Railroad Won.

The jury in the Harnett superior court at Lillington decided in favor of the railroad in the suit of Sheriff Salmon against the Norfolk and Western for $2,000 damages because he was not allowed to take negro prisoners in the car for white people. Maj. W. A. Guthrie, attorney for the railroad, was here yesterday on his way to Durham from Lillington. He had won a complete victory.—Raleigh Post.

Lecture at Winterville.

Winterville High School arranges each year a series of lectures, and in this series Dr. James M. Parrott, of Kinston, delivered the lecture for November on Friday, the 20th.

He said in part that he was glad to speak to a school of this kind as they were the keystones to the arch in our educational system. Close them and our colleges and universities must close. He didn't believe in the Rip Van Winkle charge. Many of acts our forefathers rebel this. They were not asleep at Edenton when John Culpepper led in the resistance to a special tax, or at Wilmington when they made Houston resign his commission and released two ships from English custody. They were not asleep at Moores' Creek or at Guilford Court House where Cornwallis received the stunning blow that caused the surrender at Yorktown. They were not asleep when Gen. Sooyhi made his famous march upon Buena Vista and while they hesitated at the opening of the civil war, yet when President Lincoln called on her for her troops to coerce her sister states she answered by sending men to be first at Bethel, farthest up the heights at Getysburg, and last on the field of action at Appomattox.

He had stood on the eastern coast and seen ships loaded to the utmost capacity with the products of her rich soil and our western fruits win prizes in almost every contest. He had stood on her mountains, the Switzerland of America, and seen the sick whose lives had almost ebbed away restored to health.

History shows her people to be brave and religious. She is beginning to lead in manufacturing and already consumes much more cotton than her fertile fields produce. It is now known that $100 invested in the manufacture of furniture in North Carolina at the close of each year amounts to $151, while in Massachusetts it amounts to $105.

Ignorance is being banished and we have the best people and the best state, and in the language of Gov. Aycock at Greensboro, no man is known outside of his own township who says there is no God. Northern educational centres are often swept by waves of fanaticism while we remain unmoved by Dowieism and other vile creeds. Man, both physically and mentally, has evolved gradually.

Unclothed and roaming in the forest man comes to the streams of water and longs to cross. First a raft, then a canoe, then Watts sat by and watched his mother's boiling kettle, then Fulton's steamer, until now 35 or 40 miles per hour is no uncommon rate.

Amid all these changes none have been more marked than those in science.

In the early history disease was thought to be due to witches, also pestilence was fault of the gods and so they would whip them, then they ran from them, later lost belief in them and then came the first law of health which was given by God to Moses.

Quarantine laws once were against whole communities, which unnecessarily hurt the commerce, now it is only the individual.

Once sacrifices were made to appease the gods, then water from certain mineral springs cured, then Peru bark healed and at last bark was taken out and quinine prepared.

The old theory was give the medicine to Smith, if he died don't give it to anybody else, but if he got well Jones and everybody else had it to take, no matter what kind of disease.

A certain medicine prevented malaria, then the chemist took it in his laboratory and at last learned that it only prevented certain rays of sunlight entering the blood to develop the germ. Later came the study of diseases that people had only once, and as a result our splendid system of vaccination which forms the antitoxin in the system. So now if given the death rate in some diseases might be reduced to 1 in a 1000 the doctors have a decided advantage over other professions, for if he makes a mistake it is buried, and with the teacher it is like Banquo's Ghost, ever coming up.

It is hard to realize the importance of germs. The long list, however, may be divided into good germs and bad germs. Plant life is dependent on it and plants that are green get food and live by this means. The chlorophyl in leaves is lost without them, they render nitrogen in the air suitable for food to plants. The air is filled with them. The animal gives off carbon dioxide and the plant feeds on it and in turn feeds the animal.

Time takes the acid out of the soil so germs can develop and decompose material for the plant as the germ wants a neutral or alkali condition. This is seen under old houses where rich soil is found because sun light is cut off, germs have developed and saltpetre and other fertilizers are developed.

There was 31 diseases known to be caused by bad germs. Of these smallpox, typhoid fever and consumption are well known. Use the knowledge we have and in 30 years there would be no consumption in the United States, while now 200,000 die in a year which is a loss of $490,000,000, and all of these could be saved. North Carolina loses $1,500,000 per year by the same disease.

At the mention of leprosy you flee, and consumption is one hundred times worse.

Nobody is born with disease, but inherit a weak organ in which disease germs may readily develop but capable of being developed into strong healthy organs.

Sleep with a consumptive and not one in a thousand will fail to take it. With proper treatment 95 per cent could be cured if taken in its first stage, no matter who your ancestors were.

He once helped to quarantine against 13 lepers in Louisiana and put them on an island in the Mississippi river. It cost $25,000,000 but stopped the disease. Last year North Carolina lost 1700 by typhoid fever and yet when as a member of a committee from the medical association he asked the legislature for $500 to be used in stopping these diseases it was refused. This small amount would stop three fourths of it.

Following the Spanish American war while in the service of the United States government he isolated 181 lepers in the city of Havana. It was hard to take father, mother, brother, sister or babe from the home to be returned no more, but by this means the dreaded disease was stamped out.

We quarantine curable diseases, isolate incurables, and disinfect to kill the germs of the disease in buildings or in clothes. Two hundred years of study gave us a way to render our systems immune against certain diseases, while in some cases we are naturally immune.

Habit is the greatest agency in developing the race. They are either good or bad. Good raises each generation to a higher plane, while bad degrades each; so with imagination. Good habits may make a Samson, Solomon, or Paul. It makes a perfect manhood. The hardest thing to do is to quit a bad habit. In South America the Boa Constrictor will crawl out on a limb and wait for his victim. He is clumsy and when first he falls on his prey they may be able to escape, but delay and he coils about them and crushes them to a jelly. So it is with bad habits. At first you may be able to escape, but delay and they destroy you.

The greatest curse of our age is strong drink. None intend to be drunkards. One great danger of this habit is found in some medicines. Brown's Iron Bitters contains 40 per cent of alcohol, sarsaparilla 26 per cent and peruna 60 per cent. In 1898 the use of opium increased 500 per cent while the physicians used less than ever before. It, too, is found in medicines like King's cure for consumption.

Influenza or lagrippe starting in Russia the middle of October would reach this country by December and sweep over the entire continent by the first of January. It is through the physicians that we learn of these dangers.

Once surgeons tied their patients to tables and with their own eyes watched the knife while now they now sleep while led along by the river of death and are safely cared for without such tortuous pain.

After the battle of Getysburg Lincoln stood on a prominent place and was shown where the North Carolina soldiers charged without cover and he exclaimed "I thank God I live in a country with such people." This was the feeling of himself when he thought of the physicians of our country.

Rev. H. M. Eure.

Sunday closed the third year of Rev. H. M. Eure's charge as pastor of the Methodist church in Greenville. The report of his last year's work as made to the annual conference is published in another column and speaks for itself.

Mr. Eure is a man well liked in Greenville. He is an earnest, faithful, conscientious worker. It cannot be told now if the conference will return him to Greenville for another year, but he has many friends here who would be glad to see him back.

COMING SOON.

America's Foremost Attraction.

The tour of Helen May Butler and her Ladies' Military Brass Band through the south last season was in the nature of a triumph. This success has been followed by similar ovations in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and all of the big eastern cities. The organization has through merit, won the hearty endorsement and patronage of the public.

On her way to St. Louis exposition where she will have a band of 50 ladies she gives return dates through the south and thanks to the energy of the management of our opera house they have secured her under big expenses for Monday Nov. 30th.

General Grant's famous "Let us have peace!" letter has just been discovered. Now, if some one could only get Mr. Roosevelt to read it.—Atlanta Journal.

PAUL R. OUTLAW, ASSOCIATE EDITOR.

Entered at the post office at Greenville, N. C., as second class matter.
Subscription rates: One Year, $3.00; One Month, 25 cents; One Week, 10 cents. Delivered in town by carriers without extra cost.
Advertising rates reasonable and can be had on application to the editor or at the office.
We desire a live correspondent at every post office in the county, who will send in brief items of news as it occurs. Write plainly, and only on one side of the paper.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 21, 1903.

It is a source of much regret to THE REFLECTOR, as well as to the host of friends he has made here since being connected with the paper, that the health of Mr. Paul R. Outlaw has failed and he is compelled to give up work. For several weeks his health has been failing, and his physicians have advised him that he must quit work for a time or he cannot hope to recover. Mr. Outlaw has been a useful man on THE REFLECTOR, always performing his duties faithfully, and we give him up with many regrets. He is now making arrangements to return to his old home at Hertford, where he expects to go in about two weeks, and we earnestly hope that a good rest will bring him back to health.

It is with deep regret that I retire from THE REFLECTOR. What I have tried to be to the paper, the town and the county is common knowledge. I have made mistakes, but they were of the head, not malicious. I have made a few enemies and a host of friends. Of the latter I ask one more kindness, which is—do not think that I will succumb to conditions. I will not—I shall fight again, and someday I shall win.

So many people have been kind to me I cannot hope to grasp the hand of all before I go, but I shall not forget, especially the kindness of Mr. Whichard and his family.

PAUL R. OUTLAW.

THE TWO MERCHANTS --- A FABLE.

Once there were two merchants who kept store on the same street, with only a few blocks between. One was the modern article, wide-awake and abreast of the times, while the other was the sort who has to see where a dollar will meet itself coming back before he will invest it.

Now it happened that as the Christmas season approached, these two met in a northern city, where they had gone to buy stocks. Said he of the modern ideas "Now I shall buy a lot of this article, put out a big ad about it, and I won't carry a gross over the holidays."

"Shall you cut prices on it?" asked the slow-coach.

"Not on your life" answered the swift one. "I do not cut prices—I advertise."

And so they returned to their native heath and proceeded to do business, each according to his lights. He of the blind eye unpacked his goods and sat down and waited. The hustler unpacked his goods, displayed an attractive price-card, and put a spanking big ad in the local paper.

When the holiday trade began to make things warm the public went to see the goods it had read about, and reminded to buy the same, while the man down the street kept his stuff because nobody knew he had it.

When it was all over, the advertiser was away to the good, while he who advocated the theory of bettering stocks speaks for itself was financially all in. Moral; it is all very well to let goods do their own talking but first you must get people near enough to hear them by advertising.

One of the universities has established a chair of dressmaking. Excellent! Now for a chair of dish-washing.—Durham Sun.

And also a chair of sock darning, and one for sewing on buttons.

Scandals continue to be the order in government affairs, and it is a dull day which fails to mark the unearthing of something sensational. The latest is charges made against General Leonard Wood, former governor, general of Cuba, by Major Rathbone, former director of posts. Possibly all the corruptionists and bribe takers will get exposed some day.

Raleigh has done herself proud in overthrowing the efforts of certain of the aldermen who were trying to defeat the wishes of the people in the matter of conducting the dispensary. It looked for a time like the dispensary would be put under the control of the ex-saloon men, who would naturally make it as odious as possible.

Oh no—no liquor at High Point, if you please, and for the very good reason that it would seriously interfere with the business of the town. We dare say the average High Pointer is no more religious than the common run of mortals; in fact, some of the preachers say it is a tough town. But there is one thing a High Point man knows, and that is how to do business, and he finds he can get along a great deal better without liquor than with it.—Thomasville Charity and Children.

The Durham Herald remarked: "If the papers that do not admire Judge Peebles have the right to scratch him if nominated, why has not any other man the right to scratch the ticket for any reason that he deems sufficient?"

Which called this very prompt response from the level-headed Greenville REFLECTOR:

"So he has. No question about his right to do so if the reason is sufficient."

May we venture to dip our ear into these troublesome waters long enough to enquire who is to be the judge of the sufficiency of the reason? What judge shall absolve from the sin?—Raleigh Post.

Every voter, being an American citizen of unquestioned freedom, is his own judge of the matter. He has the right to vote as he pleases without being called into question therefor, and needs no judge of the matter other than his own conscience.

Business a Temperance Reformer

All the railroads that centre in Chicago have prohibited the use of liquor or tobacco by employees when on duty. Practically all the important railroads now concur in this prohibition. The Western Electric Company and numerous other great business concerns in the West forbid not only the use of liquor, but of cigarettes and the habit, now grown to an almost incredible extent among all classes of the community, of "playing the races." Business reasons thus make necessary the control of avoidance of habits against which moral reasons are too often helpless.—From "With the Procession" in the December Everybody's.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville and R. L. Davis Farmville.

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," write Post & Bliss of Georgia, Va. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such quick relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this liniment a trial and you will never wish to be without it. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Roderick, of P. O.sville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

Only Makes a Bad Matter Worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation caused by a lack of water in the system, and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect, and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25 cent bottle of them. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

A SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or over-loaded. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood. Sold by John L. Wooten.

A REMARKABLE CURE.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by John L. Wooten.

CURED OF PILES AFTER 40 YEARS.

Mr. C. Hauey, of Geneva, O., had the piles for 40 years. Doctors and dollars could do him no lasting good. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him permanently. A GOOD NAME.

From personal experience I testify that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are unequalled as a liver pill. They are rightly named because they give strength and energy and to their work with ease.--W. T. Easton, Boerne, Tex. Thousands of people are using these tiny little pills in preference to all others, because they are so pleasant and effectual. They cure biliousness, torpid liver jaundice, sick headache, constipation, etc. They do not purge and weaken, but cleanse and strengthen. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

542 1-2 Congress Street.
PORTLAND, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1902.

I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pain would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nineteen days treatment I menstruated without suffering agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain.

Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Snow
Treasurer, Portland Economic League.

Headaches are the danger signals of coming disease. Both men and women suffer headaches, but periodical headache falls only to the lot of women and is the unerring sign of irregular menstruation and bearing down pains. Completely prostrated by nine months of suppressed menses, blinded by headaches and racked with pain Mrs. Snow was made a strong and healthy woman again. Remember with Wine of Cardui no case is hopeless because this great remedy cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases and never fails to benefit a case of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. If you are discouraged and doctors have failed, try Wine of Cardui, and try it now. Remember that headaches mean female weakness. Secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

SHOES

FOR PARTICULAR WOMEN

We are proud of our shoe stock this season. We are certain we have the finest line we have ever shown and we are certain that no other store gets even a little bit ahead of us.

ULTRA and BROCKPORT Shoes for Women are our strong cards, and we are able to meet the requirements of the most fastidious as well as the more conservative patrons, and we invite a thorough inspection of our line—ULTRA in name, ULTRA in character, ULTRA in every feature that contributes to fit, comfort and style. In finish, material and workmanship, we are proud to present to all lovers of good taste in footwear a shoe for which we have never yet had to make apology. The "Brockport" Shoe is constructed on common-sense principles without sacrifice of those attributes that appeal to a woman's taste, or her pride, in a well and stylishly dressed foot.

Our usually up-to-date line of children's and infant's shoes is even better than ever. We are positive we can insure you perfect satisfaction and save you money in your shoe needs.
