NEWS NOTES FROM WINTERVILLE.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Aug. 19. Miss Hattie Kittrell is visiting friends at Gold Point.

Judging from the last issue of the Winterville Department there must have been a jug of hard cider under THE REFLECTOR press about printing time.

T. C. Nelson showed us a pod of sweet peper yesterday that measured 13 inches in circumference, also one stalk of rutabager that measured 16 inches.

Miss Bertha Dawson is in Grifton visiting Miss Leza Brooks.

Misses Burney and Roach were visiting in town Sunday.

Miss Lena Dawson returned from Ayden Tuesday.

There was an interesting missionary meeting in the Baptist church Sunday night.

A. G. Cox is in Baltimore.

Misses Minnie McGowan and Sadie Carroll are on a visit to Miss Lydie Roberson at Gold Point.

J. E. Green went to Grifton Monday night and returned next morning.

Misses Dora Cox and Annie Stox are visiting relatives in Jones county.

Rev. Mr. Barfield, of Ayden, spent Friday with Elder Manning.

Miss Daisy Tucker, of Grimesland, spent Saturday with Miss Effie Kittrell.

B. E. Parham, of Greenville, was here a short while Saturday afternoon.

Charles Harper and wife who had been visiting their son here returned home Saturday.

B. F. Manning's parting adieu to the lady teachers "Where is my wandering boy," and "In the sweet bye and bye," we feel sure was highly appreciated. B. F. and his graphophone takes the cake.

We hated right much to part with our young friend Theo. Thomas, of Bethel, who attended the session of the institute. He is a bright and gentlemanly little fellow and will make friends anywhere he may go.

Tommie Highsmith and family of Stokes, who have been visiting Rowan Cooper returned home Monday.

Craig Brown, of Lewiston, spent from Saturday until Monday with W. L. and J. D. Hurst

Mrs. Dr. Blount was here shopping Monday.

Miss Mattie Meeks, of Grindool, is on a visit to friends here.

A. D. Bell, the merchant of Bellfield has been here.

Last Wednesday night the three year old child of James Monroe Cox, was seriously burned. The physician in attendance thinks it will die.

If a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals was ever needed in any section, certain portions of Pitt would be greatly blessed by the organization of such in their midst, provided its laws were rigidly enforced.

Miss Miriam Johnson who has been on a visit to Goldsboro for quite awhile, has returned home.

Dr. Skinner and Ed Tripp were here Monday.

The finishing touches are being put to the Episcopal church, and soon we'll have another house of worship. The ladies of this denomination here deserve much credit. They have certainly labored under great disadvantages and we are glad they have at last succeeded so nicely in the erection of a beautiful house dedicated to the service of God.

Large quantities of peaches and tomatoes have been canned by the canning factory here this season and they are not through yet. There is always an open market for this line of goods.

Miss Dora Manning is on a visit to her brother, in the country.

Never before has there been such a fine display of goods in Winterville as now. Our merchants have certainly shown fine taste in their selection. The trading public need have no fear in coming to Winterville for what they may need.

B. P. Maning, Jr., of Ayden, the photographer, has pitched his tent and is ready to take pictures.

AYDEN ITEMS

AYDEN, N. C., Aug. 19, 1903. Miss Lelia Tucker went to Morehead Sunday.

Miss Lena Dawson, of Winterville, came Saturday to visit Misses Eula and Clyde Cox. She returned Monday.

Mrs. Moore, of Greenville, is visiting at the home of T. B. Carney.

Sunday night three young men while going from Ayden home were held up near the home of Henry Harris by a white cap crowd of five men. Under cover of arms they were forced to take an oath not to expose the white caps and later were forced against their will to join in a raid against a family of negroes. At the first discharge of arms the three young men fled while their captors were reloading. The gang paraded the road for three hours, drinking, cursing and shooting, greatly disturbing the people living near.

R. H. Hunsucker, of Winterville, was in town Monday.

J. J. Smith went to Norfolk Monday and returned yesterday.

Ed. Smith, of Florida, arrived Saturday to visit friends in and around Ayden.

Prof. Peden Principal of Free Will Baptist Theological Seminary who has been in Ohio several weeks, returned Saturday.

Misses Lena and Bessie Harris left yesterday for Dunn where they will spend several weeks.

Mrs. S. M. Holton left yesterday for Washington.

The Ayden merchants are anxious to do something to help the price of tobacco. Boycotting the trust seems right popular with a good many towns, and if managed properly ought to be an effectual remedy.

It is reported that there is a proposition made our town by the stock holders of the Greenville Knitting Mills to move the plant here provided our people will take considerable amount of stock. It seems the impression of a good many that Greenville is trying to dump a white elephant upon us.

The reason for such impression is that if a knitting mill would pay here why wouldn't it in Greenville, and if it has ever paid in Greenville why has it been shut down for the past several months. No better place could be found for a good manufacturing enterprise than Ayden, and no town would be more willing and anxious to have the knitting mills, provided it would pay good dividends, but if not we certainly do not need them. We have force to run the mills and men competent of managing them, but our capitalists will have to be assured of good results before investing.

Maj. J. B. Neal, of Scotland Neck, arrived last night.

All subscribers to THE REFLECTOR desiring to pay their bills will call on R. F. Johnson.

Miss Laura Oden, of Bath came up today to visit her sister, Mrs. J. G. Latham.

Frank Wilson, the King Clothier, is now in New York buying fall and winter clothing, shoes and men's furnishing goods. Await his return before buying.

"Too Much of a Good Thing"

That's what we have—too much Silk Mull, Mercerized Pebble Cloth, Mercerized Chambray, etc., for the season. The season really lacks two months of being over, but we must reduce stock for fall goods. Consequently we are making great reductions in Wash Silks, White Goods, Embroideries, Percales, etc. The profit goes to you if you take advantage of these reductions at once. We will not carry them over. You'll not have another chance to get the same goods for anything like the same money. Note these prices.

Silk Mulls, all colors, was 40c, now 25c.
Mercerized Pebble Cloths, was 30c., now 20c.
Mercerized Chambray, was 25c., now 15c.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, AUGUST 19, 1903.

It seems that some devil in human form is bent on doing damage to the Southern railway, regardless of the jeopardy in which lives may be placed. It has been but a short while since a wreck was caused near Gastonia by some one maliciously opening a switch ahead of a passenger train, and a few nights ago another switch near Charlotte was opened with the intention of wrecking a train, but was fortunately discovered in time to prevent damage to person or property. It is deplorable to think any one could be so depraved as to commit such deeds, and no punishment would be too severe for such acts.

Last Sunday there was a special service at a country church near Raleigh. An orchestra from the city went out to furnish music for the occasion, but when they arrived their instruments had to be left outside the church. One deacon strenuously objected, saying "the devil has a mortgage on the fiddle and the horn, and they should not be carried in that church." And the deacon had his way. We believe that deacon was wrong, too. Why anyone should think the devil has the ownership of sweet toned musical instruments we can't see. Let them be used in praising the Lord. Too many people want to give the devil the best of everything.

Judge Walter H. Neal is dealing out blows against bucket shops. In his charge to the Mecklenburg county grand jury he said "it was a crime under our law to buy or sell for future delivery on margins corn, cotton, wheat or other food or agricultural products, that the law made it illegal to operate so-called bucket shops and those who were in charge of such shops, as well as those who buy or sell therein, were guilty under the law." He said that the statute under which indictments may be brought were chapter 221 of the laws of 1889, entitled "Futures and Other Vicious Contracts Indictable."

As long as the Panama canal treaty is rejected Uncle Sam can congratulate himself that Tar river and the Atlantic ocean have not gone anywhere.

FARMVILLE CORRESPONDENCE.

FARMVILLE, N. C. Aug. 18, 1903.

After several days of severe illness your scribe has taken up his pencil to write his semi-weekly letter. When one is sick, though the body suffering intensely at times, the mind, never at rest, either in dreams or conscious activity—meditates upon many of the great problems that confront us in the pursuit of those avocations which fall to the lot of every individual. We look at our political situation, we read the opinions of men who seem to be well versed in state craft, and we are forced to conclude that no one opinion advanced, or pet scheme of designing politicians placed before the public mind can ever settle these great questions of political economy which are springing up constantly for the consideration of our wise men and law-makers. We may study our financial policy, the one now in use, and those which have been proposed, and by comparison we are led to conclude that the commerce of our country, both foreign and domestic, if conducted in a legitimate manner, would adjust the financial difficulties, and this great country would control the financial and commercial interest of the world. The question may be asked why is this so. Let the questioner turn back the pages of history for forty years—let him look at the condition of affairs then, civil war was upon us, all of the Southern ports were closed. The North could not get our cotton or tobacco for export, the cotton mills of England as well as other countries in Europe were idle, starvation stared the Englishman in the face, and had it not have been for the vast amounts expended by the rich thousands of people would have died for want of food.

For four years the South could not trade with other countries, all her supplies were used for the support of our armies and for the helpless women and children at home, but when the war closed and our ports were opened, to the world, the wolf left the door, and prosperity smiled upon our once devastated land, made so by the ruthless hands of an army, whose commander should have blushed with shame, to see the fearful destruction caused by his most inhuman orders—to burn and destroy the homes and food of women and children.

All these harrowing scenes remain in the minds of those who endured them, and though we can never forget them we look to the future to redress all wrongs, and to give us back the prestige the South held before the clash of arms was heard. We look now upon a people joined together by the band of political union having diversified interests and possessing such a vast territory, having every degree of temperature, the ground yielding untold quantities of grain, fruits, vegetables of all kinds known to man—with a vast wealth of all kinds of metals and minerals for ornament and use. We are a nation which can live within itself, growing and manufacturing, and mining and every article that the human brain can imagine, which would add to the comfort, support, or pleasure of a people. These facts being so, this government, from its position and wealth, could assume a commanding attitude to the world and demand that in all of commercial relations the world must take our money in exchange for its goods, and the countries who are compelled to trade with us will be forced to accede to our demands. By such a course this government can dictate prices for her crude exports and not allow the Board of Trade of Liverpool, set their prices for our cotton and tobacco. The United States is the only government on the face of the earth that has one years surplus of food stuff on hand. The other countries are but 6 months from starvation. If one crop should fail there is a cry for help, thousands who are perishing—but our country is self sustaining in all respects, and can live independent of all the other world. Why then can not our congress make laws suitable to these conditions and thereby make this government the greatest in peace, war, commerce, and financial importance.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport, was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines.—Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis & Bro. Farmville.

Few poems would be written but for the inability of poets to live without eating.

SAVE THE CHILDREN.

Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are all caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St. Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

DEWITT IS THE NAME.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles. The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures, has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on the market. The genuine bears the name of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well." says Mr. Geo. E. Wright of New London, New York. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

EAT ALL YOU WANT.

Persons troubled with indigestion or Dyspepsia can eat all they want if they will take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. This remedy prepares the stomach for the reception, retention, digestion and assimilation of all of the wholesome food that may be eaten, and enable the digestive organs to transform the same into the kind of blood that gives health and strength. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

POTENT PILL PLEASURE.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Phipot of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was, it did me more good than calomel, blue-muss or any other pills I ever took and at the same time it effected me pleasantly. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by J. L. Wooten.

SUICIDE PREVENTED.

The startling announcement that a preventive of suicide had been discovered will interest many. A run down system, or despondency invariably precede suicide and something has been found that condition which makes suicide likely. At the first thought of self destruction take Electric Bitters. It being a great tonic and nerve will strengthen the nerves and build up the system. It's also a great Stomach, Liver and Kidney regulator. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Wooten's Drug Store.

THE TOBACCO TRUST.

These trusts are most awful things. More to be feared than tyrant kings, Who oppressed our fathers, in days of yore, And caused them to remove from shore to shore.

The farmer leads a most virtuous life, By the "sweat of the brow" he feeds his wife; From early dawn to twilight hours, The farmer toils with all his powers.

He caused the primeval forest to yield, And gave instead the flourishing field, He feeds and clothes this world of ours, And creates the cash for the money-powers.

The tobacco producer leads a most laborious life, By day and by night he toils in strife, Beneath scorching rays he plucks the leaves, But alas! the net profits to another cleaves.

At harvest time he must needs submit To just such prices as the trust sees fit To schedule for him from a royal chair, These prices are controlled by a millionaire.

The Imperial came from English soil, It paid the farmer for his honest toil, And shared also a portion of the profits, Which had heretofore fallen in a millionaire's pockets.

The farmer was delighted—his countenance brightened, He felt he could make his children more enlightened, An no longer be "hewers and drawers of waters," But coequal with other people's sons and daughters.

This condition remained only a single season, The trust considered this almost treason, And administered the farmer a stern rebuke, For sharing in profits which belonged to a Duke.

With his glittering gold, from his ill gotten coffers, He presents the Imperial most flattering offers, And the trust again becomes monarch of the field, And the farmer is again compelled to yield,

And remain content with a scant subsistence, While the trust has the profits and a royal existence. —R. J. GRIMES, M. D. Bethel, N. C., Aug. 18, 1903.

Prof. Sharpe Believes in Discipline.

Speaking of school matters. The Landmark passes its compliments to Prof. Sharpe, superintendent of education for Alexander county. In a published address to the teachers of his county, Prof. Sharpe, speaking of the necessity of discipline in the school room says:

"Well, you say, do you mean to tell me I must whip? I say govern as you would your child. I think a wise man has said: "Spare the rod and spoil the child." I find in my family it is necessary. I find in the school that it is good medicine. I know I am on ground now that is a little unpopular, but nevertheless there is where I stand. Do not misunderstand me. I do not mean to be a tyrant, but a kind and faithful friend, one who studies the best interest of your student. If you do whip, be sure you keep it up long enough to govern the child."

Glory to Prof. Sharpe! One of the greatest curses of the age is the nonsensical, absurd idea that children can be governed in the home or school without the use of a switch. Do not be a tyrant, a brute. But a switch, judiciously applied on occasion, is not only necessary, but is the best medicine a child ever received. And the man who tells you he can raise his children properly without ever striking them a lick takes rank as a prevaricator with the fellow who tells you has lived with his wife 25 or 30 years and never had a cross word with her. This foolish idea of not punishing anybody for anything has grown until the people have lost respect for authority and in many instances the law and the courts are treated with contempt. What is needed more than anything else just now as a revival of old time hard-headed, common sense ideas about the enforcement of discipline and the punishment of wrong doing everywhere.—Statesville Landmark.

The Dangerous Automobile.

Durham, N. C. August 17.—Durham has a number of automobiles and new ones are being added, five being received last Saturday. Yesterday afternoon one of the new automobiles ran over and painfully wounded Walter Cates, who is in the employ of the Durham street car system. The machine passed Mr. Cates, who was punching transfer passes at Five Points for those going from one car to the other. He was painfully hurt, but is getting along nicely today.

Mr. W. H. Butler, president of the Universal Tobacco Company, is a tobaccoist who is always in hard luck. He had the Union Tobacco Company going some years back, and the ground was suddenly pulled from under him, the American people acquiring the whole outfit. Then he formed the Universal Tobacco Company, arranging to take into the new corporation such important concerns as the Henry Clay and the Commercial Havana cigar companies. For a second time his friends and supporters went back on him and the trust got the most valuable of the possessions, leaving him a bare hull in which to sail rough seas. In the suit for a receivership for the Universal company. Mr. Butler grows rather bitter in denouncing the treachery of his associates.—Winston Sentinel.

A MUSICAL FEAST.

Thursday Evening 20th, From 7 to 11. If you wish to be entertained in a novel way, Go down to Mrs. M. A. Jarvis to stay. Until you have partaken of all the pleasures planned. You can do as you like, sit or stand. Or have a "tete-a tete" with your best girl on the lawn. As you listen to sweet strains from Mendelssohn. First of all you will find at the door, A little mite chest that says give me 10, 15 a quarter or more. Then inside there's refreshments that call for more dimes. Now don't get frightened, you've spent much more many times. And didn't get value received, at last but not least, After you have attended this musical feast, And come in to bid us good night. Hope you will feel repaid for having done the thing that was right.

The Winston Sentinel calls attention to the fact, and an unusual thing it is, too, that this month has five weekly pay days, five Sundays and five Mondays. Five Saturdays, Sundays and Monday's in one month, and that the dog day month, too, is a cause for serious if not prayerful consideration. Whether this phenomenon has had anything to do with the accidents, crimes, suicides, defeat of the Mecklenburg good roads proposition and the low price of tobacco we are unable to say. All these things have happened in conjunction, but whether any one has caused the other, or all caused by something else yet undiscovered, some other wiseacre than this writer must disclose.—Raleigh Post.

The present is the outcome of the future, but the future is the outcome of the past and the present.—Dr. J. D. Hufham.

RESOLUTIONS.

Adopted by a Mass Meeting at Bethel.

The Farmers' Protective association of Bethel township assembled in a meeting at Bethel on Saturday, Aug. 15th, 1903. The meeting was called to order by S. M. Jones, chairman, W. J. Teel acting as secretary. On motion the meeting was made a farmers' mass meeting with the same chairman and secretary.

The following resolutions were adopted.

The mass meeting of farmers, in convention assembled at Bethel Aug. 15th, 1903, believing that the prices now offered for leaf tobacco are far below the cost of production and ruinous to the tobacco growers of the county,

And, whereas, we charge that the tobacco trust is responsible for the low prices by their arbitrary and tyrannical oppression and monopoly of the tobacco market; therefore be it resolved.

First, that this convention declares its indignation at the unjust and tyrannical control of prices by the tobacco trust.

Second, That we endorse the action of the retail grocers and general merchants elsewhere in the state and nation in their efforts to produce results which will inure to the good of the farmers of Pitt county and sister counties and states, and that we invite our merchants of this county to co-operate with us in our efforts to bring about these results, and that we do heartily endorse the aims of the farmers and merchants and recommend that each farmer not put any leaf tobacco on the markets until the prices have advanced to prices that will inure a sufficiency for its production; and shall maintain and recommend the independent manufacturing of tobacco, and will patronize their dependent manufacturers of tobacco in its various forms on their behalf.

Third, That this convention appoint delegates to attend the meeting of the tobacco farmers at Rocky Mount, N. C., on the 21st of August, 1903.

Fourth, That we urge all tobacco farmers and the merchants of the state and other states to join together in a firm, determined effort and fight against the tobacco trust which is now oppressing the farmers and merchants by the monopoly and combine.

Fifth, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to THE EASTERN REFLECTOR and King's Weekly, and request all state papers to copy.

S. M. Jones, W. J. Teel and Theophilus Carson were appointed special delegates to the Rocky Mount meeting, with any others who may attend from Bethel to be recognized as delegates. The delegates were requested to take any action in the convention to better the condition of tobacco farmers.

S. M. JONES, Chairman.
W. J. TEEL, Secretary.

Did anybody ever here of a saloonkeeper being for prohibition when the issue was bar-rooms or prohibition? You will find plenty of them who are for prohibition when the issue is barrooms or dispensary. How is this?—Raleigh Times.
