Facts About Tobacco—Read Them.

MY DEAR SIR—As doubtless you have already learned, the tobacco markets of the state have opened lower than ever before in the history of the tobacco industry. There is practically only one buyer on any market today. Now, as your interest is our interest, we want to have a friendly word with you. The all-important question with every man is—will the prices get better later on? Now, we want to be perfectly plain with you and let us reason out this question and draw our conclusions from past experience.

Conditions are quite different now from what they have been in the past. We foresaw last spring that unless some concerted action was taken by the farmers prices would be low. Our Mr. Joyner tried very hard to get the farmers together so that something could be done to prevent what at the time seemed to him disastrous prices for the coming crop. A meeting was called, a few farmers met on the 19th of last December at Rocky Mount, but not a single leaf dealer and only one single warehouseman beside himself. On that occasion Mr. Joyner said to the farmers there assembled: "If something is not done—if some organization is not effected whereby the crop can be controlled, you are going to witness the lowest and most disastrous prices that you have ever seen." How well this prophecy has been fulfilled we leave the reader to judge. Now, what can be done? What does the future have in store for the tobacco farmer? Every cloud is said to have its silver lining. Let us hope that this will prove true in the present instance.

Last year tobacco sold very well and until late in the season there was no special complaint. As to the cause of this we will let others conclude, but the point we wish to make is this—that tobacco sold so well we did not see the necessity of buying it on our floor to protect our patrons. The buyers wanted it then and we let them have it. Now we want to say this, that while we UNQUESTIONABLY advise you to HOLD YOUR TOBACCO, AT LEAST FOR SOME TIME, and see what the result will be, for this is the only thing on earth that can be done now to help matters in the least—yet if you are going to sell it, bring it to our warehouse. We are this year prepared to buy it, as we have no accumulated stock of old tobacco at high prices to cramp us and hold us down, and we propose buying this year, for it is necessary to protect our patrons' interests. Reading the future in the light of the past, no farm product has ever for any great length of time sold at a price below the cost of production. It is on this idea that we base our faith in future high prices.

Remember, however, that while we do not advise it, if you are going to sell, bring it to us, for we are as well and, we believe, better prepared to buy your tobacco than any other warehouse firm in or out of the state. This assertion is based on the fact that, as above stated, we have no accumulation of old high priced stocks, and therefore are not cramped or frightened, for we have faith in the future.

Come to see us. We will gladly give you any information or advice that we can.

Your friends,
JOYNER & DAIL,
Proprietors Farmers Warehouse,

Gaston and Mecklenburg counties have both voted against a bond issue for road improvements.

PACTOLUS ITEMS.

PACTOLUS, N. C., Aug. 13, 1903.

Uncle Abe's melons are in demand.

Crops are improving fast since August showers set in.

Horace Davenport returned to Speed Friday.

O. E. Bradley went to Washington Wednesday.

J. J. Satterthwaite and C. E. Bradley are billed for Greenville today.

Business was good Saturday.

Road supervisors met here last Thursday, most all overseers were in person to tender their reports.

W. I. Peal went to Greenville Tuesday on a business trip. We understand he is soon to make that place his future home. We regret to lose Willie, but if he has to go anyway, we are glad that Greenville will get a good boy.

Tobacco farmers are chewing over the low price of tobacco. Now gentlemen, the thing for you to do is to refuse to use any tobacco that is manufactured by the trust.

There is plenty of good honest tobacco made by independent companies and you can get it. Why not use their goods and boycott the trust's staff? You have the bridle, now drive.

Mayor's Court.

Mayor H. W. Whedbee has disposed of the following cases since last report:

Henry Daff and John Clark, riotous and disorderly conduct and assault, fined $5 each and costs, $14 05.

John Clark, resisting officer, bound over to Superior court.

John Cannon, drunk and using profane language, fined one penny and costs, $4.41.

Got Money Enough From the Cider to Pay for His Drunk.

A man brought a barrel of cider here last Tuesday and sold it all, except enough to make him drunk. His drunk got him into the mayor's court, where he contributed all the money he got from the sale of cider to the town treasury, with the exception of nine coppers, and that he took home. Sometimes there is money in cider.

Eggs for Charges

A farmer in town today was telling the best one we have heard on the low price of tobacco. He says he brought a load to town for a widow neighbor and put it on sale, and that after the sale the warehouseman called him aside and whispered "tell the old lady to send me two dozen eggs to pay the warehouse charges."

Tearing Down Old Building.

The old building on Third street belonging to Mr. Hooker, that was recently condemned by the town authorities, is being torn down. It was among the oldest buildings in the town. Mr. Hooker has not yet decided what he will put in its place. Whatever goes up there must be of brick.

Killed Song Birds.

Frank Rogers of this county was convicted yesterday of shooting a cat bird and two thrushes and was let off with the costs in the case. This is the first conviction here under the Audubon society law.—Post.

Will Harris, colored, the most notorious desperado of Mecklenburg county, who three months ago was sentenced to the penitentiary for 30 years, has escaped from prison and returned to the scene of his former crimes. There is much alarm over his presence there and the entire neighborhood is said to be in arms.

Frank Wilson, the King Clothier, is now in New York buying fall and winter clothing, shoes and men's furnishing goods. Await his return before buying.

"Too Much of a Good Thing"

That's what we have—too much Silk Mull, Mercerized Pebble Cloth, Mercerized Chambray, etc., for the season. The season really lacks two months of being over, but we must reduce stock for fall goods. Consequently we are making great reductions in Wash Silks, White Goods, Embroideries, Percaloes, etc. The profit goes to you if you take advantage of these reductions at once. We will not carry them over. You'll not have another chance to get the same goods for anything like the same money. Note these prices.

Silk Mulls, all colors, was 40c, now 25c.
Mercerized Pebble Cloths, was 30c., now 20c.
Mercerized Chambray, was 25c., now 15c.

A NEW INSANE ASYLUM BEFORE A NEW CAPITAL.

We would not be an iconoclast to the hopes of our Raleigh friends who wish to spend three or four hundred thousand dollars in enlarging the state capitol, but we must request them to bide a wee. The state is in no condition to take on such a burden, and the necessity for it is not nearly so pressing as our capital friends have worked themselves up to believe. Raleigh is very progressive and very public spirited—with other people's money. It has one attraction, the capitol, and naturally it over-magnifies that. We would like to see a capitol building in Raleigh as great and grand as the Texas capitol, but we know very well that the state cannot and will not afford it at this time. If Raleigh will make a motion to clean up the old building, put in new carpets and turn a few bugs and microbes out, we will offer a hearty second. A modern system of heating and ventilating is also much needed.

So far the movement for enlargement has developed only opposition outside of Raleigh. We regret that the officials should have brought the matter forward at all at this time. It gives the rads and disgruntled something else to harp on. Nobody denies that a larger building is needed, but where is the money to come from? There is no other source except taxes, and we are certain that the people of the state are in no frame of mind to stand for another cent of increase in taxation unless they can see some immediate profit coming from it. In a few years we shall have made greater progress along industrial, agricultural and educational lines than the state has ever known. Then we may take up the matter of the capitol, but to make it an issue at this time is to defeat enlargement for many years to come.

We hope our officials will see their mistake and be guided by the pulse of the people. We dare not build a new capitol until we have a new or improved insane asylum—though it is sometimes difficult to tell which of these institutions is which.

An Asheville physician and a police judge pulled off a lively scrapping match recently. If the doctor ever gets a chance he will deal the judge a few pills containing tickets to purgatory, and if the judge ever has the doctor before him he will hand out the limit of the law.

We hope Mr. Bryan will not finally settle on Mr. Folk, of St. Louis, as the man. Folk is a North Carolinian and we have a high regard for him. Surely he has done nothing deserving the misfortune of being endorsed by Mr. Bryan.

Some of the members of the last legislature had no difficulty in seeing things double at times, and that is probably the reason the capitol appeared to them to be large enough.

The only man in the country who talks more than Bryan is Roosevelt, but the latter can stop whenever he wants to and the former cannot.

There were some pretty big men in the last legislature, but we didn't hear of any of them being cramped by the close quarters of the capitol.

We hope the new pope will live till we get over being bored by the talk about his election and the death of his predecessor.

No wreck occurred on the Southern railway between 12 and 12:01 today.

No doubt Mr. Dewey appreciates the beauty of Canadian scenery.

THE STATE PRESS

That New Bern gentleman may have lost the bulk of it in futures, but it is evident that he had enough left to get out of town.—Durham Herald.

The fellow who puts up his money on stock markins is not backing his judgment, for he is up against something he knows nothing about.—Durham Herald.

More people are having "mental anguish" these days than ever before. It seems to be a peculiar disease that follows up the introduction of railroads, electric cars, telegraph and telephone lines. Nothing will seem to do but a court plaster.—Durham Herald.

The American Tobacco company says that the quality of tobacco being offered by the farmers of the East is as common as dirt and is not badly wanted at any price. In order to find out which is right let the farmers offer some of their best and see what they get for it.—Durham Herald.

This is the observation of the Greenville REFLECTOR: "Bob Glenn is not making much noise about that governorship, which makes things look a trifle dubious for the other gentlemen." Why should one yell himself out of breath before the real time for hurraing arrives?—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

Some people like the practice but not the word boycott, but we confess that we are not prejudiced against either. It is a system practiced in the business world daily, but as it may be called by a different name no one thinks anything of it. A man does not subscribe to a newspaper that he does not like, or trade with the merchant whose goods or business dealings do not suit him, and every man accords him the right to do this.—Durham Herald.

TELEPATHY.

When evening spreads her tender glow
O'er all the sky,
And softens every shade below,
My spirit's eye
Turns to the way where thou dwellest
From here so far,
And seeks thee in thy tenderest spell—
My soul's bright star.

Seeks thee in dear, remembered ways,
Where sweet fern grows,
Where we in early trysting days
Sought to disclose
Each one the other's secret thought
And dear desire,
Till mutual love, with ardor fraught,
Burst into fire.

When evening spreads her tender glow,
If thou, dear heart,
This burden of my spirit know,
And thou impart
A message to the wings of love,
Which swiftly fly,
Our souls shall meet, and constant prove,
And kiss good-bye.

Violent Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and Perhaps a Life Saved.
"A short time ago I was taken with a violent attack of diarrhoea and believe I would have died if I had not gotten relief," says John J. Patton, a leading citizen of Patton, Ala. "A friend recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." I bought a twenty-five cent bottle and after taking three doses of it was entirely cured. I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis & Bro. Farmville.

Cholera Infantum.

This disease has lost its terrors since Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy came into general use. The uniform success which attends the use of this remedy in all cases of bowel complaints in children has made it a favorite wherever its value has become known. For sale by

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport, was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines.—Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

SAVE THE CHILDREN.

Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are all caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St. Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet." Sold by J. L. Wooten.

China might as well give up what there is left right now. J. J. Hill, the railroad magnate, is going over there with his financial schemes.—Atlanta Journal.

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well." says Mr. Geo. E. Wright of New London, New York. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros, Farmville.

DEWITT IS THE NAME.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles. The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures, has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on the market. The genuine bears the name of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

EAT ALL YOU WANT.

Persons troubled with indigestion or Dyspepsia can eat all they want if they will take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. This remedy prepares the stomach for the reception, retention, digestion and assimilation of all of the wholesome food that may be eaten, and enable the digestive organs to transform the same into the kind of blood that gives health and strength. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

POTENT PILL PLEASURE.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Phipps of Albany, Ga., says "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than calomel, blue-mass or any other pills I ever took and at the same time it effected me pleasantly. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by J. L. Wooten.

Why We Have the Monopoly.

The New York Journal of Commerce unfeelingly quotes from a "History of the Carnegie Steel Company," by James Bridge, an interesting letter written in 1899 by Mr. C. M. Schwab to Henry C. Frick, showing what a shower of golden profits the Dingley tariff brings to the railroad. The letter was written when there was a plan of uniting the Carnegie and Frick properties and the object was to show what a dead sure thing the business was. Mr. Schwab said he had it down fine that England "cannot produce pig iron at the actual cost for less than $11.50 per ton, even allowing no profit on raw materials, and cannot put pig iron into a rail with their most efficient works for less than $7.50 a ton." This would make the cost of steel rails in England $19 a ton. "You know," Mr. Schwab added, "we can make rails for less than $12 a ton, leaving a nice margin on foreign business." Rails could be shipped to "net us $16 at works for foreign business," or a profit of $4 a ton, as laid down at the door of the consumer in England. "What is true of rails," he adds, "is equally true of other steel products." Foreign costs are going to increase from year to year because they have not the raw material, while ours is going to decrease." As there was at that time, and still is, a duty of $4 a ton on pig and $8 a ton on rails, and the price of rails in this country was thereby kept at $28 a ton, Mr. Schwab evidently knew what he was talking about and could honestly assure Mr. Frick that they had a good thing. In the wide margin between cost and the price obtainable for pig and rails lays the germ of the vast Steel Trust with its oceans of watered stock.—Baltimore Sun.

Wide Tires.

The following is a clipping from the report of the secretary of the North Carolina Good Roads Association at a recent meeting of the executive committee held at Raleigh, N. C. The subject that will do more to solve the good roads problem in North Carolina at the present time is that of using wide tires on vehicles, especially heavy wagons, and if this association can advise a means for promoting their use, it will accomplish a practical good. The most feasible plan, it is thought, is to induce some large dealer or dealers in wagons to equip their vehicles with wide tires and keep a supply of these tires and necessary fixtures in stock so that a farmer or user of a wagon can obtain the material near at home. The greatest drawback has been the fact that they could not be secured without sending a long distance, and any repairs usually had to be made at the factory located in some other state. If this condition can be overcome we may expect to see wide tires come generally into use.

Notice.

Chapter 2, section 1, of the ordinances of the town of Greenville, provides as follows:

"Every occupant of a lot on any street shall keep the sidewalk clean and clear of weeds, grass and other rank vegetation as far as such lot extends. If any rubbish, dirt, ashes or any other thing be placed or left without lawful authority, upon such sidewalk or in the gutters or streets adjacent thereto, the occupant of such lot shall remove the same. If after written notice by the chief of police, or street commissioners, requiring him to remove the things prohibited by this ordinance, he shall fail for twenty-four hours to remove the same, he shall be fined five dollars for each day thereafter it may so remain."

You are therefore notified to comply with the above ordinance or you will be dealt with as the ordinance directs.

SUICIDE PREVENTED.

The startling announcement that a preventive of suicide had been discovered will interest many. A run down system, or despondency invariably precede suicide and something has been found that condition which makes suicide likely. At the first thought of self destruction take Electric Bitters. It being a great tonic and nerve will strengthen the nerves and build up the system. It's also a great Stomach, Liver and Kidney regulator. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Wooten's Drug Store.

Adm'r of Lawrence Stocks, dec'd.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Dr. J. W. Bynum and W. G. Lang, of Farmville, were here to day.

H. B. Hardy, representative of the Raleigh News and Observer, is in town.

Mrs. R. H. Horna left this morning for Black Creek to visit relatives.

Mrs. W. T. Hunter and little son, Jack, returned Tuesday evening from a visit to Sumter, S. C.

W. J. Thigpen, J. A. Thigpen and Ed. Ward went to Winterville last night and returned this morning.

SHORT LOCAL ITEMS.

Red Men meet tonight.

It looks tough on the bicycle riders.

The August storm period seems to be active.

The war upon weeds on the sidewalks has been waged the last few days.

Kinston is raising stock to establish a smoking tobacco factory in that town.

W. J. Turnage has purchased a large two-horse truck to be used in his transfer business.

For Sale—A nice six room house and lot. All the conveniences of a home. R. HYMAN.

Today Mr. Joseph Jones brought in a tobacco curiosity. It was two leaves grown together on one stem.

THE REFLECTOR household is indebted to Messrs. L. F. Evans and J. J. Evans for watermelons.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Baptist church will meet in the pastor's study Friday evening at 5 o'clock.

Our esteemed townsman, Bill John Rubberneck, has accepted a position as boss of the construction of the Masonic temple.

A nice lot of sterling silver just received. Suitable for wedding presents, at my residence.

Mrs. J. B. CHERRY.

The need for a society for the annihilation and prevention of bum music and musicians in this town is as pressing as ever.

A mother Hubbard is a beautiful sight under certain conditions. For instance, hanging clothes out on the line on a windy day.

Did you notice how many people were in town today? No special occasion to draw a crowd but they just seemed to come right along.

Greenville has a thousand citizens who can superintend the building of the Panama canal, but very few who care to lift a shovel.

When you want the best to write with call at Reflector Book Store and get a Parker lucky curve fountain pen. No other equals it. Ask any user.

The retail merchants' association meets in the court-house tonight. Every merchant invited to be present, whether a member of the association or not.

The "bamboo tree" will earn our everlasting gratitude if it will kindly fall on some of the people who are continually whining about being under it.

We heard a rip-saw voice the other night singing, "I Cannot Sing the Old Songs." Then why in the name of common sense don't you stop trying?

It is an exhibition of bad manners to look into a bed room when passing the open door thereof. You can see the same thing in your own bed room, and you are in danger of receiving a shower bath of second hand water if you keep up the practice.

The rumor that a member of Greenville Gathering, No. 4 11 44, Sons of Rest, had been expelled for being caught in the act of working is unfounded. We know the member referred to, and can testify that he has never worked in his life. These rumors often injure good people.

Greenville probably has the largest brick livery stable in North Carolina. That reminds us of the comment a traveling man made recently. He said, "Greenville certainly has a plenty of fine horses and beautiful women, but not enough religion to stuff in the hollow tooth of a goat."

THE WEATHER.

Rain tonight and Friday.

Weather and Crops.

Washington, Aug. 11.—The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions is in part as follows:

The northern districts east of the Rocky Mountains, as in the preceding week, have experienced temperatures too low for rapid growth and maturity of crops, but elsewhere the temperature has been very favorable. The rains have been general and well distributed as a whole, but limited areas in the south Atlantic and gulf states and portions of the upper Ohio and the lower Missouri valley continue to need rain. Corn is making good progress.

Generally cotton has made favorable progress, but continues unusually late. Some complaints of rust are received from South Carolina, Florida and Mississippi, but as a rule very little complaint of rust or shedding are reported. The crop has made good growth throughout the belt and is generally well fruited.

In Pennsylvania and New England tobacco is in need of sunshine and warmth, and in Ohio its condition is only fair, but elsewhere the crop is doing well.

Cotton is king, not only because it is the best money crop the Southern farmers can grow, but it is king in another and higher sense. No man can monopolize its sale; no trust can corner the output. This will be so to the end of time. Anybody with only half sense can cultivate it. The same force can gather it. The machinery for ginning it is so cheap and simple as to escape expert machinists, and the patent office. The price of cotton is made from day to day; the rich, the poor, the high and the low, receive the same per pound.

Factories are too numerous and the plants may be operated too cheaply to admit of any monopoly of cotton goods. Tobacco may be captured by the trust, but cotton never. Only one thing is necessary and that is to make the crop to meet the demand and no more, this done, cotton will remain king of the South to the end of the chapter.—Raleigh Times.

At Union Superior court the other day Judge Cooke told the grand jury that if any school school committeemen were employing members of their own families to teach school the matter should be investigated. This is unusual but the warning is timely. This abuse exists in many places to the detriment of the cause of education, and it should be exposed and remedied. But many people, when they are placed in positions of authority in the public service, are not content until they have diverted all the revenues possible to members of their own family.—Statesville Landmark.

$100,000 in Buildings.

Tobacco or no tobacco, low prices or high prices, Greenville keeps right on going forward. The amount being invested in new buildings now show what the old town is doing in the way of progress. Take a walk around town and it will be found that there are now nearing completion and in course of construction buildings that represent an expenditure of nearly $100,000. And there are more coming.

Don't Stay Blue.

The farmers, at least those who raise tobacco, are quite blue over the prospect of getting less than cost for the present crop. Yet there is no need of despondency. The cotton and corn crops in this county are good, and the outlook is that cotton will bring a high price. The loss on tobacco may be made up in cotton, and if there is plenty of corn in the crib all will be well.

Some tobacco sold today as low as 25 cents a hundred. That kind of tobacco would pay better on the compost pile.
