WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Dec. 12.

Joe Frank, of Vanceboro, was here Wednesday looking for a place to locate. Winterville needs more dwellings and needs them badly.

Nathan Purser is visiting his daughters here, Mrs. R. G. Chapman and Mrs. J. H. C. Dixon.

Friend Fair is living in glorious hilarious anticipation of that million from the Lamar estate over in the old country. 'Tis good if only true.

Mr. Newton, our insurance friend, returned to Westmoreland county Wednesday. His trip here was quite successful.

Josh Manning and Herod Hooks spent Thursday in Greenville.

C. D. Hooks had a very slight stroke of paralysis Tuesday night. We are glad to learn he has nearly if not quite recovered.

Everything right now reminds us that Christmas is close at hand. All the stores are filled with toys, confectionaries and everything else to please the young, the old, as well as satisfy both the inner and outer man.

The coming year will bring about many changes. Some that are sad, and many, we hope, that will prove pleasant. There are those of our friends who will leave us and we shall miss them. Others will come to fill their places, but the pleasant recollections of our associations with those who shall have gone will ever remain as a sweet perfume from a fadeless flower whose fragrance is always as exhilarating as the pure air. For those who shall leave we invoke God's richest blessing, and those who shall come we will bid them welcome and endeavor to make their home among us pleasant. We hope to each and all the coming new year may prove a blessing. That we shall have lived and enjoyed it is our dearest wish.

Miss Narcissa Sutton is visiting friends in Black Jack.

Little Miss Irma Belle Dawson is spending Christmas with her sister, Mrs. C. A. Davis, of Eureka.

M. P. Sturgis, a photographer from Ayden pitched, his tent here yesterday.

Postmaster Bryan was in Greenville Friday selling tobacco.

Mrs. L. P. Beardsley left here on Friday for Wilmington.

Prof. W. H. Ragsdale delivered an address here before the school last night.

Lilliputian Wedding.

A Lilliputian wedding will be a feature of one night of the bazaar in the opera house next week. Many little folks will be in it and it is going to be interesting. Go and see how well the little folks imitate the grown ones.

Here's a Corker.

The Wilson News takes full responsibility for the following chicken and bicycle story. It says: "Yesterday Office Jim Ellis' bike got out of fix and he dismounted and endeavored to put it in order. He unscrewed one of the nuts which fell into a coop full of chickens, one of which swallowed said nut quicker than a duck could gobble up a June bug. Jim wouldn't be outdone so he purchased the chicken and twisted his neck and soon the missing nut was found in its craw. The chicken cost 35 cents. He could have gotten a whole pound of the finest kind of nuts at any grocers for less money."

The boys are starting up their Christmas fruit stands.

STATE NEWS.

The explosion of a lamp while glass blowers were giving an exhibition in Greensboro, caused a panic among the audience. Several persons were set on fire and badly burned, and the doors and windows of the building were wrecked by people jumping through them.

Congress has ordered another experiment at building a light house on Diamond Shoals off Cape Hatteras, on the North Carolina coast.

Henry Holloman, the negro convicted at the last term of the Superior court of Greene county and sentenced to be hanged but respited by the governor until December 17th, will be executed on that date if his sentence is not commuted, as this has not been done yet.—Kinston Free Press.

Big Popcrackers Started.

The explosion of big pop crackers at night has begun, announcing the near approach of Christmas. The sound of those exploded indicates that the size prescribed by the board of aldermen, when they agreed to let fireworks be sold, has been considerably overstepped. The policemen would like to catch the parties doing this shooting ahead of time.

Grand Jury to Visit Public Schools.

Judge O. H. Allen, the presiding judge, holding court here at this time, in his charge to the grand jury invited that body to visit the public schools and take a look at the workings of these institutions—and see for themselves how they are conducted. This is a new instruction on the part of the judge, yet it is a good one. It will create more enthusiasm in educational matters, as well as inform the grand jury—the highest body of officials in the county as to how they are conducted, and what is being done. It will awaken new interests and we are glad to see that Judge Allen has turned his attention in this direction.—Durham Sun.

Photographer B. T. Evans has presented THE REFLECTOR with a large photograph of the graded school. The picture shows the handsome building with all the faculty and pupils standing in front. That all the faces are so distinct where such a large number appears shows the artistic skill of Mr. Evans. He will furnish copies of the picture at 50 cents each to all who desire them.

An Advantage.

A tall man always has the advantage at the theater, and when he folds up his overcoat and sits on it, like Saul of old, he is head and shoulders above the crowd.

It Was Good.

The Merchant of Venice company had a large audience in the opera house, Friday night, and the play was an exceptionally good one. The costumes were splendid and the acting of a very high order. The audience was well pleased.

"Bud Joe" a Good Judge.

Today gave us an opportunity of knowing why our Winterville department editor has talked so much about the pretty girls of Winterville High school. Several of them spent the day in Greenville.

A Curious Mirror.

A man in New York has invented a mirror that can be made translucent at will, so that when placed in a shop window it at first reflects the faces of people looking in, but suddenly turns transparent, whereupon the spectators see the contents of the window in place of their own reflections. This is effected by means of a thin film on the back of the glass, which when the background is dark reflects the light from in front like a mirror, but when the background is illuminated becomes as invisible as a pane of clear glass.

Senatorial Eligibles.

Alphabetically considered, the following list of "eligibles" in the matrimonial line are in the senatorial circle: Allison of Iowa, Beveridge of Indiana, Clark of Montana, Cockrell of Missouri, Dietrich of Nebraska, Dillingham of Vermont, Frye of Maine, Millard of Nebraska, Mitchell of Oregon, Patterson of Colorado, Pettus of Alabama, Warren of Wyoming. The foregoing are widowers. The bachelors are Kean of New Jersey, Penrose of Pennsylvania and Kittridge of South Dakota.

Mustaches and Appendicitis.

A curious case of appendicitis has occurred lately in a hospital at Brooklyn. The patient having been operated on, the surgeon discovered that the irritation of the appendix was caused by the presence of small hairs which looked as if they belonged to his mustache. Questioned on the point when he began to recover, he confessed that he had been in the habit of biting and swallowing mechanically the bits that he nibbled off.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Large and Interesting Meeting

The Teachers' Association of the county held its regular monthly session here today. The meeting was in the graded school building and the attendance was larger than usual.

The new president, Prof. J. D. Everett, called the meeting to order and devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. W. E. Cox.

Model class work in reading, by Miss Iola Exum with a class of pupils selected from the graded school, was indeed interesting.

Miss Agnes Moore read an excellent paper on "Ventilation, Light and Heat," a discussion of the subject following by Prof. Lineberry.

Another very timely and interesting paper was by Miss Maggie Nelson on "Exercise and Posture." Discussions on this followed by Profs. Dove and Ragsdale.

The finance committee reported that $26 has been paid on the library fund.

A very interesting feature of the day was the presentation of prizes for the best essays on North Carolina history by pupils of schools of Pitt county. One of these prizes is the annual gold medal offered by Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes, and the other a gold pen offered by Mr. A. G. Cox.

The gold medal was awarded to Miss Dora Cox, of Winterville, the subject of her essay being "North Carolina's Resentment of the Stamp Act." The presentation speech was handsomely made by Senator A. L. Blow.

The pen (a Parker fountain pen) was awarded to Miss Mabel Cox, also of Winterville, the subject of her essay being "Battle of Moore's Creek Bridge," Prof. W. B. Dove presented this in most appropriate words.

It is worthy of note that both winners of prizes this year, as well as the medal winner last year, are pupils of Winterville High School, and Prof. Lineberry has cause to feel proud of his pupils.

President Everett announced the following standing committees:

Social—G. E. Lineberry, Misses Ada Tyson, Susie Keel, Eula Cox and Maggie Nelson.

Program—W. H. Ragsdale, G. E. Lineberry, W. B. Dove, Misses Annie Belle Moore and Iola Exum.

Executive—W. F. Evans, T. H. King, W. P. Cameron, Misses Delta Smith and Ida Edwards.

We are glad to see in The Biblical Recorder an interview with ex-Governor Jarvis in which he earnestly deprecates the continued exploitation of the race issue, which he truly says is "distressing" and "injurious." There was no such state of affairs, he continues, from 76 to 96, but peace between the races. Then the negro was in politics; now he is not; yet he is more of an issue than he ever was before. "We are foolishly doing ourselves great harm," says this wise, conservative old leader. "Let us think on the things that make for peace and prosperity. Let us have peace and do our work." From all over North Carolina there should go up an Amen to this sentiment. It is true that the president is primarily responsible for the re-introduction of the race question in the South, but that is no reason why we should nurse it, fondle it, keep it alive and forever keep upon it our thoughts which might better be turned to better things. Governor Jarvis never in his life gave better advice than he gives in this interview.—Charlotte Observer.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, DECEMBER 12 1903.

That was a close call the queen had.

Roosevelt is feeling better since the republican national committee has bolstered him up.

When a light house on Diamond Shoals becomes a fixture there will be something solid to stand on.

Notwithstanding Prof. Langley's failure with his air ship, the Charlotte Observer's belief that we will yet fly is unshaken.

If all the wars come that are being talked about in the press dispatches, the whole world will be in conflict before the meeting closes.

Whether heat gets turned on the Charlotte street cars or not, the discussion over the strike situation will keep things warm in that section.

Cheatham, the North Carolina negro ex-congressman, is coming around for another pull. He is slated to be delegate-at-large from this state to the republican national convention.

According to the report of the secretary of the treasury, which has just been issued, there will be a deficit of over $23,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, while the surplus for the present fiscal year will be reduced to $14,000,000. He admits that our currency system has just passed through a serious crisis, which could easily have caused general disaster. He admits also that the non-elasticity of the currency is a weakness, but suggests no remedy.

Postoffice scandals were the subject of the first interesting debate in the senate since the regular session began. Senator Penrose, republican, introduced a resolution calling upon the Postmaster General to send all the papers of the recent investigations to the committee on Post offices and Post Roads, which committee would institute a further investigation if it thought necessary. The republicans favored this resolution, but the democrats wished to amend it by making the investigation mandatory by both the senate and house.

North Carolina people who are inclined to grumble about the school tax they have to pay (and it isn't much) may be interested to learn that sixty per cent of the entire revenues of the State of Mississippi during the last four years has been expended for the cause of education.—Charlotte Observer.

The fourteenth annual session of the Southern Education Association will be held in Atlanta December 30th and 31st and January 1st. This is the association of which Dr. F. P. Venable, president of the University of North Carolina, is president, and Prof. R. J. Tighe, of Asheville, secretary. Profs. D. Matt. Thompson, of Statesville, and Geo. H. Crowell, of High Point, are among the managers and directors. The programme for the forthcoming meeting has been issued and these North Carolinians are scheduled for addresses: Drs. Chas. D. McIver and C. Alphonso Smith, Superintendents W. H. Ragsdale and L. C. Brogdon.—Charlotte Observer.

Scientists have been foolish enough to let it get out that radium which sells on the market at $15,000 an ounce is found in petroleum. Rockefeller believes it and has raised the price of kerosene so he can get back some of the value of the radium that we extravagant people are burning.—Wilmington Star.

There is nothing truer than the saying, "every dog has his day." A few years ago cotton manufacturers were rolling in wealth and cotton farmers were almost starving. Now conditions are reversed. The farmers are wearing glad smiles and the manufacturers are crying out that they are being ruined.—Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer.

Suppose Bassett should write another article and give it as "his opinion" that in order for Trinity College to become a great and "independent" institution of learning, it must allow the negro boys of the state to become students—along with the other "free thinkers?" Would a majority of the trustees still vote to retain him? He would only be expressing his "freedom of thought," you know.—Louisburg Times.

According to the Christian World, the negroes of the South, but a generation removed from slavery, are today the owners of 130,000 farms, valued at $650,000,000; 150,000 homes outside the farm ownership, valued at $265,000,000, and personal property valued at $165,000,000.

The white people of the South rejoice in the progress and success of its negro population. Southern white men have ever been ready to assist those who are industrious and thrifty. The negro is doing well here—those who stick to the farms and to the trade they have learned, and it is here their highest development has been reached, and here lies their best hope for the future.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Thus far we have seen no effort on the part of the faculty or trustees of Trinity College to detect or punish the perpetrators among the student body of the lynching in effigy of the editor of the News and Observer, thus showing by their silence that they have given consent to this disgraceful and outrageous action of the students.—Pittsboro Record.

A. & M. College Record.

Farming, country life and rural education are the leading ideas of the "A. & M. College record" for December. The full table of contents is, as follows:

1. Does farming pay in North Carolina?
2. How to build up a worn-out farm.
3. How to build up worn-out clay lands in middle North Carolina.
4. Extensive farming in Eastern North Carolina.
5. Truck farming in Eastern North Carolina.
6. The present and future of strawberry growing in North Carolina.
7. The state farmers' convention.
8. The enrichment of country life.
9. Rural education.

The "Record" maintains that farming pays in North Carolina and that it offers to the right sort of young men as good opportunities for wealth as any other business or profession and far better opportunities for health and happiness.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville and R. L. Davis Farmville.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is a most palatable and refreshing remedy for all coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, and all other respiratory troubles. It is a most effective and pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Beatty, of P. O. Box 100, Md., speaks of this remedy, saying: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy many times in several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros., Taraville.

Only Makes a Bad Matter Worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation caused by a lack of water in the system, and the use of drastic cathartics like the old-fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect, and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25 cent bottle of them. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

A man's idea of an eccentric woman is one who goes to the opera to hear the music.

A GOOD NAME.

From personal experience I testify that De Witt's Little Early Risers are unequalled as a liver pill. They are rightly named because they give strength and energy and to their work with ease.—W. T. Easton, Boerne, Tex. Thousands of people are using these tiny little pills in preference to all others, because they are so pleasant and effectual. They cure biliousness, torpid liver jaundice, sick headache, constipation, etc. They do not purge and weaken, but cleanse and strengthen. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

Some people could be happy only in jail if the law said they must not go there.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by John L. Wooten.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Careful Buying One-half the Secret of Economical Living.

We eat to sustain life, but also for growth, to be able to do mental and physical work, to keep pace with time in repairing the wastes of the system. Careful buying is half of the secret of first class economical living; careful use of the article is the other half. An article may be dear to one that is cheap to another. Understand perfectly the needs of the family and make each penny tell in the best food at the price for them. It is not always the highest priced foods that are most nutritious. If you know how to cook well the cheaper priced foods you can save much.

Large quantities of food should never be bought and placed in untrained hands with the expectation of saving thereby, for the loss by poor management is much greater than the profit of buying by wholesale. The losses through ignorance and careless indifference are fearful, often the means of wrecking many homes. Always consider carefully if the article for the table is in perfect condition, of good weight and measure. It should be suited to the use to be made of it. Benjamin Franklin said, "Beware of little expenses." The little leaks are what strand us.

Tempering Cut Glass.

A west side woman who has a passion for cut glass and consequently is the possessor of much of the beautiful stuff says one secret of her success in keeping her glass uncracked lies in the care with which she "tempers" it before using it for very cold things. "I begin by filling the punch bowl or decanter with cold water; then I add a piece of ice and after a little while more ice, until the glass is thoroughly chilled.

"When washing cut glass always fold a soft towel and place it in the bottom of the pan. Never use boiling hot water or allow the water to get dirty. A brush is essential for getting into the crevices, and good soap is also necessary, but for the inside of a decanter there is nothing so good as potato parings cut fine."—New York Tribune.

Broiled Chicken.

Only young, tender chickens are to be used for broiling. After cleaning and washing them split down the back if the butcher has not done it for you, wipe dry, season with salt and pepper and lay them, flesh side down, on a hot gridiron. Broil till nicely browned and cooked all through, watching and turning to prevent burning, and serve on toast, with plenty of butter and baked sweet potatoes. If they are to be eaten at dinner they need currant jelly. If the chickens are large, steaming them for a half hour before the broiling process will insure better cooking.

Delmonico's Oyster Fritters.

Take a quart of select, plump, good sized oysters, drain off the juice and strain it through a piece of cheesecloth. To a cupful of the juice add a cupful of milk, salt to taste, the well beaten yolks of four eggs and enough flour to make a batter as thick as for griddlecakes. Drop each oyster into this batter, taking it up with a large spoonful, and fry in deep, hot fat until a nice brown. Serve very hot, with nice, crisp celery or cold slaw.

Suggestions For the Housewife.

Pastry should be cooled off in a fairly warm room, for sudden cold will make it heavy.

Anything that is boiled, stewed, fried, steamed or sauted may be cooled on the chafing dish.

Coal dust moistened with salted water will be found useful for banking up a fire which is to be kept in all night.

If a fork be used in blending water and flour for thickening purposes, as for gravy, the mixture will not lump.

Wicker tables and chairs are easily cleaned by being scrubbed with salt and water and then put in the air to dry.

Fruit stains can be removed by wetting them and holding over the smoke of sulphur. Matches give out a sulphurous flame and can be used to a limited extent.

Mud stains on black skirts may be washed out with a little ammonia and water. Do not attempt to remove them with soap, for you will only fix them more firmly.

Nothing equals kerosene for cleaning porcelain bathtubs. The ugly black streak around the sides that requires such vigorous rubbing when only soap and water are used disappears as by magic when wiped with a soft cloth moistened with kerosene.

Women's Headaches

542 1-2 Congress Street.
PORTLAND, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1902.

I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pain would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nineteen days treatment I menstruated without suffering agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain.

Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Snow
Treasurer, Portland Economic League.

Headaches are the danger signals of coming disease. Both men and women suffer headaches, but periodical headache falls only to the lot of women and is the unerring sign of irregular menstruation and bearing down pains. Completely prostrated by nine months of suppressed menses, blinded by headaches and racked with pain Mrs. Snow was made a strong and healthy woman again. Remember with Wine of Cardui no case is hopeless because this great remedy cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases and never fails to benefit a case of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. If you are discouraged and doctors have failed, try Wine of Cardui, and try it now. Remember that headaches mean female weakness. Secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.
