These two examinations will be the last held during the present year and all who desire to teach would do well to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

W. H. RAGSDALE,
Co. Supt. School.

Splendid Solo.

The singing of Miss Daisy Wooten, of LaGrange, in the Methodist church here Sunday morning, was highly complimented by the congregation. She sang as an offertory, "Abide With Me," in excellent voice and perfect enunciation, with Mrs. George Hadley, of La Grange, accompanist. Mrs. J. E. Swanson was organist during the remainder of the services and her playing was splendid.

Sautelle's Shows.

Sixty-three horses and ponies, performing at the same time is an act which is rarely seen under canvass. In the Sig. Sautelle's twelve combined railroad shows which will exhibit in Greenville Thursday afternoon and evening, October 8, may be seen such a feature. Mounted upon a pure white horse, the trainer enters and the two quickly mount to the apex of a large pyramid. Then at a low spoken command from the trainer each of the 63 horses and ponies assume their proper places. When all are in position the animals execute a very wonderful and intricate drill. Another feature worthy of special mention is the only riding lion in the world, "Nero"—which is the name of the ferocious beast, not only rides a pony but performs many other amazing tricks.

Star Witness Former Greenvillean.

Mr. C. L. Terrell, who was reported in Saturday's paper as being the star witness for the state in the trial of J. H. Tillman for the killing of Editor Gonzales, now in progress at Lexington, S. C., was once a citizen of Greenville. He was manager of the Western Union Telegraph office here twenty years ago and was succeeded in 1884 by the present manager to whom he taught the business. Mr. Terrell is now editing a paper in Johnson, S. C.

Handsome Monument.

Mr. Henry Sheppard has had a handsome monument placed at the grave of his wife in Cherry Hill cemetery. It is a figure of a woman sitting on a pedestal, the wife being about 5 feet tall. The monument was put up by J. C. Lanier & Co., and is one of the most attractive in the cemetery.

They Expect Dewey.

New Bern, N. C., Oct. 3.—The stockholders of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank met last night and passed the following resolution:

Whereas, on the 7th day of August, 1902, the undersigned stockholders of the Farmers and Merchants' Bank offered a reward of $4,000 for the apprehension and delivery of Thomas W. Dewey, defaulting cashier of said bank; and

Whereas, the undersigned stockholders have reason to believe and do believe that the said T. W. Dewey will return to New Bern and voluntarily surrender himself into custody; and

Whereas, there seems to be no necessity for any further offer of reward for his apprehension; now, therefore, notice is hereby revoked and recalled. The reward which is hereby revoked was $4,000.

Drowned Trying to Escape Arrest.

Louisburg, N. C., Oct. 3.—On last Saturday night, Chief of Police High, with several deputies, in searching for crap shooters, ran into a crowd of negroes on the river bank in the corporate limits of the town. The negroes broke and ran and made their escape. One William Kearney jumped in the river, and was not seen any more until Friday of the following week, when his body was discovered by a negro woman fishing. She immediately gave the alarm and the body was taken out and identified.

The members of the Ladies Aid Society and all ladies of the Baptist church are requested to meet at the church Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Mexicans have decided that the newspaper liar must go. If they would only tie tin cans to the Germ of Rest and Yellow Jack now the country might amount to something.—Atlanta Journal.

The Independent Farmer.

On September 2 a farmer living a few miles from Augusta, Ga., brought to that city two bales of cotton, for which he received $151.62. Out of this he paid his factor $65 which he owed, and had still remaining on his farm seven bales of cotton. These will bring him pure profit, and in addition he has made enough corn and forage to carry him until the next cotton crop is made. The Augusta Chronicle says that this farmer's case is not exceptional, and there should be hundreds of just such instances within the immediate neighborhood of Augusta. It would be well if there should be several thousands of such cases throughout the South. They would mean an extinguishment of debt to the factors, buying on a cash basis, and therefore at a greater advantage, and with enough supplies made in addition to cotton, the whole of next year's crop as a surplus crop, and consequently the farmer independent of the prices of cotton.—Southern Farm Magazine.

The Troubles at Biltmore.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 3.—George Vanderbilt left today for New York and from there he will sail for Paris. Vanderbilt did not answer the letter of D. C. Champlain, who was dismissed from the estate. Champlain, who was cashier, asked reinstatement. It is said Harding, the Biltmore manager, will answer Champlain's letter. It was learned today that Champlain had placed in Mr. Harding's hands a deed of trust for property at Black Mountain valued at $3,000. It was said by a representative of Mr. Vanderbilt that an examination of the books had disclosed the fact that Champlain was due the estate $3,000, and the deed was given to insure Mr. Vanderbilt against "possible loss occasioned," the gentleman softly concluded, "by the infraction of the rules of the office." It has transpired that a new system of book-keeping and new methods of paying the men off have been adopted to obviate the possibility of the rules of the office being "violated" in the future.

The Report Gloomy.

Washington, Oct. 3.—The monthly report of the Chief of the Bureaus of Statistics of the Department of Agriculture will show the average condition of cotton on September 25 to have been 65.1, as compared with 81.2 one month ago, 58.3 on September 25, 1902, 61.4 at the corresponding date in 1901, and a ten year average of 67.4. These figures indicate the condition on September 25, and no attempt is made to anticipate the results of the agricultural weather conditions.

Reports of damages during September from rust, shedding, drought caterpillars and worms are general throughout the cotton states, the damage in Texas being caused more particularly by boll weevil and boll worms. The crop is reported as from two to four weeks late, and many correspondents report that there will be a top crop.

A smokehouse in the yard of Mr. A. L. Blow caught on fire Saturday, but was put out without damage.

A LOVE LETTER.

Would not interest you if you were looking for a guaranteed Salve for Sores, Burns or Piles. Otto Dodd, of Ponder, Mo. writes: "I suffered with an ugly sore for a year, but a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me. It's the best Salve on earth. 25c at Wooten's drug store."

THE GIRL WHO WORKS.

Take your hat off to the girl who works. It is not an ideal condition of society which makes it necessary for a woman to earn an independent living, to say nothing of supporting a family, but conditions, like the poor, we have with us always. The girl who works bears the heat and burden of the day with poor reward, and she is often looked down upon by her more fortunate sisters, but she has a heart and soul as far above the idle, luxurious woman as the sky is above the earth. She looks with pitying, sympathizing glance upon the bowed heads and bent shoulders of her father and mother, or she watches over and toils for her orphaned brothers and sisters, that they may not stumble and fall upon rough places. She sings when her heart is heavy, and she laughs in the joys of her loved ones and mingles her tears in their sorrows. She rests only that she may have strength to try and try again. The roses in her life are few, but those few are sweeter than any blossom the idle woman can pluck.

We are surprised to see a glaring whiskey advertisement in the Wilson Times. If we remember rightly, when Wilson voted for a dispensary the Times said, "Now let's all turn in and make it a success," or words to that effect. We are quoting from memory, and will not swear to accuracy, but if we are correct, the Times has gone back on its word by helping out a rival to the dispensary. The whiskey ad carried by the Times is well-known to newspaper readers. We do not understand in what school of consistency our contemporary was educated, when it preaches temperance and prohibition and advertises the whiskey business in the same breath.

If a banking firm has more than enough assets to cover its liabilities, how can it become embarrassed? If the assets are of real value, money can be easily borrowed upon them. If they consist of securities of fluctuating value, they are not equal to liabilities. When a firm or corporation becomes embarrassed it is at once claimed that they have enough to meet all liabilities, but the claim seldom turns out to be true.

"The slurring statement made for publication by Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish that 'Mrs. Roosevelt is said to dress on $300 a year, and she looks it,' proves that Mrs. Fish is rather a different sort of gentlewoman from the leaders of 'the best society' of the olden time."—Asheville Citizen.

Make allowances for her, brother. Remember, she is from New York, and the 400 has left its mark on her.

Mr. Dewey need not put himself to the trouble to come home. If he will communicate with the sheriff of Craven county, that official will no doubt do the honors.

It is not fair to judge the tobacco market by one good sale. Poor sales are not reported or noticed. If they were they would swamp the good sales out of sight.

We do not think the Southern people are hankering for a visit from Theodore, but those Mississippi bears haven't been heard from yet.

It is as plain as the noon-day sun that Tillman killed Gonzales and Haywood killed Skinner. It is written, "Thou shalt not kill."

It begins to look dark for both Tillman and Haywood, but as the lawyers made the laws they can probably get around them.

Mr. Vanderbilt will probably never miss the money, but his clerks who stole $9,000 ought not to miss the penitentiary.

We doubt if J. Pierpont Morgan has any pity coming to him. He is still able to keep the wolf away from the door.

Tammany's nominee for mayor of New York was born in Saxony. Well, this is an improvement upon Dublin.

Of course Theodore does not belong to a labor union, or he would see the Miller matter in a different light.

The Lincolnton postmastership must be worth considerable, in view of the time and money spent in getting it.

Now that the law forbidding the killing of "possums" has expired they will not taste nearly so good.

Friendship.

Would you have friends—five hundred, less or more—
Throw open wide your hospitable door;

Make it a creed—in which you will believe,
'Tis better far to give than to receive.

Why should you take around a microscope
To spy upon the faults of friendly folk?

Far better for your peace to shut your eyes.
A trifling grievance causes many sighs.

And never on your friends in judgment sit,
Or try to prove that they are counterfeited.

Why should you keep a crucible to test
Which of your friends are truest, or the best?

If you are friendly you are sure to find
Some real friends to your faults are blind.

Thank God for faith—far better be deceived
Than not in human hearts to have believed.

—Margaret Dorris.

There is no getting around the fact that the state will continue to be in debt as long as it spends more money than it takes in.—Durham Herald.

If Mr. Dewey desires to return to New Bern he need have no doubts as to the welcome that will be accorded him.—Durham Herald.

It is a pity that Mr. Dewey's conscience did not begin to worry him until he was caught up with.—Durham Herald.

Texas is getting more and more arid every year. Lots of places there went prohibition this fall. It'll get so after a while they can't even raise hades there.—Atlanta Journal.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis Bros., Farmville.

Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children." For sale by Wooten's drug store, Greenville, R. L. Davis, Bros., Farmville.

YOU MAY BE CURED

544 Garfield Avenue, CHICAGO, ILL., October 9, 1902.

After doctoring for eleven months and taking forty-three bottles of medicine and finding no relief for leucorrhoea resulting from irritation of a fallen womb I took Wine of Cardui and fourteen bottles cured me. This seems strange but it is the simple truth. Wine of Cardui helped me from the time I began taking it and having heard it praised so highly by friends who had tried it I felt satisfied that it would help me, and it did. It cured me. Took every bit of ache, pain and headache, cramps and dragging down sensations away till I felt young, strong and happy once more. It is a wonderful medicine and a true friend to women. When I look back on the months of torture I had it seems like a hideous nightmare. Wine of Cardui will cure any woman I believe. I have more faith in it than all other medicines combined.

Frances Kingsley
Vice-Pres., Chicago Historical Club.

How can you refuse relief when you know you are growing worse day after day? Shooting pains, irregularly, inflammation and bearing down pains make thousands of women miserable. Why drag through life never enjoying anything? Wine of Cardui has made over 1,500,000 weak and suffering women well and strong. We ask you to go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin to take it at once. Do that and the health Mrs. Kingsley writes about will soon be yours. If you think special directions are needed in your case, address, giving symptoms, Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

LETTER TO R. S. EVANS.

Greenville N. C.

Dear Sir: If you paint two houses alike with two different paints, and one takes twice as much paint as the other, you know which paint to buy after that—so far as go-far goes—don't you?

One of these paints is Devoe; the other is any average paint. The worst are worse than that; the better are not much better; no other paint than Devoe is anywhere near Devoe in go-far. Devoe is go further; the rest are go-short, go-middling and go-three-quarters.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exist plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an anti-septic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by Wooten's drug store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farnville.

HIS FIRST....

MATRIMONIAL CASE

(Original.)

"They're still enough, and crabbed lookin' enough to have been married ten years."

It was the driver of a one horse vehicle who spoke. He was driving a young couple up a long, winding road to a summer hotel. They had spent three weeks on a wedding trip and were on the morrow to be again at the home they had so recently left, a happy bride and groom. When they reached the hotel they alighted in view of guests lounging on the piazza.

"Brother and sister," remarked one. "No. They're young, but they've been long married," said another.

"I put them down as bride and groom who are in the midst of their first quarrel," said an experienced matron.

Unfortunately there was an hour before dinner, and the couple must talk. There was nothing else to do.

"This all comes," said the man, "of your not respecting confidences. Nothing would tempt me to read any letter belonging to you. The note was not addressed to you, but to Miss Torbert."

"Herbert and Torbert look enough alike to be mistaken one for the other. Besides, I care nothing how I came into possession of this information. It is what I have discovered. Three weeks after marriage I learn that my husband loves another woman and only married me because he couldn't help himself."

"Emily, I'll admit it looks black, but give me time. I may be able to clear the thing away."

"Clear it away? Isn't it down in black and white in your own handwriting?"

"It is all a matter of faith. If I had discovered such a letter written by you and you told me there was an explanation I would believe you."

"Then why is the explanation not forthcoming?"

"It would be useless till I have the wherewithal to prove it."

"I see; the story might not fit the proof."

"Emily, you are charging me with what is dishonorable."

"Nothing said to a woman is considered dishonorable by some men."

"This is unbearable. I will go downstairs till dinner. I will meet you on the piazza."

He was passing through the office when he was handed some letters. One was from his bosom friend, his chum of years, his confidant. He had no sooner read it than he started to go back to his wife, but reconsidered the matter.

"How I ever came," he muttered, "to leave that letter undestroyed is a mystery. I suppose my not doing so came about in the hurry of preparation."

When his wife came down he led her to a table set for two by a window overlooking a lawn and garden, in the center of which flashed a fountain.

"Sweetheart," he said while they spooned their soup, "the proof of my innocence has unexpectedly come to me."

She looked up at him eagerly.

"But," he continued, "the case is a complicated one, and it behooves me to be very careful about bringing the evidence. Of course as a lawyer I know the dangers of calling a witness without first establishing his character for truth and veracity."

"Don't keep me waiting."

"First you must grant that the letter having been found by you only this morning, there would be no time for me to write home and have a letter concocted to cover the case."

"Certainly not. Go on."

"Second, I must give you the name of my principal and only witness and ask you if you would believe him."

"Of course I would. Who is he?"

"Lawrence Ward."

"He'd do anything for you."

"You are right. He'd lie for me if necessary, but in this case there's been no time, as you have admitted, for collusion."

"For heaven's sake stop all this talk and tell me what you're coming to."

"One moment. It is my custom when I have a case I am sure to win to have a bottle of champagne on ice for a celebration. Walter, bring me a wine card."

It was not till the young husband saw the wine deposited beside him that he threw a letter across the table to his wife. She seized it and devoured it greedily, while the husband ordered the wine to be opened. The letter read:

In obedience to your letter stating that you had decided not to send the message you had written Marian J., but wished me to tell her its contents, I went to her and had an hour's conversation with her. Women are much smarter than men about some things, and the lady saw through your device from the first. The hint I threw out that you preferred her to the girl you were to marry she scouted, inasmuch as she was rich and your wife poor. However, your fear of a "woman scorned" is groundless, for you have been for some time supplanted without knowing it. She laughingly asked me to announce her engagement and beg of you to waste no more time trying to smooth over what needs no smoothing.

However, I consider your attempt to mollify her prudent if not wise, for she is a dangerous woman and would have made it hot for you if she had wanted you for herself.

In conclusion, she told me to say to you that she knew a year ago that your heart was given to the woman you have married.

When the wife looked up at her husband there was relief in her eyes. Their hands met under the table and the man, raising his glass, proposed as a toast, "My first matrimonial case."

To All Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that in July, 1902, I had a fistula in anus which had given me trouble for ten years past and I had consulted several physicians and had followed their prescriptions to the letter and continued to grow worse until I could not walk, and for eight months I could only walk on crutches, and in this condition I was advised to call on Dr. Moore, colored, which I did, and under his treatment I at once began to grow better and in one week the trouble was removed and I was perfectly well, feeling like a 16-year old boy, and the trouble has never returned.
