NEWS NOTES FROM WINTERVILLE.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Sept. 19. W. J. Wyatt, of Raleigh, after visiting near here for several days, left Monday.

J. E. Green has returned from Williamston and Mr. Andrews, who has been acting as depot agent in his place, has returned to Bethel.

The cancellation of stamps in the postoffice at this place last Wednesday was over ten dollars. During the present month up to the close of the 16th inst., the cancellation was more than fifty dollars and for the month of August it was about eighty dollars. How is this for a town with a population of 500.

Slade Chapman, from near Centerville, spent Wednesday night with his brother, R. G. Chapman, here.

Mrs. J. W. Sparks spent Thursday in Greenville.

Special Constable F. B. Tucker carried a prisoner to jail day before yesterday.

J. L. Sugg and Maj. Henry Harding were here Thursday.

Mrs. J. T. Cannon left yesterday to visit friends in Conetoe.

Misses Effie and Hattie Kittrell went to Greenville Friday. On the next trip, perhaps, there will be others.

Mrs. M. G. Bryan is visiting friends near Pactolus.

J. W. Sparks went down the road Friday on urgent business.

Miss Dora Cox has been spending the week with Mrs. R. H. Hunsucker.

O. A. Fair and W. B. Wingate attended the Masonic funeral over the remains of the late Hugh Brooks at Ayden yesterday.

Mrs. F. O. Cox went to Ayden Thursday and returned Friday.

Leslie Smith, of Farmville, came Thursday. A few more visits and his stay will be more protracted. We presume!

That which was lost is found. The cloud so long hanging over the store of B. F. Manning & Co., has been chased away and in its stead hangs a silver lining resplendent with golden hues, for the old cat has returned.

K. C. Barrett, Southern Express Route agent, passed through here Friday.

Jim Green says we can't write anything that does not happen. So different from other editors, you know?

Elder T. M. Manning left Friday to fill his regular appointment at Black Jack for Saturday and Sunday.

J. J. May and J. W. Smith were visitors at the Masonic meeting here last night.

Rowan and D. E. Cooper were in Greenville yesterday on business.

The hardest thing in the world is to make an engaged girl understand everybody is not dying with envy of her.

Even when a girl gets to be a grand mother it is next to impossible for her to convince herself that men aren't trying to flirt with her.

AYDEN ITEMS.

AYDEN, N. C., Sept. 19, 1903.

Miss Ida Edwards returned Wednesday from a visit of several days near Greenville.

Mrs. T. H. Lancaster, of Edmondson, who has been visiting at H. G. Burton's, returned home Thursday.

O. L. Whichard, of Parmele, arrived yesterday to attend the burial of H. C. Brooks.

Dr. L. C. Skinner and W. E. Hooks went to Greenville Thursday.

SAD DEATH.

Hugh C. Brooks, whom we reported Sept. 2nd, as having had an operation performed for appendicitis in a hospital at Charleston S. C., died very suddenly and unexpectedly Wednesday night about 11 o'clock. The trouble seems to have been heart failure, as he was laughing and joking in a jolly manner when suddenly he turned in the bed and died immediately. He was brought to Ayden for interment. Revs. J. H. Griffith, of Kinston, and W. E. Cox, of Greenville, were here to officiate in the burial services. The pallbearers were: F. G. Buhman, J. W. Taylor, F. Lilly, J. J. Stroud, Everett Stroud and J. B. Pierce. Mr. Brooks having been a Mason and Odd Fellow, both orders rendered very beautiful services at the grave. He leaves a young wife, a father and mother and several brothers and sisters to bemoan their loss. To the bereaved ones we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

Sure Enough Mental Anguish.

There is no more fruitful source of mental anguish than the carriage which never comes. You must go off on the train and have ordered the carriage. All right—it will be sure to be there. You rest in contentment until twenty-five minutes before train time, then you begin to get fidgety. Another two minutes pass and you peer up the street for a sight of it. Five minutes go by and fidgetiness becomes nervousness. Presently it dawns upon you that it is too late for you to walk it and that the street car has just passed, so that you cannot make it by that means. In another minute you realize that your only trust is in Providence, in still another that unless the carriage comes the next minute it need not come at all, and in still the next that even if it does come it will be too late. Then hope gives place to despair—the carriage doesn't come, the train for once is on time and you are left. Who has not had some such experience? None who has will have much sympathy with a cabman of this city who was sued for $50 damages in a magistrate's court one day last week for allowing an intending passenger to be left and who was assessed $15 for breach of contract. The judgment was an instance of the dispensation of substantial justice.—Charlotte Observer.

Rockingham Hotel Burned.

Edgecombe Guards Called Out.

Tarboro N. C., Sept. 19.—A young negro named Paul Mercer, charged with assault with attempt to commit rape, was tried and convicted in the Superior court here yesterday afternoon. Judge Ferguson sentenced the prisoner to 10 years in the penitentiary. Later there were rumors on the street that an attempt would be made last night to lynch Mercer. These rumors were called to the attention of Judge Ferguson and he wired Governor Aycock to place the Edgecombe Guards at the orders of the sheriff. This was done and about 9 o'clock the sheriff called out the military to guard the jail through the night. All was quiet and there was no attempt at lynching.

Cross Continent in Auto.

Hammond last night completed an automobile trip from that city to New York, called upon Mayor Low today and presented him a letter from Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco. NEW WEALTH FOR THE SOUTH.

If it were necessary to condense the following article from the Southern Farm Magazine into four words, we should write it, "Produce all you consume." The South needs to do this, and particularly does every town and community need to manufacture the articles in daily use:

"When a company was organized at Ashboro, N. C., to start a cannery it was said that not enough fruit and vegetables were grown in the neighborhood to keep the cannery going. It is now announced that there is enough fruit and vegetables to keep half a dozen canneries in operation; that the management will arrange to can all the peaches that can be obtained; that the cannery is running every day and sometimes at night, and that every effort is being made to can all the vegetables, fruit and berries on the local market.

Here and there in the South canning factories have been established, but nevertheless nearly every grocery store from Virginia to Texas carries a supply of canned goods packed elsewhere. In the aggregate the South spends millions of dollars annually for canned goods, while its own fruits and vegetables decay because in many places the production is greater than the demand for the fresh products. Throughout the South there are many points where the results accomplished at Ashboro could easily be duplicated. The establishment of canneries not only extends the time of the employment of men and women, but carries the market for the products far into the fall and winter. It adds wealth to the community in several different ways. Let there be more Southern canneries."

GOVERNOR PENNYPACKER TECHNICALLY RIGHT

In refusing to honor Governor Aycock's requisition for Essex Station Governor Pennypacker is technically in the right, but one wonders how it is that such a narrow-minded man could rise to the governorship of a great state. The officer who carried the requisition met with scant courtesy, and there was evidence enough that Governor Pennypacker did not care to be bothered with the matter at all. His contention that Staton had not been indicted by the grand jury of Pitt county is correct, but with the facts and circumstances of the crime presented to him he could have well afforded to serve the ends of justice by delivering up the accused.

If the state of Pennsylvania should ever find it necessary to send to North Carolina for a criminal, we will be glad to accommodate. We have enough bad folks already, and would be glad to get rid of some of them.

The air up there was too rare for B. Washington, and when he fell he smashed most of the good work he has done for his people.

Durham outdistances all competitors in keeping the center of the stage.

DISTRESS AFTER EATING CURED.

Judge W. T. Holland of Greensburg, La., who is well and favorably known, says: "Two years ago I suffered greatly from indigestion. After eating, great distress would invariably result, lasting for an hour or so and my nights were restless. I concluded to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and it cured me entirely. Now my sleep is refreshing and digestion perfect." Sold by John L. Wooten.

BLACK LIST GROWS.

Ins. Commissioner Young After Ins. Co Frauds

Insurance Commissioner Young has just returned to the city from a visit on official business to the eastern part of the state, where it seems that he has been catching up with some violations of the insurance laws. At Goldsboro he got up the evidence and had Mr. H. L. Humphrey indicted in the Superior court for issuing policies for a company not licensed to do business in the state. Mr. Humphrey represented the Commercial Registry Company of St. Louis, Mo., and for them issued accident policies of the Union Casualty and Surety Company, also of St. Louis.

Under the law the registry company is required to be admitted to do business by the Insurance Department and pay annual license of $100, while the Union Casualty and Surety Company as an accident company cannot do business in this state without being licensed by the Insurance Department and paying an annual license of $200. Neither of these companies had been licensed to do business in this state nor had Mr. Humphrey been licensed as their agent. It will be understood that under the present insurance laws no company can operate in the state without being licensed and no agent can represent any company whether licensed or not, without obtaining a license from the Insurance Department.

Mr. Humphrey is a young man who stood well in the community, bearing a good character, and in consequence of this the court, at the request of the Commissioner, allowed him to plead guilty and suspended judgment upon his paying the costs and taking up all the policies that had been issued by him and returning the money paid by the citizens. Mr. Young states that he will black list both the Commercial Registry Company and the Union Casualty and Surety Company.

Mr. Young also visited Tarboro, and while there got up evidence and had the grand jury to indict Mr. J. W. Forbes, an insurance agent of that place, for issuing a policy in the Citizens Insurance Company, of Chicago. This company has already been black-listed and published by the Insurance Department. The indictment was not tried because the court was crowded with business and could not reach it, but it will be tried at the next term of the Superior court. Mr. Forbes claims that he got this policy without knowing that the company was not licensed to do business in this state. Mr. Forbes is the representative of the Security Mutual Life Insurance Company, licensed to do business in this state, and also of several fire companies.

Of course this action in representing these companies is in no way affected by the above indictment. The offense was committed last year. If it had been committed during the present year, since the adjournment of the Legislature, then the Insurance Commissioner would have been required to have cancelled Mr. Forbes' licenses as agent for all the companies that he represented. A law to this effect having been passed by the last Legislature.

The Insurance Commissioner states that he has several memoranda of violations in different parts of the state and that he is determined to see that the citizens of the state are no longer imposed upon by worthless policies, and the state cheated out of her revenue due her by every company operating in the state.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite if not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an anti-septic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a quick recovery. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

THE GENUINE VS. COUNTERFEITS.

The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy is equal to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

Prosperity gets flowers, but adversity distinguishes them.

A PURGATIVE PLEASURE.

If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Risers, for biliousness or constipation you know what a purgative pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not gripe, sicken or weaken, but give tone and strength to the tissues and organs involved. W. H. Howell of Houston, Tex., says "No better pill can be used than Little Early Risers for constipation, sick headache etc." Sold by John L. Wooten.

The reason some women's hair changes to white so suddenly is that it has been that way for a long time, only nobody else was allowed to know it.

CONDENSED STORIES.

Where She Got the Crest That Was "So Full of Significance."

Here's a good story told about Lady Colebrooke, that prominent Englishwoman who visited the Whitneys last winter. Lady Colebrooke is of the well known Paget family. Lord Colebrooke's ancestors are equally aristocratic, and the Colebrooke crest is a rampant lion, three doves over the head and a wolf couchant above all. It is an elaborate affair. When Lady Colebrooke was dining out with one of the opulent hostesses of Long Island she glanced casually at the dinner service, every bit of which was duly embossed with a crest. She was accustomed to heraldic china and did not at once inspect the design minutely. Later in the evening, to her great surprise, she became aware that the Colebrooke crest was upon all of her hostess' dinner service. "Where did you get this crest?" she exclaimed impulsively. The hostess replied unconcernedly: "Isn't it a pretty one? I picked it out when we furnished this house. It was the prettiest I could find, and those dear little doves, I think, are so full of significance." Lady Colebrooke murmured sadly, "So full of significance."—New York Press.

Mascagni's Sarcasm.

During the last dress rehearsal at the Metropolitan Opera House of Mascagni's Japanese opera, "Iris," which was produced last autumn for the first time in America, Mascagni, who was conducting the orchestra, was greatly annoyed by the ineffective performance of one of the singers in a particular scene. The passage was a very intense one—a love scene between the chief reprobate and the heroine.

"SUPPOSE YOU TRY SINGING IT ON THE KEY."

"Do not move so timidly! Stand farther to the right! Play with more vigor! More color! More variety!" shouted the composer above the surge of the music.

The unfortunate actor, thoroughly discomfited, went from bad to worse in his impersonation and now was singing almost continually out of tune. The exasperated composer could stand it no longer. He stopped the orchestra and beckoned the singer down to the footlights.

"Since all other methods for making the passage effective seem to have failed," he remarked sarcastically in his most scrupulous Italian, "suppose you try singing it on the key?"—Harper's Weekly.

Plenty in It.

The discussion of bribery has served to recall the reply which George T. Anthony once made to a politician who was disposed to "graft." Mr. Anthony was about to relinquish an office and was approached by the man who was to succeed him, who wanted to know how much the office was worth. Mr. Anthony replied that it paid $3,000 a year.

"I know that is the salary," insisted the inquirer, "but what else is there in it?"

"Well," said Anthony, looking his interrogator directly in the eye, "there's $3,000 a year and the penitentiary in it for any man who wants to work it for all it is worth."

Two Kinds of Dancers.

The Rev. Reginald Campbell of the London City temple during his visit to America said a number of amusing things. One of them concerned dancing. A young girl asked Dr. Campbell if he did not consider dancing graceful.

"Professional dancing," he replied, "is, I admit, graceful enough in some cases. But what is there of grace in the dancing of amateurs? A man and a woman, close together, spin solemnly about a room. The man's long black coat tails flap. Such persons always look to me as if they had been hired to dance and were doubtful if they would get paid."

C. S. FORBES,
THE MAN'S OUTFITTER,

Motherhood

MOTHERHOOD is the reward nature bestows upon healthy womanhood. Women whose vitality has been sapped by disease cannot safely give birth to children. In pregnancy and in childbirth weakness of the mother is revealed in the pain and agony she suffers.

This great medicine drives out every vestige of inflammation and weakness, and gives tone and strength to the delicate organs which mature the child. The pains of pregnancy are banished by Wine of Cardui, and miscarriages, which blast so many fond mother's hopes, are prevented. Flooding, which so often occurs after childbirth, is corrected when Wine of Cardui is used during pregnancy.

Wine of Cardui babies are healthy babies, because, during the months of pregnancy, the mother is able to give them necessary vitality and strength.

With these facts presented to American women no expectant mother should be satisfied without the reinforcement that Wine of Cardui will give her. Every mother should be able to treat herself in her home with this valuable medicine.

Wine of Cardui can be secured from any druggist at $1.00 a bottle.

Polycarp, N. C., Jan. 11, 1902.

I am the mother of seven children and while in pregnancy with the first six suffered untold misery until they were born. One month before the seventh was born I began to take a bottle of Wine of Cardui, which gave me relief after taking three doses. I used the remainder of the bottle until the birth of the child, and was stouter in three days after the birth than I was in a month after the birth of either of the first six. I am 29 years old.

MARVELOUS CURE BY DR. MOORE.

NORTH CAROLINA }
Pitt County }
To all whom it may concern:
I hereby testify that my wife, Fanny L. Pearce, and my son, John W. Pearce, and Leona Pearce, wife of my son, J. W. Pearce, on or about the first of last March were strangely effected with a malady resembling fits, and when the attacks were on them they would scream and their paroxysms were so violent that they had to be held by main force. I applied to and had the services of five physicians without realizing any benefit whatever. I finally sought the ministrations of Dr. W. H. Moore, colored, and under his treatment my son passed three snakes, two of them were alive and one was dead. My wife passed several bugs with long snouts to them. It gives me pleasure to announce that they are all getting well and the fits have disappeared.

J. W. PEARCE.
Sworn to before me, Aug. 19th 1903.
H. HARDING, J. P.

The above parties are all white people of good family and well known. I also have other affidavits in my possession showing wonderful cures under my treatment. I cure all troubles that flesh is heir to. I have made the blind see, the deaf hear and the lame walk, as people living here in Greenville and in the county will testify. My medicine and treatment are no humbug, but I guarantee a cure in all cases or take no pay. Don't continue to suffer, but try me and be convinced.

KODOL
Digests What You Eat.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Kodol

Digests What You Eat

Mrs. Loring Nichols of Penn Yan, N. Y., writes: After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders, and gives the heart a full, free and untrammelled action.

Bottles only $1.00. Size holding 2 1/2 times the trial size, which sells for 50c
