice.

Man Killed.

Meeting of Farmers' Association.

Raleigh, N. C. Aug. 7, 1903.

To the Farmers of North Carolina:

There will be a meeting of the North Carolina Farmers' Protective Association in Rocky Mount, N. C., on the 21 of August. The farmers of the state are requested to have representatives at this meeting. The low price of products and the labor question deeply concern the farmers of our state, and I trust that this meeting will be largely attended to discuss these questions, and all matters of interest to our farmers.

JOHN S. CUNNINGHAM, President.

The School Vote.

Notice.

Chapter 2, section 1, of the ordinances of the town of Greenville, provides as follows:

"Every occupant of a lot on any street shall keep the sidewalk clean and clear of weeds, grass and other rank vegetation as far as such lot extends. If any rubbish, dirt, ashes or any other thing be placed or left without lawful authority, upon such sidewalk or in the gutters or streets adjacent thereto, the occupant of such lot shall remove the same. If after written notice by the chief of police, or street commissioner, requiring him to remove the things prohibited by this ordinance, he shall fail for twenty four hours to remove the same, he shall be fined five dollars for each day thereafter it may so remain."

You are therefore notified to comply with the above ordinance or you will be dealt with as the ordinance directs.

This 10th day of August, 1903. J. T. SMITH, Chief of Police
