The Last Heroic Effort.

Wife, make the last heroic effort tonight with that husband of yours. A change has come over him in the last few days. He is much more inclined to hear you than he was a week ago. He is thinking that after all it may be better to close up the bar rooms. Plead with him for the safety of the boys and the girls. Plead in love, not in anger. Breathe into his very soul a prayer warm with the everlasting love of a mother's heart. Tell him that a vote for the safety of the boy is the boom you ask.

Bulgaria for Russia.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Mar. 1.—Prince Ferdinand is quoted as having intimated in a private conversation that Bulgaria should be an ally of Russia, and should do more to render material assistance to Russia.

Noah Raby Dead.

New Brunswick, N. J. Mar. 1.—Noah Raby, 133 years old, died at Piscataway poor house this morning. He was a remarkable man and retained all his faculties until the end. He was a native of North Carolina.

114 Years Old.

St. Paul, Minn., Mar. 1.—As the result of a fall down stairs, Mrs. Pureheart Wakuly, 114 years of age, lies dead at home in Sharon. She was the oldest woman in Minnesota.

MEN ARE THINKING.

Conditions are forcing men to think. In all great efforts for reform the victory is half won when the conflict reaches that point where men think seriously. We reached this point days ago. Here is the way a certain man thought. He had not rested well. The barroom and the boys got too close together in his thoughts.

FATHER AND SON.

A father was standing in front of his store on Evans street. He turned his eyes to the left and there was an open bar room. He then looked straight across the street and directly in front of him stood the second open bar room. He turned his eyes slightly to the right and there he saw the third with its mirrored screen. His brain was thinking, his eyes were restless. He looked far up the street and he saw his happy home that sheltered a happy wife and a lovely only boy. For a moment he stood in silence while serious thought, were crowding themselves upon each other. He said to himself "I am strong and my boy will grow up strong. I do not go to the barrooms and he will not."

Conscience said "other strong men have had boys who visited the bar rooms and fell. If these barrooms remain open is there not dangers to your boy." At night he went to his home and there mother and boy greeted him. All was peace within his home but not so within his mind. The bar room and the boy were close together in his thoughts and he could not shake them off. To make matters worse his wife said "my dear, are you going to vote to close the barrooms?" He replied "well I do not know I am afraid if we close the barrooms it will hurt business." "Business!" she cried "can you stop to weigh business against the safety of the boy?" The cry of that wife is still ringing in his ears and burning itself into his conscience. He must make his answer on Wednesday. God grant that it may be for the safety of the boy!

Last Appeal From the Ladies.

Men of Greenville, descended as you are from fathers who have never yet turned a deaf ear to the cry of a woman, who on the other hand have always bravely and joyously responded to her requests, who have ever framed it one of life's privileges to thus act, men who yourselves by your many traits of manliness have won our admiration and esteem, we feel that we can with assurance approach you with this our last appeal before the election on Wednesday. We say to you frankly that we believe that ourselves, our homes, our husbands, our brothers and our fathers, and our boys and girls are in danger if the saloons win in this contest. We come now earnestly to you and ask you to come to our rescue. Need we ask you whether you will do so? Have you ever acted otherwise? Would you be the men we take you to be if you did not say: "Saloons shall never win while the ballots are in our hands?" We beseech you to go out and work and cast your ballots against the open saloon. Remember that you have a mother, wife, sister or daughter, either dead or alive, who is now appealing to you to be men who have convictions of right and the courage to vote them. For the sake of all that is dear to home, wife, mother, sister and children, for the sake of all the ties that bind us together as such, for the sake of the vows that you took on the yesterday or in the long ago that you would love, cherish, and protect et., in remembrance of the wishes of a sainted mother, wife, sister or daughter who is now in glory land, we ask you by your votes to banish the saloons from our town. We are standing by you. Will you respond to our call? While you work and vote we will pray and remember you. May none of you either by staying at home and not voting, or voting to retain the saloon cause your mother, wife, sister, or children to bow their heads in sorrow that father, brother, husband or son, did not stand by the womanhood and youth of their town. The matter is now with you. We are willing to trust you. We wait now the result. We think we know what it will be. We could not be true to our feelings in this matter did we not close this our final appeal by assuring each and every man who is indifferent about or opposing this movement, that during the whole of Wednesday, while you are deciding with your ballots this momentous question, some good woman will pray for you personally and individually that God may lead and guide you aright.

STATE NEWS.

Luther Veavey was instantly killed at Durham Hosiery mills on the morning of the 27th by being caught in some shafting.

A five year-old daughter of Aaron Creed, living in Edwardsville, Surry county, was instantly killed on the 27th by a tree falling on her while on her way to the spring.

Probably the largest shipment of manufactured tobacco ever made from a factory to jobbers in the history of the trade left Durham on the 27th. It was a solid train load of Duke's mixture shipped to Sprague, Warren & Co., Chicago.

Mr. Charlie Otter sent to Raleigh to be shipped off with the state's exhibits at the St. Louis exposition, a fine centre table. The table is made of 14 different kinds of wood and contains 2,200 separate pieces.

On the 27th at Milton, Lewis Gee was murdered by being shot in the back by Nelk Phelps. Phelps, who had been drinking, cursed Gee, who knocked him down. Phelps afterwards returned and asked Gee's forgiveness for the remark, saying that he did not blame Gee for having struck him. The men shook hands and Gee turned to walk away. Phelps drew his revolver and shot Gee in the back, inflicting wounds from which he has since died.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 1, 1904.

Hear Us For Our Cause!

"The Ides of March have come." Voters of Greenville; with the setting of to-morrow's sun the die will be cast. The Dispensary will be lost or gained, in that balance hangs your boy and ours. Yes and our daughter, who may become the drunkard's wife, as well. Think of this when you vote to-morrow. Your ballot may tip the scales! That bit of paper may seal our children's destiny for time and eternity. Think of this tonight when you reach your home, and the dear little boy climbs your knee and, wearied with the innocent sports of the day, seeks rest in the strong arms of a father's love. Think of this, when a little later he kneels beside you and prays, "God bless mama and papa, and make me a good little boy, for Jesus' sake."

Will you heap up obstacles in the way of answer to this petition?

Will you, with your vote, cause that boy, the present hope of your life, to reel into that home, in five or ten years from now, the fair young brow flushed, the brain crazed with strong drink, the caressing little hand of today perhaps stained with the blood of a homicide, while the prison doors are opening to receive his coming? Debauchery, Degradation and Ruin!

Think on these things when the bells in the steeples sounding heavenward shall tomorrow ring in your ears, that the women of Greenville, your wives and mothers are kneeling and crying,

"Lord God of Hosts, bewith us yet, Lest they forget! Lest they forget!

We have sent out the Macedonian cry to Kinston, to Louisburg, to Durham, to Raleigh: "Come over and help us." Kinston has answered through her noble Mayor and most distinguished citizens in trumpet tones. Louisburg, Wilson, Durham have responded in no uncertain sound.

Raleigh will speak tonight. Hear the voice from the capital of your state where our laws are made and enforced. But above all; listen to that "still small voice" within, the voice of conscience which cries, "If eating meat makes my brother to offend, I will eat no more meat while the world stands."

Think on these things when you lay your head upon your pillow tonight. Think on these things when you drop your ballot in the box tomorrow, and generations to come will rise up to bless you.

Today we leave our cause in your hands. As you love your children, as you honor womanhood, vote for us and them tomorrow.

The Farmer.

The rich, the poor, the great the small—the farmer he doth feed them all; yet he of all the men we know, of worldly goods makes smallest show. A king uncrowned, that's him dead sure. Though rough his hand, his heart is pure. Aye, he's the boss of the whole camp—of saint and sinner; tough and scamp, and if his fields one year lay fallow, the earth with "stiffs" would be quite mellow. So here's to him who holds the plough—to him we make our grateful bow.—Ocilla Dispatch.

The Durham Sun has celebrated its fifteenth anniversary. The Sun grows brighter in age and is never dull.

A vote for the bar room is a vote to perpetuate a continual temptation and snare for the coming manhood of your town.

Thirty car loads of smoking tobacco, all of one brand and consigned to one jobber, made up a train that left Durham for Chicago the other day. That does not look like Durham is a dead town.

The country loses a man of prominence and influence in the death of A. S. Abell, of the Baltimore Sun, which occurred at his home in Baltimore Sunday. He made the Sun rank among the leading papers of this country.

The contest for a dispensary in Greenville is not against the saloon men, but against the evil business in which they are engaged. Don't let your friendship for individuals stifle your convictions that it is best for the community that the saloon evil be removed. The saloon men can soon engage in other business and it will be best for them in the end.

A man in Philadelphia has just finished a term of two years in the penitentiary and in addition to the stigma resting upon him, is maimed, broken in health and a helpless dependent upon others. All this he brought upon himself by a conspiracy to get money out of a street car company. It seems that he purposely fell in front of a trolley car in such a way as to lose a leg. Two friends who saw what happened, and appeared as witnesses, failed to stand the severe ordeal of the cross examination and revealed the plot. The result is the pitiable wreck described above.

If the dispensary should be defeated in the election in Greenville tomorrow, there is danger of conditions being much worse than they have been with eleven saloons. A new danger is that this town will be the refuge for saloon that have been driven out of other towns. It is said that some ex-saloon men in other towns are waiting the result of the election in Greenville with a view of coming here to engage in the business in case the saloons are permitted to continue. Do our people want this increased danger? If not they should consider the matter before they vote. The result of the election will determine it.

It looks like the pendulum has begun to swing back when grafters in high places who have been robbing the government are brought to book and sentenced to the penitentiary. The conviction of the men of the postal department at Washington who have been receiving bribes is one of the healthiest signs of the times. These men were high up in office and in social standing, but were corrupt and their sins have found them out. All rascals should not only be turned out of office, but as promptly turned into the keeping of the penitentiary authorities.—Morning Post.

WANTED.

Boys to patronize the saloons. I saw this in the paper some days ago, and it has been in my mind since, how much truth there is in this. I have three dear, dear boys, and I am not willing to supply this want. They are bright too, and capable of receiving an education to fill some useful positions, and be a benefit to their country, and I do say I rather resign them to the grave than that they should live to support the saloons. Yet, how are the saloons to be supported without sons and husbands?

Take away the barkeeper's business. This is a fine sacrificing spirit to rather give our sons to support their business than have them (the barkeepers) fill other positions, which all of them are capable of doing. I do not intend to abuse a man because he is a barkeeper (may God bless every kind heart in this world.) It is the business which ensnares our loved ones, which I do heartily abuse. Can anybody blame us, for being opposed to giving our boys to support this business? Our boys who are our hope for the future? Especially when a poor mother has nothing else to hope to lean upon. May God save our boys, I pray.

Several times have I seen a youth stagger home to aged parents, and it filled my heart with pain to imagine the grief and humiliation of this grey haired couple. May God save the youths of our land, for don't we want our daughters to have sober husbands as much as we ourselves want sober sons.

My heart has been full of trouble caused by a loved one giving his share of support to this business. One of these places and its game table caused his dear life to be taken. Yes, taken by the proprietor. I wonder if his life is ever haunted by the memory of that scene. Must the money our fathers, husbands and sons earn go to enrich the sellers of intoxicants, while the poor wives and mothers live on scanty food and ashamed to go in company for the want of nicer looking clothing? No, ten thousand times no. "If we cannot kill the serpent let his fangs be pulled."

I hope all fathers and sons and brothers may vote conscientiously. Do not still your conscience and vote against the dispensary for some benefit to your pocket. Are you willing to sacrifice any one, in whose veins your blood flows, to your interest? Are you willing to sacrifice your own conscience? Or your children.

"Of two evils choose the lesser."
A MOTHER.

Escaped an Awful Feat

Mr. H. Haggins of Melbourne, Fla., writes, "My doctor told me I had Consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by Wooten's Drug Store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis & Bro., Farmville.

Church Notices.

Every church in town will be opened on Wednesday and informal prayer meetings will be held every hour, beginning with a sunrise service in every church.

The church bells will be rung every hour calling the people to prayer. A cordial invitation is extended to all who can possibly attend these meetings. At eleven o'clock it is desired that all the denominations come together in a union prayer service at the Methodist church.

Let everybody who has the cause of temperance at heart come to these services.

LETTER TO J. R. SPIER.

Greenville, N. C.,

Dear Sir: You are interested in the prosperity of your town. You can contribute to it materially, and give it a far more prosperous look at the same time.

Perhaps the public property needs a good coat of paint.

Devoe will supply that coat with two-thirds of the number of gallons required of any other. Devoe will last twice as long as any other. Devoe is all paint and full-measure. Devoe is the strongest paint known. Devoe will take care of the property, in the long run, for half the money required by any other.

The reason is stated above: Devoe is all paint and full-measure; the strongest paint known.

E. D. Jewell, Corry, Pa. painted his house 5 years ago with a mixed paint; took 14 gallons. Last spring he repainted with Devoe; bought 14 gallons and had 4 left. Saved $15 to $20, for painting costs two or three times as much as the paint.

Yours truly

F. W. DEVOE & Co.

P. S. H. L. Carr sells our paint.

Dorothy Dodd SHOES.

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe has that something in beauty and style that means individuality.

It possesses "style" in the highest degree; it gives distinction to the foot. In the diversity of kinds there are styles for every person from the exquisite evening slipper to the sturdy winter street boot; they all have a light, airy gracefulness peculiarly their own, which is sure to appeal to a woman's eye. "DOROTHY DODD" Shoes Fit, They Fit Perfectly.

Shoes should always fit closely under and about the instep so as to make it impossible for the foot to slip forward and crowd the toes, while the ball and toes should have plenty of room thus giving free play to the foot.

This is exactly what "Dorothy Dodd" shoes do.

Our new Spring Styles in oxfords and sandals will be here very shortly.
