Be Careful of the Feelings of Others.

Do not wound the feelings of your fellowman unnecessarily. Try studiously to avoid it. Wounds are too lasting. * * * The careless and reckless dealer with the feelings of his fellowmen by acts of commission and omission is doing a more painful and lasting work than he may think. Many a sting unresented and unseen by the perpetrator, suffers a penalty therefor, for a cause later which he judges to be mysterious. As the child handles no more the prickly plant that has stung it, so our fellowman withdraws from the human brother who even under the cover of smiles and protestations of innocence has sent a painful spear to the heart.—Rev. P. R. Law, in Lumberton Robesonian.

FAMILY REUNION.

Of the Joyner Family to be held in Pitt County.

Quite a remarkable family reunion will take place at Farmville in Pitt county this week in which Greensboro's press correspondent, Andrew Joyner, will be an actor.

He is next to the youngest one of nine children born to their parents, Dr. Noah Joyner and Mrs. Emily Williams Joyner. Of these nine, all are living except one of three sisters, Mrs. Maloue, who died at the age of 50 years, several years ago.

At Farmville, beginning today, a church mission, to last until Sunday night will be conducted by four of the brothers, who are Episcopal ministers. Rev. John E. Joyner, of the Diocese of Maryland (and who by the way organized St. Barnabas Episcopal church in Greensboro on his first charge). Rev. James Joyner of Charleston, S. C., arch deacon of the Diocese of South Carolina and Rev. Francis Joyner, arch deacon of the Raleigh Convocation of the Diocese of North Carolina.

Another brother to be present is the oldest member of the family, Dr. Robert W. Joyner, one of the leading physicians of Northampton county. Andrew Joyner the six h son is too well known here to need any description. One of the most sacred features of this family reunion near the old country homestead in which this family was reared and from which they have scattered to all points of the compass, is that during the mission a church built to the memory of their parents, having had all the indebtedness paid off, will be consecrated by the bishop. These parents were members of the Episcopal church in a community that had little patience in their day with its ritual and forms, and now there is a flourishing congregation of Episcopalians, the result largely of the work of these devoted Christians fifty years ago.

Of the sisters living, Mrs. Hattie Phelps, wife of Rev. H. H. Phelps, an Episcopal minister at Lenoir, spent last night here with her brother and left for Farmville this morning. The other sister is Miss Lucy Joyner, who is the superintendent of a large church school near Washington.

Rev. C. D. Malone, husband of the sister who is dead, is a principal in this church school and does evangelistic work in his convocation.

Replying to the question as to why he was not a preacher too, Mr. Joyner said that as the two girls married preachers, which rounded out six, he felt that he and his eldest brother, the doctor, could perform their mission in life without discredit to the others.

Mr. Joyner will leave tomorrow to participate in this almost sacred gathering together of a scattered family around the graves of their parents, ancestors, and kindred for three generations back.

He has not seen one of his brothers in thirty two years. Three of them and his brother-in-law, fought in the civil war, all through too, leaving Chapel Hill when but boys at the first alarm.—Greensboro Telegram 11th.

Who is Oldest?

The death of Dr. W. M. B. Brown removes the oldest white citizen of the town. Who takes rank as the oldest? There are a number of citizens here who are well in the 70's, but have any reached four score?

The price of cotton is taking it away rapidly and there is not much left.

DR. W. M. B. BROWN.

Distinguished Physician Passed Away This Morning.

The hundreds of his former patients, and friends without number—for none knew him but to love him—will learn with tender sorrow that Dr. William Moye Benjamin Brown is no more. About 1:30 o'clock this morning, at his residence on the corner of Cotanch and Fourth streets, after an illness of only ten days—the latter three having been passed in a state of semi-consciousness on the border land of eternity—the loving watchers found that the strong spirit had passed into that other world.

But three short weeks ago Dr. Brown "by reason of strength" had rounded out the four score years allotted to man, and his friends were encouraged to believe that he might still be spared to them for some considerably longer period, as he seemed stronger and in better health than he had been for several years; but a severe cold developing into pneumonia, which induced alarming cardiac weakness, soon made it manifest that the end was at hand.

Conscious for a sufficient length of time to take leave of his devoted family, after expressing his perfect submission to God's will, he fell gently into a quiet sleep, only to awake in the glad morning light of that better world which has no noon and no night—no suffering—neither tears nor sorrow.

Descended from an honorable lineage, born and reared in Pitt county, a resident of Greenville for half a century, in both of which he had had an extensive and lucrative practice of his chosen profession, neither the calumnies of malice nor the search lights of truth could fix a blot upon his escutcheon.

Happily married to a lady of excellent virtues—with a wide and influential connection—a devoted father, a consistent member of the Episcopal church, an ardent Southerner and if possible a still more ardent democrat, (though never seeking office) with the best interests of his state and nation ever near his heart and upon his tongue, the writer of this sketch who knew him most intimately, has rarely known a person in whom so many of the strong traits of character that go to make up a splendid manhood would be found.

Dr. Brown has left to his five sons and a beloved daughter the priceless legacy of a stainless name. "An honest man; the noblest work of God." A FRIEND.

Dr. W. M. B. Brown was born Oct. 14th, 1823. His father, Mr. Wiley Brown, was among the wealthiest planters of the county and lived on a large plantation two miles below Greenville. Dr. Brown used to speak of it that his father was the first farmer to operate a cotton gin in the county.

Dr. Brown spent his early years on the farm and when he was grown began the study of medicine. He attended lectures at the medical department of the University of New York, from which he graduated. Returning home he first began practicing near Hookerton, in Greene county, later practiced in the Penny Hill section of Pitt county, and in the early 50's located in Greenville, where the remainder of his life was spent.

In 1855 he married Miss Jane M. Greene, daughter of Mr. Charles Greene, also a very prominent man. They lived happily together until about two years ago, when the devoted wife preceded him to the better world. Seven children were born to them, one dying in infancy, the other six all living and grown and among our leading citizens. These are Dr. Zeno Brown, Messrs. W. L., W. B., James and Wiley Brown, all of Greenville, and Mrs. L. V. Morrill, of Snow Hill. Two sisters also survive him—Mrs. S. B. Wilson, of Greenville, and Mrs. Annie Thomas, of Dunn.

The funeral service was held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Episcopal church, conducted by Rev. W. E. Cox, interment in the cemetery close by. The pall bearers were: Active—Messrs. J. B. Cherry, R. R. Cotten, Henry Harding, J. J. Laughinghouse, Charles Skinner, I. A. Sugg, E. A. Moye and W. H. Long. Honorary—Ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis and Dr. McG. Ernul.

As a mark of respect and evidence of the high esteem in which Dr. Brown was held all business houses of the town closed during the hour of the funeral.

Attacks on the Trusts.

Richmond, Va., November 10.—The General Assembly met here in adjourned session today. The attendance was small.

The special joint committee on the oyster industry made its report in the house of delegates, recommending that "the general assembly pass an act appointing a committee to lease out barren and exhausted or depleted oyster bottoms to the citizens of the state, and that such committee be given sufficiently broad powers and discretion in making such leases as will enable them to deal fairly as between the large and small planters as well as to advance the best interest of the state."

An attack on the trusts, marked the opening of the session, Senator Barksdale presenting a bill which provides that any corporation of any kind and organization for any purpose that shall enter into any pool, agreement, contract or association for the purpose of fixing the price or controlling or limiting the product of any article of manufacture or merchandise or product of agriculture shall be deemed guilty of a conspiracy to defraud, defies monopoly in sweeping terms and provides heavy penalties therefor.

Nominations by the President.

Washington, November 10.—The president today sent the following nominations to the Senate:

To be consul—Thomas J. Cummings, New York, at Puerto Cabello, Venezuela.

Justice—United States Circuit for the Eighth Judicial Circuit—William C. Hoar, Kansas.

Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia—Daniel Thew Wright, Ohio.

To be Postmaster, North Carolina—Ella C. Peace, Oxford.

Davenport-Flanagan.

Mrs. Mary W. Flanagan requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of her daughter Blanche, Thanks.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 12, 1903.

What a spectacle that was in New York at the marriage of Miss Goelet, a rich heiress, to the Duke of Roxburgh. The avenue from the Goelet residence to the church, a distance of five blocks, was a surging mob of 10,000 people, mostly women, wild with curiosity to see the wedding party pass. When the carriage containing Miss Goelet came along, numbers of these women rushed out and stopped the vehicle, some even poking their heads in the carriage to see her. At the church the disorder was equally bad, many of the women forcing their way inside only to be driven out by policemen, others crawled under the canopy that covered the sidewalk in front of the door, and as soon as the ceremony was over they rushed in and despoiled the church decorations in their greed to get souvenirs of the marriage. New York does things in great shape.

There is a story about an old broke and broken-down sport who had a passion for racing, and who had contrived to hold on to a stable of old broken down rips of race horses which somebody said were so stiff and feeble that they couldn't even beat one another. These North Carolina football teams might see if they can beat one another.—Charlotte Observer.

Doubtless it would be more creditable to the boys composing the teams, as well as to the schools they represent, if they quit chasing the pig skin and take a few stunts at their books. Figuring on Ann's age would give them more knowledge than kicking foot balls.

This is from the Statesville Landmark:

The Roanoke News makes a good suggestion in regard to the acquittals for murder. It says that inasmuch as no person of means and influence can be convicted of murder, the personal representative of the deceased should bring a civil action for damages against the slayer, as the plaintiff nearly always wins in a damage suit. The News says:

When a man of money and influence murders another in cold blood, in North Carolina, he escapes, as a rule, without punishment, but if a railroad train kills a man by accident, the company is sued and made to pay heavy damages. If our courts cannot or will not convict these murderers, then why not sue them for damages?

The Henderson county petrified man has "come to life" again—at least he is once more in the public eye. The man who sold him has been sued for working a fake on the purchaser. People love to be humbugged.

The Boston "coons" are down on Booker T. and have adopted resolutions denouncing him. Somewhat a difference of opinion in their estimate of Booker's greatness and that expressed by Prof. Bassett.

"Panama may think she has gained her independence, but it doubtless only means that one crowd is out and another crowd is in."—Durham Herald.

Like a North Carolina man said in the days of the Farmers' Alliance and the populist party, when the farmers threw off the democratic yoke and declared their independence. They thought they were free, he said, when, as a matter of fact, they had only changed bosses.—Charlotte Observer.

The Virginia general assembly that has just begun an adjourned session, has waded into trusts as its first work. But the trusts are not reported to be doing much shaking in their boots.

And Durham yet has a new depot in mind only.

A Queer Trade.

The "hot-pepper" seller of Mexico is a merchant who derives his livelihood from the fact that the Mexican must have his peppers, whatever else he may deny himself. They are brought to his door by the countryman, or he may go to the marketplace and find them spread out for sale on matting. The market-man, while dressed inexpensively as far as his bodily garb is concerned, wears in nearly every instance an elaborate headed-covering. Some of these Mexicans own hats that cost as much as the rest of their wardrobe. The pride of the white man in his Panama is not to be compared to that of the Mexican in his sombrero. It is a radical characteristic which finds its counterpart in the apron of the Portuguese onion-seller. Her occupation may be lowly, but her apron might be that of a woman of higher degree: plush edged with fur is not uncommon. — From "World-Old Handicrafts" in Everybody's Magazine for November.

The secretary of agriculture of the United States draws rather a gloomy picture for the farmers of Texas when he tells them that they cannot exterminate the boll weevil, and utters a depressing prophecy for the farmers of the other cotton states in saying that the weevil will cross the Sabine and the Mississippi and possess the land on this side. The comfortable and the rational way to regard both these prophecies is to disbelieve them. God never placed in the soil of this section, alone, properties which enable it to produce, above any other, a crop which is a worldwide necessity, and gave it a climate under which this crop may fruit in perfection, intending all the time to send upon it an inextinguishable pest for no other reason than to destroy it.

The genius of man will overcome this enemy, as it has every other enemy, except the last, which is death.—Charlotte Observer.

The Norfolk board of trade has endorsed Mr. Small for a position on the rivers and harbors committee. He is the fittest man for that important position on the South Atlantic coast and his selection would please the seaboard people from Jacksonville to Baltimore. He would secure the Inland Waterway—a project worth more to Southern commerce than any that has been proposed in a quarter of a century.—Raleigh News and Observer.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.
New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy,

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy that the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville and R. L. Davis Farmville.

A GOOD NAME.

From personal experience I testify that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are unequalled as a liver pill. They are rightly named because they give strength and energy and do their work with ease.—W. T. Easton, Berne, Tex. Thousands of people are using these tiny little pills in preference to all others, because they are so pleasant and effectual. They cure biliousness, torpid liver jaundice, sick headache, constipation, etc. They do not purge and weaken, but cleanse and strengthen. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

Many men want to be great and a few try to be good.

Only Makes Bad Matters Worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation caused by a lack of water in the system, and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect, and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25 cent bottle of them. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

A SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or over-loaded. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Roderick, of Polesville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of." The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

BEARING DOWN PAINS

3647 Indiana Avenue, CHICAGO, ILL., Sept. 27, 1902.

I have been a sufferer with almost every kind of female trouble for years, but as long as I could get around and do my work I would not try patent medicines as I had no faith in them.

About eight months ago I had to take to my bed, suffering with prolapsus of the uterus, with bearing down pains and intense pains in the back. My aunt, who came to nurse me told me of Wine of Cardui and sent for a bottle. I am indeed glad that she did, for that first bottle started me on the road to recovery.

In a few weeks I was out of bed and in three months I was in better health and stronger than I had been in years. I take a dose now, occasionally, of Wine of Cardui and am kept in perfect health.

Mabel Cook

Sec'y. Woodman's Circle No. 70.

Wine of Cardui brings certain relief to women suffering any symptom of female weakness and perfectly regulates the menstrual flow. Wine of Cardui stops bearing down pains by permanently relieving the irritation which weakens the ligaments holding the womb in place. You need not suffer every month if you take this medicine. The periodical discharge will be painless and healthy without continual weakening drains. Wine of Cardui will make your health right and you may treat yourself privately in your own home. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today.
