STATE NEWS.

Mrs. Arthur L. Miller, who was seriously burned three weeks ago at her home in Charlotte by her clothing being ignited, died on the morning of the 2nd from the effects of her injuries.

Durham is putting up a six story building.

Rocky Mount has an epidemic of measles.

Wilmington is preparing to begin a campaign for a dispensary.

The Atlantic & North Carolina railroad receivership matter will be heard on the 10th.

After about five hours deliberation in the damage suit of C. C. Winston against the city of Raleigh, the jury has awarded Winston $2,200 damages. The city will take an appeal.

The dormitory building and attached buildings of the State Normal College are to be replaced as rapidly as possible. For this purpose the council of the state have authorized the use of $80,000 in addition to the insurance money for this purpose and work on the new building to be erected on the site of the old building, will commence at once and pushed forward so as to have the building ready for use by the beginning of the coming season.

The receipts from all sources in the postoffice at Raleigh for the past month amounted to $14,867.39. In February of 1903 the receipts were $4,310.97, showing an increase for this year of $556.42.

F. A. Council, a prosperous farmer near Apex, stated a day or so ago that his mule was broken out very badly. He had a doctor to examine him, and he pronounced a genuine case of small pox.

Three persons claim to have the fieldglasses that Napoleon used on the field of Waterloo.

Bishop Hartzell Coming Home.

London, March 4.—The Right Rev. Joseph C. Hartzell, missionary bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church to Africa, sailed from Liverpool for New York today on the Celtic. Since he left America a year ago Bishop Hartzell has made a tour of the African missions, extending over a period of nine months, during which he traveled about 30,000 miles. He reports the missionary work in Africa to be making gratifying progress.

Rocky Mount has a $91,000 Fire.

At 11:30 on the night of the 2nd while the moon was shining bright Policeman Sumner discovered a small flame just outside the southeast window in the second story of the Masonic Temple which contains the opera house. He immediately turned in the fire alarm, and the fire company responded promptly, but in spite of their efforts the flames leaped to the scenery behind the stage and the splendid temple which contains the postoffice, Cuthrell Bros. gentleman's furnishing goods store, the Rocky Mount Insurance Agency on the first floor, the opera house on the second floor, and the large halls used by the Masons and other orders on the third floor, was wrapped in flames from bottom to top.

The large two story building, belonging to Taylor and Cuthrell, containing Tyson's shoe store, Cochran's clothing store, Levy Bros. Grocery store and the Rocky Mount Furniture Co. on the first floor and sample rooms, sleeping apartments and Red Men's hall on the second floor then took fire, and the two story brick building of the Bank of Rocky Mount on the north was soon ablaze and burned to the ground.

The second story of the building was used by the Telephone Company as central office.

About the time the fire was gotten under control the second alarm was turned in from the third ward, where fire was discovered in the armory of the Second Regiment band on the second floor of the Sherrod Building on east Railroad street. After heroic efforts this was extinguished with little loss to building. But for the prompt response of the fire company this fire would have been more serious than the first one. The band saved all the instruments, but about 18 or 20 uniforms were entirely consumed.

The loss is estimated at $91,000 with $48,000 insurance.

Losses for Japan.

St. Petersburg, Mar. 4.—A newspaper dispatch from Vladivostok quotes an eye witness of the Port Arthur attack as saying that up to March 1st the Japanese losses were six cruisers and five torpedo boats damaged, and two torpedo boats and one gun boat sunk.

Number of Dead Increases.

New York, Mar. 4.—Fourteen bodies in all have been taken from the ruins of Hotel Darlington. One other body is in sight, making the known dead number fifteen. The police have received an additional list of five missing men, so that it seems reasonably certain that a score of people lost their lives in the disaster.

A heart rending incident occurred this morning at 2 o'clock. Workmen had uncovered and removed the body of Alexander Johnson when they discovered another man under him who was still alive. A beam was lying across his chest. He had been alive under hundreds of tons of debris for thirty eight hours. He was unconscious and died before reaching the hospital.

Turkey Quits Strutting.

Constantinople, Mar. 4.—The Porte has abandoned its high tone with regard to Macedonian reforms, which it adopted after the initial Japanese successes, and now freely makes promises of carrying out the wishes of Russia with regard to the Balkans. This resulted from the fact that Russia, instead of being conciliatory, has in recent communications to the Sultan taken an arrogant and bellicose tone which greatly alarmed his sublime majesty.

Where are the Japs.

London, March 4.—A dispatch from Port Arthur to the Central News, dated yesterday, says the Japanese fleet which has been cruising near there, has not been sighted since Feb. 25, and that there is much speculation regarding the whereabouts of the war vessels.

The dispatch says that workmen have been rushing repairs on the battleships Retzivan and Czarlevitch and the cruiser Halladi which were damaged in the torpedo attack by the Japanese on Feb. 9. All the other vessels damaged are now ready for use.

It is rumored at Port Arthur that General Kuropatkin is now at the head of the army and will make his headquarters at Lian Yang, Manchuria. The weather at the port is now mild and suggestive of spring.

Afraid America Will Help.

St. Petersburg, Mar. 4.—A newspaper discussing the sending of American consuls to Manchuria, says the American attitude in requesting the Chinese Ex-quothers will cause great unpleasantness with Russia. The paper says the sending of these consuls will cause great assistance to Japan. Fortunately the state seige during war time gives Viceroy Alexieff power to save himself. It is thought America has been defeated for the time being, she will bide her time and take renewed measures to cause us serious diplomatic trouble. It is now stated that America has promised to give Japan assistance with ships.

Want a Compromise.

Indianapolis, March 4.—Before the sub scale committee went in session this morning it was learned that neither miners nor operatives were united among themselves on the subject of compromise. It is said the scale committees had previously suggested a compromise, but half of the miners and operatives would not agree with the other half. The effort today is to get both sides together on some sort of compromise.

Money a Plenty Says Russia.

London, Mar. 4.—The Russian financial agent who has just returned from St. Petersburg, declares authoritatively that the report of Russia being in financial straits is without foundation. He says that Russia does not intend to float a loan, as at present no need of it exists. The gold reserve in the state bank is officially stated at ninety-two million pounds.

The government might draw the whole of this, but has forty millions to its own credit and there is no need to go beyond its own current account. In addition to this, government deposits in two London houses alone amounts to two million pounds, while large sums can be drawn from France, Germany and other countries.

ORMANDSVILLE ITEMS.

ORMANDSVILLE, N. C. March 3.

Your correspondent was the recipient a few days ago of a pamphlet, issued by Hon. Walter P. Brownlow, member of congress, from Tennessee, in which he gives a full explanation of the "Brownlow Bill," introduced in the house by him last November. The "Brownlow Bill," appropriates $24,000,000 as national aid for the building and improvement of public roads. The appropriation is available at the rate of $8,000,000 a year for three years, and is to be divided among the states according to their population, except that no state is to receive less than $250,000 of the amount. A like amount must be added by states or counties receiving aid, so that $48,000,000 are to be spent on roads. If this appropriation is distributed according to the population of each state, as the bill provides, we would receive as our pro-rata share, $548,000 and with a like amount added by the state we would have $1,096,000 to be spent on the betterment and improvement of our public roads. We people who live in the country fully realize the importance of such an appropriation and feel that the time has come when national aid is needed.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 4, 1904.

The latest is another proposition to lease.

The jug business has got walking ahead.

Don't monkey with the ground hog. He knows his business.

The situation points to a probable strike among the soft coal miners during this, the campaign year.

The decision of the Supreme court in the anti-jug case will deprive the North Carolina distilleries of a large trade.

THE REFLECTOR makes a prediction—mark it: After the first day of July, 1905, there will not be an open saloon in North Carolina.

The Raleigh News and Observer is fixing to shove up the price of rice, too, by suggesting that it be placed on the army ration list.

Dunn is to have another bank in addition to the one incorporated a few days ago. This is to be a National Bank, and it will be known as the First National Bank of Dunn.

The Porto Ricans want state hood or independence, and, so far as we can see, they are no more likely to get either the one or the other than the average mortal is to get a million of dollars by simply wishing for it.

Mme. Adellna Patti is not the great prima donna she once was, but nevertheless her present "farewell" trip through the United States has netted her $200,000. She is a woman whose part is a valuable asset.

The use of cigarettes among the society women of Chicago "is ever on the increase," says a dispatch. This is probably because they have heard that the society women of New York affect the cigarette and want to keep in the swim.

One thing that seems strange, is that the saloon men in North Carolina have not the foresight to see that the business in which they are engaged is doomed. The sooner they recognize this and set about to establish themselves in other business the better it will be. Trying to combat the rapidly increasing anti-saloon sentiment in this state is simply fighting against the inevitable.

The congress should not hesitate to pass the Gaines bill relieving the farmers of the tax now imposed upon them should they prefer to stem or twist their own product of tobacco. It would entail no loss of revenue, as it would only remove what is now a prohibitive feature. It ought to pass.—Morning Post.

A doubt was raised in the case of a Rochester woman charged with forgery as to whether she meant any harm by it, and she was given the benefit of the doubt and cleared. The presumption is that she moved in the upper circle of society, which is known to be pervaded by the loftiest motives.

Within 30 days, the United States will be in full possession of the panama canal property and the money will have been paid to both the republic of Panama and to the New Panama Canal Co. Attorney general Knox has authorized that the president pay at once to the republic of Panama the $10,000,000 stipulated for by the treaty. He is also authorized to pay the $40,000,000, which, under the agreement, between the United States and that company we are to pay for the property.

I read the other day of four young men riding in a Pullman car chatting merrily together. At last one of them said: 'Boys, I think it's TIME FOR DRINKS.' Two of them consented; the other shook his head and said: 'No, I thank you.' What! exclaimed his companion, 'have you become pious? Are you going to preach? Do you think you will become a missionary?' 'No, fellows,' he replied, 'I am not specially pious, and I may not become a missionary, but I have determined not to drink another drop, and I will tell you why: I had some business in Chicago with an old pawnbroker, and as I stood before his counter talking about it, there came in a young man about my age, and threw down upon the counter a little bundle. When the pawnbroker opened it, he found it was a pair of baby shoes, with the buttons a trifle worn. The old pawnbroker seemed to have some heart left in him, and he said: "Look here, you ought not to sell your baby's shoes for drink." Never mind, Cohen; baby is at home dead and does not need the shoes. Give me ten cents for a drink. Now, fellows, I have a wife and baby at home myself, and when I saw what whiskey could do in degrading that husband and father, I made up my mind that, God helping me, not a drop of that stuff would ever pass my lips again.'—Ex.

Bertillon, the French criminal expert, has discovered a method of making the dead look life-like. There are several political parties in this country that would like to get hold of this medicine.—Durham Sun.

What Miscegenation Means.

One abiding impression of my visit to Cuba was the enduring wisdom of the Southern people in preventing the mongrelization of our society by racial mixture. It is said that 60 per cent of the Cubans are of mixed parentage. If this be a fact it is a source of unending weakness. Nowhere in the world will one come to the conclusion quicker that the separation of the races and necessary to the growth of both. Both races should be given the opportunity to be men and to cultivate the human qualities, but the opportunity should be given separately.—Dr. Edwin A. Aldermen.

A Peculiar Year.

Besides being a leap year 1904 is peculiar in several respects. Christmas will fall on Sunday the first time in six years and spring will be ushered in on Sunday, March 20. Easter Sunday falls on April 3rd, and Good Friday falls on All Fool's Day, April 1. There will be one partial and two total eclipses of the sun, neither visible in North America. For the first time in many years there will be an eclipse of the moon.

A SOFT WORD TURNETH AWAY WRATH

[Original.]
"It is a good many years ago," said a white haired, wrinkled faced man, "that I was an overseer on a southern plantation. The overseer of slaves has so often been pictured as a monster, especially in the character of Legree in 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' that I have seldom admitted that I ever held such a position. The truth is, I was born and brought up in the south under the system of slavery, and to me it was a matter of course. The planter for whom I worked was as kindly a man as ever lived. Our method of punishment I think now and thought then was faulty, but we must remember that in those days flogging was common in the schools and in many families where parents whipped their children."
"One day a strong, lusty negro became insubordinate and refused to work. I ordered him flogged. After his punishment he said to me, 'I'll get even with you for this,' and the look he gave me at the same time convinced me that he would be as good as his word. Many overseers would have had him flogged again and again and then been ready to shoot him at the slightest provocation. On the contrary, I treated him more kindly than ever, though not letting him see that I attached any importance to words uttered under great humiliation."
"Pete—that was the negro's name—tried at various times to kill me, though indirectly. One night I found on turning down my bedclothes a poisonous snake between the sheets. It had doubtless been placed at the foot of the bed, but had not remained there. I suspected Pete of the work, and the next morning, coming upon him suddenly, he was unable to conceal his feelings at seeing me, knowing that his plan had failed. At another time he placed a huge stone over my door so that the door's opening would dislodge the stone. I was struck on the shoulder, which was dislocated, and I was laid up for weeks. Several other attempts were made to kill me in some such fashion, but none of them could I trace to Pete, though I felt fairly sure he had laid the traps. At last I grew so wary that I was always on the watch, and it would have been very difficult for him to catch me. However, after I had discovered a train of gunpowder laid under my bed I told Pete that I understood his purpose and upon another attempt would reveal his doings to his master, have him arrested, and I did not think it would take any court long to send him to prison for a good many years to come. I admit this long suffering was not usual to the overseers of the south. The truth is that when I had seen Pete flogged it occurred to me that if I were in his place I should probably seek revenge. Yet no revenge was open to the slave that would not react on him."
"Meanwhile Pete, who was married, had a son born to him, a bright, woolly headed little pickaninny, who would himself about Pete's revengeful heart. The child made a great change in his father in his relations to all save me. Though I didn't catch Pete in any overt acts toward me after this son's coming, I felt that he hated me more than ever. Besides, his master remarked to me that Pete had shown signs of sulkiness and insubordination toward him."
"Then the master was taken ill and died. When his estate was settled it was found to be insolvent. Most of the negroes were sold at auction, Pete and his wife and child among the number. When it was announced that he and his family were liable to separation Pete became the most desperate looking man I ever saw. He brooded till it seemed as if he would lose his reason. When the sale came on, the auctioneer, failing to get a bid for the three in one lot, began the sale of Pete individually, intending to follow with his wife and child, together if possible, if not, separately."
"Pete, having a bad reputation, did not attract bids and was about to be knocked down to a negro trader when I stepped in and began to bid for him. It was curious to note his expression when he saw what I was about. He apparently supposed that I was trying to buy him for the purpose of revenging myself upon him, and when he was knocked down to me gave me a look which meant plainly, 'Well, we shall see who lives longest.' But when I began to bid for his wife and child he was puzzled. He had evidently thought I had intended to separate them. I was obliged to bid high, but I secured the two, and then Pete gave me another look, this time of relief mingled with bewilderment."
"Pete," I said when the sale was over, "I have leased a small plantation, and you and your wife and family are my first hands to stock it."
"Not long after that the war came on, and I was obliged to leave my plantation to fight for—well, a system I didn't like. I placed everything in Pete's hands. The Yankees came down, and most of the hands left, but Pete and his wife and pickaninny stayed on. The fences were burned for campfires, but Pete rebuilt them. The outhouses were torn down, but Pete gathered the fragments and put them together again. Then came the end of the war, with the abolition of slavery. But Pete would have none of it. He worked for me till the day of his death under the old system and charged his wife and child not to leave me so long as I lived. The wife has gone to join him long ago, but the pickaninny—well, I educated the pickaninny, and he knows the value of freedom as his father never could have known it."
WALTER M. NORWOOD.

Dorothy Dodd SHOES.

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe has that something in beauty and style that means individuality.

It possesses "style" in the highest degree; it gives distinction to the foot. In the diversity of kinds there are styles for every person from the exquisite evening slipper to the sturdy winter street boot; they all have a light, airy gracefulness peculiarly their own, which is sure to appeal to a woman's eye. "DOROTHY DODD" Shoes Fit, They Fit Perfectly.

Shoes should always fit closely under and about the instep so as to make it impossible for the foot to slip forward and crowd the toes, while the ball and toes should have plenty of room thus giving free play to the foot.

This is exactly what "Dorothy Dodd" shoes do. Our new Spring Styles in oxfords and sandals will be ere very shortly.
