HARDING-COTTON.

Rector of Calvary Parish, Tarboro, Weds a Lovely Baltimore Girl.

The Baltimore Sun of last Thursday has the following:

Miss Annie Estelle Cotton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Augustine Cotten, 1302 Linden Avenue, was married last night to Rev. Frederick Harriman Harding, of North Carolina, former curate of Grace Protestant Episcopal church of this city.

The wedding took place at Memorial Protestant Episcopal church, the chancel of which was adorned with white asters. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Nathaniel Harding, father of the groom, assisted by Rev. William M. Dame, rector of the church. The wedding choral from "L'Heugrin" was sung during the ceremony by members of St. Cecilia Guild, of which organization the bride is a member.

The bride entered with her father, by whom she was given away. She wore a trained gown of white liberty silk, combined with duchess lace, a tulle veil, and carried bride's roses. The maid of honor was Miss Emma Boyd, of Virginia, who wore a gown of pale blue organdy over silk, and carried a cluster of white asters.

The groom was attended as best man by Mr. John Bragaw, of North Carolina, and the ushers were: Rev. Frank Staples, Rev. William Page Dame, Mr. William B. Cotten and Mr. Augustus Mayo Cotten. Mr and Mrs. Harding left immediately after the wedding for the North, after which they will visit the groom's relatives in Washington, N. C. They will reside at Tarboro, N. C., where Mr. Harding has recently accepted a call to the rectorship of Calvary parish.

Horse Died of Wounds.

The horse that Deputy Sheriff Tucker drove in the country one night last week, and was badly wounded in a collision with another vehicle while the driver was on his way back to town, died last night. The horse belonged to Mr. J. S. Mooring and was a valuable animal.

Big Sales.

The lands of the late Eli Williams were sold for division at auction Monday before the court house door, the whole, 35 parcels, bringing nearly $27,000. The lands embraced several town lots in Farmville and a number of farms in that vicinity. All brought good prices.

Red Letter Sale.

A. E. Tucker & Co., are making things hot with a red letter sale which has been inaugurated at their store. Prices have been cut in keeping with the low price of tobacco and some unusual bargains are being offered. Read their large advertisement and give them a call.

Admitted to Practice.

In the Superior court this morning Solicitor L. I. Moore presented to the court Mr. Roy C. Flanagan, who having recently obtained license from the Supreme court of the state, desired to be formally admitted as a practitioner. Judge Fred Moore administered the usual oath to Mr. Flanagan and ordered that he be admitted to practice in all the courts of the state.

Another Postoffice Robbery.

Durham, N. C. Sept. 21.—The postoffice at University station, 9 miles west of Durham, was robbed early tonight. The store in connection with the postoffice conducted by O. F. Craig, was also robbed. The amount stolen was $40 in cash besides checks aggregating $143.30. The checks were all made out to the Southern railway hands and had been cashed by Mr. Craig during the day. The robbery was committed while a shifting engine was moving cars and was discovered when Mr. Craig returned to the store.

Southern Railway Still Hoodooed.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 21.—Two heavy Southern railway freight trains collided at Boone station, about 6 miles from Portsmouth, this morning. The cars were destroyed by fire. Engineer Richard Carrington, of Selma, N. C., is in St. Vincent's hospital here badly injured. TILLMAN TRIAL DELAYED AGAIN.

Considered a Good Point For the Defense.

Gonzales, editor of the State newspaper, January 15th, opened here today. Judge Corey, who is presiding, late this evening set next Monday as the time for the trial to begin. It is supposed that this is a point in favor of the defense, as they were afraid of the jury for this week.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, SEPTEMBER 22, 1903.

RURAL LIBRARIES.

There is no more important question relating to education, and, indeed, the future greatness of the state, than that of rural libraries. We who were "brought up" in the country can appreciate the joy of having all the books one wants to read. Long years ago we used to walk miles and miles to borrow a dilapidated "Robinson Crusoe" or "Gulliver's Travels," and in our hearts there was ever some regret that we could not have the works our souls craved. We led a narrow life, we country boys and girls. We didn't know much about railroads and theaters. We longed unceasingly for knowledge of the world that lay beyond our fathers' farms. We dreamed of the day when we should be 21—a man and free—and how we should kiss the mother good-bye and walk briskly down the lane, out to the white road, past the orchard and hay meadow—and on to the city. But it seemed like the age of a patriarch from 15 to 21, and we wanted to know THEN—we wanted to know all about Walter Scott and his days of chivalry. The few pages we had found of Fenimore Cooper's fired our hearts and souls with desire to know more about the world as it had been and as it is.

Well, some of us grew up and saw the scenes we longed to see, and lived in the joy of a dream come true, but we never forgot the country boy and the longing of his heart.

These rural libraries will mean new and higher life in every home into which their influence enters. They will broaden the soul plunged too low by isolation and penury. They will write their legend plain upon the brows of those who seek them. They will educate a boy or girl's heart as no school can ever do.

For the honor and glory of the state and the coming race, let no one lift a hand to oppose rural libraries.

Buffalo has been quiet so long that we thought it was about time for another tragedy to be reported from that city. It has come in the shooting of his son-in-law by an old man, who completed the tragedy by blowing out his own brains.

President Roosevelt refuses to dismiss Miller, the non-union employee of the government printing office, but he will make a grand effort to square himself with the labor unions before election day, and will probably succeed.

The United States are said to be arranging for a treaty with Abyssinia. If King Menelik can take our race question (?) over there with him a while, we will be much obliged to him.

Senator Hanna recently pried himself off his case of gout and saved the nation with a high tariff exhortation. Is he blind, or doesn't he want to see the whiskers on those pet "infant industries?"

If we could hear of a Turkish defeat occasionally the war in the East would not seem so hopeless.

The Seaboard Air Line had a Sunday wreck near Henderson in which two men were killed. But the railroads go right on running trains on Sunday and not giving their employees time to rest.

The Louisburg dispensary sold over $16,000 worth of liquor from January to June of this year. Three per cent. of the gross receipts, amounting to about $500, was paid into the state treasury.

There are 3000 more saloons in New York city than in the entire South. We ought to send some missionaries up there.

If Mr. Hearst intends starting a daily organ in this state he may as well come prepared to blow in all the money in his family.

It is announced that the last escape from the penitentiary did not happen, but it will be investigated.

It takes the self-made man a long time to see where the job could have been improved.

Football and Thanksgiving day will soon begin to come forward as our esteemed contemporaries.

We wonder if Raleigh and Wilson can tell their man-slayers from other people?

Self-reliance is all right if there is anything there to rely upon.

Virginia's Dismal Swamp.

Progress is an iconoclast and obliterates "old landmarks" without mercy. The Dismal Swamp of Virginia is one of our natural curiosities, and the Lake of the Dismal Swamp has been the subject of song. But the water from the lake has been largely drawn off for commercial purposes, and now we are told that the Ohio capitalists and farmers who recently purchased 20,000 acres of the land in the heart of the swamp are rapidly cutting the timbers away and draining the lands and putting them in arable condition. The Dismal Swamp is doomed. It will not be many years before the morass which from time immemorial has been the home of bear and deer and other wild animals will be the home of prosperous settlers. We old fogies necessarily feel a sense of sorrow in the passing of the Dismal Swamp. But there is no sentiment in progress.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Contract for New Railroad.

The contract has been let for the construction of the Pamlico, Oriental and Western Railroad. This road was chartered by the last legislature. It will run from New Bern to a point in Pamlico county fifty-five miles distant, at least that much of it is provided for in the contract which was let yesterday. Mr. Henry R. Bryan, Jr., and Mr. O. H. Guion are among the parties interested in the new road.

The contract was awarded to the W. A. Cullen Construction Company of New York. The W. W. Mills Lumber Company of Raleigh has secured the contract to furnish one million feet of lumber for building the railroad bridge across the Neuse river at New Bern.

New Hope in the South.

Recently we have heard considerable of the progress farming is making in the South. Still more recently we have had renewed assurances of the South's abundant prosperity. That the latter report should follow closely upon the former is obvious. The South's great gain, commercial and otherwise, in the past decade is due primarily to the fact that her agricultural pursuits are being conducted on a scientific plan. Her land-owners and soil-tillers are working after improved methods. The industrious, up-to-date Southern farmer regards farming as a business and attends to it as assiduously as if he were managing a grocery store or a manufacturing plant. There is no idling and trusting to luck. Everything connected with it is put on a practical scale. The result is the average Southern farm is a market the year around.

The indications are that the South will eventually outrank in agriculture the North and the West. It is an ideal country for farming, combining as it does a climate and soil favorable not only to the production of all fruits and cereals indigenous to North temperate latitudes, but in most of those of the tropic belt. This diversity of production places the Southern farmer at the head of the market. He is invincible.

Prosperity the like of which she has never dreamed awaits the South. Already statistics show that the per cent of increase of her population is greater than that of any other part of the United States. Her sons are becoming expert agriculturalists—which is the wedge that cleaves to commercial greatness.—Baltimore Herald.

New Tobacco Region.

Nacogdoches, Texas, Sept. 19.—L. H. Selfer, tobacco expert of the United States agricultural department and in charge of the tobacco tests and experiments at this place, has resigned to engage in the culture of high grade tobacco in this field on an extensive scale. His resignation is effective at once and he will immediately begin preparation for the planting of a large acreage of high grade Cuban seed for harvest next season.

Mr. Selfer recommends highly the soil of the Nacogdoches field.

General Passenger Agent T. J. Anderson, of the Southern Pacific railroad which taps the Nacogdoches district, sailed from New Orleans today for Havana where he will discuss with the tobacco planters the possibilities of the new tobacco field of East Texas.

The October Reunion.

Greensboro, N. C.,
Sept. 14, 1903.

All persons reading this are earnestly requested to furnish to us immediately names and post-office addresses of natives of North Carolina residing in other states. This information is desired in order that invitations may be extended to as many non-residents as possible to attend the state reunion on October 12th and 13th, at Greensboro, N. C. It is impossible for the committee in charge to get the names and addresses of non-resident natives unless aided by a great many individuals, each of whom can easily furnish the few absent sons and daughters of the state. Please address communications promptly to Hon. R. D. Douglas, corresponding secretary of the Board of Managers, Greensboro, N. C.

The railroads have given a round trip rate to the reunion of one fare plus twenty-five cents from all points within a radius of three hundred miles of Greensboro, and most of the roads have given a rate of one fare plus one dollar from all points beyond.

Every North Carolinian, both resident and non-resident, is most cordially invited to be present.

Respectfully,
CHARLES D. McIVER,
Chairman,
J. A. ODELL,
ROBERT B. KING,
J. W. FRY,
CAESAR CONE,
G. S. BRADSHAW,
Board of Managers Non resident Reunion Association

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

Some Autumn Smiles From the Pen of a Funny Man.

Bill—What is an Adam's apple?
Jill—Why, it's something a fellow gets in the neck.

Patience—And why do you think bachelors are so brave?
Patrice—Because they fear knot.

"The trouble with the photographer," remarked the observer of events and things, "seems to be that he takes people too seriously."

Patience—I understand he goes about preaching on the railroads.
Patrice—Well, he must have a great congregation of sleepers.

Madison—Do you believe that in union there is strength?
Dearborn—I certainly do.

"Well, Wabash ought to be a pretty powerful man. I understand he's been married six times."

Father—Well, young man, what are your prospects?
The Lover—Don't you know, sir?
"I wouldn't ask you if I knew."

"Well, I wouldn't have come here if I didn't think you would know."

"A girl may succeed in concealing her plans for a long while," remarked the observer of events and things, "but when she gets her first engagement ring she's always willing to show her hand."—Yonkers Statesman.

She Furnished the Will.

He—So your husband has given up smoking? It requires a pretty strong will to accomplish that.
She—Well, I'd have you understand that I have a strong will.

GO UP AN INDUSTRY.
There are 350 golf links in Scotland. Of these 24 are in Fifeshire, 20 in Lanarkshire, 18 in Ayrshire; Argyllshire, Perthshire and Inverness-shire have 17 each, and so they go with lessening numbers till we come to Kincairdineshire, Peebles-shire and Selkirkshire with 3 each, to Nairnshire and Orkney and Shetland with 2 each and to Kinross with 1.
