TOBACCO MEN ENTHUSIASTIC.

Nearly Three Thousand at the Rocky Mount Meeting.

Rocky Mount, N. C., Aug. 21.—Between two and three thousand farmers gathered here today from all over the eastern tobacco growing counties to attend an important meeting to consider ways and means to remedy the existing low prices of leaf tobacco.

Col. John S. Cunningham, of Person county, presided, and members of the state press together with T. B. Parker, of Hillsboro, were secretaries.

After several hours of speech making, a committee appointed to report plans to remedy the evil complained of made its report, embodied in a set of resolutions providing for the establishment of local stock companies to buy, store and manufacture tobacco, while it is below the cost of production.

The convention adopted the committee's report. The plan suggested by Secretary of State Grimes prevailed, though one suggested by J. E. Payne, of Raleigh, met with very favorable consideration and many farmers thought it should have been adopted. The plan adopted provides that the corporation to be arranged may buy, sell, handle and in any manner deal in and with leaf tobacco and manufactured tobacco, to manufacture tobacco into plug, twist, cigars, cigarettes, cheroots, smoking tobacco and any and all other forms.

To operate warehouses upon commissions or otherwise, also prize houses, stemmeries and any and all other houses incident, or necessary, to carry on a general tobacco business. Farmers may take stock in warehouses and factories by putting in tobacco as capital instead of cash. The meeting was an enthusiastic one and it is believed that a good start has been made toward the establishment of independent factories. The plans outlined and adopted are merely the foundation upon which the independent structure is to be built by the planting of factories and placing buyers in all the markets of the state.

Col. Cunningham at whose call the meeting was held, is enthused over the result and greatly pleased at the large number of substantial farmers who answered the call in person.

Owing to the continued rains the loss of fodder in our section will be immense. This in connection with the low price of tobacco makes things look gloomy for our farmer friends. It will not rain always though; brighter days will come bye and bye. No one has ever perished in this God-blessed country of ours yet.

PLAN TO MEET THE TOBACCO TRUST.

In an article published in the Raleigh News and Observer Mr. J. W. Peele gives a plan for meeting the tobacco trust that is full of good reasoning. Mr. Peele in part says:

"Smokers and chewers should simply organize and refuse to chew or smoke any trust-made tobacco, not because they are users of tobacco, but as patriotic citizens who desire to see their fellow-citizens who raise the weed have fair play and reasonable profits. Those who use the weed have the situation in their hands, and they can with ease establish justice and promote domestic tranquility without recourse to law or politics. Our forefathers refused to drink tea which was taxed in the interest of a monopoly in England and all history has rung with their praises. Now, I simply propose that the people refuse to chew or smoke or dip tobacco in any form which is manufactured by the monopoly—the twin-headed monopoly—lately formed at the instigation of the devil and against the peace and dignity of the State."

This is in accord with a suggestion recently made by THE REFLECTOR, that if the consumers stop using trust made goods they will be in control of the situation and break the power of the trust to control prices. The merchants themselves can accomplish but little in this direction by refusing to handle trust made goods unless they are backed by the consumers, but let the consumers declare against the use of these goods and they will find the merchants ready to co-operate with them. Speaking further on this subject Mr. Peele says:

"You who wish to break a combination should be careful to strike at the article and not at the middle men who handle it, lest you force them into an alliance, open or secret, with the trust. Refuse to use trust tobacco, but be careful to confine the war to the point of attack. Don't boycott any merchant, but boycott the article, no matter who sells and no matter where sold. Let the merchant see you don't want to injure him—you want to scotch a snake by which you hope to benefit everybody ultimately."

When George Washington Robbin, Sr., was notified from Washington that he could only have two little Robbins as assistants in the post-office nest at Rocky Mount, instead of the four wide open bills of George Washington, Jr., Stella Lincoln, Alexander Achilles and John A. Logan, which were being lined yellow with government graft, he wrote back that the Robbins were the only white republicans in town. A Washington letter then stated that Postmaster Robbin would probably be given two colored assistants. This will never do in the world. Who ever heard of Robbins and blackbirds in the same nest?—Charlotte Chronicle.

But we have heard of white crows and black crows in the same corn patch.

Since slot machines have been knocked out a Raleigh man has invented another kind of machine that dodges the law. This new machine is a kind of rifle target with several bull's eyes attached, and some of these eyes when struck by a rifle ball tilt over a cup in which is whatever amount is won by the shot. Possibly the next legislature can knock out that machine along with the others.

At Monroe a father and son married sisters. The son deserted his own wife and ran away with his father's wife, the old man being 70 years old and on his dying bed at the time. By the marriage relation the woman who eloped with the young man is both his step-mother and sister-in-law. The affair is a pretty howdy-do.

The worst crime of all is reported from Wilson county, where a white man has been arrested for criminally assaulting his own little daughter, 9 years old. May we hope there will be no habeas corpus proceedings in this case, but that a speedy trial will swing that brute to the gal-lows.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 21.

Most cautiously expressed, but not the less intense indignation, is general in the navy department because of recent events at Oyster Bay. Navy officers declare that the exposure of the entire North Atlantic squadron to the perils of a trip up the narrow Long Island Sound, followed by an attempt to manoeuvre the squadron off Oyster Bay, while three vessels were devoted to the special accommodation of the president and his friends and family, was humiliating and unwarranted use to which to put the navy. They declare that every commanding officer's "heart was in his mouth" as he risked the almost inevitable accident and subsequent court martial in guiding his vessel over the shoals and rocks in the sound and that he felt humiliated at having to take this risk, not for the benefit of his country, nor the greater efficiency of the navy, but that the president might have gratification of imitating the German emperor at whose beck and call are the vessels of the German navy.

As it happened, two vessels were more or less seriously damaged and although the secretary of war and Admiral Dewey, like accomplished courtiers, belittled the damage, the cost of repairs will not be inconsiderable. The cost of the trip together with the powder burned in firing presidential salutes is conservatively estimated at $60,000, covering the expense for powder and coal alone. To the officers on the Sylph was confided the care of the Roosevelt children and their nursemaid, and, to their serious embarrassment, they are likely to be known to brother officers for all time, as the "dry nurses to the Roosevelt youngsters." It is telegraphed from Oyster Bay that "Mr. Roosevelt was happy and excited all day long," but there may be some people who will regard the president's happiness somewhat dearly bought at $100,000, which will have been expended by the time the injured vessels are placed in repair.

Postmaster General Payne had hardly ceased his "hot air" talk about the postoffice scandals when the report that grave scandals in the government printing office became public and it was backed with sufficient evidence to lead the president to request Secretary Courtney to institute a careful investigation, which is now in progress. Within the last week, moreover, the Indian Rights association, of Philadelphia, has made public a report of one of its special agents in which are shown to exist the most glaring frauds in the Indian Territory and which give promise of showing that the Dawes Commission is rotten from top to bottom. Nothing can be learned at the Interior Department except that the agent referred to is persona non grata, that the Indian Rights association is "a nuisance" and that it is presumed an investigation will have to be made.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport, was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines.—Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

SAVE THE CHILDREN.

Ninety nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are all caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St. Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers. 'Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet.' Sold by J. L. Wooten.

Shads should be pretty sure of anything they feel in their bones.

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr. Geo. E. Wright of New London, New York. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

To all whom it may concern:
I hereby testify that my wife, Fanny L. Pearce, and my son, John W. Pearce, and Leona Pearce, wife of my son, J. W. Pearce, on or about the first of last March were strangely effected with a malady resembling fits, and when the attacks were on them they would scream and their paroxysms were so violent that they had to be held by main force. I applied to and had the services of five physicians without realizing any benefit whatever. I finally sought the ministrations of Dr. W. H. Moore, colored, and under his treatment my son passed three snakes, two of them were alive and one was dead. My wife passed several bugs with long snouts to them. It gives me pleasure to announce that they are all getting well and the fits have disappeared.

FARMVILLE CORRESPONDENCE.

FARMVILLE, N. C. Aug. 20, 1903

Nature having washed off the dust from her face, and put on a clean collar, has made herself ready for the farmers to sow turnip seed. All the tobacco crop, with a few farmers yet to finish, has been gathered and housed, and while those who have raised tobacco feel very much depressed because of low prices, still they have one other resource to fall back on and that is the cotton and peanut crops.

Cotton is looking fine and if these heavy rains which have fallen recently do not cause the bloom to fall there will be, from the fine prospects, an average crop. From the reports made of the amount of cotton raised this year there will be a shortage of more than one million bales compared with last year's crop. This being the case, the cotton crop will bring a good price this coming year and the increased price for the present growing crop amply repay the farmer for any loss which may be sustained in the extremely low prices that are being offered for tobacco. If the farmers will save and gather in their crops yet in the fields as soon as matured, and hold for higher prices, they will get better prices than they now expect.

The peanut crop is no small item of income to the planter who cultivate to any extent this easily made and remunerative crop. The writer of this letter has been informed that a successful farmer of Edgecombe county sold eight hundred dollars worth of peanuts last year, besides raising between forty and fifty bales of cotton, and enough corn and hay to last him all the year. This farmer does not plant tobacco but confines himself to cotton and peanuts for his money crops.

It is true that at times tobacco brings more to the acre in money than cotton, but taking all things in consideration there is greater profit in cotton and peanuts, year by year, than in tobacco, for two reasons: First the planter knows within a small margin what he can get for cotton and peanuts, and can tell when he gets ready—and the expense is not very great in the planting and cultivation of the above crop—hence there is a profit, even if small, in favor of cotton and peanuts. Second, the price of tobacco is very fluctuating, no one knows from week to week how the prices will rule; there is, therefore, an uneasiness resting in the minds of the tobacco raisers, as to the prices he will receive. It is an accepted fact that tobacco cannot be raised and gotten ready for the market for less than eight cents per pound—this being so, whenever a lot of tobacco is sold for less money than eight cents per pound the raiser is losing by such sale. It requires harder labor and greater expense to cultivate tobacco than any other crop raised in North Carolina. With the uncertainty of prices (caused by this financial monster, crushing the very life out of our farming interests, the tobacco trust), we do not see how any one can afford to work and delve, as the farmer has to do, to make tobacco and sell the crop for less than cost; such a course is suicidal, and will bankrupt any man, community or state which continues at such business.

We regret to know that Mr. A. D. Hilt, our worthy postmaster, is very ill, having been stricken suddenly last night, and appears to be in a serious condition. We trust he may soon recover.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Laog have gone to Kinston to visit Mrs. Laog's father, Mr. Phillips, who has been quite sick for several months. We hope they will have a pleasant visit.
