Sunday Services.

The usual Sunday schools and morning services will be held in the several churches tomorrow morning.

Sunday night the pastors instead of conducting services in their own churches, will exchange pupils as follows:

Rev. J. A. Hornaday will preach in the Christian church.

Rev. W. E. Powell will preach in the Methodist church.

Rev. F. G. Hartman will preach in the Baptist church.

Rev. A. T. King will preach in the Presbyterian church.

Each minister will discuss the subject, "Temperance and Dispensary." The public is cordially invited to attend these services which begin at 7:30 o'clock.

The Free Will Baptists will hold service in the public school house Sunday, 28th, morning and night. They will hold communion service. All members are requested to be present and all others invited.

Another Gun Spiked.

In reply to a clipping from the North Carolina Christian Advocate of which Rev. H. M. Blair is editor, circulated this week in the interest of open saloons, as opposed to the dispensary in Greenville, we submit to the public the following personal letter to Rev. J. A. Honaday.

"Dear Brother: I regret to learn by your letter just received that bar keepers should attempt to use what I have said with good intent, to the advantage of their cause. I trust you may gain the victory. I am today preparing an editorial which will appear in next week's Advocate, and I send you the advance sheet, so that you may use it and this letter as you may see best. H. M. BLAIR."

THROWING UP EARTHWORKS OF SAND.

Such we denominate an attempt of the barkeepers and their sympathizers in a few places to use what we have had to say against the dispensary, as a campaign document in favor of the open saloon. Whatever we have had to say against the dispensary has been on general principles, and with no thought of giving comfort to the friends of the "saloon." The dispensary is bad, but the open saloon is infinitely worse, and where it becomes necessary to make a choice between the two, there should be no hesitation on the part of Christian men.

The only question is that of expediency in dealing with a traffic that is sapping the very life of the state and nation. We see no reason why, in most communities, under the Wats Law, we should propose to stop at a half-way station in this matter. It is conceded by all real friends of temperance that the dispensary must finally yield to the demands of an enlightened Christian sentiment which will ultimately drive it out. Therefore, where we have a good fighting chance we should array all our forces in a mighty effort to banish the whole business.

There may be some exceptions, but we are of the opinion that in nearly all our towns at present it would be almost as easy to drive out the saloons altogether as to drive the business into a dispensary.

As to any who have attempted to use what we had to say in opposition to dispensary, as in any way favoring the open saloon as a matter of preference, have only to say that they are a set of stupendous hypocrites, and, in keeping with the saloon element in general, would not hesitate at the door of any crime by which to foster their wicked business. Their business is to fill their coffers by taking the advantage of human weakness, and we need not be surprised to find them distorting the utterances of ministers and religious journals to give strength for the time being to a sinking cause. Truly, they would steal the livery of heaven to serve the Devil in. Down with the saloon! If it comes to a choice between the two, take the dispensary a thousand times before the open saloon.

Needs Remedying.

Friday evening the passenger train was four and one half hours late, having been reported only two and one half late. There were passengers who went to the depot at 8 o'clock and had to wait till after ten o'clock, which was very inconvenient to them.

Preparations are under way for the settlement of a colony of more than 2,000 Italians from New York, at Mobile, Ala., on the line of the Southern railway

A LETTER FROM THE MAYOR OF KINSTON.

Kinston N. C. Feb 26, 1904.
Messrs. Thos J. Jarvis, W. H. Ragsdale and F. C. Harding, Committee,
Greenville, North Car.

Dear Sirs:

I am glad to comply with your request for my observations of the conditions in Kinston under the dispensary.

As you know, the Dispensary in this city began business on the 1st day of January, 1904, and we have only seven weeks experience with the new conditions. Personally I am very much gratified at the change that has already been wrought and I am satisfied that the temperance people of the community generally share my views. Its establishment presented a serious proposition for our people, as it does to any community called upon to determine the question without experience as its consequences. But already the improved conditions in the city, and the many advantages of the dispensary system over the saloons have so clearly manifested themselves, that I feel warranted in saying to you that I have no doubt whatever that the dispensary would receive a much larger majority here today than it did at the election in October. Its friends feel that no mistake has been made and that their course will result in lasting good for the community. Many of its earnest opponents criticize wherever it is possible to criticize, but some who doubted and in their doubt did not favor, already see that it was worthy of their support. Sentiment in Kinston is stronger for the dispensary on February 26th, that it was October 27th, the day of the election. Why?

First. Because public drunkenness has been greatly diminished. The mayor's docket speaks this fact; and it is apparent to every one. Drunken crowds no longer block the streets, and ladies may pass along all portions of our main business thoroughfare at all times without shrinking and without hesitation.

Second. Because, one place where intoxicating drinks can be purchased is vastly preferable to saloons, and particularly since that one place is as quiet and orderly as the other sales rooms in the city.

Third, because, those who did not favor the dispensary because of friendship for the saloon keeper was not dependent upon the liquor business for a living. Already they see that those liquor men who are worthy of the patronage of a good community are independent of the liquor business, and within sixty days they see demonstrated the contentions of the advocates of the dispensary that to abolish the saloons will ultimately be to the advantage of the men in the liquor business. Eight of the men who were connected with the saloons here before January 1st, are now engaged in reputable business here, and will receive the patronage which they deserve and, doubtless, will have fair measure of success. The others, preferring to pursue their old vocation, have moved elsewhere. So soon does it appear that the contest was against the saloon not the saloon keeper.

Fourth. Because the revenue derived from the dispensary will hold the burdens of taxation from the tax payer. The receipts of the Kinston dispensary for the first seven weeks of its existence aggregate $7,514.75, and the dispensary commissioners know that the receipts have not reached the permanent average level. The net profit from the dispensary will certainly be not less than 25 per cent of the gross receipts. My estimate is that it will approach 30 per cent. It will thus be seen that the net profits of the Kinston dispensary during 1904 will not be less than $15,000. This, I think, is a very conservative estimate. One half of this amount quarterly will be covered in the town treasury, and the result will be that the entire interest annually accruing on the $150,000 worth of bonds for public improvements which Kinston is now issuing, $100,000 of which were sold yesterday, will be borne by the dispensary, and our people of this generation will under present conditions enjoy these improvements without a penny's tax for installation or for interest on the bonded debt contracted for their construction. In addition, the other half of the net profits will be paid to the Treasurer of the County Board of Education, and, under the per capita basis of apportionment, the Kinston public schools through that channel will receive not less than $2,000 annually, additional, which ultimately will reduce the tax now levied for the conduct of our excellent city school.

But some one will say "I am opposed to money derived from that source." To him let me say, and I can say it with great sympathy for his views, that this is a practical question to be dealt with in a practical way, and if liquor must be sold, then, as some slight compensation for the misery and evil that go with it, let the proceeds incident to its control and distribution, be covered into the public Treasury to lighten the burdens of taxation; and particularly when it is attended, as in Kinston, with the closing of eleven saloons, each of which was levying heavy tribute upon the people, and at the same time making out of the boys of today the drunkards of the next generation of men. The men of today who drink may continue to drink from the dispensary, the drunkards of today may continue from time to time to get drunk from liquor bought from the dispensary, but I am convinced that under the dispensary system, a much smaller per cent of the boys of today will enter into manhood as drunkards. If this is true, could we not make some business sacrifice, if the sacrifice were required?

But, finally, the dispensary is stronger in Kinston today than before the election, because it is already apparent that the fears of those who thought it would hurt business will not materialize. There is no indication here that the volume of business here will be diminished on account of the closed saloons. Business conditions are healthy in Kinston. People continue to come here from distant counties with their produce in large numbers. Never at this season of the year have so many farmers brought tobacco to this market. The tobacco sales during February have been large beyond precedent, and this too, with the knowledge that Kinston had no saloons. The argument that saloons help business is being thoroughly exploded by Kinston's object lesson. I confidently look for a larger volume of business here during 1904 than in any previous year.

In conclusion I bespeak for you success at Greenville. You should not fail. Your people have doubtless heard conflicting reports about Kinston. I desire to say through you, to the temperance people of Greenville, to your business men, and to all lovers of good government and clean, civic administration, that the results, so far, of the operations of Kinston's dispensary appeal strongly to them for a united effort to wrest the whiskey traffic from the hands of individuals, who handle it for their personal interest and frequently without regard whatever for the rights of others, and to place it under governmental control where its evil effects will be reduced to a minimum and when the revenue therefrom will be expended towards the enhancement of the public welfare.

Yours very truly,
N. J. Rouse.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, FEBRUARY 27, 1904.

Some men would not know the truth if they met it in the road.

Some men will have to answer on the day of judgment for the way they vote Wednesday.

It is time some of the men arrayed on the side of the saloons were getting ashamed of their company.

If a man votes for saloons and lives to see his son become a drunkard, he can blame only himself for it.

"The iniquities of the fathers will be visited upon the children," is recorded in Holy Writ. Father, will your vote be for iniquity?

The man who has sons and votes for saloons may, if the saloons win, live to curse the day upon which he voted to give his boys to the saloon.

Late trains and bad weather have interfered with the program of speakings on the dispensary. But sentiment for the dispensary has grown steadily, all the same.

"Father, you made me a drunkard," may be the rebuke of some son to an aged father if the saloons continue their work of ruin in Greenville. Will it be you?

One hundred and fifty one women of the town have earnestly appealed to the men to vote to protect them. What claim to their love, friendship or even respect, can the man have who ruthlessly tramples that appeal under foot?

Did you ever see a father look on the reeling form of a drunken son, and wish from the depths of his heart that son had never seen a whiskey saloon? This may be your picture some day if you vote to continue saloons in Greenville.

QUESTIONS TO YOU.

Did whiskey kill your father? Answer with your vote.

Did whiskey kill your son? Answer with your vote.

Did whiskey kill your brother? Answer with your vote.

Did whiskey cause your father, brother or son to take their own life? Answer with your vote.

Have you a father, son or brother insane with drink? Answer with your vote.

Have you a father, son or brother now bordering on insanity or otherwise incapacitated for the vocations of life, caused by drink, to such an extent that he has become a charge on you or some of your friends? Answer with your vote.

Have you a mother, daughter or sister that have gone to a premature grave of a broken heart after a life of misery and degradation caused by drinking of others? Answer with your vote.

Have you a daughter or sister that is now dragging out a miserable existence with hardly the necessities of life, and that being earned by her own hands, while she is taxed with the support of once a kind and loving husband, now transformed by drink into a brute of the lowest type? Answer with your vote.

Have you a loving daughter or sister now separated from her husband because of the drink habit? Answer with your vote.

Have you sons that have become common criminals by drink and association with drunkards? Answer with your vote.

Are you willing to continue this slaughter of your family and friends to enable a dozen barkeepers to make money? Answer with your vote.

Do not listen to long statistics of liquor dealers as to how liquor affects other places; just take out your pencil and count up the vast number of houses that have hung crape on its door from this cause in Greenville. This is what concerns you most.

Then take question by question and figure up each one separately and see how many good people, now living in Greenville are suffering in some way from this cause. It will startle you.

How many bright young men have you known in Greenville, in all stations of life, whose lives have been wrecked by this cause, bringing sorrow to a host of friends?

Take these questions home with you, study yourself, remembering the sorrows of family and friends, and see if you can line yourself up for a continuance of the evil.

Ask yourself what is your duty in this matter and go down into the deep recesses of your heart for an answer. Do not listen to sophistry, subterfuge or arguments relative to blind tigers, wild figures of taxation, suspension of schools, etc., all of which are an insult to your intelligence, but inform yourself for yourself and vote accordingly. The dispensary people have nothing to gain in this matter except the good of the community, while it is a matter of dollars and cents with the barkeeper. The matter is in YOUR HANDS.

NEWS FROM KINSTON.

There is no better or more reliable man to be found anywhere than L. Harvey, of Kinston. He has just sent to Governor Jarvis the following letter.

Kinston, Feb. 25, 1904.

Hon. T. J. Jarvis,

Greenville, N. C.,

Dear Governor:

I see from the papers that Greenville will vote on dispensary soon. We have had one since the 1st of January and we are well pleased with it. It is all that its friends claimed for it and more. We have had very little drunkenness and our chief of police says that he has very little to do. One estimate now is that it will pay the town from $15,000 to $20,000. Persons who opposed it at election are now strong friends of it.

Very truly yours,

L. HARVEY.

Several local councils in Russia have passed resolutions declaring that a reduction of the acreage which gives a vote is desirable and that women should receive the franchise.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Feb. 27.

Miss Mattie Meeks, of Grindool, is spending the week with Mrs. Debbie Manning.

This terrible sloop, sloop, sloop, sleet, sleet, sleet. We need an accident policy man, bad.

J. R. & R. W. Smith, of Ayden, were here Thursday prospecting. They have purchased a lot on west side of railroad and will build a very large brick store thereon.

P. H. Kittrell and Oel Manning went to Greenville yesterday.

Have all the hens in Pitt county began laying at once? More than 100,000 dozen eggs have been shipped from this point during the past week.

The freights are kept busy hauling brick for Winterville.

Mrs. M. W. Uzzell and children, of Seven Springs, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Cox.

Josh Manning came down Wednesday night to be present at the marriage of his brother.

T. R. Tyndall and bride arrived Wednesday evening and went out in the country to visit friends.

Mrs. Jerry McLawhon, of Hanrahan, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. L. House.

The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. will at an early day erect large brick buildings in which to more conveniently and properly conduct their large manufacturing interest. They have had the idea in view for some time and now that there will be a large coterie of brick masons here on the stores, they will avail themselves of the circumstances.

W. L. Hurst went to Greenville Thursday.

C. H. Langston went to Grainers Thursday night and returned Friday morning.

A pretty home wedding at the home of A. G. Cox, uncle of the bride, on Wednesday evening the 24th, took place when Mr. Earnest Manning and Miss Sudie Beddard were united in marriage. The attendants were Jeter Jackson with Miss Debbie Manning and J. A. Nichols with Miss Dora Cox. Miss Bertha Dawson played the wedding march and Esquire J. M. Blow performed the ceremony. It was indeed a very pleasant occasion. We extend congratulations and wish them a long and happy life.

Since the fire there have been many transfers of real estate here. The best of prices are being paid and everyone seems satisfied. The man that owns a lot finds it hard to keep it, so tempting are the inducements offered him to part with it. Watch us.

Guy Taylor has moved his stock of goods in the new store near the depot. G. A. Kittrell & Co., brokers and commission merchants have a temporary office in the same building.

For several days during the past week there has been some very nice weather and the young ladies at the dormitory have availed themselves of the privilege and opportunity of coming down town on an evening. A whole army. Just think of it, from 35 to 40 strong and they have captured the whole thing, young and old, little and big, yes, even old us, and no wonder for a crowd of prettier girls can be found nowhere. They make the sun shine brighter. Indeed there were two suns and a whole gang of fair lunas. We want the bad weather to go away and these suns and lunas to come again and then we will be content. Possibly this don't interest anybody but ourselves, we don't care. We love pretty things and we are going to talk and write about them and nobody can't help it. We want to see those girls down town again and we don't care who knows it.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church will meet Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Mollie Harris.

RELIEF IN ONE MINUTE. One Minute Cough Cure gives relief in one minute, because it kills the microbe which tickles the mucous membrane, causing the cough and at the same time clears the phlegm, draws out the inflammation and heals and soothes the affected parts. One Minute Cough Cure strengthens the lungs, wards off pneumonia and is a harmless and never failing cure in all curable cases of Coughs, Colds and croup. One Minute Cough Cure is pleasant to take, harmless and good alike for young and old. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

When You Have a Cold. The first action when you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This Remedy liquefies the tough mucus and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration, and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bro. Farmville.

Perfect Confidence. Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis & Bro., Farmville. Charles F. Mayor, former president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, died only a short time ago.

HOW DOES THIS STRIKE YOU

The following letter from The Green & Yarboro Co., dealers in general merchandise, cotton buyers and proprietors of the Louisburg Lumber Co., tells what effect a dispensary is having upon that prosperous and thriving town. Read it.

Louisburg, N. C., Feb. 18, 1904.
Mr. G. E. Harris,
Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir:
Replying to your favor of Feb. 17, will state that the dispensary here has been a good thing for our town and community. From a moral standpoint it is a great improvement on the saloon. While of course whiskey is sold and drunk it is not done so much so by the younger generation. There is a marked contrast of the sobriety of the young men who have come up under the restricted sale of whiskey, and those who were raised while we had saloons. You may say to your business men that it has not damaged the business of this community; on the contrary the business of the town has greatly increased since they had the dispensary. There is not a vacant store in the town, nor dwelling. You may say also to your property holders that the profits of dispensary to the town has decreased our taxes sixty per cent. We think that the dispensary properly managed will add to the prosperity of any town as against the saloon. We hope you will succeed in getting your dispensary. You no doubt have some good men who are opposed to it, but if you get it in less than two years they would not go back to the saloon under any consideration.

Yours very truly,
THE GREEN & YARBORO CO.

Dorothy Dodd SHOES.

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe has that something in beauty and style that means individuality.

It possesses 'style' in the highest degree; it gives distinction to the foot. In the diversity of kinds there are styles for every person from the exquisite evening slipper to the sturdy winter street boot; they all have a light, airy gracefulness peculiarly their own, which is sure to appeal to a woman's eye. "DOROTHY DODD" Shoes Fit, They Fit Perfectly.

Shoes should always fit closely under and about the instep so as to make it impossible for the foot to slip forward and crowd the toes, while the ball and toes should have plenty of room thus giving free play to the foot.

This is exactly what "Dorothy Dodd" shoes do. Our new Spring Styles in oxfords and sandals will be here very shortly.
