Firemen's Practice.

The Greenville Volunteer Fire Company took the steamer out to the cistern Tuesday night for a practice. The engine worked splendidly and threw a fine stream. At the roll call after returning to the engine house only two members were noted absent. That was a good record for a practice and shows the interest taken by the members. Since the election of S. T. Hooker as chief of the fire department Ola Forbes has been elected foreman of the company.

Masked Robbers at Spring Hope

Spring Hope, N. C., Oct. 14.—Four masked men attempted to rob the bank here about 3 o'clock this morning. Several blasts were made in the effort to blow open the safe. This aroused a number of citizens of the town who started to the bank but were held at bay at the point of pistols. The first man to run up on them was caught and bound. Seeing from the arrival of others that their plot was discovered, the robbers fled. An examination showed that the outer door of the safe was wrecked by the blasts but the robbers did not succeed in blowing open the inner door, which doubtless they would have done but for the citizens being aroused by the explosions.

Wreck on Norfolk & Southern.

Elizabeth City, N. C., Oct. 13.—The engine of the south bound express train on the N. & S. R. R. was wrecked as it pulled into the station here today at noon. The engine was almost instantly killed, his head being mashed as the engine turned over. The wreck was caused by an open switch which was opened automatically by a bridge being opened to let a boat pass. The engineer failed to see this until too late to stop the train from rushing into the switch which is intended to turn the engine preventing the train from running into the near by creek. The fireman jumped from the engine in time to save himself at the request of the engineer, who remained at the throttle until he was killed.

CRUSED UNDER FREIGHT TRAIN.

Colored Boy Pays Death Penalty For His Folly.

There happened here today what might have been expected almost any day during the past several years—a boy getting run over by a train. There seems to be a mania among them for jumping on and off trains around the depot, and oft repeated warnings, and even the passage of laws prohibiting it, had but little effect in keeping them from the dangerous practice. Now the mangled dead form of a boy adds yet another warning, but whether it will be heeded by others remains to be seen.

About noon today while the freight train from Kinston was here, a colored boy named Maury Moore, about 10 years old, was jumping on the cars and jumping off while they were in motion. He fell between two cars and several wheels ran over him, fearfully mangling his body from the waist down to the feet. He lived about half an hour in this horrible condition, when death ended his suffering.

Another boy who was also near the train with the one killed, told him he had better stop jumping on it or he might get hurt.

The coroner, Dr. Laughinghouse, held an inquest over the body, the verdict being that the boy came to his death by being run over by a moving train after being warned to keep off of it.

Reading accounts of the great reunion in Greensboro makes us feel like exclaiming, How glad we are to be a North Carolinian!

For Sunday Meditation.

The following was seen in the Wilmington Messenger and quoted with the comment below by the Raleigh Post:

"The managers of the Rescue Home Charlotte have practically abandoned hope of securing a location which will not call forth the protest of property holders in the neighborhood. It is the same way in every city, and yet we glory over our desire to help those who would lead a better and a purer life."—Wilmington Messenger.

Our glorious desire begins and ends in helping them out of our own and into some other community. It is not the example set by the Master, it is true, but we may be justified in our departure therefrom because we can go into the stone throwing business while those wicked folk who preferred the complaint spoken of in the Bible could only turn away sorrowful, being hypocrites.—Raleigh Post.

It is needless to protest that these accusations against Charlotte are not deserved. A large and representative committee was appointed to locate and construct the Charlotte Florence Crittendon Home, such a home as exists in Knoxville, Columbia, Washington and many other places in this country, for the rescue from their life of shame of those who turn from it. Months have passed and the home is not yet located. As the Messenger says it cannot be located if the consent of all property holders is to be obtained beforehand. And we may add that every pastor on that excellent committee cannot hope to satisfy every member of his church as to the location. It is now time to act. We believe that Charlotte is not represented by those who do not wish their own interests injured whether the injury be real or imaginary.

But something ought to be done. Certainly enough ground can be found in Charlotte for the erection of the home. The law allows it to be erected. And the very character of our city as a Christian city is at stake.

Would it not be well for the church-going population to reflect tomorrow, what the churches are really for, and how much good they are doing if they are not training men to show the spirit of Christ to the erring and the sinful? We suggest that brief theme for Sunday meditation.—Charlotte News.

The Tramp and The Socks.

The following is not a fairy tale, but is a story taken right out of life: "In Rome, N. Y., on Christmas eve, 1878, Mrs. Jennie Yarmouth gave George W. Todd, a homeless, friendless tramp, a pair of heavy knit socks. He was so grateful that he left with her his personal note for $5,000 in payment. To please him, Mrs. Yarmouth kept the note. Last spring Todd died, leaving $52,000 in cash and not a relative. The court appointed an administrator. Mrs. Yarmouth hunted up the old note and entered suit, recovering $5,000 and interest on the face of the note."

Both winter and tramps are coming on apace and Charlotte housekeepers who want to try their luck with a pair of socks, will doubtless have abundant opportunity. The kind that Mrs. Yarmouth bestowed upon the tramp was heavy knit and presumably all wool, but probably any old kind will do. The time for bestowing the socks, however ought to be on Christmas eve, for that is probably where the luck comes in. The probabilities are that if Mrs. Yarmouth had given the socks on any other day, she would not have drawn the prize. Save your socks and watch out for the Christmas eve tramp. No telling but that you might strike a Santa Claus in disguise. Any day is a good time to cast bread on the water, but Christmas eve is the time to throw socks at tramps.—Charlotte Observer.

The Housekeeper's Trouble.

There is no telling the amount of inconvenience the housekeepers of this town are being put to by reason of the sudden departure of their cooks. They either go to the cotton fields or north. They never give any notice of their intention of leaving, and the first thing the woman of the house knows of her departure is on arising some morning expecting to find breakfast nearly done, she is surprised at no cook being in the kitchen and the stove as cold as a lump of ice. Such an experience is enough to make a woman forget the golden rule. One lady remarked that such conduct recalled to her mind very vividly the days of slavery, for that was the manner they always run away.

If there is one thing the average darkey has tried hard to obliterate it is every vestige or suggestion of slavery days, but the slavery times of leave-taking still clings to the cooks of the race. They can imitate the whites in many ways, but their secretive method of quitting their employers is one of the instincts of the race that still clings to the negro, and no amount of education has been able to efface it.—Washington Gazette-Messenger.

A Georgia doctor asked permission of Governor Terrell the other day to work in the penitentiary in place of his aged father, who is now serving a life sentence for murder. The governor declined this unusual offer, stating that there was no law authorizing convicts to put substitutes in their place.—Wilmington Star.

A jury can keep a man out of the penitentiary but it cannot clear him in the eyes of the people.—Durham Herald.

We are not saying that the negro does not get justice in our courts, but there is a difference in the way he gets it and the way some other people get it.—Durham Herald.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis Bros., Farmville.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion Mrs. Pilmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was

Women's Headaches
 542 1-2 Congress Street.
 PORTLAND, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1902.

I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pain would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nineteen days treatment I menstruated without suffering agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain.

Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Dr. Mitchell's
 Treasurer, Portland Economic League.

Headaches are the danger signals of coming disease. Both men and women suffer headaches, but periodical headache falls only to the lot of women and is the unerring sign of irregular menstruation and bearing down pains. Completely prostrated by nine months of suppressed menses, blinded by headaches and racked with pain Mrs. Snow was made a strong and healthy woman again. Remember with Wine of Cardui no case is hopeless because this great remedy cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases and never fails to benefit a case of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. If you are discouraged and doctors have failed, try Wine of Cardui, and try it now. Remember that headaches mean female weakness. Secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Cause of Lockjaw.
 Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exist plentifully in street dirt. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by Wooten's drug store, Greenville, E. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

Mrs. Irene Ormond Dead.

Ormondville, N. C. Oct. 13, 1903

Sunday was a sad day for this community. Late Saturday afternoon came a telegram announcing the sad death of Mrs. Irene Ormond, who we reported, through these columns a few weeks ago, had gone to Asheville for her health. Mrs. Ormond died of consumption. It was a very rapid case, it having developed only a few months ago. It was hoped after her arrival in the mountains she would improve, but she gradually grew worse until Friday evening at nine o'clock, she was called to her home in heaven. Her remains reached Kinston Sunday morning at nine o'clock. She was brought home and carried to the church, where hosts of friends and relatives had gathered to pay their last tribute to one whom they all loved. Mrs. Ormond was a beautiful character—a character which was loved and admired by all who knew her. She was a fine church worker, always, and at all times it was her pleasure to do something for others. She leaves a host of relatives to mourn her loss. The entire community extends its sympathy.

To All Whom It May Concern:
This is to certify that in July, 1902, I had a fistula in anus which had given me trouble for ten years past and I had consulted several physicians and had followed their prescriptions to the letter and continued to grow worse until I could not walk, and for eight months I could only walk on crutches, and in this condition I was advised to call on Dr. Moore, colored, which I did, and under his treatment I at once began to grow better and in one week the trouble was removed and I was perfectly well, feeling like a 16-year old boy, and the trouble has never returned.
