The Telegraph Habit.

Many men have the telephoning habit, as others have the telephoning habit. They send a "wire" with and without provocation. Even where time saving is not an object, and a letter would do much more good, they call for a blank and scratch off twenty or forty words. There is a young lawyer in New York whose career has been greatly accelerated by a judicious employment of the telegraph. In some way he always manages to receive two or three messages wherever he happens to be—in a hotel, theatre, museum, church, opera house or jail. When he crosses the ocean next month on a big liner he will have half a dozen Marconigraphs a day by wireless. He is confident of the success of keeping himself in the public eye, no matter what the cost. Last Sunday he received a message in church, and, quietly rising to his fullest stature to give the congregation an opportunity to view him, he stalked out, satisfied that he had made an indelible impression. The message consisted of five words—"Read Reflectious of a Barrister."—New York Press.

How The World Pays a Man.

The man who goes into the open market with nothing particular to sell and with a poor quality of brains to sell that little, wont get much for it. This is the reason why the modern college seeks to give a technical education. The man who comes out of the classic halls of learning with only the ordinary stock of education can get very little to do except to teach the same worthless stuff to those who come after him and even this ability is not held very high. After all the world pays every man according to the great axiom of the socialist: "From each according to his ability, to each according to his needs,"—only the man whose ability is small or is poorly applied, does not get much, and he does not according to this great law, need much.—Press and Printer.

The Young Boy Gets the Wheel.

A Kansas farmer purchased a bicycle and offered it to the one of three boys, aged respectively 20, 18 and 11 years, who would give the wheel the most appropriate and significant name. Beginning with the oldest, he said "I name it Abraham Lincoln, the emancipator of human slavery." With a nod of approval, he turned to the second, who said: "I name it U. S. Grant, the man whose motto was no surrender." With a smile and an air of doubt that the Benjamin of the trio stood but little show, he said: "What will you name it?" The young man said: "I name it Theodore Roosevelt, for no one can guess where the damn thing's going when it starts." The old man slapped his hands, the two older boys yelled, and the baby boy entered into the undisputed possession of his property.

The Trucking Interests.

For the past few years this industry has taken on new life and the effect is shown in the increase of population along the railroads where facilities are offered. Several years the strawberry was the "standby," but now other crops are planted and the shipping season lasts from February to August. It is evident that the trucking industry is here to stay, but the growers should be careful not to depend too much on any one crop. Diversity of crops is always the safest way.—Faison Journal.

The Womanly Woman.

The big American banquet hall of the Manhattan Hotel was crowded with members of the Emma Willard Association and their friends on the occasion of the thirteenth annual banquet of the organization. Among the speakers were Chancellor MacCracken, Bishop Scarborough, of New Jersey, and Miss Spence. "Hundreds of young men and women," said Miss Spence, "who have received their college degrees are not really educated. They are thoroughly instructed and perhaps amply equipped from a technical standpoint. But education means so much more than this. It means individual development, culture, character. In every walk of life, to accomplish our purpose, we must know clearly at the start what we mean to do. If colleges and schools would really succeed in turning out educated men and women in the highest sense of the word, they must first define that term. Is it to stand for nothing more than instruction in facts or other people's ideas? Or is it to include soul culture, life broadening and true development and efficiency? To my mind mothers are largely responsible for a child's (especially a daughter's) aimless life. The sole desire of alas! so many is that their children shall have a good time while they're young. And this is right enough, but they should remember that the good time of the butterfly is not necessarily the good time of the girl, and that the true good time and growth of character are not incompatible. "True womanliness should be one of the chief elements in a young woman's education. The unpardonable sins of womanhood are hardness and coarseness, dearth of gentleness and any guise of selfishness. A virtue that should be earnestly cultivated by the woman of today is a greater sincerity in the manners and customs of society. This is the contribution all true women should make to the society of their time. Society needs gentle women in the true sense of that word. Only that education is worth while which stands for service to the world—service in some form, material or immaterial, and the latter is often the more real of the two. In fact, the ideal, whatever it be, is the real—and oft-said saying, but one as often forgotten in the details of daily life. "It is the privilege and no less the duty of every one who aspires to be called an educator to ever hold up this vision of the ideal, ever 'follow the gleam'—live the great revelation in the details of daily life."—New York Tribune

The Mule and Man.

The mule—he is a gentle beast; He's satisfied to be the least; And so is man. Like men he may be taught some tricks. He does his work from 8 to 6. The mule—when he gets mad he kicks; And so does man. The mule—he has a load to pull; He's happiest when he is full; And so is man. Like man he holds a patient poise, And when his work's done will rejoice, The mule—he likes to hear his voice, And so does man. The mule—he has his faults, 'tis true; And so has man. He does some things he should not do; And so does man. Like man he doesn't yearn for style, But wants contentment all the while, The mule—he has a lovely smile; And so has man. The mule is sometimes kind and good; And so is man. He eats all kinds of breakfast food; And so does man. Like man he balks at gaudy dress And all outlandish foolishness. The mule's accused of muleishness; And so is man.

The Editors Speak.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The storm which has been raging around the head of Dr. John A. Bassett of Trinity College by reason of his Booker Washington editorial, was transferred to Washington today, affording the North Carolina Press Association two of the liveliest meetings it ever held. After debating for hours whether or not the association should condemn Dr. Bassett for his article in reference to Booker Washington, the trustees of Trinity, who declined to accept the professor's resignation, and the action of the student body for the burning in effigy of editor Josephus Daniels, of the Raleigh News and Observer, following resolution was adopted. "Whereas, the papers of today inform us that a brother member of this association has been hanged in effigy by the students of Trinity College, one of the leading educational institutions of our state, for the apparent reason that he expressed the right of freedom of speech in his paper. "Resolved, that this association regrets the said action as an attempt to abridge the freedom of the press and condemns it in the strongest language as contrary to the spirit of the people."

Fines for School Fund.

For the month of November Mayor H. W. Whedbee paid to County Treasurer J. B. Cherry, for the public school fund $32.19 fines imposed by his court. The total amount so paid for the fiscal year Dec. 1st 1902 to Dec. 1st, 1903, was $800.51.

Rural Carriers.

Washington, Dec. 3.—The civil service commission tonight made public the new regulations governing the appointment of carriers in the rural free delivery service. The regulations now in force were put in effect February 1, 1902, when the rural carrier was classified. They were largely experimental and their operation had not been satisfactory, the most objectionable feature being that which makes the examiner's report concerning the fitness of the applicant of the examination. The new plan eliminates the examiner, providing instead a simple competitive examination intended only to develop the qualifications more essential in a carrier. In order that the wishes of the patrons of a route shall be given consideration, the new regulations provide that when five or more patrons make a sworn statement that an applicant is unsuitable for appointment the views of the heads of families along the routes are to be secured, and if the evidence is sufficient the applicant's name will be stricken from the register.

Orderly Month.

Mayor H. W. Whedbee tells us that this November just passed was the most orderly month in the way of offences against the laws of the town that has come under his observation. That speaks well for the town and the people who come to it.

Meeting of Physicians.

Mayor Whedbee called a meeting of the physicians of the town and the county superintendent of health at his office, Thursday afternoon, to discuss what had been done relative to preventing diphtheria. The steps taken by the superintendent of health were approved and he was directed to call upon the town officials for any assistance needed in carrying out his plans.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, DECEMBER 4, 1903.

The governor who would pardon Dr. Jay could never claim to be a lover of children.

Charlotte folks have walking ahead of them while the street car employes are on a strike.

The Greensboro doctor who has discovered a preservative fluid that will keep cut flowers indefinitely is entitled to a vote of thanks. Now bride roses and American beauties will not come so high. They can be kept and used over.

A case has just been tried at New Bern of a suit against the Southern railway for failure to make connection, and the plaintiff given a verdict for $600. This establishes a precedent that should cause railroads to look better after schedules.

Neither the reputation of the Raleigh News and Observer nor Editor Josephus Daniels were injured in the least by his being hanged in effigy on the campus of Trinity college, by pupils of that institution, when decision of the trustees on the Bassett matter had become known, but the assinnity of those engaging in the hanging is quite apparent.

We cannot see that Prof. Bassett has much cause for self congratulation on the action of the trustees of Trinity college as to his stringtied resignation. While they voted 18 to 7 to retain him, his article that has caused the whole affair was unanimously condemned. Rev. F. A. Bishop, of Greenville, was one of the seven trustees who voted to accept the resignation. Bassett's retention may prove a burden to the college.

There is something new every day. The latest is the claims of New York Christian Scientists that the actual plans for the new church in New York City, costing one million dollars, were "divinely revealed." We were not advertent to any revelation about the plans of building churches since the construction of Solomon's temple.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Can any one tell why a woman will go through rain, hail, snow, heat, what not, and sit for hours in a church in order to see one of her own sex married to a man? Is it curiosity? Is it pity? Please tell us what it is.—Kinston Free Press.

Possibly to the uninitiated it is prompted by a desire to "go and do likewise," while to those who have had the experience, it may be wanting to see some other woman get in trouble.

It is to be regretted that the trustees of Trinity College divided in the case of Dr. Bassett, on geographical lines, the eastern men voting to accept his resignation and the western men against it; but somewhat of a political turn had been given to the case and there is more political liberty in the west than in the east. It is to be noted as a fact of interest that this is about the first time since the civil war, when a conflict of views or interests has arisen between the two sections of the State that the west has gotten the better of it in the decision.—Charlotte Observer.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy,

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy that the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville and R. L. Davis Farmville.

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," write Post & Bliss, of Georgia, Va. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such quick relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this liniment a trial and you will never wish to be without it. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Boderick, of Pikesville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by John L. Wooten.

Only Makes a Bad Matter Worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation caused by a lack of water in the system, and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect, and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25 cent bottle of them. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

BEARING DOWN PAINS

CHICAGO, ILL., Sept. 27, 1902.

I have been a sufferer with almost every kind of female trouble for years, but as long as I could get around and do my work I would not try patent medicines as I had no faith in them. About eight months ago I had to take to my bed, suffering with prolapsus of the uterus, with bearing down pains and intense pains in the back. My aunt, who came to nurse me told me of Wine of Cardui and sent for a bottle. I am indeed glad that she did, for that first bottle started me on the road to recovery. In a few weeks I was out of bed and in three months I was in better health and stronger than I had been in years. I take a dose now, occasionally, of Wine of Cardui and am kept in perfect health.

Mabel Cook
Sec'y. Woodman's Circle No. 70.

Wine of Cardui brings certain relief to women suffering any symptom of female weakness and perfectly regulates the menstrual flow. Wine of Cardui stops bearing down pains by permanently relieving the irritation which weakens the ligaments holding the womb in place. You need not suffer every month if you take this medicine. The periodical discharge will be painless and healthy without continual weakening drains. Wine of Cardui will make your health right and you may treat yourself privately in your own home. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today.

Queen Quality

The First Requisite

The very first requisite of a shoe is that it shall fit the foot with absolute accuracy. Closely but not tightly! No waste space, yet no pressure! The "QUEEN QUALITY" Shoe is made so that

It Fits the Foot

It fits just as a Paris made glove fits the hand. Have you ever noticed that no other shoe talks much about Fit? They talk about "style" and "beauty" and "form" and other things that mean nothing. But they say little about FIT! They don't dare to!

"Queen - Quality"

fits because it is an entirely different construction which, by the way, adds many dollars to the weekly pay roll. But the shoes fit perfectly!
