Several months ago Mr. Southey Cox went north and had an operation performed, after which he became very much improved until recently he was taken worse and suffered the most excruciating pains, so much so that another operation was deemed necessary. Last Sunday the physicians in Greenville performed the second operation and in doing so they extracted from the inner parts of the place of disease a piece of wire which had been used in sewing up the cut formerly made by physicians. From last reports Mr. Cox was doing well and his friends sincerely hope his recovery may be both complete and speedy.

It required two columns of space to tell what the Ohio Democrats are opposed to and a trifle more than two lines to explain what they are for.—Butte Inter Mountain.

During the hurry and bustle of packing up to catch the 3:50 train, a newly married man in a Chicago hotel unthoughtedly swept his bride's open work hose and French heels into a trunk, and out went the trunk, trundled by a porter. In a few moments the bride, in her pink feet, shoeless and stockingless, was tripping over the tile floor of the hotel searching for her "hubby" and her shoes.

"Hubby" was found and made a hurried call at a shoe store, and also bought some stockings and they caught the train, after all.—Wilmington Star.

COUNTY MATTERS.

Proceedings of the Board of Commissioners.

The board of county commissioners met in regular monthly meeting on the 7th, all the members being present.

The payments from the treasury were as follows: For paupers $167.25; county home $166.43; roads $31.25; jail expenses and conveying prisoners $126.85; bridges $371.65; court costs $16.20; tax books and lists $467.80; insane $30; railroad election notices and registration books $17; coroner $29.60; commissioners $19.40; miscellaneous $6.62; stock law territory $95.89.

Monthly reports of treasurer and superintendent of health were presented and filed.

Joseph Hatem was allowed license to peddle with one horse to June 4th, 1904.

The estate of W. M. Brown was refunded $10.66 erroneously charged on taxes in Greenville township.

C. J. Haddock, of Chicod township, was released from poll tax for 1903.

Land of James H. Wilson in Pactolus township was changed from 150 to 100 acres and valuation reduced from $700 to $500.

The board withheld payment of poll holders and registrars of elections in special districts until opinion of the attorney general can be had thereon.

The clerk was ordered to turn over tax books for 1903 to the sheriff.

Delphia Heath was added to the pauper list to receive $1 per month.

W. H. and S. T. White's farm (Avon) in Chicod township was assessed at $8,000.

Boyd's ferry on Tar river was made a public ferry with W. E. Proctor as keeper at a salary of $15 per month.

W. E. Proctor presented to the county the boat and chain now in use at that ferry.

The board considered application for retail liquor license in the town of Pactolus. They were willing to grant the license but refused to do so because they have no legal right to issue same.

The petition asking for a new township to be composed of parts of Farmville and Faldaud townships was not granted.

Martha Vick was added to the pauper list to receive $3 per month.

John S. Hart's land in Contentnea township, 97½ acres, was reduced in value from $2,500 to $2,000.

J. J. Smith's land in Contentnea township was reduced in value from $1,000 to $750 and a vacant lot in Ayden from $400 to $300.

The board adjourned to meet on the 24th inst., to canvass returns of railroad elections in Farmville and Beaver Dam townships.

Once upon a time there was a lovesick frog who would a wooing go; so he dusted off his green coat and proceeded to call upon a giddy young frog who dwelled in Puddleville. After swapping some small talk and exchanging weather views he finally got down to business and asked her to double up with him as his leading lady for the purpose of doing a life stunt on the continuous circuit.

"But what if I should refuse?" queried the tantalizing female, after the manner peculiar to her sex.

"Then, darling," replied his frogship, "there is nothing left for me to do but croak."

Bear Killing Without a Gun.

An old hunter told me this story, which I will tell in my own words:

"Did you ever hear of the time I licked a bear without my gun? No? Well, I'll tell it to you. About sundown one pleasant afternoon I was roaming through the woods with no weapon of defense, when, to my horror, I saw a wounded bear running toward me with open mouth and foaming jaws! I hadn't the least idea what to do, so I did nothing; I stood still, scared to death. As the bear sprang upon me I instinctively put out my arm to protect myself, and my hand went into his mouth! Then a happy thought seized me! I thrust my hand in farther, grabbed hold of his tail, gave him a pull inside out and he ran away from me back into the woods!"—Lippincott's.

Scuppernon and James grapes have both come on the market.

The days are cool at both ends and warm in the middle.

Fatal Explosion at Birmingham.

Birmingham, Sept. 8.—An explosion of loose powder in the coining department of the Birmingham Powder Company's plant today resulted in the death of B. Bargett and the fatal injury of J. Goodlet, both laborers. No others were in the mill at the time. An explosion in the same mill two months ago resulted in the death of three men.

Thirty Reported Killed.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—A dispatch to Cologne Gazette from Constantinople says the brawling at Beirut was apparently due to the arrival of the American squadron there. About thirty persons, including some foreigners, were killed. It is learned that the dispositions made by Rear Admiral Cotton show that an energetic attitude will be adopted.

Senator Bacon, of Georgia, refused to eat his ham and eggs at the same depot lunch counter with Booker T. Washington. Bacon draws the line at the son of Ham.—Laramie Boomerang.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, SEPTEMBER 9, 1903.

This paper has done more for the Greenville tobacco market than any other single agency. Yet we are disturbed in mind when we consider that the business interests of the town suffer from the rise and fall of the weed. The truth is, we have depended entirely too much on tobacco and have neglected other sources of commerce and industry. No community that is dominated by a single article of commerce can hope for a permanent and substantial prosperity. Pitt county can still raise some of the finest tobacco in the world, but that is not our limit, and we are untrue to ourselves if we do not cast about for a safer anchorage for our business interests. We must not allow ourselves to be dwarfed by circumstances. We must make our own circumstances, and make them to our own liking. We have brain, brawn and money. With these forces so generously bestowed upon us, we must conquer conditions or give way to a fitter breed of men.

Getting on the uniform of a policeman and being clothed with a little authority makes fools of some men. At Salisbury the other day a policeman had a trivial argument with an excursionist from Charlotte who was waiting for the train, and without cause cut the man's scalp in two or three places with his billet. At Raleigh a policeman, just because a young law student became elated over successfully passing the examination for license and gave vent to his feelings in a college yell, arrested the young man and put him in the lock-up without giving him a chance to explain or allow his friends to stand his bail. In the latter case lawyer W. A. Dunn, of Scotland Neck, whose brother was the victim of this outrage, has already instituted proceedings to make it hot for that policeman.

In a few years the people of the United States will come to understand that the cost of living has increased several hundred per cent. in the past 10 years, while the average income has increased very little, if at all. Then a democratic administration will come into power and begin at once to cut off the source of revenue of those patriotic people who are robbing the government. The pap-suckers will howl, the radical press will screamingly proclaim that the democratic party is responsible for "hard times." It has been so and will be so.

We dislike to discuss the negro question. We feel that it is the Southerner's part to go quietly about his business, be true to himself and his family and pay no attention to the vaporings of demagogues, in or out of the pulpit. We know that time will write us boldly in the right, and we know that we are capable of caring for our own. Let the heathen rage and the Pharisee twist his sanctimonious smile. They are impotent and puerile, for in our hearts we know that the brute who touches a white woman shall die.

Of course Parson Massee is not guilty, but we will wager he will not do it again.

"Society" must have something to talk about. Now much ado is being made over a reported engagement of Lieut. Hobson, the hero of the Merrimac and of much kissing notoriety, and Miss Ruth Bryan, daughter of William Jennings Bryan. The existence of such an engagement is denied by the mother of the young lady, and so it goes. How young folks' courting does get meddled with.

The Charlotte Observer wants to know "how come" a preacher can not preach a sermon in 20 minutes. Can. Come down here and we'll show you one who seldom exceeds it. But he will fill more than three columns in a newspaper; he just talks a column of nonpareil every five minutes and you can hear every word he says; what's more, you know what he says when he says it.—Greensboro Record.

The world has been looking for this man for more moons than you have hairs on your head.

The ghost of republicanism in North Carolina now sleeps beneath the daisies, and of mourners there are few. The Asheville Gazette has fallen by the wayside, gone where the woodbine twineth, the whang doodle mourneth and the lion ceaseth to roar.

In after years Roosevelt will be remembered as the man who made trouble between the black and white races. Not all the monuments in Christendom can obscure this crowning deed of egotism and pig-headedness.

The soul of the small boy is now filled with darkling dreads, for school days are come again. It seems like forever to next summer, and the youth's whilom pains in tender places come trooping back to duty as before.

Prof. Brander Matthews says that English is the easiest language to speak in the world. It may be to the learned Brandler, but the man with a pocket full of money has them all beaten to a standstill.

Any Northern church of the sensational kind wanting a preacher after its own heart is confidently requested to look toward the capital city of North Carolina.

In many North Carolina towns the saloon man has much rough walking ahead of him. In Greenville the way is cleared for him and he has full sway.

A St. Louis youth forced his Juliet to elope at the point of a pistol. Later on she will probably make him "lope" at the point of a rolling pen.

It may be easy to be good on ten thousand a year, but a great many who have that much do not consider it necessary.

The whiskey interests are intensely hostile to the Watts law, and by that sign the people know that it is a good law.

It may be no fault of the town, but Raleigh certainly has an interesting collection of freaks.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind." THE GENUINE VS. COUNTERFEITS.

The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy is equal to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite is not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a quick recovery. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; E. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

THE PLEASURE OF EATING.

Persons suffering from indigestion, dyspepsia or other stomach trouble will find that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. This remedy is a never failing cure for indigestion and dyspepsia and all complaints affecting the glands or membranes of the stomach or digestive tract. When you take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure everything you eat tastes good, and every bit of the nutriment that your food contains is assimilated and appropriated by the blood and tissues. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

A lot of editorial thunder against Turkey went to waste in this country Friday night.—Burlington Hawk-Eye.

A PURGATIVE PLEASURE.

If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Risers for biliousness or constipation you know what a purgative pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not gripe, sicken or weaken, but give tone and strength to the tissues and organs involved. W. H. Howell of Houston, Tex. says "No better pill can be used than Little Early Risers for constipation, sick headache etc." Sold by John L. Wooten.

DISTRESS AFTER EATING CURED.

Judge W. T. Holland of Greensburg, La., who is well and favorably known, says: "Two years ago I suffered greatly from indigestion. After eating, great distress would invariably result, I sitting for an hour or so and my nights were restless. I concluded to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and it cured me entirely. Now my sleep is refreshing and digestion perfect." Sold by John L. Wooten.

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder. If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me. Mrs. J. W. COOLBAUGH, Milo Center, N. Y.

MARVELOUS CURE BY DR MOORE.

NORTH CAROLINA } Pitt County } To all whom it may concern: I hereby testify that my wife, Fanny L. Pearce, and my son, John W. Pearce, and Leona Pearce, wife of my son, J. W. Pearce, on or about the first of last March were strangely affected with a malady resembling fits, and when the attacks were on them they would scream and their paroxysms were so violent that they had to be held by main force. I applied to and had the services of five physicians without realizing any benefit whatever. I finally sought the ministrations of Dr. W. H. Moore, colored, and under his treatment my son passed three snakes, two of them were alive and one was dead. My wife passed several bugs with long snouts to them. It gives me pleasure to announce that they are all getting well and the fits have disappeared. J. W. PEARCE, Sworn to before me, Aug. 19th 1903. H. HARDING, J. P.

The above parties are all white people of good family and well known. I also have other affidavits in my possession showing wonderful cures under my treatment. I cure all troubles that flesh is heir to. I have made the blind see, the deaf hear and the lame walk, as people living here in Greenville and in the county will testify. My medicine and treatment are no humbug, but I guarantee a cure in all cases or take no pay. Don't continue to suffer, but try me and be convinced. W. M. H. MOORE, M. D. Greenville, N. C. P. O. YOUNG WIFEHOOD

Boston, Mass., 152 Shawmut Ave., Oct. 25, 1902. After I had been married about four months I felt my health generally decline. I seemed to lose the light step and dragged wearily along instead. My appetite failed me and I lost health and strength. I was nervous and had shooting pains through my limbs and stomach while bearing down pains and constant headaches added to my misery. The menstrual flow became more and more profuse and I was unfit to attend to my daily duties. My husband called in three different physicians and I took enough medicine to kill or cure a dozen women, but it all had no effect on me whatever, until I took Wine of Cardui. In a few days I felt a change for the better, my general health improved and at the next time of my periods my flow was more natural and I was in less pain. Gradually I recovered my health and strength and am now in perfect health. I take an occasional dose of Wine of Cardui which keeps me well.

I am happy to give you this endorsement.

Bessie Ricker

President, Back Bay Woman's Club.

Why don't you try for the same health Mrs. Ricker has? It is easy to secure if you take Wine of Cardui according to directions. Wine of Cardui strengthens weak and worn-out women of any age and assists the mother and housewife to bear her exacting duties. Wine of Cardui makes women fit for all the duties of womanhood.

It will relieve the pains of irregularity, cures falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, ovarian troubles, and has been known to remove what physicians considered dangerous tumors. Women who use Wine of Cardui do not suffer at the monthly periods. They do not suffer hysterical attacks, because Wine of Cardui gives them strong nerves freed from the irritation of female suffering.

A $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui purchased from your druggist will keep you free from pain.

What has become of Greenville's Anti Saloon League?

Miss Bessie Patrick will open her music school on Monday, Sept. 14th, at her home.

The warehouses had good breaks again today. If prices would only get up things would haul out on tobacco row.

The churches will have the usual mid week prayer meetings tonight.

If furniture factories pay so well in towns further up the country why would they not pay in Greenville?

Some of our citizens evidently think Greenville's water works are in the dim and distant future, and are putting in water works of their own.

The City Hay & Grain Co. is a new business organization here. It is composed of good business men and their head quarters will be on Fifth street.

Attempt to Wreck Passenger Train.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 8.—A dastardly attempt to wreck the southbound Washington and South-western Vestibled Limited on the Southern was made last night. As the train neared a point about forty miles from Alexandria, the engineer discovered an obstruction ahead and brought the train to a stand still. The train crew found carefully placed on the track a collection of old iron, rocks and cross ties. The train was running on an up grade otherwise the engineer would not have been able to stop his engine in time to prevent a wreck. This is the second attempt with in a few months to wreck trains on the Washington division and the officials make no secret of the fact that they are both puzzled and worried.

There is doubtless a warning for some of our citizens in the case of the St. Louis man who died a few hours after taking a bath for the first time in 20 years.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Uncommercial List.

Artistic folk frequently have somewhat vague notions about business. Some of them are quite ignorant of it, others utterly indifferent to it and others yet hate the very name of it. One in the last named category was Liszt. He had returned from a successful tour, and Princess Metternich, the wife of the celebrated statesman and diplomatist, was questioning him regarding the concerts he had been giving abroad. "I hear," she said, "that you did good business in Paris."

To which Liszt gave the tart reply: "I only played some music there. Business—that I leave to bankers and diplomatists."

To another lady the musical cleric gave a still more sarcastic answer. "Ah, Abbe," she sighed, "what a great fortune you would make if only you could be induced to go to America to play!"

"Madame," returned Liszt, "if you stood in need of that fortune, believe me, I would go at once."—Collier's Weekly.

The Eye of the East.

Damascus, perhaps the most ancient city in the world, claims the proud title of "the Eye of the East," which the striking beauty of its aspect from a distance fully justifies.

Bright buildings which sparkle under the Syrian sun rise out of a mass of many tinted foliage. To the north-west stretch the long, bare, snow white ridges of Anti-Lebanon, while in charming contrast gardens, rich corn-fields and teeming orchards form a brilliant setting on all sides.

Winding through this profuse display of oriental beauty, the rivers Barrada and Phege—the Abana and Pharpar of Scripture—lose themselves far to the east in Lake Bahr-el-Merj. On a nearer view much of this glamour vanishes, and there is abundant evidence of general decay.

A similar title is given to Athens in Milton's "Paradise Regained." It is: Athens, the eye of Greece, mother of arts.

A Pair of Catfish.

A pair of catfish that were continuously watched in a government aquarium made a nest by removing the gravel from a corner. During the first few days after hatching the fry, banked in the corners of the tank, were at irregular intervals actively stirred by the barbels of the parents, usually the male. Subsequently the parents were seen to suck the eggs into their mouths and then extrude them with some force. The predaceous feeding habits of the old fish gradually overcame the parental instinct. The tendency to suck the fry into their mouths continued and the inclination to spit them out diminished, so that the number of young dwindled daily, and the 500 that had been left with their parents had completely disappeared in six weeks, although other food was liberally supplied.

Gounod the Man.

Gounod was one of the most fascinating men I have ever met. His manner had a charm that was irresistible, and his kindly eyes, as soft and melting as a woman's, would light up with a smile now tender, now humorous, that fixed itself ineffaceably upon the memory. He could speak English fairly well, but preferred his own language, in which he was a brilliant conversationalist, and he could use to advantage a fund of keen, ready wit. He was at this time influenced by a recrudescence of that religious mysticism which had strongly characterized his youthful career, but his tone, though earnest and thoughtful when he was dwelling upon his art, could brighten up with the lightness and gaiety of a true Parisian.—Hermann Klein in Century.

Fuel in Ancient Rome.

The fuel of the ancient Romans was almost exclusively charcoal. This was burned in open pans, without grate or flue, and gave economical heat for living rooms and baths. Careful experiment has shown that such fires yield no considerable amount of dangerous carbonic oxide. The inconvenience of chimneys was avoided, the heat could be easily regulated, and a pan with a burning surface sufficed to heat a church seating 2,000 people.

Work While You Pray.

A squall caught a party of tourists on a lake in Scotland and threatened to capsize their boat. When it seemed that the crisis had really come, the largest and strongest man in the party, in a state of intense fear, said, "Let us pray." "No, no, my man!" shouted the bluff old boatman. "Let the little man pray. You take an oar!"—Success.

No Apology Necessary.

"I congratulate you most heartily," said the nearsighted guest at the wedding. "on this happy—oh, I beg your pardon! I thought I was speaking to the bridegroom."

"That's all right," the other man replied. "I accept your congratulations I am the father of the bride."—Chicago Tribune.

The Nurse.

The London Hospital complains that the word "nurse" means too many different things, from the board school girl of fourteen, who gets 2 shillings a week for minding the baby, to the highly skilled nurse who follows the army doctor to the very battlefield.

His Worst Experience.

"Hex you ever been kicked by a mule?"

"No, thank de Lawd, I never hex experienced nuthin' wuss dan a house fallin' on me!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Things move along so rapidly now days that people who say "It can't be done" are always being interrupted by somebody doing it.—Saxby's Magazine.
