WHAT WILL THE SPRING DRESS GOODS BE.

Spring Time Approaches,

Spring time approaches. With it comes a renaissance of Merchandise in all lines that have an adaption to season. This fact has interest for every woman. What will the Spring Dress Goods be?

Just now the scenes of styles are interesting, intensely so.

Human needs create human questions. On one side the public is a vast army of human interrogation points. On the other side this store with its answers is surmountable. It matters not whether the question concerns a real or fancied need. A want is an incessant inquiry. We invite you to investigate and after you have investigated you will buy and buy liberal.

Five O'clock Tea.

Reported for Reflector.]

Elaborate in every feature was the "Five O'clock Tea" given on Tuesday by the most attractive hostess, Mrs. Joseph G. Moye, in honor of her guests, Mrs. O. W. Gold, of Wilson and Mrs. W. O. Howard, of Tarboro.

The decorations were handsome, as well as beautiful. The menu was served in seven courses, and covers laid for sixteen guests. Carnations and ferns were given for souvenirs.

Among those present were Mesdames Thos. J. Jarvis, Harry Skinner, W. A. Bowen, Alfred Forbes, James Fleming, Lula Cleve, Robert Carr, Chas. Laughinghouse, M. A. Allen, Jesse Moye, F. G. James, E. B. Ficklen and M. H. Quinerly.

Service at the County Home.

Rev. W. E. Cox will conduct service and preach at the county home (D. V.) next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Usually the King's Daughters and other Greenville people attend these services for the express purpose of helping with the music, and it is hoped that they will continue to do so. Good singing is an inspiring part of any service, and particularly is this true of a service for the inmates of the county home. Their life is not very bright at best and bright, happy singing will cheer them up and comfort them more than many sermons.

It is safe to say that the audience enjoyed Barlow and Wilson's Minstrels better than any other minstrel entertainment that has appeared in Atlanta for years.—Atlanta Constitution.

No wearers of the green were in evidence here today in honor of St. Patrick.

RECEIVERSHIP ANNULLED.

The Federal Court Dismissed the Receivership of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad.

This morning's Raleigh papers say that Judge Purnell, of the Federal court, will dismiss the receivership of the Atlantic & North Carolina railroad and restore the road to its former control. This action is based on the evidence brought out before Chief Justice Clark at the preliminary trial of Receiver McBee on the charge of conspiracy to damage property belonging to the state. Judge Purnell is quoted as saying:

"If the evidence as to the instigation of the suit, brought out before Chief Justice Clark, as published this morning, is a true statement of the facts, I feel that the Federal court has been imposed upon and am highly indignant."

And thus the big farce comes to a sudden end.

Changed to Greenville.

United States District Attorney Harry Skinner has changed his official headquarters from Raleigh to Greenville. This will give him opportunity to be at home more.

STATE NEWS.

In Lincoln county one man was killed and another probably fatally injured by a falling tree.

A Cabarrus county farmer was held up by two men in the public road and robbed of $200.

Four car loads of material for the North Carolina exhibit at the St. Louis exposition have been shipped and three more are to follow.

Greensboro has organized an independent telephone company and will not submit to the advance rates proposed by the Bell company.

The Chronicle tells of one pine tree in Wilkes from which was cut 13 logs 12 feet long, five logs ten feet long and two logs eight feet long. The smallest log was 24 inches in diameter.

In Anson county the other day a 12-year old negro boy was scrambling about in a high cupboard to get something to eat and accidentally knocked down a gun. The weapon was discharged and killed the boy.

Receiver McBee, who was arrested on the charge of conspiracy, was given a preliminary hearing before Chief Justice Clark, Tuesday, and was bound over to Wake Superior court in the sum of $2,000.

Union Services.

There was another large attendance last night at the union service in the Presbyterian church, and the interest continues to increase. Mr. Hornaday's sermon was excellent and convincing, and when the invitation was given many gathered around the altar for prayers.

This morning the service was conducted by Rev. W. E. Powell. Tonight the service will begin at the usual hour, 7:30.

Self Communion.

I said to my heart in the shadow, A bright day will dawn ere long; On the cloud shall shine out the rainbow

And yoursigh will turn to a song. I said to my soul in its struggle, Some gain shall come out of this strife, Fight on, and leave all to your Maker

He alone knows the problem of life.

LEO ORESTO.

GENERAL NEWS.

The state senate of Mississippi has passed a bill making the anniversary of Jefferson Davis, birthday a legal holiday in that state.

Many Russians are fleeing to America to escape service in the war.

An explosion in a Chicago toy factory caused the death of three persons.

The Seaboard Air Line railroad has executed a mortgage for $75,000,000.

The Battle Ground of the War.

Korea is in many ways similar to Florida, although more mountainous.

The name Yalu means Dragon. It is a beautiful stream. The Yalu is navigable for sixty miles to the village of Chanson.

The mountains, the nature of the rivers and the small size of the river valleys make eastern Korea quite impassible from a military standpoint.

One of the great valleys in the western half of Korea is that of the River Han. At its mouth is the seaport Chemulpo, where the Russian cruisers Variag and Korietz were sunk.

Chemulpo bears the same relation to Korea as Tampa does to Florida. The former is midway down the Korean peninsula on the Yellow Sea coast; the latter is midway down Florida on the Gulf coast.

Western Korea is a very rough country, but it is cut up by large river valleys and near the coast of the Yellow sea there are many level plains. In the north is the strategic Yalu river, the boundary of Korea.

On the western coast of Korea the tides of the Yellow sea are higher than anywhere in the world outside the Bay of Fundy, and while the rivers of eastern Korea are clear streams, that run swiftly from the mountains, those on the western side are great, brown, muddy rivers, up which the thirty-foot ocean tides surge many miles.

The pride of Korea is in the splendid bulls, which stand from thirteen to fourteen and a half bands high and are patient and glossy beyond compare. They are shod as carefully as horses and carry their heavy loads safely, though slowly. The streets of Seoul and other cities are blockaded by these fine animals, and over all the winding roads of the peninsula they are plodding with the produce and the few manufactures of the nation.

Harry Lindley Coming.

The well known and popular comedian Harry Lindley supported by a company of 14 people will be the attraction at the Greenville opera house next Monday and Tuesday, March 21st and 22nd. Harry is an old favorite here and his host of admirers will no doubt be pleased to hear of his coming engagement and give the veteran Southern comedian, a rousing reception on Monday night. The opening play will be "Caught in the Web", one of the most sensational plays of the year. "La-Belle-Marie" will be presented Tuesday night.

The True Situation.

It has been quite clear to our mind that Mr. Bryan, knowing full well that his own nomination for the presidency by the Democratic National convention is an impossibility has been working in the interests of Wm. R. Hearst. He and Hearst are of the same political stripe and Mr. Bryan would feel just as good as if he were president with Hearst in the White House. We were hardly prepared, however, for the statement made in the Greenville, S. C. News this morning by its Washington correspondent to the effect that it cannot be denied that Mr. Bryan is supporting Mr. Hearst for the Democratic nomination and that "it has been said that Bryan is being paid $100,000 a year by Hearst, ostensibly to advance his political interests." This is a very grave charge and our candid opinion is that Mr. Bryan will promptly deny it. That he is a Hearst's worker there can be no doubt, but we do not believe that he has had one of Hearst's barrels rolled into his cellar.—Charlotte Observer.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 17, 1904.

THE NEGRO'S RUIN.

The Charlotte Observer prints a true and touching picture of a negro ruined by coming into the possession of property. A prominent Mecklenburg farmer owned negroes in slavery days. Emancipation made no difference with one family of these negroes and they continued to live with and work for their former master. The old negroes died, and their son continued to abide at the same place. He lived and labored there until he was 50 years old, was contented, happy, bore a good character and a reputation for faithfulness. In course of time the old master died, and in his will this negro was left $200 in cash, a fine farm and a good mule. This sudden affluence of property turned the negro a fool. The habit of industry and faithfulness acquired through his 50 years of toil seemed to vanish as in a night. His first step was to purchase a rubber-tired buggy. Feeling himself so rich and above all the other negroes, he bought various and sundry articles for which he had no use. He got store clothes for himself, and rigged out his family in the loudest style. Work was a thing of the past, and both he and his family just sat around in idleness or splurged.

The end was not long coming. A year was sufficient time for the negro to run through with all available and plaster the farm with as heavy a mortgage as it would carry. He had lost all love and ambition for labor, and the farm was not long going under the hammer. A discontented, dejected, worthless negro was all that remained of his former self.

Come to think about it, by way of comparison, how many negroes are similarly ruined by education? Take a negro away from the laboring class, and in nine cases out of ten he at once gets above himself—he is ruined, and the step to crime is quickly taken. Of course, now and then, there are negroes who are helped by education, but they are the exception.

Since the days of Cashier Dewey several North Carolinians have suddenly dropped out of sight. Not from the same cause, however. This reminds us that after this year's nominating conventions are over some others will not be heard from any more.

The New Bern Journal suggests that if McBee gets in jail there will be a "mullet without a head." Perhaps the old "mullet" can continue to swim without that particular head.

J. H. Tillman, of South Carolina, the man who murdered editor Gonzales, has announced himself as a candidate for Congress. That's cheek.

Since the preliminary trial perhaps the Durham Herald has changed its mind that the state did not expect to make out any case against McBee.

McBee struck a bee when he run up against the state.

The editor of the Watch Tower, the organ of the Disciples church in the eastern part of the state, has resigned because he could not endorse the dispensary, and we do not blame him if he feels that way about it.—Durham Herald.

This is true in part only. The editor in question went out of his way to oppose the dispensary and give assistance to the saloons in an instance where an election was pending to decide the one question of dispensary or open saloons, and for this reason prominent officials and members of the denomination of which the paper he edited, is the state organ demanded his resignation.

That is good news in the Raleigh papers, that the Yarborough house, which has been closed temporarily undergoing repairs and remodeling, has reopened and is now among the best equipped hotels of the South. Raleigh does not get such a hotel before she needed it.

The town of Graham, that has been dry for years, will hold an election April 12th on the question of whether or not whiskey shall be sold there. No doubt the town will stay dry.

Today will determine whether Raleigh or Greensboro gets it. The state executive committee is in session to select the time and place for holding the convention.

Port Arthur abandoned, Port Arthur not abandoned, is the way the war news reads. It is as uncertain as the weather reports.

A decline in cotton futures of about a cent in the last few days has put the bulls to wondering where they are at again.

The Smithfield Herald is climbing up in years as well as usefulness. It is twenty-two years old.

—Atlanta Constitution.

"Do you think the world is getting better or worse?" one young man asked another. "Both," was the reply. "I think the bad of the world if worse than ever before, and its good better. But I think also that if a balance should be struck, the good would outweigh the evil more than in any previous day." If we believe that God is ruling the world, we must believe this also. And, believing this, we will work harder than ever to increase the power and the balance of the good over the evil.—Atlantic Messenger.

Why It Isn't Legal.

In the New York Law school at a recent lecture on the making of wills the case of a woman in one of Rider Haggard's books was cited. This woman had a man's will inscribed in ink on her back. And the will was held regular and legal because it had been made in writing.

After giving this practical illustration the professor called on John Smith, saying:

"Is a will so inscribed regular and legal in your opinion?"

"No," answered Smith.

"Why not?" asked the professor.

"Because it's a skin game," replied Smith.

The professor felt angry enough to order Smith out of the room, but the class laughed so much that he decided to overlook the student's flippancy.

One of Queen Elizabeth's Fads.

England's virgin queen certainly had more than a spice of feminine vanity, and it is on record that one of her little fads was to have every hair on her head kept the same length. It was the duty of her barber to see to this, and for this purpose she received a weekly visit from a worthy man whose pole adorned a modest looking shop in Lombard street. The queen's barber was of course much patronized by the nobility and by all who frequented the court, and no doubt he added to his income by selling the precious snippings of her majesty's hair, for it was his privilege to keep them, and they were of course much in request by her many admirers.

Hardly a Good Risk.

Agent—I see you are busy, and I will not take up very much of your time. I want to talk to you a little while on the subject of life insurance.

Victim—Do you want to insure a man who is a murderer and who may be hanged in a few months?

"Good heavens! Are you a murderer?"

"Not yet, but I may become one very soon if you dodgast agents, don't quit coming in here and bothering me when I am trying to work!" —Kansas City Journal.

The Recipe Habit.

"I think those neighbors are real mean," said Mrs. Bliggins.

"What's the trouble?" asked her husband.

"You know, our Marguerite doesn't get along in her studies very well, and their Mathilde is always at the head of the class."

"What of that?"

"They wouldn't tell me what particular sort of brain producing patent food they give their children." —Washington Star.

How He Went.

When going about officially Lord Wolseley was very particular about appearing in uniform and expected all officers invited to meet him to come similarly attired. Some years ago he arrived at a certain town to inspect the troops, and some people in the neighborhood gave a large dinner party in his honor, to which the principal officers in the garrison were invited. One of these officers told me that when he informed his soldier servant he should dress at a certain hour, as he was going out to dinner, the man at once inquired whether he was going as "an officer or a gentleman." I may add that, as he was invited to meet Lord Wolseley, he went as an officer. —London M. A. P.

A CURE FOR ECZEMA.

My baby had Eczema so bad that its head was a solid mass of scabs, and its hair all come out. I tried many remedies but none seemed to do any good until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The Eczema is cured, the scabs are gone, and the little one's scalp is perfectly clean and healthy, and its hair is growing beautifully again. I cannot give too much praise to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.—Frank Farmer, Bluff City, Ky. In buying Witch Hazel Salve look out for counterfeits. LETTER TO E. B. FICKLEN CO.

Greenville N. C.

Dear Sirs: There are these five ways of badness in paint:

- (1) stuffed out with chalk, or something like that;
 - (2) barytes, better than chalk, but no covering to it; nobody knows it's there;
 - (3) benzine in the oil, or water, or other such stuffing.
 - (4) too thin—too much liquid, whatever it is, for the solid;
 - (5) short measure;
- Now will you buy by the price per "gallon"?

We furnish our agents with a state chemist's certificate of analysis that tells what's in Devoc.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & Co.

Dorothy Dodd SHOES.

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe has that something in beauty and style that means individuality.

It posesses 'style' in the highest degree; it gives distinction to the foot. In the diversity of kinds there are styles for every person from the exquisite evening slipper to the sturdy winter street boot; they all have a light, airy gracefulness peculiarly their own, which is sure to appeal to a woman's eye. "DOROTHY DODD" Shoes Fit, They Fit Perfectly.

Shoes should always fit closely under and about the instep so as to make it impossible for the foot to slip forward and crowd the toes, while the ball and toes should have plenty of room thus giving free play to the foot.

This is exactly what "Dorothy Dodd" shoes do. Our new Spring Styles in oxfords and sandals will be re very sh ooty.
