GOVERNOR JARVIS INTERVIEWED.

He is for Judge Parker. He Gives His Reasons.

THE REFLECTOR asked Governor Jarvis for his views as to the best man for the democrats to nominate at St. Louis for the presidency. He said:

"I have studied the political situations in the nation and have watched the tread of democratic sentiment; and it seems to me that this sentiment points to Judge Parker, of New York, as the democratic nominee for the presidency. I am satisfied it will be the wisest and best nomination that can possibly be made. I came to this conclusion last summer and succeeding events have confirmed me in that conviction. Could Mr. Cleveland be nominated and supported by the party without a sea-sick breach he would certainly be elected, but I regard such a nomination and support next to impossible and I think it better, for party harmony, that all discussion about him as a candidate shall cease.

"The democratic nominee should be as nearly the opposite of Roosevelt as possible.

"The conservative, thoughtful people fear the strenuous Roosevelt. They cannot guess today what caper he may cut up tomorrow. They want a wise, thoughtful, able man at the head of this great nation. They find such a man in Judge Parker. If the party will unite upon him at St. Louis and offer him to the country as the candidate of a united democracy he can be elected.

The fact that he is a great lawyer and not a trained politician cannot be a valid objection. On the contrary it ought to count much in his favor. His training as a lawyer and his career on the Bench as a judge have taught him to weigh, to reason, to study, to compare and to judge wisely. If there ever was a time when we needed a trained thinker with a judicial mind familiar with the fundamental principles of the American system of government, it is now. Where can we better go to find such a man than to the school in which Judge Parker has had his training. His whole life has been given to the study of questions of law and order and government, in the practical affairs of life, and to weigh and judge them by those rules of right and justice without which good government cannot exist. A safer man could not be put at the head of the government or any of its departments. I shall support his candidacy and I would be glad to see our State convention declare for him. I believe it will be the wise thing to do. There is danger that the extremists in the party may have a serious clash at St. Louis. If it shall appear beforehand that these extremists are in a hopeless minority and powerless, their self-interest, if nothing else, may constrain them to yield to the will of the majority without a serious conflict. The democracy of North Carolina may, if it will, do much to bring about this happy result."

would have them. Now what are the existing conditions? The democracy must carry New York in order to win. We may not win with that state. We certainly cannot without it. It therefore behooves us to name a man as our candidate who can carry it. It is but natural to suppose that an eminent, able, popular citizen of that state can poll more votes in it than a citizen of Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi or Texas can do. Practical politics as well as a noble purpose to select a man eminently fitted for the high office suggests the nomination of Judge Parker."

GENERAL NEWS.

The negroes have called a convention to meet at St. Louis in July to organize a new party by the name of "National Civil Liberal Party." It is proposed to nominate a negro candidate for president.

Fourteen negro wagon drivers of a Richmond baggage transfer company refused to work because the company had one white driver employed. All the negroes were discharged and white men put in their places.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

It's very easy for a girl to marry a man if she doesn't want to.

A woman makes an agreement so as to be able to break it if it does not suit her.

It is better for the average girl to imagine even that she can think than she can sing.

Maybe the woman who brags to others about her husband thinks if she could make them believe it she could make herself believe it. It's curious, but a girl is sent to school to be educated to be supported as a wife and a boy to college to be educated to support her.

It's curious how a girl never will worry at all over being knock-kneed, when she will grieve herself almost to death because her hair won't curl.

It's a great comfort to a woman to feel that if she were any prettier than she is it would be almost impossible to keep from breaking up the happy families of her friends.

An old maid ought to be thankful that she doesn't have to sit up in the bed just before daylight and listen to a man explain why he tried to unlace his shoe with a button hook.

It is very unreasonable of a woman to refuse to understand that when a man has been working late in his office and comes home at daylight it isn't queer for him to ask if dinner is ready yet.

Slaughter of Rabbits in Oregon.

"It is worth the trip to see a rabbit drive in eastern Oregon," said J. F. McNaught, of Seattle. "The farmers drove 10,000 rabbits into a space no larger than that lawn at one I saw a few days ago," pointing to the circular lawn in front of the Portland Hotel. "The cannery people pick out the best, cut off their heads with a cleaver and take them away. They do not eat more than 25 per cent of the whole number, but they kill the rest of them and the farmers haul them away and feed them to the hogs."—Portland Oregonian.

The physicians of Pitt county in Convention assembled announce that their Black List will be placed in the hands of the publishers by May 1st. Any one indebted to a physician for medical service had best settle their account prior to this date and avoid being placed upon the list. D-Sw-24 to 1.0

STATE NEWS.

Hippman Kerschner, a young man living near Salisbury, while alighting from a passenger train at Spencer fell under the car and one of his feet was cut off.

A negro church and several houses occupied by negroes, at Rockingham, were destroyed by fire Wednesday night.

The republicans have called their state convention to meet at Greensboro May 18.

Wednesday night the postoffice and a store at Black Creek were broken into by robbers. Nothing was misad from the postoffice, but pistols and jewelry to the value of about $100 disappeared from the store.

The aldermen of Durham have ordered compulsory vaccination because of smallpox in that city.

"What do you think of the propriety of nominating a southern democrat for the presidency?" asked THE REFLECTOR. He answered, "I do not think the question of North or South or of Federal or Confederate ought to enter in the matter at all. It certainly does not with me. I trust and believe the American people have gotten too far away from the war for these questions to seriously affect their votes. But it is my habit when called upon to act in such matters to deal with conditions as I find them and not as I

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, APRIL 1, 1904.

Durham has got it—vaccination.

It is a dull day when Charlotte does not have a sensation.

What kind of a bluff on Teddy are the negroes trying to make by calling a negro convention in St. Louis to nominate a negro candidate for President?

The Wake county grand jury found a true bill on four counts against McBee and Finch, the attempted Atlantic & North Carolina railroad wreckers. The court might give them the receivership of the penitentiary brick yard and see if they can run that.

"Old Batchelor" will not find his letter in THE REFLECTOR because he failed to let the editor know his name. As he has not yet learned that newspapers do not print articles without knowing who they came from, we are not surprised that he has not learned how to get out of the "Old Batchelor's" list.

Judge Peebles has been given a slap in the face by the Lumberton bar. He is scheduled to hold the April term of court, and when the lawyers met to fix the calendar they unanimously declined to arrange the cases and agreed to continue the docket. Judge Peebles' unfairness and partiality in the notable Haywood case at Raleigh put him in much disfavor. The Lumberton lawyers expressed an unwillingness to appear before him.

COTTON ROOT BARK.

RALEIGH, N. C., March, 30, 1904. To the Cotton Growers of North Carolina:

The undersigned has just received a note from the editor of a drug trade journal asking if any cotton root bark is to be obtained in this state. The present wholesale price of cotton root bark in New York is from 15c to 20c per pound.

It is very strange that cotton growers with idle hands during the winter months will permit this most valuable part of the crop to waste in the fields and remain as an encumbrance to the succeeding crop.

It is likely that in most cotton sections the roots now in the field are still salable and a very good thing can be made out of them while waiting for the soil to dry. Those who wish to gather the root bark should first send to the undersigned a sample of one pound of fresh root-bark in order to have its quality tested. For all the good bark offered the undersigned will agree to find a sale.

As the present high price may not continue long those who wish to sell should act promptly.

Samples may be sent by mail at rate of 8c per pound for postage.

GERALD MCCARTHY, Biologist, N. C. Department Agriculture.

All of the wings of the populist party, including the "middle of the road," "both sides of the road," and the "up in the air" variety are to hold a national convention at Annapolis on July 4. It will not be necessary to telegraph ahead for hotel accommodations.—Durham Sun.

The Cotton Crop for Last Year.

The final report of the census bureau on cotton-ginning, showing the total cotton production for 1903, gives the following: Number of commercial bales, including linters, 10,399,558, against 11,275,105 for 1902.

The following table distributed the crop, exclusive of linters: In the United States 10,265,073 commercial 208 round bales, 75,393 Sea Island bales.

The total crop reduced to a common basis as to size of bales is an equivalent of 9,851,159 500-pound bales, as against 10,630,945 500-pound bales in 1902. The number of bales counting round as half bales, including linters, was 10,014,154, against 10,684,743; the equivalent bales of a 500-pound standard, including linters, were 10,405,610, against 10,287,168 in 1902. The square bales upland crop reported from ginneries which aggregated 9,359,472 shows a decrease of 633,103 from 1902; the round bales, upland crop, reported from ginneries, were 770,208, a decrease of 211,056; the bales of Sea Island cotton reported from ginneries were 75,393, a decrease of 29,560, and the bales of linters reported from cotton seed oil mills were 184,485, a decrease of 1,738. These statistics were collected through a canvass of the individual ginneries of the cotton States by 631 local special agents, who found that 30,218 ginneries had been operated for the crop of 1903, compared with 30,948 for 1902.—Washington Dispatch.

Was the Heaviest Man in England.

The death was announced at Dover yesterday of Thomas Longley, whose chief title to fame was that he was the fattest man in this recognition of royalty, and in the jubilee year received a message from Queen Victoria "congratulating her heaviest subject upon his good health." He weighed about 46 stone, and was over 6 feet in height, and measured 71 inches around the chest, 83 inches around the waist and 23 inches around the calf. He was 58 years old. Mr. Longley was the proprietor of the Star Inn at Dover, and up to the time of his death took an active interest in the affairs of the town: Until the last year or two he was a frequent visitor to London. On these occasions he traveled in a special railway carriage, and in going about town he rode in a furniture van, no ordinary vehicle being adequate to accommodate his enormous weight. His death was due to cancer.—London Express.

Wonder what's going to happen next. Science is playing smash. Early in March a surgeon stood with the beating heart of a live man held in his hand. He took stitches in the organ, put it back in the right place, and the man lived on. The operation was one of a series of surgical marvels of the last two or three years through which the heart has ceased to be the one part of the body sacred from the daring knife and needle. And now there is news of the heart massage. The vital organ is exposed and subjected to gentle manipulations which restore its beating. So life returns to persons who have seemed to die. Nor do the newest marvels of surgery stop with operations upon the heart. Within a week there has been announced at a Philadelphia hospital the miracle of splicing nerves. An interrupted telegraphic circuit of the body was remedied, just as a Western Union line is restored to service by the piecing of two wires. The world moves on, and the doctors with it. The one point further for science to go is to demonstrate life itself.—Greensboro Record.

Nothing Equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for Bowel Complaints in Children.

"We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in our family for years," says Mrs. J. B. Cooke, of Netherlands, Texas. "We have given it to all of our children. We have used other medicines for the same purpose, but never found anything to equal Chamberlain's. If you will use it as directed it will always cure." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bro. Farmville.

Robbed The Grave

A startling incident, is narrated by John Olive of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at Wooten's Drug Store.

"I have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets with most satisfactory results," says Mrs. F. L. Phelps, Houston, Texas. For indigestion, biliousness and constipation these tablets are most excellent. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros.
