

Your Underwear

MAKE a shift now, sir! It's time to change. We have medium weights, just suitable for this cool Fall weather. Some men prefer it to the heavier kinds, even for Winter wear. You can't afford to take chances on your health—look to your underwear. Medium weight cotton and merino; light weight wools, very choice.

Fairbanks Swings In.

Indianapolis, Oct. 16.—Senator Chas. W. Fairbanks, at the urgent solicitation of Senator Hanna on the one side and President Roosevelt on the other, has decided to be a candidate for the vice presidential nomination before the republican national convention next summer. This is the definite word of his closest associates politically in Indiana. It is the outcome of Representative Hemenway's visit to the president recently, which caused a great deal of comment at the time.

Before leaving for Iowa, to take part in the campaign, Mr. Fairbanks said he would make no announcement until he had seen the president. He would not deny, however that he would be a candidate.

LETTER TO R. R. COTTON.

Greenville N. C.

Dear Sir: "Three-quarter paint" is a good phrase for the best outside of Devoe.

Devoe is the standard; mark it 100. The next best—there are several not far apart—are three-quarter paints; you may mark them 75 to Devoe's 100.

The bulk of the paints in market are 40 or 50 or 60; a few are better than 60; a few are worse than 40.

How do they act? They cover from one to three quarters as much as Devoe; and they last from one to three-quarters as long as Devoe.

What are they worth? The same rule don't hold; it costs more to put on some paints than they are worth; they are not worth anything; the "put on" costs two or three times as much as the paint.

Yours truly,
 F. W. DEVOE & Co.
 P. S.—H. L. Carr sells our paint.

Battle With Bandits.

Helena, Oct. 17.—In a battle between the Indian police and a gang of horse thieves on Park reservation near Poplar, Mont., two members of the band were killed and two injured. The dead bandits were known as Duffy and Shufelt, but the names of the wounded men were not obtained. The gang has been terrorizing the community for some time and the whole Indian police force was dispatched after them. A pitched battle ensued with the above result.

Two Extremes.

A bad and ugly Saturday was followed by as pretty a Sunday as one could wish to see. It does not often occur that two days of such extremes in weather immediately follow each other. And today was one that made people feel good, too.

Old Craze Revived.

The Charlotte (N. C.) Daily Observer is printing able editorial articles urging the people of its state to engage in silk culture. The department of agriculture is sending out a pamphlet called "Silk," showing that the culture is easy, pleasant and profitable and we find an entrancing array of facts and figures about mulberry trees, silk worms and silk. This will remind old people of the Morus Multicaulis craze which swept over Virginia and other parts of the state sixty odd years ago. Everybody was wild over mulberry trees and silk worms. Little cuttings of the Morus Multicaulis, which we understand to be the white mulberry, sold at extravagant prices and lots planted with the tree made the owners rich—on paper. The most extravagant hopes were cherished and predictions made and published. This was to become the great silk producing region of the world and the land was to be thick with factories and all the population would have to do would be to watch their silk worms eat mulberry leaves, hatch and spin silk and produce strings of dollars. The boom collapsed of a sudden, like so many other booms, carrying with it multitudes of brilliant dreams, and people turned away from the Morus Multicaulis to think and talk of other things. Some trees are yet standing here and there, the only living reminder. Occasionally the white mulberry may be found in well-grown forests occupying the land which was once under high cultivation and close care, the long-dead owners of which planted glorious hopes with their mulberry slips.—Richmond News-Leader.

A Wedding au Naturel.

There was a wedding yesterday in Graceless church.

Lord Baldknob, of Kilshire, England, married Miss Sallie Paunhandle, of East Pittsburg.

The bridal party, including the attorneys for both sides, formed in the alcove promptly at 11:30.

At 11:45 the real estate in the bride's name was transferred to his lordship.

At 11:50 a million dollars in legal tender changed hands.

At high noon all the railroad first mortgage bonds known to be in the bride's possession were handed over.

A vote of thanks was then passed to his lordship for leaving the bride's father enough to live on comfortably until the next rise in Wall street, which is predicted for next spring.

At 12:15 two bishops, four clergymen, two real estate lawyers and a barrister pronounced the benediction.

The groom will pass the next three weeks with his bride at his estates in England, after the roof has been repaired.

After this, it is understood, they will separate and enter society.—New York Evening Post.

One of Pitt's Honored Sons.

The Morning Post has the following sketch of Hon. Lawrence D. Tyson, formerly of Pitt county, but now speaker of the Tennessee house of representatives:

Hon. Lawrence D. Tyson, who came from Greensboro on a visit to his mother, Mrs. M. L. Tyson, and sister, Mrs. Paul H. Lee, left for his home in Knoxville, Tenn.

Col. Tyson was one of the orators at the reunion in Greensboro last week, and responded to the address of welcome on behalf of Tennessee. His speech was a gem, and shows the material North Carolina has contributed to her fair daughter.

Col. Tyson was born in Pitt county and comes of a fine old North Carolina family, tracing its descent from Tyson, meaning "a fire brand," who was rewarded for his services in the field by a grant of land from William the Conqueror. The family settled in this country in the 16th century. Col. Tyson is a graduate of West Point, and since his graduation has held a number of responsible positions in the United States army, and readily received promotions on account of his ability and tact.

He is now recognized as one of the ablest and foremost young men of his adopted state. He has filled positions of honor, among them the chair of military sciences and tactics at the University of Tennessee. The discipline and method that he introduced won the praise and special commendation in the university that he had the succeeding officers to adopt them. After studying law at the university he resigned from the army and was admitted to the bar of Knoxville in 1894 and became a member of the distinguished firm of Lucky & Sanford. His advice and counsel was soon sought in legal affairs and he was made director of many corporations, and during his connection with the bar he was elected president of the street railway of Nashville, a marked recognition of his ability.

When war declared with Spain the president naturally turned to the trained soldier, and the name of Lawrence D. Tyson was one of the first sent to the senate for confirmation.

He was commissioned colonel of sixth volunteer regiment of Immunes, and was sent to Porto Rico, where his services were so valuable to his country that he was made governor of one of the territories of the Island. The natives received such kind recognition from him, that to show their appreciation, they named a park in Arico to in his honor, calling it "Piaza Tyson."

Since his return to the states he has given his attention to civil affairs and is interested in and president of a number of manufacturing and mining interests and is among the leading financiers of his state.

At the session of the last legislature Col. Tyson was elected speaker of the house of representatives of Tennessee over five prominent candidates, and was the youngest man ever elected to fill the chair of that body, and so ably did he fill this honorable position that he is now strongly spoken of as the choice for the next governor of Tennessee.

Good Time to Market.

In view of the fact that Greenville is to entertain a large religious convention next week, our country friends will find this week a good time to bring turkeys, chickens and hams to market.

It is better to keep the Sabbath bright than to keep it rusty.

Alaskan Boundary Commission.

London, Oct. 17.—The Alaskan boundary commission has verbally agreed to grant all the American contentions except that for the Portland canal, which goes to Canada. The formal agreement is being drawn up and will be rendered Monday.

The successful termination of the Alaskan boundary arbitration this afternoon came as a complete surprise to all interested in the case, except, perhaps, the commissioners themselves. When the tribunal adjourned at 3:30 p. m., it was understood that no decision had been reached. Indeed so general was the impression that no decision would be reached till next week that several of the counsel left London soon after the adjournment. It is known that a vote has been taken, and that the decision to grant all the American contentions except that for the Portland canal, which goes to Canada, had been arrived at. But, as cabled yesterday, while the Americans throughout have been very confident no vote had been taken previously, and no one could before today say that the United States had won their case.

Killed His Three Children.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 17.—One of the most terrible crimes ever committed in North Carolina occurred this morning when Dr. J. V. Jay, a well known physician of Buncombe county, living at Barnardsville, twenty miles north of Asheville, killed with a claw hammer, his three children, aged two, four and six years.

The news of the tragedy was received here by telephone this morning.

It is said that Jay had been drinking heavily for nearly two weeks and last night ran his wife away from home.

Mrs. Jay returned this morning and was in the act of preparing breakfast when her husband attacked her again and drove her out of the house. She started for a neighbor's to get help and left her children crying on the porch.

While the mother was gone Jay killed all three of the children with a claw-hammer.

Jay was a drunkard and full of liquor when he committed the horrible crime.

Will Connect Again.

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 17.—The traveling public will learn with pleasure that the connections between the Southern Railway and the Coast Line in this city and at Selma are soon to be restored. As it is now passengers coming into this city over the Atlantic Coast Line from the north in the morning and bound for Raleigh or points west have to lie over here from 7:15 o'clock a. m. until 1:35 in the afternoon.

A recent change in the schedule of the Southern Railway makes the lay over necessary. The traveling public has appealed to Corporation Commissioner Rogers, who made a trip to Wilmington to confer with the Atlantic Coast Line officials, and who says that it is highly probable that the connection will soon be restored here and at Selma, where the Southern train leaves for Raleigh and Greensboro in the afternoon just a short while before the arrival of the Atlantic Coast Line passenger train from the north.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, OCTOBER 19, 1903.

A WINNING COMBINATION.

This is the best time of year to advertise, if there is any best time, and the merchant who neglects it now loses a golden opportunity. From now until after the holidays more money will be spent for household and personal necessities and holiday luxuries than in twice the length of time in any other portion of the year. The man who goes after business with a bright, truthful, convincing ad is sure to do the most business, and to win customers who will stick by him through life.

You've got to show people that you are anxious for their trade and appreciate it. It is a century-old business method to sit down and wait, hoping that you will get a part of the customers who come to town or come down town. You've got to bring them to town and to your store—you've got to show them wherein it is to their advantage to deal with you. You can't go to see everybody in person—you can't write letters to them all. There is only one way—one sure way to get value for money expended, and that is to advertise regularly, persistently, sensibly in some good, influential newspaper covering the field which it is possible for you to draw from. Don't go about it in a slipshod, careless, hurried way. That is one of the quickest ways of getting rid of good money. Put as much business thought in your preparations for advertising as you do in buying goods, and you will reap a profit in proportion.

In the first place, can you write an advertisement that will draw people to your store? If your education along this line has been neglected, you will save time, patience and money by calling in some one who has made ad-writing a study, who can describe any article in your store in an attractive manner. Give the ad man the points, and he will do the rest. That's what he is alive for. But don't stop there. Watch opportunities and conditions, especially weather conditions. Get up bargains in seasonable things, and make them drawing cards.

How many merchants in this town were wise enough to anticipate the bad weather of the past week by making special displays and offerings of rubber shoes, boots, coats, umbrellas, and other things that the weather and season demands? Not many—in fact we do not recall one merchant in Greenville who looked ahead to the above extent.

Such opportunities are sprinkled plentifully all through the year. A live, wide-awake merchant, an experienced and capable ad-writer and a good newspaper constitute a winning combination—a combination that nothing less than a flood or famine can beat. Are you in such a combination?

We don't like to give a sorry thing too much free advertising, but the Weldon fair next week must promise to be something great for the only passenger and mail train on a railroad to be held up two hours daily for it, while thousands of people are inconvenienced accordingly.

Norfolk is just getting over its annual reform spasm, and it appears that "the beautiful, the good and the true" has received a few more dents. There used to be a combination in Norfolk politics called the big three, composed of George Washington Taylor, Napoleon Bonaparte Joynes and Andrew Jackson Dalton. What that crowd didn't take was worth giving to charity, and the present generation is following closely in the footsteps of the big three.

The negro department of the Asheville Citizen has appeared. We do not believe there are enough negroes in Asheville who can read to make it pay, so there must be some other motive behind it. We are still in favor of the white newspaper.

Wonder if it occurred to Judge Peebles and the Wake county jury that they might have ordered poor Skinner dug up and hung for accosting Mr. Haywood and getting in the way of his bullets.

Dewey is not as great a criminal as the two murderers recently acquitted in the Carolinas, but if he should ever come to trial what would be done to him would be a plenty.

A Georgia paper says there is no earthly use in the farmers selling their cotton now. No? Well, let us have your recipe for standing off the merchant whose pork and flour you ate this year.

We don't care whether New York skins Dowie or Dowie throws the long harpoon into New York. There is bound to be some flim-flamming done.

There would be a hot time among Dowie's "host of restoration" should they go up against that Bowery whiskey at 3 cents per glass.

Some of the gentlemen who have been "mentioned" for the governorship are about as near the nomination as a duck is to a Turkish bath.

Maybe if those Presbyterian preachers were not paid bob-tailed salaries they would not have to wear bob-tailed coats.

The comment that the Raleigh papers did not make on the Haywood verdict was enough.

The Skeptic.
Wondering I stood beside a bough of bloom
Which bent its hallowed head above a stream,
And, like a monk who prays against the doom
Of death, it counted off its summer dream
In one long rosary of fragrance, till
The last breath melted on the silver rill;
And cold with disbelief, I faltered there
For I could read no answer to my prayer.
But now, in glad October's spreading blush,
I pause again along the orchard place—
Lo, brighter than the brown blur of the thrush
And all its flutter in the ivy-lace,
The great, red pippins, born of summer's dream,
Drop purple shadow-heads into the stream—
God's answer to the blossom-prayer—and now
I do believe, nor ask the why or how.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis Bros., Farmville.

Motherhood

MOTHERHOOD is the reward nature bestows upon healthy womanhood. Women whose vitality has been sapped by disease cannot safely give birth to children. In pregnancy and in childbirth weakness of the mother is revealed in the pain and agony she suffers.

This great medicine drives out every vestige of inflammation and weakness, and gives tone and strength to the delicate organs which mature the child. The pains of pregnancy are banished by Wine of Cardui, and miscarriages, which blast so many fond mother's hopes, are prevented. Flooding, which so often occurs after childbirth, is corrected when Wine of Cardui is used during pregnancy.

Wine of Cardui babies are healthy babies, because, during the months of pregnancy, the mother is able to give them necessary vitality and strength.

With these facts presented to American women no expectant mother should be satisfied without the re-inforcement that Wine of Cardui will give her. Every mother should be able to treat herself in her home with this valuable medicine.

Wine of Cardui can be secured from any druggist at $1.00 a bottle.

Polycarp, N. C., Jan. 11, 1902.

I am the mother of seven children and while in pregnancy with the first six suffered untold misery until they were born. One month before the seventh was born I began to take a bottle of Wine of Cardui, which gave me relief after taking three doses. I used the remainder of the bottle until the birth of the child, and was stouter in three days after the birth than I was in a month after the birth of either of the first six. I am 29 years old.

Expressmen Strike.
Chicago, Oct. 16.—A strike of nearly 4,000 employees of the Pacific Express Company last night and this morning has seriously crippled the service offered by the company on the railways west and south of Chicago controlled by the great system. The employees walked out in obedience to a strike order issued after repeated efforts to obtain a ten per cent. increase in wages demanded by the men several months ago and refused by officials of the company.

The effect of the walk out is generally felt in St. Louis and at points south and west from there than in Chicago. Employees of the Chicago local office are not affected by the strike, as they were granted a ten per cent. increase in wages several weeks ago in consideration of their withdrawing from the union.

Cause of Lockjaw.
Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exist plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by Wooten's drug store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

Cause of Lockjaw.
Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exist plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by Wooten's drug store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

A flow of words is no proof of wisdom.

Capture of Robber at Rocky Mount.

News reached the city at a late hour last night that one of the men who was engaged in the attempt to rob the bank at Spring Hope had been captured in Rocky Mount and identified by Mr. Tisdale, the man whom the robbers pounced upon and bound and whose story of the young men armed with Winchesters frightened the brigands from the bank. Further particulars of the capture could not be learned.—News and Observer.

To All Whom It May Concern:
This is to certify that in July, 1902, I had a fistula in anus which had given me trouble for ten years past and I had consulted several physicians and had followed their prescriptions to the letter and continued to grow worse until I could not walk, and for eight months I could only walk on crutches, and in this condition I was advised to call on Dr. Moore, colored, which I did, and under his treatment I at once began to grow better and in one week the trouble was removed and I was perfectly well, feeling like a 16-year old boy, and the trouble has never returned.
