CHRISTIAN CONVENTION AT WORK.

EIGHTH ANNUAL MEETING OF DISCIPLES IS A GREAT SUCCESS.

THURSDAY THE LAST DAY.

A Great Many Delegates and Visitors are Here and They are Well Pleased by Their Reception.

TUESDAY—AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session of the C. W. B. M. opened at 2:30 o'clock with a praise service led by Mrs. G. L. Hodges.

Report of the superintendent of Y. P. W. was read by Mrs. Omer. Little Miss Viola Kilpatrick gave a splendid recitation entitled "Junior Builders."

A paper entitled "The Children's Hour" was read by Miss Mary Moye.

Following this came five minute reports from the mission fields: Miss Snakenburg spoke on the work in Porto Rico; Miss Lofton on the work among the Chinese in Portland, Oregon; Mrs. Omer on Mexico; Miss Carmen on the mountain work; Mrs. Crumpler on the work at Deogher, India, and the life of Miss Jane Wakefield Adams; Miss Lackey also spoke on the work in India.

Mrs. Omer took her tiny boy, whom she called her little missionary, on the rostrum before beginning her talk on Mexico and he recited the 23rd Psalm in a clear, strong voice.

At the conclusion of these mission talks, which were very interesting, it was suggested as an opportune time for a season of prayer in behalf of the foreign missionaries and their work. Rev. J. B. Jones was asked to lead this prayer and responded with much fervor.

A paper, "Jesus the Light of the World," was read by Mrs. P. B. Hall.

A solo, "The Heavenly Song," was sung by Miss Annie Joyner.

The session adjourned with benediction by Rev. J. J. Harper.

NIGHT SESSION.

The night session began at 8 o'clock with praise service led by Mrs. W. J. Crumpler.

A handsome banner was presented to the Little Builders of Farmville church for the best record during the past year.

Miss Annie Agnes Lackey, a returned missionary from India, where she spent four and a-half years, made a most interesting address upon the habits and customs of the people among whom she labored and the result of the work there.

This was followed by "The Sunset Song," by Miss Annie Joyner, with Miss Mary Moye accompanist. This song was written by one of the missionaries in India, and its sweetness and pathos made a deep impression on the large audience. Rev. J. B. Jones then took charge of the meeting, and referring to the pleasure all had derived from Miss Lackey's address, said he felt sure the audience would be glad of an opportunity to contribute toward helping the C. W. B. M. pay her expenses in coming here. A collection was asked and met with a liberal response.

Mr. Jones also said he had been to several C. W. B. M. meetings in other states, but this one in Greenville was the best he had ever attended.

Dr. Coggin, of Wilson, offered an earnest prayer for the mission work and laborers in foreign fields.

Miss Newman, vocal teacher at Atlantic Christian College, sang "Face to Face" with much expression.

The president, Mrs. Jones, in fitting words returned thanks to all for their attendance and interest in the meetings, and declared this meeting of the C. W. B. M. finished. She made a most excellent and graceful presiding officer and won many compliments.

Adjournment was had with the benediction by Mrs. Grainger.

WEDNESDAY.

The North Carolina Christian Missionary convention proper met this morning a little past 9 o'clock. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. R. Tingle, of Ayden.

Rev. W. E. Powell, pastor of the Greenville church, in behalf of the church and people of Greenville cordially welcomed the delegates. This was responded to with much feeling and eloquence by Rev. C. W. Howard, of Kinston.

Following this Mr. E. A. Moye, president of the convention, delivered his annual address. This address gave a brief resume of the work done in the past conventional year and gave earnest admonition to the churches for co-operation in their work and concentration of the efforts of all to greater endeavor in spreading the gospel at home, in the state and foreign fields.

The secretary, Mr. S. H. Bright, of Kinston, called the roll of churches for the reports and enrolling of delegates.

Miscellaneous business was next in order.

A letter was read from the church at Darden, Greene county, asking to be enrolled with the churches of the convention. On motion this was ordered.

The church at Frisco, Dare county, was also enrolled.

Rev. J. B. Respass stated that the church at Buxton, Dare county, had disbanded and a neighboring church, Frisco, needed assistance, and he moved that the convention order a sale of the Buxton church property, the proceeds to go to the benefit of the Frisco church. The motion carried.

Rev. D. W. Davis made a forcible talk on the decline in contributions for state missions, and attributed the cause to the convention having changed the management of state missions from the hands of an evangelizing committee to a state board. He urged a return to the former custom of having the evangelizing committee to attend to this matter which would result in the delegates again coming up with liberal pledges for state mission.

The question of making this change was turned over to the evangelizing committee to be embodied in its report. The president appointed the following as this committee: W. J. Crumpler, K. R. Tunstall, A. J. Moye, W. E. Parker, D. W. Davis, H. D. Harper, George Hackney.

Rev. J. B. Jones spoke in approval of the suggestion and urged stronger co-operation and grouping of the churches.

The following committees were appointed:

Auditing—S. B. Taylor, L. H. Cox, John King.

Examination and Ordination—J. L. Burns, J. J. Harper, C. W. Howard.

Publication and Literature—D. H. Petree, J. R. Tingle, W. R. Williams.

Resolutions—M. S. Spear, P. B. Hall, C. D. Brown.

Obituaries—J. B. Respass, M. C. Smith, D. G. Berry.

Nominations—P. S. Swain, J. J. Harper, J. S. Tunstall.

Rev. J. W. Tyndall, of Wilson, made an address on soul winning, and the morning session closed with benediction by Rev. Mr. Leighton.

The afternoon session began at 2 o'clock and is in progress when we go to press.

The program for Thursday is as follows:

THURSDAY

9:00—Devotional Exercises, S. W. Sumrell.

9:10—Miscellaneous Business.

10:15—Christian Education, J. C. Coggin.

11:45—Miscellaneous Business.

2:00—The Pastorate, P. B. Hall.

2:30—The Home Field B. L. Smith, Cincinnati.

2:50—Reports of Committees and Miscellaneous business.

3:30—Ordination.

7:30—Sermon, J. B. Jones.

"The Good Bacteria," by Eugene Wood. Everybody's Magazine.

When we were boys, we used to plan how we would scare some other fellow half out of his wits with "fox-fire" from a rotting stump. In the dark, he'd think a spook had come to get him. Just the other day I read how a miner's lamp had been invented that was entirely safe even in the midst of inflammable gases, because its cold flame came, not from combustion but from luminiferous bacteria feeding upon a culture similar to decaying wood. So, with inveterate and unconquerable optimism, we may well believe the wit of man will turn these servitors of death into lamps to light the path of progress. Whether we look outward to the farthest reaches of the universe, or inward to where the microscope falters and turns back, we find tremendous forces working. We may hitch our wagon to a glimmering microbe, but we shall get on in either case, if only we be set on getting on.

Injuries accompanied by insults are never forgiven; all men on these occasions are good haters, and lay out their revenge at compound interest.—Colton.

Namby—Did she fall in love with you at first sight?

Pamby—Yes, but she was quite a distance away, and when she got a better view of me it was all off.—Boston Post.

Moneybags—And can you make a suitable financial provision for my daughter, Mr. Spendall?

Jack S.—I hope so. She shall have half of whatever you give us.—Pearson's Weekly.

Mike—Are ye much hurted, Pat? Do ye want a doother?

Pat—A doother, ye faul! after bein' runned over be a throlley cart? That Oi want is a lawyer.—Judge.

She—I trust, Jack, our marriage will not be against your father's will.

Jack—I'm sure, I hope not; it would be mighty hard for us if he should change it.—Town and Country.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Oct. 28 1903.

A. G. and Mrs. Cox returned from the Raleigh fair Saturday evening.

Owing to the recent death of his father and the continued serious illness of his wife, Rev. C. W. Blanchard was unable to fill his regular appointment here Sunday.

Mrs. C. A. Fair and Mrs. Sarah Taylor were visiting friends in the country Sunday.

Arthur Forbes, of Farmville, was here Monday.

There were services in the Episcopal church Sunday conducted by Rev. Mr. Griffith, of Kinston.

We saw and old razor back hog devour fifty cents worth of good live chickens in less than 30 minutes last Monday.

J. H. Browning spent Sunday in Greenville.

Will Quinerly, of Ayden, attended services here Sunday afternoon.

Elder Fred McLawhorn has returned from his visit to Lake City, S. C. where he went as a delegate to the Southern Free Will Baptist Conference.

Guy B. Taylor and wife, of Graingers, were visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Kittrell, last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Clyde Harrison, who was called to Raleigh last Wednesday by telegram to the bedside of her sick father, returned Monday morning. We are very much pleased to hear her father is considerably improved.

Heber Munford, of Ayden, was here Sunday.

John Cooper, Dane Cooper, J. W. Highsmith and G. A. Kittrell went to the Weldon fair yesterday.

David Sutton and family, of Snow Hill, have been visiting L. F. Elliott for several days.

The public school for this district will open next Monday and be taught by Miss Eliza Harding at "Old Antioch church."

R. G. and Mrs. Chapman and Miss Clyde Chapman spent Tuesday in Greenville.

Rev. W. E. Cox spent yesterday with his mother here.

Prof. J. L. Jackson, of Conetoe, spent Sunday with his mother, who lives near here.

Ned McLawhorn, of Littlefield, has been here this week.

The old home of A. G. Cox, now owned by W. B. Wingate, is now one of the prettiest country places in the county. Wingate has generally renovated, changed and made things more in accord with this modern age.

Misses Bertha and Clyde Dawson were in Greenville Saturday.

Fred Buhman, of Ayden, came again last Sabbath.

Ed Tripp, of Ayden, was here yesterday.

Miss Cora Carroll spent a day or two visiting friends in town this week.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, OCTOBER 28, 1903.

It seems that Virginia Confederates have grown weary of hearing of North Carolina's being first at Bethel and furnishing most of the Southern troops in the civil war, and they threaten to rise up and say it is not so right out in meeting. Well, boys, it has been a long time ago, and most of you are too old to quarrel. Surely there was glory enough for all, and now the twilight of life should find you serenely and calmly waiting, "with malice toward none and charity toward all."

Dowie admits that he has never known who his father was, but he need not let a little thing like that worry him. He has done fairly well without a father, and maybe if the old man could be brought to light now it might injure his son John Alexander's business.

We wonder if the penitentiary officials really could keep a man out of that institution if he insisted upon getting in. They certainly do not seem able to keep anybody in there.

The more or less esteemed Chicago Chronicle insists upon the enforcement of the fifteenth amendment, but fails to give its recipe for putting Southern white supremacy out of business.

Santiago, in the Haytian republic, has surrendered to some insurgent general or other black fellow. We are glad we do not have to dispose of Santiago, as history sayeth that it will not stay put.

We hope the Morning Post will be as successful in enlarging the state capitol without extra expenditure as it has been in regard to the price of cotton—in which case we'll never say another word agin' it.

Mister Will Harris, of most any old place, is on the war-path again. Seems that he is bound to give the officers a run for their money.

Dowie says he has never kissed any woman except his wife. Gee! what the others missed!

Times must be getting better, as W. J. Bryan has not injected politics into his legal business.

This "How old is Ann?" is becoming nerve-jarring. Who had such a grudge against Ann?

Bank robbers are busy out West, while the Eastern banks merely close their doors.

Judge Peebles is ill. Yes, what he got was fierce enough to make any man ill.

Says the Greenville REFLECTOR: "The democrats (of North Carolina) are so confident of victory for years to come they do not even consider it worth while to split." Which confidence involves the greater responsibility of selecting public servants and so administering public duties as to prevent any occasion for a desire to split. With certainty of power comes greater responsibility and obligation. Let us see that these are fully met.—Morning Post.

Further Remarks on Ingratitude.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Your editorial of Monday on the subject of ingratitude was so well timed it reflects great credit on the writer. There are few people who will read such an article, because people do not want to look into their own ungrateful hearts and even in secret confess their great and ignoble shame. The sin of ingratitude must be the sin against the Holy Ghost referred to in divine history, and yet it is the one prevalent crime of the great mass of mankind. Were it the reverse, what a happy, benevolent people there would be in this world; and if "fraternal love held all men bound," how beautiful this life would be. True religion would be as manifest as the morning sun after a stormy night. But the ungrateful do not care to let their thoughts dwell on such a blackening sin—they do not care to learn "To teach me to feel another's woe And hide the faults I see—" or "That mercy I to others show The mercy shown to me."

A thoughtful remembrance of the long ago, a full recognition of benefits or other days—when the grasp of the kind hand, or the word from a kind heart, stimulated, refreshed and gave new courage—then we thought there were big hearts and kind voices that came to us and made the heart feel glad.

In the midst of busy care as we are want to excuse ourselves, we pass the once friendly, kind-hearted, generous and not a word to cheer or a hand to help. This wantonness of mankind is a blight to the true religion that the craving soul so much needs.

The man who forgets the kindness of the past will some day wake up to a sad and sorrowful repentance and will remember that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

SENEC.

House and Home.

A house is built of bricks and stones, of sills and posts and piers; But a home is built of loving deeds that stand a thousand years, A house, though but an humble cot, within its walls may hold A home of priceless beauty, rich in Love's eternal gold.

The men of earth build houses—halls and chambers, roofs and domes— But the women of the earth—God knows! the woman build the homes, Eve could not stray from Paradise, for, O, no matter where Her gracious presence lit the way, lo! Paradise was there. —Nixon Waterman.

And by the way, we think there will be something to say about it when Judge Peebles comes up for re-election.—Greenville REFLECTOR.

Most assuredly there will "if the court knows itself, and it thinks it does." It was a political deal by which Capt. Peebles secured the nomination over Judge Winston (who was justly entitled to it and ought to have received it by all that was right and fair) but we dare say no sort of political deal will save his bacon hereafter. Even though he should be nominated again the people of North Carolina will be very apt to see to it that he is not elected. The days of dancing to the crack of the party lash and obeying the behests of the party bosses regardless of men or measures, principles or policies, is done in this state. Mark that.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

Oh! yes, cotton went up, but how many of you fellows had it?

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis Bros., Farmville.

Many mothers of a Like Opinion Mrs. Pilmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children." For sale by Wooten's drug store, Greenville. R. L. Davis Bros., Farmville.

CARDUI BABIES

Many homes are mere lonely abodes because no children are there. Barrenness exists in almost every case because female diseases have paralyzed the organs of womanhood. Wine of Cardui imparts health and strength to the diseased parts and makes motherhood possible in thousands of cases where barrenness is supposed to be incurable. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow and also prevents miscarriage and cures bearing down pains. Wine of Cardui removes the cause of barrenness by making the female organism strong and healthy.

Go to your druggist and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui. The use of Wine of Cardui will bring happiness to your home.

Ancient Table Manners.

A description of a dinner given in 1850 shows that there has been a vast improvement in table manners since then. As a rule, one knife had to serve for two people, and often a bowl of soup was used by two persons. For this reason the party giving the dinner arranged his guests in couples, trying to place people together who would be congenial and not adverse to this common use of table appointments.

Spoons were seldom supplied to the guests, and the soup was drunk directly from the bowl, the latter usually having side handles by which it was held. In less refined company there were no separate soup bowls, only one large powdering, which was passed around to the guests in turn. The diners helped themselves to the pieces of meat they desired from the common dish with their fingers.

Napkins were considered a luxury, and were only provided in very aristocratic and wealthy families.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Sponge Growing.

Sponges are cultivated in West Indian waters and the Mediterranean. In its natural state the bath or toilet sponge is fleshy and covered with a black skin. To obtain the light colored, horny and elastic skeleton, sponges are left in shallow sea water for several days in a staked inclosure until the rotten animal matter can be beaten out. For artificial cultivation a living sponge is cut into small blocks, about a cubic inch in size, with a portion of the outer skin on each. These, fixed to a frame of weighted trellis-work, are sunk into a few fathoms of clear water, where they flourish best on a bottom of green seaweed free from mud. In about seven years the cuttings grow into sponges of marketable size.

A Caustic Retort.

An Englishman of somewhat questionable reputation, who was criticizing the American way of spelling, once turned to Maurice Barrymore, the actor, and said: "I'll leave it to Mr. Barrymore. Is it right to leave out the 'u' in such words as harbor, neighbor, honor, candor, etc?" "Well, about harbor and neighbor I am not sure," replied Barrymore, "but when it comes to honor and candor I leave you out."

Oranges and Tobacco.

"Did you ever notice," asked a well known physician the other day, "that men who eat oranges are not much injured by smoking? It is a fact. Orange juice has the faculty of neutralizing nicotine, and that is the reason. I have seen men weakened and even made ill by excessive smoking, and a few oranges were all that was necessary to straighten them out."—Philadelphia Record.

Cause For Pride.

Wanton—What's the matter, Blankley? You're all cut about and your arm in a sling, as though you had been in a fight, and yet you look beaming and smiling over it all.

Blankley—The fact is I have all along thought my boy Harold a sort of muff, and the other day I undertook to give him some boxing lessons. This is the result of the first lesson. Oh, I'm proud of that boy!

He Was Competent Himself.

Bobby's father was breaking the news to him.

"How would you like to have a little brother, Bob?" he asked.

"First rate," replied the youngster cheerfully. Then he reflected a minute. "No," he said slowly. "I guess, after all, I'd rather have a sister. I'm a boy myself, you know."—New York Tribune.

Propinquity of Now and Then.

"Bigglesworth isn't addicted to drink, is he?"

"Addicted? Oh, no. Of course he takes a glass now and then."

"I see I must modify my question. Doesn't Bigglesworth let his 'now' blend with his 'then' a little too frequently?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Sometimes," said Uncle Eben, "a man gets abused jes' fob habbin' mo' prudence dan yuthub folks: I specks dat Noah's wicked neighbors had a heap to say agin his ship monopoly aftuh de rain sot in good an' steady."—Washington Star.

Jewels on an Idol.

The jewels of an Indian idol must be worth stealing if many of those remarkably hideous images possess such valuable head ornaments as one made for the idol Parthasathy, in the Triplicane temple at Madras. The ornament is worth some 50,000 rupees and is made of sovereign gold, studded with diamonds, emeralds and rubies, the largest emerald being valued at 1,000 rupees and the biggest ruby and diamond at 300 rupees apiece.

Keep Moving.

The heavens themselves run continually round; the world is never still; the sun travels to the east and to the west; the moon is ever changing in its course; the stars and planets have their constant motions; the air we breathe is continually agitated by the wind, and the waters never cease to ebb and flow, doubtless for the purpose of their conservation and to teach us that we should ever be in action.—Burton.

A Contrast in Lungs.

Three human lungs lie next one another in the anatomical museum at Edinburgh university. The first is that of an Eskimo and is snow white. In life this would, of course, be ruddy from the presence of blood. The third is that of a coal miner and is coal black. The intermediate one is that of a town dweller and is a dirty slate gray, as are the lungs of all dwellers in cities at this moment.

Cause of Lockjaw.
Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exist plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by Wooten's drug store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

DIETING INVITES DISEASE.
To cure Dyspepsia or indigestion it is no longer necessary to live on milk and toast. Starvation produces such weakness that the whole system becomes an easy prey to disease. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that one cares to eat, and is a never failing cure for indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Kodol digests what you eat—makes the stomach sweet. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Ted E. Faust Minstrels.

The attraction at the Academy of Music last night was the Ted. E.
Faust Minstrels and a more delighted audience has never assembled to witness a minstrel show in the city. The first part was a decided innovation and was inter-persed with novelties outside of the usual order of things. The olio was fresh and original, and it may be truly said that Ted. E.
Faust gave one of the most pleasing minstrel performances that has been witnessed in Danville for a long time. The long length of the specialties precludes the mention of all of them and it would be an injustice to mention one without the others, but the Faust family of acrobats are a show within themselves, and had there been no other feature with the show this would have satisfied the audience.—Danville Register, Oct. 25.

To All Whom It May Concern:
This is to certify that in July, 1902,
I had a fistula in anus which had given me trouble for ten years past and I had consulted several physicians and had followed their prescriptions to the letter and continued to grow worse until I could not walk, and for eight months I could only walk on crutches, and in this condition I was advised to call on Dr. Moore, colored, which I did, and under his treatment I at once began to grow better and in one week the trouble was removed and I was perfectly well, feeling like a 16-year old boy, and the trouble has never returned.
