Fire At Kinston.

Kinston, N. C. Jan. 4.—Fire broke out in the Miller building here this afternoon about half past five o'clock. The fire company responded quickly and fought heroically for two and one-half hours. At 8 15 it is thought that the fire is practically under control.

The Miller building is a two story brick structure. Its lower floor is used for stores and the upper part is used for offices and dwellings. The fire was kept from the adjoining buildings and the Miller building was not burned down, but the damage is considerable in the upper part where the fire started. It is thought that it caught from a defective flue.

STATE NEWS.

The aldermen of Charlotte will be petitioned to order a dispensary election in that city.

A Statesville man lost a horse, or thought the animal lost, as it had been missing from the stable several days. The horse was found in an old well on the premises and was not injured in the least by falling into it. The well had to be dug out to remove the horse.

A new $100,000 hosiery mill has been chartered at Winston.

Mr. Russell simply had the chance to show that he was a man and fell down as many other men have done.—Durham Herald.

Coldest in Five Years.

The thermometer was down to 10 this morning, 6 degrees lower than any previous record of the winter. Mr. Allen Warren tells us this is the lowest temperature recorded in this section since Feb. 14th, 1899. The record on that date was 2 degrees below zero and the next morning it was 2 degrees above zero.

Solid Car of Paint.

Baker & Hart have just received the first solid car load of paints ever brought to this section of the state. It is the famous Harrison "Town and Country" paint, the kind that is used everywhere and which has been on the market since 1793. Baker & Hart are the wholesale and retail distributors of the paint. Watch out for advertisement.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

WINTERVILLE N. C. Jan. 6. 1904

A terrible hard winter and the beautiful snow are both with us.

G. A. Kittrell & Co. brokers and commission merchants, have moved their office on west side of railroad street in the Tucker building.

Misses Minnie Cox and Ethel Carroll returned to the Baptist University at Raleigh Monday.

Claude Dawson, after spending the holidays at home, has gone back to the A. & M. college.

Sim Chapman and Jimmie Galoway left Monday morning for Chapel Hill.

David Purser, who has been visiting his daughters, Mrs. R. G. Chapman and Mrs. J. H. C. Dixon, left Sunday for Shelmerdine.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy B. Taylor, of Kinston spent Saturday and Sunday with the latter's parents, L. L. and Mrs. Kittrell.

Charles Smith and family, from near Haddocks X Roads, have moved here and will make this place their home.

Postoffice Inspector Knight is here looking after postoffice matters in general.

Tom Tyson, formerly of Greenville but now of Norfolk, spent Monday night here.

There was another runaway Saturday. No damage done, only a mighty hustling to get out of the way.

One's nose this kind of weather is the best friend he has. He never applies for a gift unless he receives it.

B. F. Manning and family have moved to Greenville, where Mr. Manning will engage in the mercantile business. Mr. Manning is one of our best citizens and will be sadly missed here, by none more so than your scribe, for he has indeed at all times proven our friend. We wish him and his the best and greatest success in their new home. They deserve it [Greenville is glad to have him. Ed.]

J. M. Blow has accepted a position with G. A. Kittrell & Co. as book keeper.

Miss Mattie Kittrell gave a very pleasant sociable last Saturday evening complimentary to a few special friends. Flinch and carrom were the leading games.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Chapman, of Shelmerdine, have been visiting here during the past few days.

Miss Nellie Munford returned to her home Saturday evening.

Dan Brewer, of Vanceboro, came up Saturday to bring his sister to our school. We met him and found him on our short acquaintance to be a most excellent young gentleman. The patronage of such people speak well for any corporation and in this particular the Winterville High school has no cause for complaint. The natural surroundings by which it is encompassed would admit of nothing less.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Smith died at 5 o'clock this morning.

Saloon Issue in Charlotte.

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 4.—The Ministerial union here, together with the county anti-saloon league, has determined that the Queen City shall be "dry" or else have a dispensary. The aldermen will be requested to order an election under the Watts act.

Week of Prayer.

The week of prayer service was held last night in the Christian church with an interesting sermon by Rev. F. G. Hartman on "The Church of Christ." The weather continues to make the congregations small.

The meeting tonight will be held in the Methodist church.

Reaping Gold.

Oew York, Jan. 4.—A Wall street statistician has figured that at the present high prices for the staple, this year's cotton crop in the south would be worth $650,000,000 more than the entire production of gold in this country during the last ten years. Even at ten cents a pound (it was 13 12 today and more than 14 25 last week) the value of the estimated crop of 10,000,000 bales would be $500,000,000, or equal to the total production of gold since 1897. Every ten pounds of cotton is equal at least to $1, and the planters of the south are therefore practically, it might be said, reaping gold as a result of their planting cotton.

Two Men to be Hanged.

Two hangings are scheduled to take place in North Carolina on Thursday, February 25th. One is Jabel Register in Columbus county and the other Will Boggan, colored, in Anson county.

The Jabel Register case is one of the most noted that has been tried in Eastern Carolina in many years, being that in which Jabel Register and his son, H. B. Register, were convicted of the murder of Jesse Soles and Jim Staley on the night of February 28, 1903. H. B. Register, it will be remembered, was sentenced to life imprisonment by the judge of the superior court and his father, Jabel Register, to be hanged. The son accepted the life sentence in his case, but appeal to the supreme court was taken in the case of the old man. In the meantime H. B. Register entered on service of his sentence and Jabel Register was carried to the penitentiary for safe keeping pending the result of his appeal.

This was argued just a day or two before the court adjourned for the term and a decision promptly handed down confirming the lower court. Yesterday the clerk of the supreme court certified to Governor Aycock the action of that court and the opinion as handed down and the governor at once fixed February 25th as the date for the execution. The hanging will, of course, be at Whiteville, the county seat of Columbus county.

The case of Will Boggan from Anson county is another that was argued at the end of the docket, the opinion of the court being one of the last handed down before the adjournment. Boggan was convicted of the murder of John Sullivan on the night of March 28th, in an alley back of the Klondyke Hotel in Wadesboro.

The Baptists of the State are to be congratulated that the female university at Raleigh is declared free from debt. The facilities of the school will be increased.

Entered at the post office at Greenville, N. C. as second class matter. Subscription rates: One Year, $3.00; One Month, 25 cents; One Week, 10 cents. Delivered in town by carriers without extra cost. Advertising rates reasonable and can be had on application to the editor or at the office. We desire a live correspondent at every post office in the county, who will send in brief items of news as it occurs. Write plainly, and only on one side of the paper.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, JANUARY 6, 1904.

The Economist, at Elizabeth City, now publishes a daily edition, and it is a bright, attractive, well edited paper.

Announcement is made in the Asheville Citizen that W. W. Moore has sold his interest and retires as editor of that paper.

Greenville will yet be a manufacturing town, see if she is not. There is abundance of raw material convenient with a large territory from which trade can be drawn.

The agitation in Chicago did not end with the closing of the theatres. The authorities are now talking of closing churches, stores offices and even private residences that are not provided with proper fire escapes.

Durham druggists will not have a soft snap selling whiskey since the dispensary has been established there. The aldermen have decided that druggists who want to sell booze as medicine must pay a tax of $50.

If those Charlotte people have anything left after squaring their cotton futures losses, they might put it in Mr. Fife's gold mine stock if they want to get rid of it. He will take a smaller limit than the cotton contract man, and will give the little fellow a chance to dabble and lose.

Whatever else may be said of the Charlotte Observer it is always honest, and it presents the news in a more attractive manner than any other paper in the State. This helps to account for the fact that the circulation of the Observer has increased until it is above five thousand.

If the fool who jumps over the top of his seat and hollers fire at a theatre could be disposed of, it would be a greater security of life to the public than any improvement on fire proof material that can be made. A panic is always created by the biggest fool in the house, and strange to say, he cannot be quenched by a dozen of the coolest heads in the house when he once raises his racket.

The Charlotte Observer makes a gratifying announcement as to its circulation during the year 1903, which averaged more than 5,700. There is no newspaper which more deserves a good circulation and good business generally than the Charlotte Observer and its many friends will be glad to learn that it is getting a patronage which it justly deserves.

This would be a good year for the penitentiary to go out of the business of farming. The present showing will compensate, to some extent, for the failure of past administrations to pay expenses, and would avoid similar occurrences in the future. There is plenty of road-making and road-repairing to keep the state's convicts busy for a great number of years. There are plenty of farmers in the country to make all the cotton, corn and peanuts needed, and these men ought to be out of competition with convict labor.

The fires in the tobacco towns in the eastern part of the state have attracted the attention of the insurance men. One of these says he gave orders several months ago for the cancellation of all risks on tobacco. There are great quantities of leaf stored in the state, largely bought in the autumn of 1902 when prices were high, but this tobacco would not now sell for more than half the sum paid for it. The decline in price of tobacco has been one of the hardest blows ever given that industry east of Raleigh.—Raleigh cor. Charlotte Observer.

"Now that the new year has come," said Mr. Frank Gilreath, "I would suggest that everybody attend to his own business and let the business of other people alone." The first wise man might have made that same remark to his wife with out thought of being original or without any idea that his preaching would be successful. To not talk—to not hold post-mortems on our friends! To be debarred from the dear pleasure of meddling. Deliver one from such dreariness of living! Fun in it? Nope. Every gossip prates above a cankered, dissatisfied heart, yet talks on endlessly.—Idle Comment in Charlotte Observer.

Our Prosperity.

In other parts of the United States much is now being written and said about the prosperity of the South. It is notable that while things have been for some time rather blue in Wall street circles the South and West have been getting along rather better than ever. With a ten million bale cotton crop now bringing six hundred million dollars instead of three hundred million as it did only a few years ago something of the more comfortable feeling of the South in money may be understood, but this betterment in price of the staple is now. The quality of it now manufactured in the South contributes immensely to home prosperity. The wages are paid and distributed at home and among our own people instead of at a distance from us and among strangers.—Charlotte Observer.

During the civil war 26,774 Confederate soldiers died in the hands of the United States authorities as prisoners. Their bodies lie at 108 different spots, and the graves of 19,920 are known to the authorities. Senator Foraker is trying to have congress pass a law providing for the marking of the graves in a suitable manner by the government, thus carrying out a project which was endorsed by the ex-Confederate soldiers at their gathering at Memphis on Memorial Day of 1901.

The greatest number of deaths occurred at Camp Douglas, Ill., where 3,759 men died. The graves of 2,317 of these men are known. At Camp Chase, Ohio 1,108 men died, and of their graves 1,900 are known. The number of deaths at Elmira, N. Y., was 2,980 and the graves of all but 52 of the men who died there are known. Fort Delaware, Del., is the burial place of 2,502 men, of whose graves 1,685 have been identified.

In New York harbor 35 men died at Fort Columbus, but the graves of 11 are unknown. Two died at Fort Lafayette, and their graves are unknown, according to the records of the War Department.

On David's Island 178 Confederates died, and only one of Fort Wood six men died, and the graves of five of these are not known. On Hart's Island 230 prisoners died, and 176 of their graves are known to the authorities. Three men died at Willet's Point, but only one of the graves in which they were buried is known.—New York Sun.

I was prescribed for by physicians with no noticeable results. A friend gave me part of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with instructions to closely follow the directions and I wish to state that after the first day I could notice a decided change for the better, and at this time, after using it for two weeks, have no hesitation in saying I realize that I am entirely cured." This remedy is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville and R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

Mr. Wm S. Crane, of California Md., suffered for years from rheumatism and lumbago. He was finally advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did and it effected a complete cure. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville and R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

Congratulations

Mr John H. Cullom, Editor of the Garland, Texas, News, has written a letter of congratulations to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as follows: Sixteen years ago when our first child was a baby he was subject to croupy spells and we would be very uneasy about him. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in 1887, and finding it such a reliable remedy for colds and croup we have never been without it in the house since that time. We have five children and have given it to all of them with good results. One good feature of this remedy is that it is not disagreeable to take and our babies really like it. Another is that it is not dangerous, and there is no risk from giving an overdose. I congratulate you upon the success of your remedy." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

A negligent love can easily become a diligent hate.

A GOOD NAME.

From personal experience I testify that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are unequalled as a liver pill. They are rightly named because they give strength and energy and to their work with ease.—W. T. Easton, Berne, Tex. Thousands of people are using these tiny little pills in preference to all others, because they are so pleasant and effectual. They cure biliousness, torpid liver jaundice, sick headache, constipation, etc. They do not purge and weaken, but cleanse and strengthen. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

The fever of fanaticism is not the fever of faith.

AGED OFFICES AFTER 40 YEARS.

Mr. C. Haney, of Geneva, O., had the piles for 40 years. Doctors and dollars could do him no lasting good. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him permanently. Invaluable for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains, laceration, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, and all other skin diseases. Look for the name DeWitt on the package—all others are cheap, worthless counterfeits. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

What you pray for you ought to be willing to pay for.

A SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or over-loaded. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood. Sold by John L. Wooten.

One saint on a street car is worth a dozen in a chariot.

I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for indigestion and find that they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried and I have used many different remedies. I am 51 years of age and have suffered great deal from indigestion. I can eat almost anything I want now.—George W. Emory, Rock Mills, Ala. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville and R. L. THE DEATH CUP.

This Deadly Fungus Resembles Several Edible Mushrooms.
Perhaps the most deadly of the poisonous fungi of our woods and fields is the fairly well known death cup (Amanita phalloides), particularly dangerous from its resemblance to several of the edible mushrooms, though gathering fungi for the table should be undertaken by none save those thoroughly acquainted with the different species, as it is altogether too easy for the ignorant enthusiast to make an error which may prove fatal to his friends.

The death cup referred to has a round cap, white, yellowish or greenish in color, and the stem has a swollen base, surrounded by an envelope, or veil, of a white filmy substance, which parts as the stalk extends upward. This stalk is pithy when young, but hollow at maturity, and the gills of the cap, which in the meadow mushrooms are pink or brown, are white in the deadly variety, as are also the spores, which can be plainly seen if the cap is laid, gills downward, on a piece of colored paper for a few hours. The swollen, or bulbous, base is a distinguishing characteristic, and no fungus of that appearance should be gathered for cooking. One of the liabilities is that these caps may be broken off without due observance of its base, which is often covered with earth or dead grasses, hence not distinguished from some of the lepiotas, which, however, are never surrounded with the filmy veil of the death cup.

The poisonous property of this fungus is largely the same as that found in the venom of a rattlesnake and also in cholera and diphtheria, and so far science is unable to produce any satisfactory antidote, atropine, the stomach pump and oil purgatives being about the only resources.—Washington Post.

A KOREAN CINDERELLA.

The Quaint Story of Peach Blossom, the Family Drudge.

In Korea the people tell a Cinderella story that is much more ancient than that familiar to western people. The key of the latter story is the slipper, but not so theirs. Peach Blossom, the Korean Cinderella's name, was the family drudge. One day as the mother was starting off with the favorite daughter to a picnic she said to Peach Blossom, "You must not leave until you have hulled a bagful of rice and filled the broken crock with water." While sitting there bemoaning her hard lot she heard a twittering and a fluttering of wings. Looking up, she saw a flock of sparrows pecking the hulls of the rice. Before recovering from her surprise a little imp jumped out of the fireplace and so skillfully repaired the crock that but a few minutes of work was required to fill it with water. Then she went to the picnic and had a royal time.

On another occasion the mother said, "You must stay until you have pulled up all the weeds in the field." This time a cow came out of the forest and ate up the weeds in ten mouthfuls. Peach Blossom followed the cow into the woods and was led to where there was an abundance of ripe, luscious fruit. Gathering a large quantity, she went to the fête and was the most welcome guest. Her jealous sister asked about it and, on being told, determined she would get some of this fruit for herself.

When the next gala day came the sister stayed at home and let Peach Blossom go. The cow came out of the woods as before, and the sister followed it through tangled brier and thorn bushes, with the result that her face was much scratched and her skin deep beauty all gone.—Exchange.

A Lazy Man.

On a hot summer's day a gentleman who was waiting for his train at one of our country stations asked a porter who was lying on one of the seats where the station master lived, and the porter, not moving, lazily pointed to the house with his foot.

The gentleman, very much struck at the man's laziness, said, "If you can show me a lazier action than that, my good man, I'll give you two and sixpence."

The porter, not moving an inch, replied, "Put it in my pocket, guv'nor."—London News.

Definite Information.

"How much are these Scotch flannels, please?" asked a woman in one of the large department stores one day last week.

"This lady will show them to you," alrily replied the clerk, indicating with an indifferent nod a girl about three feet distant.

"But," persisted the woman, "I don't want to buy now. I simply want to know how much they are."

"Oh, different prices and up," was the nonchalant answer.—New York Times.

A Judge of Human Nature.

"Doctor, tell me honestly whether my health is improving or not."

"My dear sir, you're getting on famously—famously."

"You are not speaking the truth, doctor, but I can tell without your assistance whether I am getting better or not."

"How can you judge?"

"By the behavior of my hairs."—Paris Gaulois.

The Serious Part of It.

Actor—Hurry, or we'll miss the train. Actress—I can't find my diamonds or my purse.

"Oh, well, never mind."

"Yes, but the purse had $10 in it."—New York Weekly.

For everything you have missed you have gained something else.—Emerson.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

THE NECESSARY MAGAZINE IN THE PRESIDENTIAL YEAR

The Review of Reviews is often called a necessity, in recognition of its usefulness in keeping readers "up with the times."
In Presidential election years the REVIEW OF REVIEWS is more than ever "the necessary magazine." Everybody wants to be truly and quickly informed about this or that public question that has forged to the front; to know about the new candidates and personal factors in politics, to have a complete picture at hand of the current movement of history.

In Dr. Shaw's editorials, in its authentic and timely contributed articles, in its brilliant character sketches, in its condensations and reviews of all the important articles of other magazines, and in its hundred a month of valuable portraits, witty cartoons, and interesting views, the REVIEW OF REVIEWS gives the much desired news of the world and our own progress. "The World under a Field-glass" is the way one subscriber describes it. Men in public life, like President Theodore Roosevelt, the members of Congress, and the great captains of industry, who must keep "up with the times," intelligent men and women all over America, have decided it is "indispensable."

Shot In a Ballroom.

At a dance given in the Ayersville neighborhood, Rockingham county, during the holidays, a young man named John Gans took Miss Martin to the dance. During its progress he became intoxicated to such a degree Miss Martin declined to dance a cotillion with him. He came back next and made a request for a waltz, which was considerably and kindly refused. Infuriated at this second repulse, Gans without a moment's warning or hesitation, pulled out a pistol and shot his sweetheart before a single one of the horrified spectators could dash out the weapon from his hand.

With a piercing scream, Miss Martin fell to the floor, shot through the chest and writhed in blood and agony until a physician was procured. She died Saturday morning.

It is said that as soon as Gans fired, he just made a movement to shoot again, but a young man, Joseph Seamster, knocked him down, the bullet going through the lamp chimney, snuffing out the light, adding to the confusion and terror of the young people. In a moment the light was renewed, and young Gans, making no effort to escape, was standing crying over the prostrate body of his unconscious victim, who lay bleeding on the floor.

Miss Martin was carefully attended, the blood staunching, and early in the morning she rallied, giving the physician hope of saving her life, but in an hour a hemorrhage from the lungs flooded her pure young life out into the ocean of eternity.

Gans was given a preliminary trial before a justice of the peace of Mayodan Saturday afternoon and sent to Wentworth jail to answer the charge of murder.

The unfortunate victim of this whiskey crazed man was of an excellent family, a general favorite among her acquaintances, and Gans is said to come of a good family in Stokes county.
