

You Won't Mind

We hope that you won't mind being prodded gently about your Winter Suit--for it's time you were thinking about it.

If every man in town, who goes to the tailor for his clothes should see the

See the three and four button Sack suits, single and double breasted styles. Hand-padded collars, narrow hand-padded lapels and hand-made buttonholes. Trousers cut generous in width, with narrow welted side seams. Yes, sir, we want you to buy one of these Suits: you will find it satisfactory to the last degree, and come again.

Italians for the South.

Within a week two vessels have landed at New Orleans 2134 immigrants from Southern Italy, who have scattered over the agricultural sections of Louisiana and Texas, where they readily adapt themselves to farm methods and are generally regarded as advantageous additions to the population, being different from some of their fellow-countrymen who have been brought into the industrial centers of other parts of the country. It may be that these landings are but part of a determined movement to divert Italians to the South, reflected in reports made through the New York Sun of a trip through the South of officials of a society in New York for the protection of Italian immigrants. They reported many invitations to send Italian laborers to the South, with assurance that they would have opportunity to advance themselves. The calls come from Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Mississippi and Louisiana for mill hands and farm labor, the preference being expressed for immigrants from the north of Italy. Italians are not new to the South, and especially to Louisiana, where in the last census year there were 17,431 of them, constituting more than 30 per cent. of the foreign-born element in that state. It is believed that many more of them can find opportunities there without creating such conditions as those which have aroused apprehension in New England, New York, Pennsylvania and other states which have received the bulk of recent foreign immigration, now coming into the country at the rate of about 100,000 a month. At the same time there is an increase in the movement to the South from the North and West of natives of this country or of the sturdier foreign-born who did not stop at Atlantic ports to swell the congestion of great cities, but who, in the wider reaches of the West, have become thoroughly imbued with the American instinct, and can be only a valuable addition to any community in which they make their home. These are to be the future landowners, together with natives of the South, while the Italians and others of their class may be expected to aid in meeting the temporary exigencies in the labor world, due to the rather sudden expansion of industrial life in the South and to other causes affecting the stability of native labor.—Manufacturers' Record.

North Carolina Day.

The state superintendent and a committee of the state literary and historical association are hard at work with the preparation of a program for North Carolina Day. On account of the late opening of many of the public schools the day will be celebrated in December this year. The date will be announced soon. Pamphlets containing the program and all literary and historical material for the celebration of the day will be sent out this year as heretofore.

The subject of study this year is the "Cape Fear Section." The program promises to be the most interesting and valuable that has been yet prepared. An earnest effort will be made to secure the celebration of the day in every school of the state, public and private.

Sermon on Sabbath Desecration.

Sunday morning in the Baptist church Rev. A. T. King preached a strong and interesting sermon on the subject of Sabbath desecration. He first gave the Bible as authority for the observance of the first day of the week, instead of the seventh, as the Lord's day, and showed by passages therefrom that the early disciples began the observance of the first day of the week directly after the resurrection of Jesus, and that He sanctioned such observance by appearing in their midst while they were assembled on that day. Proof of the observance of the first day of the week could also be had from the early Christian writers. Mr. King then spoke of various ways in which the Sabbath is desecrated and argued forcibly for a stricter observance of the day. He said the nation that disregards the sanctity of the Sabbath and desecrates the day will degenerate in national life. Just so will the Christian who desecrates the Lord's day decline in spiritual life and power. The Christian who keeps the Sabbath and is a regular attendant upon the house of worship is the one who will most rapidly show Christian character in his daily life. At no period of the world was the Sabbath more needed than now. We need it as a day of memorial of the creation; we need it as a day of rest; we need it as a day for the worship of Almighty God.

This is the second time Isaac has been hurt in a falling building, as he was in the wreck of the Hooker & Bernard prize house some years ago.

The Companion as a Christmas Gift

The Youth's Companion is one of the few gifts that are always appropriate and yet within reach of the smallest purse. It brings to every member of the family something of interest, something of value—a story that cheers, an article that carries the reader into far-off countries or among men who govern, a sketch that amuses, a poem that puts a bit of truth in a new and convincing way, a page of pictures that holds the children spell-bound. It is America's home paper—a paper received weekly in more than half a million households in the United States.

If you desire to make a Christmas present of The Youth's Companion, send the publishers the name and address of the person to whom you wish to give The Companion, with $1.75, the annual subscription price. They will send to the address named the Companion's Christmas Packet, all ready for Christmas morning, containing the Christmas number, The Companion Calendar for 1904, lithographed in twelve colors and gold, and subscription certificate for the fifty two issues of 1904.

The new subscriber for 1904 will receive all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1903 free from the time of subscription, also The Companion Calendar for 1904, lithographed in twelve colors and gold.

Annual announcement number fully describing principal features of The Companion's new volume for 1904 will be sent to any address free.

Attention, Tobacco Farmers.

The Farmers' Consolidated Tobacco Co. has been organized under the laws of North Carolina, and all arrangements necessary have been made for the conduct of a tobacco warehouse, business at the Farmers' warehouse, Greenville, N. C. We ask the patronage and support of the tobacco growers of the country simply on the ground of merit and mutual interest.

This is a corporation, and unlike an individual business partnership, the stock holders are in no way responsible for any debts that may be made by the company. We simply say this because the report has been circulated to the contrary. We shall endeavor to merit your patronage. We don't promise you more than anyone else, but we do at all times guarantee you the best market price.

Look into this business, examine its charter and see if it is not to your interest to support and patronize it.

Yours to Serve,
The Farmers' Consolidated Tobacco Co.

Only Makes a Bad Matter Worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation caused by a lack of water in the system, and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect, and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25 cent bottle of them. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Brds. Farmville.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 10, 1903.

It is a long way from here to Washington, and still longer to Panama, but from a distance it certainly appears that the United States government has given substantial aid and comfort to the Panama revolutionists. These latter have done nothing more serious, it seems, than secede from the mother country, Colombia, and set up an independent government. There was a time, we remember, when this government didn't take much stock in secession—in fact, raised quite a rumpus when the Confederate states attempted it. But the times have changed. The administration has a canal proposition on hand, and finding Colombia hoggish and obstinate, hatched up a scheme to get the territory wanted. Panama is now supposed to find shelter under the wing of the American eagle. Of course the administration denies everything—it always does deny everything crooked.

We are bound to respect the man who can and does apologize gracefully when he finds himself in the wrong. This is what Editor Poe, of the Progressive Farmer, has done in the matter of the unpleasantness regarding General Matt Ransom. Doctors' mistakes are buried, those of lawyers are smothered in quibbles and technicalities, and the average man's errors get comparatively little publicity. But an editor's mistakes are there for the whole world to see. Of course editors should be especially careful on this account, but we think it is even recorded that God repented himself of having created man.

It is no longer witty or appropriate to designate North Carolinians as "tar heels." Whatever significance the term may have had in the past, and it has always been more in the nature of a jest or jibe than anything else, it is now obsolete and meaningless, and should be gently laid to rest in the limbo of the innocuous desuetude. North Carolinians are too broad and versatile a people to be covered by any nickname. Their achievements in every field of thought and endeavor and their love for the land that bore them stamps them "MEN," and that is enough.

The administration sent Consul-General Gudger to Panama on the president's yacht, commanded by Admiral Coghlan, on the ground that the moral effect of sending the president's own boat and Admiral Coghlan will be very great. Of course it will. Isn't Admiral Coghlan the gallant tar who perpetuated that soul-stirring ballad, "Hoch der Kaiser?" If the sight doesn't throw those Panama hat-makers in a fit it ought to.

If Pitt is not the banner educational county in the state, it is no fault of the brave and untiring men and women who lead the vanguard of enlightenment. Pitt's teachers and school officers, from the highest to the lowest, form an aggregation of brains, sincerity and earnestness of purposes excelled nowhere and equalled rarely. The county and state owes them much and can never pay them enough.

North Carolina day in the public schools will be celebrated in December this year. It is a beautiful and patriotic custom and should wake echoes of state love in the hearts of all true North Carolinians.

Part of Prof. Bussett's "explanation" is merely a repetition of his original objectionable utterances, while the balance is weak and shift. He gets deeper in the mire of public disgust every time he flops.

Prof. Bussett now defers the consummation of his negro equality scheme to a date five hundred years distant. He ought to have waited until then to give his "views."

John Sharpe Williams, of Mississippi, has been named minority leader in congress by the democrats, and many people believe he is the proper party to stir the animals up.

We regret that Raleigh has raised a row over its dispensary management. That sort of thing doesn't do the dispensary any good in other places.

Regardless of the country's indifference, Mr. Hearst's newspapers continue to take his presidential aspirations seriously.

North Carolina now sends her granite to the West, but we still get our wooden nutmegs from Connecticut.

The Kansas City Journal reports what will be regarded as an interesting scientific fact not generally known. Two years ago, it says, a valuable horse belonging to Fred Goseney, of Moberley, got caught in a barbed wire fence and pulled a hoof off. Not being killed, it has since grown a complete new hoof, and is as good an animal as ever. It was not known, we believe, that a horse had the power of reproducing a hoof when once lost.

In withdrawing that $4,000 reward for ex-Cashier Dewey upon his declaration of an intention to surrender, it appears that the Newbern bank directors were about as "easy propositions" as when they allowed their employe to steal everything save the furniture of the institution.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Senator Morgan says "Colombia is bent on war" because of the Panama secession. It will be more bent by war if it goes into it, and the able senator should say nothing that might encourage it to make a fool of itself.—Morning Post.

Of course the trustees of Trinity College will demand Bussett's resignation. If they do not every Southern parent who has a son at the college should order the boy to leave the institution on the first train.—Wadesboro Messenger.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy,

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville and R. L. Davis Farmville.

The Best Liniment.

Give this liniment a trial and you will never wish to be without it. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

CURED OF PILES AFTER 40 YEARS.

Mr. C. Haney, of Geneva, O., had the piles for 40 years. Doctors and dollars could do him no lasting good. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him permanently. Look for the name DeWitt on the package—all others are cheap, worthless counterfeits. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by John L. Wooten.

SHOES

FOR PARTICULAR WOMEN

We are proud of our shoe stock this season. We are certain we have the finest line we have ever shown and we are certain that no other store gets even a little bit ahead of us.

ULTRA and BROCKPORT Shoes for Women are our strong cards, and we are able to meet the requirements of the most fastidious as well as the more conservative patrons, and we invite a thorough inspection of our line—ULTRA in name, ULTRA in character, ULTRA in every feature that contributes to fit, comfort and style. In finish, material and workmanship, we are proud to present to all lovers of good taste in footwear a shoe for which we have never yet had to make apology. The "Brockport" Shoe is constructed on common-sense principles without sacrifice of those attributes that appeal to a woman's taste, or her pride, in a well and stylishly dressed foot.

Our usually up-to-date line of children's and infant's shoes is even better than ever. We are positive we can insure you perfect satisfaction and save you money in your shoe needs.

Expected Correspondent.

She does not write. I wonder why! The postman hastens blindly by, Nor heeds my fond, expectant eye; His ways incite me. What drought has dried her loving pen? It cannot be that other men Have—pshaw, I fear I'm foolish when She does not write me!

She does not write. Was it her last Wherein she called her whole life passed Before we met, "a vacant vast"? That should requite me! In dreams I dwell upon her smile, Her witcheries that so beguile, And all her wintomenesses, while She does not write me.

She does not write. Has fortune dark, Some unsuspected care or care Made her (a lack-a-day!) its mark? These thoughts affright me! I'm sure it cannot be a tiff— We never had a single miff. I know I'm sadly silly if— She does not write me:

She does not write. I wish she would! She's all that's lovely, all that's good— The very flower of maidenhood, To most delight me. What's this I hold? Why twenty-three Pages that came last night to me, Perhaps that is the reason she— Sue does not write me! —Clinton Scotland.

MAJESTIC RANGE EXHIBIT

At the Store of Baker & Hart.

Mr. O. R. Kendall, special representative of the Majestic Range Co., of St. Louis, is here conducting an exhibit of these excellent ranges at the store of Baker & Hart. THE REFLECTOR reporter went down today to see what was going on and found Mr. Kendall busy showing and explaining the merits of the Majestic. It looked to us like nothing is wanting in the completeness and construction of this range, and the ease and convenience in using it is much in its favor.

As an evidence of the strength of the material with which the Majestic is made, Mr. Kendall hammered heavily with a 10 pound weight on the different parts of the range and no sign of the blows were left. He further astonished the visitors by lowering the doors and shelves of the range and walking up on them like he was climbing a step ladder. He is above the average size man, too.

Many ladies have been to Baker & Hart's store to see the exhibit and express much admiration of the Majestic. Hot biscuits and coffee are served in the store. The exhibit will continue through this week, and every purchaser of a range during this week will be presented with a set of Majestic ware.
