GENERAL NEWS.

The Erie flyer, running at 40 miles an hour, crushed into a train of empty Delaware and Hudson coal cars at Simpson, just above Scranton, Pa., at 9:35 on the morning of the 1st, resulting in the partial destruction of two locomotives and the severe injury of three trainmen. All of the passengers were more or less injured, but none are likely to die.

R. P. Matthews, a young sailor attached to the torpedo boat destroyer McDonough, stationed at the naval academy, Annapolis, Ind., was instantly killed by a blow from the fist of quartermaster Snowden, of the same vessel on the night of March 2nd.

Warren Monroe and wife and Ella James, all negroes, were arrested at Meridian, Miss., on March 1st in connection with the recent mail robbery and murder of mail clerk Stockton.

The post office department has been officially informed that the post office at Humphreys, Ark., has been blown up. The St. Louis division of post office inspectors have been asked to make an investigation. The advices to the department give no details of the affair, which press reports attribute to the dissatisfaction with the negro postmaster and his predecessor, also a negro.

West bound passenger train No. 90 on the Atlantic Coast Line was wrecked a short time ago at Alpha, Ga., by running into an open switch. Engineer Potter saw two men at the switch, fooling with it and applied the brakes, but two close to stop his train. The train collided with freight cars on the siding and the engineer, fireman, and porter were injured. The lock on the switch had been broken by the wreckers. An unknown white man has been arrested at Alpha in connection with the matter. Atlantic Coast Line detectives are of the opinion that the wreck grew out of the strike now on.

In Ninth Missouri District.

St. Charles, Mo., Mar. 3.—The Republican congressional convention of the Ninth district met here today and elected delegates and alternates to attend the national convention to be held at Chicago in June. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the administration of President Roosevelt.

American League Meeting.

New York, March 3.—American League baseball for the season of 1904 made its bow today when the magnates of the organization assembled at the Fifth Avenue hotel to discuss the schedule and other matters pertaining to the league's affairs for the coming summer.

Virginia Republicans for Roosevelt.

Richmond, Va., March 3.—The republicans of Virginia, in state convention at Norfolk today, elected delegates to the national convention at Chicago and adopted a resolution endorsing Roosevelt for the nomination.

Congressman Babcock Triumphs.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 3.—Congressman Joseph W. Babcock, chairman of the Republican national congressional committee, was renominated for congress today by the republicans of the Third district. His renomination culminates one of the most interesting fights in the political annals of Wisconsin.

Thirteen Killed Twenty Injured.

New York, March 3.—The building department coroner, district attorney, and the police have all begun investigation this morning for the purpose of placing the blame for the collapse of Hotel Darlington, which in course of construction on 46th street fell yesterday afternoon killing 13 and injuring 20. In addition to the arrest of the foreman, several warrants have been issued by the coroner. No less than eight bodies have been seen in the ruins.

Provision Train Cut Off.

London, March 3.—The Tien Tsin correspondent of the St. James Gazette is authority for the statement that Admiral Alexieff rush the petition of the inhabitants of Eastern Siberia, that a provision train for them be run over Trans Siberian road at intervals. Alexieff said that while he sympathized with the people in their grave crisis, nevertheless everything must give way before army requirements.

Early Dissolution of Parliament.

London, March 3.—The organizers of the liberal party fully expect an early dissolution of the parliament and present government and are preparing for a general election within six weeks. Difficulties of the present weak cabinet expected it to culminate in a disastrous budget within increased national expenditure which will even go beyond record trade 1904. When the election comes the liberals expect a conservative vote to bring a majority of liberal and Irish to over one hundred. In such case it is predicted that King Edward will call on Earl Spencer to form a new ministry; that Port folio foreign affairs be offered Lord Rosebery, should he decline, to Sir Edward. Grey chancellor ex-queer be Hon. Herbert Henry Asquith and Past Lord Chancellor be offered Sir Robt. Reid.

Dispensary Election.

The election held yesterday passed off quietly and with good feeling. Although the battle was earnestly fought upon both sides and the dispensary advocates won by the smallest margin, yet good feeling prevailed upon both sides. Out of a registered vote of 340 there were 327 votes cast and the dispensary was carried by only one majority. The women cannot be too highly praised for the good work done by them, in fact had it not been for the women the result would have been different.

The vote by wards was as follows upon the dispensary question:

FOR DISPENSARY.	VS. DISPENSARY
First Ward	9 17
Second Ward	23 12
Third Ward	42 51
Fourth Ward	59 74
Fifth Ward	30 8
Total	163 162

Upon the question of distilleries the vote was as follows:

FOR DISTILLERY.	VS. DISTILLERY.
First Ward	19 4
Second Ward	14 20
Third Ward	55 29
Fourth Ward	79 43
Fifth Ward	10 21
Total	176 117

Watson Renominated.

Shelbyville, Ind., March 3.—Representative James E. Watson was renominated without opposition today by the republican congressional convention of the sixth district. The convention also named delegates and alternates to the republican national convention.

Died.

Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. M. A. Whichard, in Carolina township, Miss Francis A. E. Whichard breathed her last. She was 75 years of age. For the last few years she had been in declining health, and a few months ago suffered a stroke of paralysis. Deceased was an aunt of the editor of THE REFLECTOR, and was the last member of her father's family. She always made her home with her brother, the late Mr. W. R. Whichard. She was a member of the Primitive Baptist church.

The exercises at the University will be held from May 29th to June 1st inclusive, this year. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Rev. James Isaac Vance, D. D., a distinguished Presbyterian preacher now in charge of a church at Newark, N. J.

Judge Geo. H. Brown, Jr., has decided to hold Chorus C. Jones, of Goldsboro, under a $500 bond for the grand jury of Wane county to investigate his connection with the Jonesboro stolen bonds. He promptly gave the bonds for his appearance at the next term of court in Goldsboro April 18th.

Ex-Governor Russell, who went to Baltimore a short time ago to be treated for a complication of diseases, is in a critical condition from an operation which he has just had performed, one of his kidneys having been removed. The specialists who are attending him hold out hope for his recovery.

Tragedy Averted.

"Just in the nick of time our little boy was saved" writes Mrs. W. Watkins of Pleasant City, Ohio. "Pneumonia had played said havoc with him and a terrible cough set in besides. Doctors treated him, but he grew worse every day. At length we tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and our darling was saved. He's now sound, and well." Everybody ought to know it's the only sure cure for Coughs, Colds and all Lung disease. Guaranteed by Wootens Drug Store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

STATE NEWS.

A company has been testing the Catawba river with a view to dredging it for gold and the reports that it will be a paying proposition.

Representative Williams of Mississippi, introduced a bill extending the same relief to the Baltimore fire sufferers that was extended to Chicago after the great conflagration in that city. The measure provides for a rebate of all duties on imported building materials and remits all internal revenue taxes now due in the burned district.

The Greensboro Female college fire has been adjusted, and, as anticipated, the full amount of the insurance, $35,000, was allowed.

Entered at the post office at Greenville, N. C., as second class matter. Subscription rates: One Year, $3.00; One Month, 25 cents; One Week, 10 cents. Delivered in town by carriers without extra cost. Advertising rates reasonable and can be had on application to the editor or at the office. We desire a live correspondent at every post office in the county, who will send in brief items of news as it occurs. Write plainly, and only on one side of the paper.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 3, 1904.

A GREAT VICTORY.

Such was the result of the dispensary election in Greenville Wednesday. It was indeed a great, a glorious victory.

It was a day of anxiety, a day of work, a day of earnest effort from start to finish.

The women of the reform league had resolved to pray while the men voted. With the rising of the sun the peeling of the church bells called them to the house of God, and every hour thereafter the voice of the bells spoke to the ears and hearts of the men that mother, wife, sister were praying. Some heeded, others scoffed, but the right prevailed.

Greenville has never before seen such an election. With the opening of the polls men began voting, and workers for both sides were present to rally their forces and to enlist all the recruits possible from the undecided. From the very outset it was evident that the contest would be close, that neither side had a man to lose, and the working and voting proceeded throughout the day with commendable quietness and without disorder anywhere. Men were constantly on the go, looking up this one who had not voted, and getting them to the polls.

And so it went all day long, neither side daring to make an advance boast of victory, realizing that a single vote might change the result. When the polls closed those who had kept up with the voting declared that the dispensary had won by a small majority, but it took an actual counting of the votes to definitely determine this. At first it was given out that the official majority for the dispensary was four, but a little later it was discovered that a mistake had reduced this to one. Just one safe majority, but a majority all the same, and enough to seal the fate of the open saloons in Greenville.

With such odds to battle against, it was a glorious victory, and thank God for it!

North Carolina is now subject to an "anti-jug law" that applies to the whole state, the place of delivery of intoxicating liquors being construed to be the place of sale, the effect being that no distillery located in the State can ship intoxicants to any part within the State that has prohibition or dispensary laws, but any distillery in any and all other states of the union can ship anywhere they please in North Carolina without regard to either prohibition or dispensary laws.

Things in breeches actually mocked and laughed in the faces of noble women on their way to and from the churches. Thus they worked in the cause of morality in which they were enlisted. For shame! Unworthy the name of man and a dishonor to mothers who bore them.

The man who said he would not serve a God who answered prayers in behalf a dispensary should hurry to change his cloth and get on the side of Baal. The prayers of Christian women saved the day in Greenville.

DISPENSARY WINS.

Though almost a warm battle the dispensary wins in Greenville. The contest is over, the test has been made and the majority says the saloons must go. There was practically a full vote, and the result so close shows that hard persistent work was done on both sides—quiet but determined, and the people will yield to the voice of the people. The dispensary is now assured—now the matter is in the hands of the town authorities today how it shall be managed. There are some business men on the board, men who have respect for efficiency and success. It is hardly speculative that they will not do the full best for the best interest in making the management what the law contemplates and thereby secure the best results for the town and community. This is a business matter and some business men can make it a success.

It is up to the town authorities. The people have spoken and as every one said he was voting for the best as he understood, let every one give their support for the greatest good and those who differed from patriotic standpoints, will have a fair solution of whether it is best or not.

THE GOOD WOMEN OF GREENVILLE.
GOD BLESS THEM.

Whatever success there may be attendant upon the success of election on yesterday, too much cannot be accorded to the good women of Greenville. "Joan of Arc," was not more efficient, zealous and God given in efforts at the battle of Orleans than were the faithful excellence of the womanhood of Greenville.

Mothers, wives and sisters were uncompromising in their efforts to save the town from the saloon influence and to them we owe a debt. All hail to the Christian women of the town who have been untiring in their efforts to bring about this great reform.

This effort and devotion to right and sobriety, is the heritage of the future men and women of the town. God bless them all.

That Chicago bank that has announced that it will retain no employee who marries on less than $1,000 a year has evidently decided not to subject its employees to temptation. Better than discharging them would be raising the salary to $1,000.

The decision of the Supreme court on the anti-jug law, that the place of delivery is the place of sale, is another victory for temperance reform.

One thing is sure, the women of the town know on which side the different men voted. They will be slow to forget who are their friends.

It looks like it is going to take as much money to make Panama healthy enough to live in as it will to build the canal.

Even though there was but one majority for dispensary, it was a grand, a glorious victory.

AT THE BOTTOM OF HIS LUCK

(Original.)
Out in the golden state of Colorado a prospector sat alone in the shade of a tree reading a letter. His clothes were in tatters, his shoes were minus the principal part of their soles, and of his felt hat there was little left but the brim. He had thrown off his haversack and laid it on the grass beside him. It contained no food, for he had eaten the last morsel that morning for breakfast. But it did contain all the prospector possessed in the world—ten pounds of gunpowder and a magnifying glass. The former he kept to turn up ground, wherein he hoped gold might be hidden; the latter to examine specimens of ore.

This was the letter he read:
Dear Ted—I have had no word from you since your letter a month ago, which was full of despondency. I hope you have done nothing rash. You say Colorado is full of sink holes commemorating blighted hopes. You must remember that there are a few holes commemorative of the realization of wild dreams. There is an old saying, "When you have put your hand to the plow never look back." I am sorry that you felt constrained to undertake a line of work with so great an element of luck in it; but, since you have, stick to what you have undertaken. Don't despair till you have hunted all over the state. Remember that prizes go to the few. The commonplace goes to the many. I have agreed to cast my lot with you, consequently I partake of your condition. I may not have been wise in doing so, but I have "put my hand to the plow, and I'll never look back." Your loving LUCY.

The young man folded the letter and put it in his pocket. "The mistake was in the beginning," he mused. "The old man wouldn't consent to an engagement on my going to work in the regular way because, he said, I would slave all my life, and if success came it would not come for many years. Meanwhile his daughter would be growing old. I resolved to stake all in trying to make money in a hurry, and have lost. But what a splendid indication of character there is in her letter! I have no right to keep her tied down to my hard luck till her beauty is gone, and men, after all, are attracted by beauty and sentiment. There is good stuff in Lucy, and she will make some man a treasure of a wife. Because I can't have her shall I deny her to another? Shall I be a dog in a manger? No. I have resolved what to do, and I'll do it. My clothes shall be found by the river bank. Then, when she gets the news, she'll think of some one else, and there's plenty of them wanting her."

His eye lighting on a bit of earth which looked as if it might contain gold, he took his magnifying glass from his haversack and mechanically examined the specimen, meeting with the usual disappointment. It contained gold, but not in paying quantity. With a sigh he hooked the handle of his magnifying glass on to a twig that lay without the shade to watch, as he had often done before, the concentrated rays of the sun move slowly along the surface of the ground. The strong light illumined the soil, revealing small particles of gold. The sun moved slowly, and the prospector was tired and discouraged. He fell asleep.

He was awakened by the smell of burning cloth. His first act was to clap his hand to his pocket, thinking that he might have placed his pipe, lighted, in it. The pipe was there, but cold. Next, he looked about him. On his haversack was a round spot of bright light cast from the sun through the magnifying glass, and a thin film of smoke indicated that the haversack was burning. Then he remembered the gunpowder.

Several things passed rapidly through the prospector's mind—first and foremost, that he would be blown to atoms; secondly, that a bona fide death would render a sham one necessary; thirdly, that if he escaped being killed a gunpowder sham death would sound more probable than a drowning one; at any rate it would be more original. These three transitions of thought occupied one second—a second of inaction—the next he was on his feet and in two or three more some distance from his haversack kneeling behind a big stone.

He was none too soon. There was an explosion that threw him on his back and he lay for awhile stunned. Then he stood up and viewed a great hole where the explosion had taken place.
"Now," he said lugubriously, "I've got to the bottom of my luck. Ten pounds of good blasting powder, a ragged haversack and a first rate magnifying glass gone up in smoke. Well, it's better to be at the bottom than the top; at the top you're sure to fall, at the bottom you can only rise."

The force of habit led him to examine the hole. Taking up a piece of quartz that had been blown out of it he looked it over. It was a mixture of pure gold and rock in proportions of about half and half. The moment he saw what it was a light of gladness shone in his face. He was transfigured. Then he began to kick dirt and dry leaves into the hole, not stopping till he had covered it. After this he went to the tree under which he had lain and carved his initials, looking carefully about him and taking note of his surroundings. His next move was to wrap his nugget in his ragged coat, and, having taken care of everything, he set off to a town ten miles distant, whence he sent the good news to Lucy. The girl laid the matter before her father, who had some means, and he took the first train for Colorado. Together he and the prospector bought the property on which the discovery had been made, then went east and organized a company to work it.

Such is the origin of the famous "Bottom Luck" mine, one of the richest in the Owl creek district.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Whiskey and Beer Habit

PERMANENTLY CURED BY
"ORRINE,"

A SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS SPECIFIC

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine eats away the stomach lining and stupefies the digestive organs, thus destroying the digestion and ruining the health. No "will power" can heal the inflamed stomach membranes.
"ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, improving the appetite and restoring the health. No sanitarium treatment necessary; "ORRINE" can be taken at your own home without publicity. Can be given secretly if desired.

CURE GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Mrs. E. Wycliff, New York City, writes: "ORRINE" cured my husband, who was a steady drinker for many years. He now has no desire for stimulants, his health is good and he is fully restored to manhood. He used only five boxes of "ORRINE."
Mrs. W. L. D. Helena, Mont., writes: "I have waited one year before writing you of the permanent cure of my son. He took sanitarium treatment, as well as other advertised cures, but they all failed until we gave him "ORRINE." He is now fully restored to health and has no desire for drink."
Mr. A. E. L., Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I was born with a love of whiskey and drank it for thirty-two years. It finally brought me to the gutter, homeless and friendless. I was powerless to resist the craving and would steal and lie to get whiskey. Four boxes of "ORRINE" cured me of all desire and I now hate the smell of liquor."
Price $1 per box. Mailed in plain, sealed wrapper by Orrine Company, 817 14th St., Washington, D. C. Interesting book—Treatment on Drunkenness, (sealed) free on request.

Dorothy Dodd SHOES.

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe has that something in beauty and style that means individuality.

It possesses "style" in the highest degree; it gives distinction to the foot. In the diversity of kinds there are styles for every person from the exquisite evening slipper to the sturdy winter street boot; they all have a light, airy gracefulness peculiarly their own, which is sure to appeal to a woman's eye. "DOROTHY DODD" Shoes Fit, They Fit Perfectly.

Shoes should always fit closely under and about the instep so as to make it impossible for the foot to slip forward and crowd the toes, while the ball and toes should have plenty of room thus giving free play to the foot.

This is exactly what "Dorothy Dodd" shoes do. Our new Spring Styles in oxfords and sandals will be here very shortly.
