Sans Souci Club.

Reported for Reflector.]

On Friday afternoon Jan. 29th the Sans Souci Club met, by special request with Miss Elizabeth Laughinghouse, whose hospitable home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with the choicest flowers and hot house plants, Miss Laughinghouse entertained the club in a most charming manner by reading a selection from "The three wise men" which was thoroughly enjoyed by all, and Miss Nina James favored those present with several vocal selections in a rich mellow contralto voice that captivated and held each guest spellbound until the last sweet note was wafted into oblivion. The color scheme of the dining room was of red.

Mrs. Chas. O. H. Laughinghouse received in the front hallway. Miss Mary Gottlieb of Baltimore, Miss Sallie Cotten of Cottobale, served hot chocolate in the library.

After the regular routine of business was transacted the club adjourned to meet again on the 16th with Miss Bettie Tyson.

Among those present were: Miss Sallie Cotten, Miss Lillian Caery, Mrs. W. H. Dail, Jr., Miss Bettie Tyson, Mrs. R. L. Carr, Miss Lizzie Jones, Mrs. Chas. O'H. Laughinghouse, Miss Mary Moye, Miss Bessie Patrick, Miss Lina Sheppard, Miss Elizabeth Laughinghouse, Miss Rosalind Rountree, Miss Pat Skinner, Miss Lottie Blow, Miss Mary Gottlieb, of Baltimore, Md. and Miss Neil Skinner.

Coroner's Jury Declares Glover Guilty.

The coroner's jury, which held an inquest over the body of W. J. Lee, who was killed Wednesday night, eleven miles south of Smithfield, N. C. rendered a verdict that Lee was killed by Clarence Glover. It appears that both men were intoxicated and that as the result of a quarrel between them Glover cut Lee to death. Glover's pocket knife had been washed, but the large blade yet retained smears of blood. He bears a bad character.

Grimes Laughinghouse

A quiet but very pretty home wedding took place this morning at the residence of Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse, where his daughter, Elizabeth Forrest, became the wife of Col. J. Bryan Grimes, secretary of state. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Price, of Raleigh.

The bride was becomingly attired in a dark blue tailor gown with hat to match, and carried a fragrant bunch of purple violets. The only attendants were Miss Gottlieb, of Baltimore, as maid of honor, and Mr. Junius Grimes, brother of the groom, as best man. Miss Nina James, at the piano, played softly Schukrt's Serenade during the ceremony.

The couple left on the 8-30 train for Raleigh, their future home.

The guest from a distance attending the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Grimes and Mr. Junius Grimes, of Washington; Col. Alston Grimes and Messrs. R. B. Warren and Jack Laughinghouse, of Grimeslaud.

Manning Laughinghouse.

Tuesday evening at the home of the bride, in South Greenville, Mr. Sheppard Manning and Miss Maggie Laughinghouse were married, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. H. Laughinghouse, father of the bride. The attendants were F. L. Waters with Miss Mamie Dixon, Basil Dixon, with Miss Nora Laughinghouse.

Tried to kill Himself.

Roadok, Va., Feb. 2.—J. P. Tyler, who has been in jail for a few days, attempted to commit suicide this morning by cutting his throat. He pulled a tin cup apart, and taking a portion of it, he whetted it on the cement floor until it was as sharp as a knife. He cut a gash about three inches long in his throat, which had to be sewed up by a physician.

Tyler went to the city jail a few nights ago and asked for lodging. He soon became very violent, and it was believed he was suffering with delirium tremens. It has since developed he is insane. He is a book binder and came here three weeks ago from South Carolina.

Cut His Throat.

Pollocksville, N. C., Feb. 1.—A young man named Solomon Koonce twice put out of the store of Mr. Alfred Lee by the proprietor, because of an affray in which he was engaged, on the second occasion, cut a fearful gash in Lee's neck, extending from the back to the front. But for his coat collar Lee would doubtless have been killed. As it was he received a very serious wound. In the excitement Koonce escaped.

Attention is called to the dissolution of the firm of Tunstall & Potter. The firm will hereafter be known as Tunstall and Smith.

The Custis Family Bible

Philadelphia, Feb. 1.—Members of the family of Gen. Robert E. Lee are endeavoring to regain possession of the Custis family Bible, which Martha Washington used in her morning devotions and which contains the birth and death records of many of America's famous men.

The Bible was mislaid by Gen. Lee's family in moving from their home at Arlington in 1861, following Gen. Lee's resignation from the United States army. Recently Miss Mary Lee, a daughter of Gen. Lee, while visiting this city learned, through an anonymous letter, that the Bible was in the possession of George W. Kendrick, Jr., a well known Mason. She wrote to Mr. Kendrick and asked him to return it, but he declined. and it is probable that the dispute arising over the ownership of the Bible will be taken into court. Mr. Kendrick bought the Bible 22 years ago from a man named Stein, who has since died.

"I understand," said Mr. Kendrick, "that Mr. Stein's father, who was a soldier in the Union army, bought the book from a settler, who had previously purchased it from a soldier who found it in the house at Arlington."

The Bible was published by Charles Bell, in 1702. It contained the entries of the births of Fanny Parke Custis, September 13, 1710, and Daniel Parke Custis, October 13, 1711. There are also the records of the marriage of Daniel and Martha Custis and the births of their various children. On the page at the end of the New Testament is the birth record of George W. P. Custis, the adopted son of Washington.

Guy Rope Broke, Big Gun Eel.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 1.—A guy rope attached to the gear of a derrick, being used in hoisting one of the monitor Nevada's big guns aboard her, broke today and sent the gun crashing upon the deck of the monitor. In its descent it damaged the ship's bridge to a considerable extent and knocked a laborer unconscious.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, FEBRUARY 2, 1904.

When Russell went back on his state, it might have been expected that he would go back on a woman.

The biggest thing in Raleigh is the dispensary. During the month of January the receipts of that institution were $11,500.

A. B. Pickett, editor of the Memphis Scimitar and one of the best known newspaper men in the South, died Monday.

The greatest war bluff in history—is the way the Russian Japan trouble will eventually be set down in history.

By the time North Carolina gets South Dakota paid for those bonds some more folks will be ready to jump on us.

It must be cold, sure enough, a little further West At Memphis, Tenn., there is so much ice in the Mississippi river, that for the first time in twenty years all steamboat traffic had to suspend.

Maine is almost as bad as North Carolina for wanting things. So far there are only five men after the nomination for governor of that state.

The airing accomplished good all the same. Mr. Godfrey got back the money the lawyers made him pay for the return of his bonds, even though the thief who stole them cannot be found.

It looks like enough has been said on the subject to have induced some one to make the start toward getting a building and loan association in Greenville, but the start has yet to be announced.

Even the opinions of the highest judges differ. Five of the Justices of the United States being for and four against, shows there are able men who do not think it just for North Carolina to pay those bonds.

The Washington Post must think that the average woman would rather be robbed than yield obedience to a law requiring her to put pockets in her dresses by way of removing temptations from purse-snatchers. It is not the case that the women object so seriously to the pockets, but to an effort at compulsion. There is a lot of the same sort of perversity in some men.

The Charlotte Chronicle in a strong editorial advocates the repeal of the crop lien law. It says the custom of mortgaging a crop before it is planted "has done more to dissatisfy the farmer with farm life than any other one thing." For a few years after the war the lien may have served a good purpose, and so did the homestead exemption, but this cannot now be said of either of them. The business man cannot be blamed for wanting security when he is called upon to furnish supplies, but if the homestead exemption was repealed security would rarely be necessary or demanded.

When Japan gets prepared and Russia gets prepared they can both go home and quit.

It looks like folly to punish a man for stealing and do nothing with him for committing murder.

Just because cotton took about a cent tumble some folks wore as long faces as when it was selling at 6 cents. Why, its above 15 cents yet.

The ground hog saw his shadow on the 2nd and went back in his hole. The surface hog will not see his shadow on the 14th, so will slip out with his comic valentine.

The press dispatches said that Marion Butler and Daniel L. Russell were very much elated at the decision of the United States Supreme court in the South Dakota case. Certainly they were, being instigators of the whole thing. They do not care what they inflict upon their state just so they are getting some pie out of it.

The man who commits suicide because of financial embarrassment or any other embarrassing cause, shows a proper appreciation of the unforgivingness of the average creditor who has an unsatisfied claim; he is expected to go around like a "cowed cur," but still he is a moral coward. It takes a high order of courage to face such conditions, and begin life over again, but many a man has done it, and has achieved a condition in which he could look the world in the face and begin life over again. Such men have the courage to struggle and wait.

The Texans have made a valuable discovery. Turkeys are fond of boll weevils and more of these pests they devour the fewer are left to destroy the cotton. Thus we have an interesting concatenation of events: The weevil eats the cotton, the turkey eats the weevil, the man eats the turkey and in time a large part of the cotton crop actually finds its way into the stomachs of the people.

The Late General John B. Gordon.

General Gordon aroused the pride and retained the love of all ex-confederates as few confederate commanders have done. He seems to have incurred less of personal antagonism, and his part in the war provoked less adverse criticism than that of any of his associates. The feeling toward him in the North, since the subsidence of war passions may be truly described as one of kindly admiration.

No human being, friend or foe, can fail to realize, after a study of his life, that throughout his whole military career he believed he was right and did his best, and that he accepted the result without malice.

He was a born soldier. His success was achieved by inborn military prowess, uneducated, save in the school of experience, in which the pupil became a master. His heart was one in which love was perfect, so fear was driven out from it.—From "Two Great Confederates," by John S. Wise, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for February.

Congratulations

Mr John H. Cullom, Editor of the Garland, Texas, News, has written a letter of congratulations to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as follows: Sixteen years ago when our first child was a baby he was subject to croupy spells and we would be very uneasy about him. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in 1887, and finding it such a reliable remedy for colds and croup we have never been without it in the house since that time. We have five children and have given it to all of them with good results. One good feature of this remedy is that it is not disagreeable to take and our babies really like it. Another is that it is not dangerous, and there is no risk from giving an overdose. I congratulate you upon the success of your remedy." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

Found a Cure For Indigestion

I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for Indigestion and find that they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried and I have used many different remedies. I am 51 years of age and have suffered great deal from indigestion. I can eat almost anything I want now.—George W. Emory, Rock Mills, Ala. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville and R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION.

Have you indigestion, Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will cure you. It has cured thousands. It is curing people every day—every hour. You owe it to yourself to give it a trial. You will continue to suffer until you do try it. There is no other combination of digestants that digest and rebuild at the same time. Kodol does both. Kodol cures, strengthens and rebuilds. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

Sixteen cent cotton! The farmers in our section no longer talk tobacco but, the great increase in the amount of cotton is the general conversation now. We are sure the decrease in the acreage of tobacco will be at least half of previous years. We are afraid so much cotton will be planted it will be almost impossible to house it. One farmer has been heard to say that he would give a dollar per hundred, but what his should be picked out. Such as this is calculated to ruin the farmers next fall. Let the farmers set a price and then pay no more, and the cotton will be picked just as quick as it would at a dollar per hundred.
