CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LICENSES.

Recognized by Law the Healers Are Required to Pay.

The Christian Science people, greatly pleased at the law affecting them passed by the last legislature, are apt also to be pleased with the fact that the law recognizes them as healers, and that it gives them a license to heal.

This license of $5 annually, required of physicians, has been required of them, and how this came about in Kinston is told in the Kinston Free Press as follows:

Sheriff Wooten issued license yesterday to two Christian Science healers in this city. This is probably the first to be issued to the healers of this sect in the state.

Upon the request of a prominent healer of the church the section of the machinery act of the legislature covering it was shown, whereupon application for license was made and obtained.

The section after enumerating the different profession, for which license must be obtained to carry them on in state further says, "and all other professionals who practice the art of healing for pay, shall pay a license free of $5."

This was construed to include the healers of the Christian Science church and license was accordingly taken out.

The idea prevails that the last general assembly of North Carolina relieved the healers of this sect from paying this fee, but this is not so. The board only excused them from a medical examination before a board of medical examiners.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Three Christian Scientists of Greenville have also received license.

What a Lease Means

A lease of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad means that the state will retain its proprietary rights in this property, and thereby be a gainer in its enhanced value, while a sale, which seems to be the sentiment in the western part of the state, would only mean a fixed amount of money without future benefits.

We are told by reputable lawyers that a sale cannot be effected on account of outstanding bonds, and if sold every stockholder would become liable for losses incurred. An advantageous lease, such as proposed by responsible parties, will guarantee the stockholders a fair annual dividend, give the patrons of the road a service equal to the present, with an improvement as conditions may demand, besides lower through freight rates.

It is politics which endangers the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad and prevents its being of dividend paying value to its stockholders, and of building up the section through which it passes. A lease, with politics entirely eliminated, will be a factor in the upbuilding of waste places, as the lessees give the assurance that they will lend every effort to promote immigration.—Goldsboro Headlight.

One Dog Less

During the mad dog excitement here a few weeks ago, a dog belonging to Mr. W. B. Wilson was among those bitten by the rabid dog running at large. Mr. Wilson at once had his dog shut up and kept him confined. Sunday the dog began acting strangely, and Monday showed such signs of hydrophobia that he was killed.

Evidently Mr. Schwab had the hunch that there was enough in that pot to buy gilding for several reputations.—Atlanta Journal.

EVANS-HARDY.

Pretty Morning Home Marriage.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac O. Hardy, near Greenville, was a pretty and impressive scene at 8 o'clock this morning, when their attractive daughter, Miss Sallye, became the wife of Mr. Roy Tull Evans. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. M. Eure.

The bride wore a blue going-away gown that was most becoming to her many natural attractions.

Both the bride and groom are well known here and very popular. The bride was for a long time associated with the store of Miss Erwin, where she made many friends. Mr. Evans is a popular photographer who ranks with the best in the profession.

They left on the morning train for Asheville and other towns in the western part of the state.

They have the hearty congratulations and best wishes of all for a long and happy life.

Thoughts to Consider.

Reader, did it ever occur to you that nearly everything you are compelled to buy on the Roxboro market comes from outside the state of North Carolina? It is true, and can be demonstrated by careful observation.

The same thing is also applicable to other parts of the South. The late Henry W. Grady, several years ago, in speaking of the death and burial of a man in Georgia, stated that the deceased was buried in a coffin that came from Cincinnati; his shoes came from Massachusetts; his clothes from New York; his tombstone was of Vermont marble, although he was buried in a marble region and it was necessary to blast through a bed of it in digging his grave. Everything connected with the burial came from somewhere else, except the corpse, which was the only thing that Georgia did furnish.

This would be just about the way of many a Person county citizen. He gets up in the morning and pulls on a pair of Northern made socks; puts on a pair of shoes from Lynn, Mass., or some other New England State; a suit of clothes from Baltimore or New York; at the breakfast table draws up a chair made in Chicago; eats from a table made in Cincinnati; sweetens his coffee from Rio with sugar from Louisiana; takes a slice of ham cured in St. Louis or Chicago; eats a biscuit made from flour that comes from Minnesota; he goes to his stable and takes down a set of harness that was made in St. Louis or the Lords know where and puts it on his mule that came from Kentucky; hitches it to a wagon that came from Indiana or Illinois or to a plow that came from Kentucky or Virginia.

We are glad to say that while the above is true regarding some of our country people, there are numbers who raise their own meat, bread and other supplies, and are not compelled to purchase the actual necessities of life. This class are the back bone of any country and state—they are the independent farmers, who instead of having to buy, usually have something to sell.

Is it any wonder sometimes that people cry hard times, when everything they eat, drink or wear comes from somewhere else, and the only free thing is the air that is breathed.—Roxboro Courier.

If troubled with a weak digestion try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will do you good. For sale by Wooten's drug store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

An Out of Date Contemporary.

The Richmond News Leader says that The Observer "is printing able editorial articles urging the people of its state to engage in silk culture," and says that this reminds old people of the morus multicaulis craze that swept over Virginia sixty odd years ago. That was a "craze," as The News Leader admits, and collapsed as crazes usually do. There is a vast difference between crazes of sixty years ago and the practical business enterprises of the present age. We are surprised that so intelligent a paper as News Leader should attempt a discouragement of the silk industry by digging up the failure of the people who tried it sixty years ago and opposing it to the conditions that prevail today. It is no silk culture craze that The Observer advocates. There is a great demand for raw silk just now, and experiments since sixty years ago have demonstrated that silk can be successfully produced on the farms of the South. The farmers of North Carolina, by taking up silk culture as a "side issue," might utilize many idle hours to some advantage and secure to themselves a new source of revenue.

They are not advised to drop everything else and go into a craze, but to apply their practical business sense in the direction of growing a new raw material for which there is always a ready market. The Observer has stated that the development of silk culture in the South has been slow, but so far as it has progressed, it has given promise of ultimate success. The experiences of those who have tried it under better and more enlightened methods than prevailed in the age in which The News Leader apparently lives, supports The Observer's contentions that there is no reason why Southern farmers cannot in a measure supply the silk factories with raw product in the same way that they are supplying the cotton mills with staple.—Charlotte Observer.

Robbs the Farmers of Many Millions.

Col. John S. Cunningham, the well known tobacco grower of Person county, who was in Raleigh on Friday, had with him two samples of bright tobacco he had obtained from the floors of a Danville, Va., warehouse. He said: "This tobacco brought in Danville six and six and a quarter cents a pound respectively. The same quality of tobacco brought last year 25 and 30 cents respectively. I told some friends in Danville that they could not get a pound of my tobacco at such prices.

Col. J. Bryan Grimes was shown the tobacco and pronounced it excellent in quality. Not many days ago Col. Grimes, hearing trust hirings repeating the story that the inferior quality of tobacco grown in Eastern North Carolina was the cause of the low prices, examined the grade of tobacco sold on the Greenville market. He found that tobacco that did not bring enough to pay the cost of production was as excellent in quality as tobacco that brought remunerative prices last year. Other tobacco growers say the same thing.

The average price paid for leaf tobacco in the town of Wilson, N. C., during August and September, 1902, before the consolidation of the American Tobacco Company and the Imperial Tobacco Company, was in round figures $11.00 per hundred pounds. The average price in the same market during August and September for the present year was in round figures $4.50 per hundred pounds. And the same story comes from Kinston, Rocky Mount, Winston, Durham and other North Carolina tobacco markets. According to these figures a conservative estimate of the amount of money that will be taken from the pockets of the tobacco growers of North Carolina by the boodle bloated tobacco trust this year will be from eight to ten millions of dollars. The same trust will take in like manner from those leaf dealers and warehousemen, who dared to buy leaf tobacco at prevailing prices last season, an additional three million dollars, making a total of twelve millions of dollars of hard earned money in one short year from the people of North Carolina alone.—Raleigh News and Observer.

RECORD FOR THE SEASON.

Liberty Warehouse Makes Best Sale.

The Liberty warehouse comes forward with the claim of making the best sale of any house in the state this season, and gives the actual figures to base the claim on. Mr. G. W. Venters, Jr., of Chicod township, had three cart loads on the floor of the Liberty today, and the lots and prices were as follows: 26 pounds at 40c, 22 at 20c, 96 at 61c, 30 at 20c, 18 at 25c, 24 at 61c, 20 at 36c, 64 at 61c, 10 at 4c, 86 at 51c, 86 at 12c, 20 at 7c, 30 at 20c, 16 at 20c, 32 at 20c, 23 at 20c, 37 at 15c, 64 at 17c, 60 at 6c, 32 at 6c, 24 at 6c, 134 at 10c, 70 at 6c, 40 at 30c, 34 at 29c, 92 at 39c, 88 at 30c, 78 at 30c, 56 at 40c, 46 at 40c, 78 at 35c, 40 at 45c, 62 at 74c, 104 at 8c, 44 at 4c. This was a total of 1726 pounds and the whole brought $306.52, or an average of about 17c. Have you seen any sale that beats this? It shows the work that W. T. Lipscomb & Co. do for those who set at the Liberty.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, OCTOBER 20, 1903.

THANKSGIVING EDITION.

THE REFLECTOR is now preparing its special Thanksgiving edition, and we call the attention of advertisers to an opportunity to do some very effective advertising.

Our Thanksgiving edition last year was warmly praised in Greenville, Pitt county, and throughout the state. This year we shall strive to do better, both as regards our readers and our advertisers. The 1903 Thanksgiving edition will have from 12 to 16 pages, and will have a circulation of about 3,000—certainly not less than that number. It will contain several pages of appropriately illustrated Thanksgiving matter, articles on Thanksgiving and general topics by well known and interesting local writers, and short Thanksgiving sermons by the various ministers in Greenville. This special edition will be mailed the night before Thanksgiving, and will be delivered to our subscribers in Greenville early Thanksgiving morning.

THE REFLECTOR never offers its readers or advertisers anything that is not fully worth their money, and this special edition will be no exception.

This is undoubtedly the best advertising opportunity our business men will have this year. In order to secure the most attractive positions in this special edition advertisers should reserve the space they desire at once. No ads will be received for the Thanksgiving edition after Saturday, November 21st, and by that time all the best positions will have been taken. Specimen pages of the paper as it will appear when completed may be seen at this office at any time, or upon request our ad man will call upon you and give you any assistance you may require in preparing your ad free of charge. If you haven't time or don't know how to write an ad, we will do it for you without charge.

Remember, the first advertiser who makes a contract for this Thanksgiving edition will be given his choice of positions, and so on down the line. If you want the best, put in your order at once.

Col. Walter R. Henry's statement has appeared in print. It was given to the public in Saturday's Charlotte Observer and is addressed as a personal letter to Mr. T. S. Rollins, chairman of the republican executive committee of the state. As was expected, the statement is something lengthy and interesting. It clearly sets forth Col. Henry's side of the affair and shows conclusively, that that while he was regarded by bankers as one of the best bank examiners in the service, he was removed from office to make room for a pet of a higher official, which has become a fad in Washington political circles. Col. Henry's political record of shifting from party to party in search of pie does not entitle him to much sympathy, but in this case we can but feel sorry for him in the wrong that has been done him. However, justice and honor are but little esteemed in the ranks of republicanism.

Mr. H. E. C. Bryant, writing to the Charlotte Observer, says the "midway" at the Greensboro fair "was a curse and a disgrace to a civilized community." He adds "if our fairs cannot run and pay expenses without such a disreputable midway, God help us." Just wait until the returns are in from the Raleigh fair this week, and the report will be equally bad, if the truth is told. Fairs with their midways and gambling have become hot-beds of corruption and infamy, and it is time the better people were crying them down. It is a shame that in North Carolina the people's money is appropriated for such a thing as they pull off in Raleigh under the name of an agricultural fair.

In our police court report yesterday there were fifteen cases of drunk and disorderly, the fine in each case amounting to only two or three dollars. We think it is time to put up the price of drunks in Greenville. The amounts assessed at present are mere bagatelles, and do not teach the boozer a lesson. If people will go to hell on the rum route we ought to make the road as rough for them as possible. Greenville hasn't a nice reputation in the matter of "drunks and disorderlies," and the present cheap fines have a great deal to do with it. Let's make it interesting for the man who makes it interesting for the police.

A correspondent of the Charlotte Observer suggests that the next legislature enact a law that will give human beings as good a show for their lives as is provided for birds and other game. The law prohibits killing the latter during certain months in the law, while men may be shot down in any month.

The Wilmington Messenger says: "We have not yet heard of any denial from Mr. Roosevelt of the statement of Mayor Smyth, of Charleston, that when the president was in that city he said in the presence of two other gentlemen that he would not appoint any colored man to office in that state. Crum's appointment followed soon afterward."

Oh, don't make Theodore lie about it any more.

If Jim Tillman ever sits in the governor's chair it will be time for all the scorpions, lizards, snakes and other crawling things to leave South Carolina for their own good.

"We all believe that juries are sometimes fixed, but why is it that the defense is always allowed to do the fixing?" ask the Durham Herald. Because the state hasn't any money.

A Dangerous Judge.

A negro man was tried here Friday for assaulting a woman and was fined five dollars and cost, which amounted to something over eight dollars. The defendant after the judgment had been pronounced by Squire Watson came out and informed his counsel of the sentence. There were several standing by who heard it, but one promptly remarked "why didn't you kill her and it would have cost you nothing."—Taboro Southerner.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. Motherhood

MOTHERHOOD is the reward nature bestows upon healthy womanhood. Women whose vitality has been sapped by disease cannot safely give birth to children. In pregnancy and in childbirth weakness of the mother is revealed in the pain and agony she suffers.

This great medicine drives out every vestige of inflammation and weakness, and gives tone and strength to the delicate organs which mature the child. The pains of pregnancy are banished by Wine of Cardui, and miscarriages, which blast so many fond mother's hopes, are prevented. Flooding, which so often occurs after childbirth, is corrected when Wine of Cardui is used during pregnancy.

Wine of Cardui babies are healthy babies, because, during the months of pregnancy, the mother is able to give them necessary vitality and strength.

With these facts presented to American women no expectant mother should be satisfied without the reinforcement that Wine of Cardui will give her. Every mother should be able to treat herself in her home with this valuable medicine.

Wine of Cardui can be secured from any druggist at $1.00 a bottle.

Polycaep, N. C., Jan. 11, 1902.

I am the mother of seven children and while in pregnancy with the first six suffered untold misery until they were born. One month before the seventh was born I began to take a bottle of Wine of Cardui, which gave me relief after taking three doses. I used the remainder of the bottle until the birth of the child, and was out in three days after the birth than I was in a month after the birth of either of the first six. I am 29 years old.

Dry Towns Prosper

When a town votes out the saloons some croaker is sure to say: "You will kill the town." No doubt some of the antis took that position when Statesville was voting on prohibition. It went "dry." During the past three months over $150,000 have been invested in manufacturing enterprises. Within the same period a certain North Carolina town, well situated for manufacturing, lost the location of a large industrial enterprise because the capitalists did not wish their labor demoralized by the numerous saloons.

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exist plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by Wooten's drug store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

The Greenville REFLECTOR made the point that a newspaper that advocates temperance should not advertise saloons or whiskey distilleries, which latter the Raleigh News and Observer has denominated "hell kettles." THE REFLECTOR'S point is well taken. The Roanoke Chowan Times is now nearly twelve years old and it has rigidly followed the REFLECTOR'S rule all these years, though we have been offered money many times to advertise saloons. We remember to have seen a statement in the Littleton News Reporter two or three years ago that a minister of the gospel had discontinued that paper because it carried a whiskey advertisement and at the same time the minister was taking a daily paper that contained five times more whiskey advertisements than did the News-Reporter, yet he did not discontinue the daily.

But what we started out to say is that we heartily approve the contention of the Greenville REFLECTOR and all friends of temperance should insist that that rule be adopted by all newspapers claiming to be on the side of temperance.—Roanoke Chowan Times.

To All Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that in July, 1902, I had a fistula in anus which had given me trouble for ten years past and I had consulted several physicians and had followed their prescriptions to the letter and continued to grow worse until I could not walk, and for eight months I could only walk on crutches, and in this condition I was advised to call on Dr. Moore, colored, which I did, and under his treatment I at once began to grow better and in one week the trouble was removed and I was perfectly well, feeling like a 10-year old boy, and the trouble has never returned.
