Sixty Thousand Acres.

The state board of Education was in session yesterday afternoon and last night, but gave out no report of the proceedings.

It is learned, however, that the board made an option sale of large tracts of public school lands in Carteret county, and these for a price they consider good.

In the state lands in Carteret disposed of there are about 60,000 acres. These were sold to Mr. D. W. Morton, of Beaufort, the figure agreed upon being 85 cents an acre.

The board requires Mr. Morton to put up $1,000 by the first of December to make the sale binding. Col. W. B. Rodman, of Washington, the state engineer is here with the board.—News and Observer.

Appointed to West Point.

Darwood Wilson, a son of Mr. W. B. Wilson, not long since received through Congressman Small an appointment to West Point. He has been notified to report for examination on the 3rd of next May. He came home from school at Oxford last week to spend a few days before going to Highland Falls, N. Y., to enter a special training school to prepare for the examination.

Dust Ruining Goods.

Merchants complain that the failure to have the streets sprinkled such dusty times as this is causing many goods in the stores to be ruined. The town authorities certainly should look after the matter and have the sprinkler put to work.

The sprinkler came out this afternoon.

A SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or over-loaded. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood. Sold by John L. Wooten.

CURED OF PILES AFTER 40 YEARS.

Mr. C. Haney, of Geneva, O., had the piles for 40 years. Doctors and dollars could do him no lasting good. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him permanently. Invaluable for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains, laceration, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, and all other skin diseases. Look for the name DeWitt on the package—all others are cheap, worthless counterfeits. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by John L. Wooten.

To Bring These Negroes Back.

Vaidosta, Ga., Nov. 13.—There is a movement on foot here to bring back from Liberia the Irwin county negroes who last February emigrated to that country.

The predicament of these negroes was described in a letter from the United States minister, resident and consul general at Monrovia, to Secretary Hay, and transmitted by him to Congressman Brantley, of Georgia. The report of Minister Lyon to Secretary Hay is as follows:

"I have the honor to inform you that in the month of February of the present year, a party of 56 colored persons, consisting of males, females and children, left Irwin county, Ga., as emigrants for Monrovia, Liberia, under the leadership of one B. J. Scott.

"On their arrival the Liberian government did its best to assist them in overcoming the rigor of the climate and in supplying them with some food; the land which had been given them could produce nothing for their sustenance.

"Since then, however, twenty of the number have died at Cheesemanburg, the place assigned them by the government. For the lack of homes they were all put in a house of two rooms, where they died one after the other, from the want of food and medicine.

"Thirty-six of this number still remain in a sickly and destitute condition. Sixteen are still at Cheesemanburg. Twenty-two have returned to Monrovia; these are ragged, starving and homeless. Five of them will return to the United States by the first English steamer to Liverpool about the first of October, 1903; their transportation having been arranged by friends in the United States.

"There being no provision for relief in case of this kind, we had to help them from our private purse. We soon discovered that we could not give much charity to 22 persons for any length of time, as food is scarce and the prices are enormous.

"Owing your excellency, to the agitation now going on in the United States on the subject of negro emigration to Liberia by irresponsible persons whose literature has wide circulation among the innocent and poorer class of negroes, the question becomes one of gravity for the consideration of both governments."

INTERESTING POINT.

Public Streets Cannot Become Private Property.

The suit that was tried in court here last week and disposed of Saturday, was one in which the town felt interested in that it determined the right the governing board of a town may have in disposing of a portion of a street.

It seems that Mr. J. C. Arthur, who purchased property in the south west portion of the town after it had been laid off in lots and streets by the former owners and the streets then being the property of purchasers of lots to be kept open as streets, sold a lot to parties on which to erect a tobacco stemmery. In giving the deed for this lot it included a 10 foot strip of the street and when the purchasers went to build their house was extended out on this portion of the street. The attention of the board of aldermen was called to this and after discussion of the matter there was an order made to give the portion of the street to the purchaser of the lot.

As time went on the owners of the plant wanted to dispose of the property. They received an offer for it, but when the contemplated purchaser looked into the matter they thought a good title could not be given to the property and therefore declined to take it.

The trial last week was to compel the contemplated purchasers to take the property. After hearing the testimony Judge Moore did not let the case go to the jury, declaring that the governing board of the town had no right to give away any portion of a street which had been dedicated to the public by being indicated on a plat by which lots were sold and which indicated both the lots and streets.

The plaintiff took an appeal to Supreme court.

A Mammoth Holiday Issue.

The December Delineator (Christmas Number) represents the highwater mark of beauty and utility, and possibly of circulation also, in a woman's magazine, having a first edition of more than a million copies. It contains 240 pages. To produce this mammoth edition 728 tons of paper and 49 presses working 25 days were required. In addition to exquisite color work, clever fiction and striking illustrated articles, the number includes a display of charming winter fashions covering forty-two pages, letters from the foreign fashion centres and illustrated articles on the fashionable fabrics and trimmings, millinery, etc. Among the notable contributors are; Richard Le Gallienne, W. A. Frazer, Albert Bigelow Paine, Harriett Prescott Spofford, Andrew Lang, and Gustav Kobbe. There is also the third installment of the Evolution of a Club Woman, the piquant narrative of clubdom by Agnes Surbridge, and a remarkable photographic article by J. C. Hemment. There are many many beautiful art features among them, four pages in colors representing babyhood, childhood, girlhood and motherhood—the work of Bernard J. Rosenmeyer. For the children there are entertaining games and stories, and for the housewife many practical suggestions in cookery and other departments of the home, for the Christmas season.

Moore Leases Biltmore.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 13.—The deal which has been pending for some time between George W. Vanderbilt and Edgar B. Moore, of Kenilworth, for the lease of the Biltmore estate, was completed today. With the exception of 1,000 acres immediately surrounding the Biltmore mansion, Mr. Moore will have control for ten years of an area of 125,000 acres. This tract of land will be converted into hunting preserves. A club of 100 members of wealthy circles will be formed by Mr. Moore for the purpose of hunting and fishing on the estate. It is said that these preserves will be the best stocked in the country. Deer, bear, grouse, turkey and quail will abound in large numbers. A staff of rangers and guards will patrol the estate to prevent the encroachment of poachers. Mr. Moore stated tonight that the transfer of the hunting and fishing privileges has been under consideration for some time, Mr. Moore said:

"I am engaged in the formation of a hunting and fishing club. There will be a meeting of those who are to compose the membership within the next sixty days. The organization will be completed by January 1."

Surry Parker, of Plymouth, is in the city.

The Greenville tobacco market will close after the sale on Wednesday, 25th, until Monday, 30th. There will be no sales on Thanksgiving day or on Friday following.

Entered at the post office at Greenville, N. C., as second class matter. Subscription rates: One Year, $3.00; One Month, 25 cents; One Week, 10 cents. Delivered in town by carriers without extra cost. Advertising rates reasonable and can be had on application to the editor or at the office. We desire a live correspondent at every post office in the county, who will send in brief items of news as it occurs. Write plainly, and only on one side of the paper.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 16, 1903.

The town of LaGrange has adopted an ordinance requiring saloons to close at 7 p. m. and remain closed until sunrise. The restrictions around bar rooms continue to be drawn tighter and they are destined to soon be closed out altogether in North Carolina. The sentiment against them grows every day.

All the talk heretofore has been on the candidate for governor, with nobody seeming to care much about the second place. But now the Elkin Times comes forward with the name of H. G. Chatham for lieutenant governor, and says he is the best man for the office who can be found.

Something must be going to happen. North Carolina has actually won a game of foot ball. Saturday the University team got a little victory over the Clemson, S. C., college team, and the boys will hardly be able to think about their books for days to come.

W. R. Henry has landed again, but this time not on a government job. He has become southern solicitor for one of the largest banks in New York, said to be a better position than national bank examiner. Now he don't care if he did lose his old job.

The Winston Tobacco Journal says: "It is the man who knows it all, and then tells lies about it, that will bear watching. This has reference to the man who is continually poisoning the minds of farmers by writing incendiary articles about the tobacco situation."

The passing of most of Vanderbilt's large estate near Asheville to a hunting club, means the bringing of many big sportsmen to the state, and they in turn will spend much money around the mountain city.

Some men's admiration for the wife is never so pronounced as when she is wanted to sign a deed and won't. That is where a woman's authority can assert itself.

The college student gets more praise these days for being a champion at foot ball than for being a good scholar.

Mrs. Duke has been heard from, and as is usually the case with a woman, it is not the last of it.

Confederate Pensioners for 1903.

Major B. F. Dixon, state auditor, gave out some interesting statistics yesterday as to the Confederate pension roll for the year, it having just been completed. There are 104 first class pensioners; 305 second class; 575 third class; 6895 fourth class pensioners and 4,720 widows.

This is an increase of 745 pensioners over the roll for 1902. During the past year 204 pensioners died. A large part of the increase in the number of pensioners this year is on account of the act of the last legislature allowing widows of veterans whose second husband died to draw pensions.

Dr. Dixon says there will be a slight decrease only in the amounts of the individual pensions as compared with last year.

It will be remembered that the several classes of pensioners are constituted as follows:

First class: Those who are totally disabled.

Second class: Those who lost an arm or leg above the elbow or knee respectively.

Third class: Those who lost arms below or legs below the knee.

Fourth class: All soldiers who are physically unable to do more than one-fourth of a man's work.

The increase in the number of pensioners for 1902 was 3,425, far in advance of the increase this year.—Raleigh Post.

A Business Man's Views.

They have reached the stage now where they have commenced figuring on how Cleveland can be elected. Mr. M. Weil is a busy merchant of Birmingham, Ala., but The Age-Herald says that he finds time to give attention to questions of politics and it is said that "few men in Birmingham are so well informed touching national issues and political arithmetic as he." As showing the trend of politics, Mr. Weil says that "when the talk of bringing out Cleveland for our standard-bearer in 1904 was started a year or so ago many prominent democrats, including ardent admirers of the ex-president, said he could not possibly be nominated, but now the situation is fast changing in favor of his nomination."

He assumes what all know to be a fact, that the democrats cannot win without New York. Cleveland is the man to carry it. But New Jersey and several other states which he carried in 1892, but which have been republican ever since, will be needed, and Cleveland is the man to carry these. The electoral college has 476 votes and 239 are necessary to carry. Mr. Weil's calculation as to the states that Cleveland would carry is as follows: New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Tennessee and Kentucky. The electoral vote of these states foots up 241.

This estimate is a reasonably safe one. Should Cleveland lose Connecticut, he would have a fighting chance in Illinois, which he carried in 1892, and he would be likely to carry California. Mr. Weil feels sure that Cleveland's electoral vote would be in excess of 241. The business men had a great deal to do with the champion of 1892 and that they are thus early giving evidence of their intention of going into the campaign of 1904 is a hopeful sign for the country.—Charlotte Observer.

His Noble Act.

The thing that Col. W. T. Blackwell did that was most worthy of him and that will cause him to be remembered longest, was his large gift to start the Durham graded school when it was first opened. He gave his check and simply said: "I want every little boy and girl in Durham to have a chance to be educated." And that was in a day when there was no popular wave of enthusiasm for public education and when a few North Carolina towns had graded schools.—News and Observer.

Cotton Trade of Wilmington.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 13.—The receipts of cotton at this port since September 1st, the beginning of the crop year, have been a little over 200,000 bales to date. This breaks last year's record for a corresponding length of time, when 197,420 bales were received. The total exports from the port amount to over 180,000 bales. Since September 1st eighteen cotton steamers have cleared from this port with cargoes for foreign points.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville and R. L. Davis Farmville.

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," write Post & Bliss, Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville, of Georgia, Vt. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such quick relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this liniment a trial and you will never wish to be without it. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Rodrick, of P. Olesville, Md., is speaking of this remedy, saying: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

Only Makes a Bad Matter Worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation caused by a lack of water in the system, and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect, and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25 cent bottle of them. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

The loud mouth doesn't always put up a sound argument.

A GOOD NAME.

From personal experience I testify that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are unequalled as a liver pill. They are rightly named because they give strength and energy and do their work with ease.—W. T. Easton, Boerne, Tex. Thousands of people are using these tiny little pills in preference to all others, because they are so pleasant and effectual. They cure biliousness, torpid liver jaundice, sick headache, constipation, etc. They do not purge and weaken, but cleanse and strengthen. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

FEASTING A CENTURY AGO.

Description of an Old Time Thanksgiving Dinner in New England.

The Thanksgiving feast of a century ago had a charm to it that today seems to be lacking, says the Seattle Times. Here is a description of one of these celebrations:

"In the great red farmhouse on the hill preparations were begun long before the day. The turkey that stalked before the dooryard had been watched with hungry eyes and fattened with urgent care. Pumpkins had been brought from the cornfield to sun themselves on the wood pile. Ah, it was a sure sign of the day's approach, and they might have defended their right to be there without being laughed at by the ancient chronicler's words. 'Let no man make a jest at pumpkins, for with this fruit the Lord was pleased to feed his people to their good content till corn and cattle were increased.' A goodly supply of all garden vegetables was at hand. Apples and pears, the best in the orchard, had been gathered and hidden away in the dark to mellow. Alas for the feast if there was not molasses enough to be had! There could be none without it. Stores of raisins and citron had been laid in, so there was something for the girls to do while the boys looked after the popcorn, which had been seasoning in their wood shed chamber, or picked up walnuts under the old shagbark tree in the pasture. Then there was a deal of work necessary within the house—the wedding china to be brought out, the brasses all to be polished, especially the ancestral andirons, and the spare chambers to be set in order, with extemporized beds in every available corner—all ready for the homecoming. Grandpa and grandma were the reigning sovereigns, and their family was a royal one. The night before Thanksgiving they are all there, and the daughters-in-law have stowed their little ones away in big feather beds, a dozen, more or less, in each, like sardines, and the youngsters have gone to their pillow fight in the attic chambers.

"Around the huge open fireplace, by the light of its burning logs, those boys of the olden times spin their yarns of childhood days and crack their jokes until the laughter changes to tears and they are ready for the evening prayer and the tender good night. And then the Thanksgiving morning! It is clear and cold, perhaps the first snow upon the ground, for Boreas was wont to contribute something unusual before the days of weather reports. All the family are at church—it was expected and the proper thing, for family religion was on dress parade—and the gray haired parson, regardless of the passing time, rises to the occasion in fervent words of gratitude to God for his abundant mercies. Then comes the dinner, skillfully managed by the maiden aunt—God bless her!—an indispensable condensation of virtue on such occasions, a dinner not so elaborate as bountiful, not so elegant as healthful. How the children's eyes dance, even those of the babe in the big board cradle who has no part or lot in it. The turkey, of course, is there, crisp and brown, as only one can be which has been slowly roasted before the fire and basted from the dripping pan beneath. Vegetables of all sorts load the table; delicacies, too, that have been waiting long for that hour, and numerous mysteries of their old fashioned culinary art. Then there are pies of sundry kinds, the chicken pie among them; but best of all—and can we trust our feelings to mention them?—genuine pumpkin pies baked in square tins, having only four corner pieces to each. As the evening shadows fall there is a grand assembly about the fireplace. How merrily the corn sputters in the popper! How familiar the sound of the nuts cracked on the hearthstone! What apples and competitions in paring them without a break in the golden shaving! The elder flows from the great earthenware pitcher—it never became old in those days."

A Pigeon Pie For Thanksgiving.

Pluck and dress six pigeons, split them in halves down the breast and back. Put some small disks of salt pork in a large saucpan over the fire. When fried crisp remove the pork and put in a large onion, cut in thin slices, and let them fry a nice brown in the fat. Then put in the pigeons and let them brown on both sides; add a little butter. After the birds are well browned pour in enough water to cover them to half their depth, season well with salt and pepper and let them simmer gently till quite tender; then add half a pint of cream, and when it bubbles add two tablespoonfuls of flour well dissolved in half a pint of cream. Stir it briskly to keep from lumping. Next take out the pigeons, lay them nicely in a deep baking dish, pour the gravy over them; make a rich pie crust, roll it out, lay it over the birds, moisten the edge of the dish so the crust adheres, cut a few little gashes in the crust, stand the dish in a moderate oven and let the pie bake three-quarters of an hour. Cover the top with buttered paper to keep it from burning too fast.

Thanksgiving Decorations.

If one has access to country fields in November the glowing red berries and vines and branches of gorgeous hues that may then be had offer most artistic material for Thanksgiving decoration. The downy thistle balls picked at the right time are effective mixed with autumn vines and berries. It should not be forgotten that autumn leaves may be gathered at the moment of their greatest beauty in late October or early November and beautifully preserved by being dipped lightly in a weak gum arabic water. When dry they should be kept in boxes, carefully and lightly packed, as the treatment makes them very brittle. By this method, however, their colors are preserved, and they may be used repeatedly.—Harper's Bazar.

BEARING DOWN PAINS

CHICAGO, ILL., Sept. 27, 1902.
I have been a sufferer with almost every kind of female trouble for years, but as long as I could get around and do my work I would not try patent medicines as I had no faith in them. About eight months ago I had to take to my bed, suffering with prolapsus of the uterus, with bearing down pains and intense pains in the back. My aunt, who came to nurse me told me of Wine of Cardui and sent for a bottle. I am indeed glad that she did, for that first bottle started me on the road to recovery. In a few weeks I was out of bed and in three months I was in better health and stronger than I had been in years. I take a dose now, occasionally, of Wine of Cardui and am kept in perfect health.

Mabel Cook
Sec'y. Woodman's Circle No. 70.

Wine of Cardui brings certain relief to women suffering any symptom of female weakness and perfectly regulates the menstrual flow. Wine of Cardui stops bearing down pains by permanently relieving the irritation which weakens the ligaments holding the womb in place. You need not suffer every month if you take this medicine. The periodical discharge will be painless and healthy without continual weakening drains. Wine of Cardui will make your health right and you may treat yourself privately in your own home. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today.

Wild Turkey Hunting

BIG, beautiful, brave and wise, the wild turkey is ideal game for the United States. He is big enough to satisfy some of the material craving of even the big game hunter. He eludes the still hunter as subtly as the shiest deer. He gives the cross country rider, coursing him with hound and horse, a run that often is equal to fox hunting. The wing shot finds him equal to the occasion. He is the finest game bird in the world. Not even the royal auerhahn, sole living representative of the ancient big game world of Europe when the huge aurochs crashed through the forests, can compare with him.

Hunting the wild bird with hound and horse is sport for the very select few, for not only is it necessary to find the birds first, but they must be found in open country where they cannot escape too readily by flying into cover. Therefore, coursing is limited to open country where the turkey, not having been hunted too fervently, is incautious enough to feed in farm lands and open, flat country. The dogs are sent in to cut off the retreat to the woods, and then the mounted men break out of their hiding places and pound down on them.

The wild turkey flies and runs alternately. He lopes like an ostrich, though not so fast, and whenever he thus takes to running the dogs and horses gain on him. When they get unpleasantly close, up booms the big bird and flies like a feathered projectile straight ahead until he has reached a safe distance, when he pitches again and resumes running.

It is clean sport and exciting enough to hurry any man's blood. But the true hunting of the wild turkey, with shotgun or rifle, that tests a man's strength and cunning and woodcraft and patience to the full is still hunting.

It may be enjoyed still in some parts of Pennsylvania, but the best territory for it is in the southern states. Virginia offers it in the country on both sides of the Blue Ridge, although it is not necessary to go so far to reach haunts of the fine game. Culpeper county, where President Roosevelt hunted, is only a short distance from the national capital and well east of the mountains.

HE LOPE LIKE AN OSTRICH.

When a wild turkey is tracked on snow he will lead the shooter a chase of miles. The turkey can hear as keenly as he can see. A cracking twig underfoot will startle him more quickly than it will a deer. Often the man will not be able to get a shot, although he may follow a flock all day long. Often he will get his shot only after he has actually walked the birds down—fired them out by close, patient, grim pursuit. The man who can do that is an athlete.

West Virginia contains thousands of acres of hunting country that is in many respects as wild as it was before the white men landed in America. Western North Carolina has turkeys, particularly between the Blue Ridge and the Great Smoky mountains, and thence on across into Tennessee the turkey hunter can still find surprisingly large tracts of hunting country where not only turkeys, but deer and bear, hide in the thickets. — Boston Transcript.

Thanksgiving Ceremony.
It's a very formal matter,
Eatin' turkey out our way,
'Cause gran' paw alius rises
With a word or two to say
After gran'maw asks the blessin'.
Just before he starts to carve,
It's a joke. We think it's funny,
If we didn't we might starve.

It's something about Turkey
Gettin' all mixed up with Greece,
An' how the combination
Means disturbance of the peace.
Every year we're all attention;
'Not another word in spoke,
An' we nearly die a-laughin'
When our gran' paw tells his joke.
