WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, D. C. April 15, 1904.

The funeral abuses of congress cry loudly for reform. It is now believed that not less than $40,000 will be paid out of the treasury for the burial of Senator Hanna, although he was a millionaire. Congressman Oates, of Alabama in one of his last speeches denounced the habit of sending committees of honor to accompany the remains of deceased senators and representatives to their place of interment, and said "These committees, instead of being genuine mourners, usually take pleasure excursions or junkets at the expense of the public treasury. I never have served on one of them, but I note among the expenditures one funeral which cost $52,000 and another which reached near $80,000." The first of these was made up of the following items: Transportation and burial, $7,380.74; volume of eulogies, $20,000; expense of congress adjourned one day, $20,000; money voted to widow, $5,000; total, $52,380.74.

Congress is not only in the habit of giving $5,000 as a gratuity to the widows of all members who die in service, but of making a corresponding present to the widows and other relatives, of all clerks of congress who die in service. On April 25, 1888, the senate gave $1,296 to Mary A. R. Quimby, sister of the enrolling clerk; and when F. H. Salsbury, another clerk, died $1,095 was given to his family, "to be considered as including funeral expenses and other allowances." And so on for dozens of other clerks. The expense of burying a representative or senator is often sufficient to make any poor family rich. The eulogies of Senator Logan were printed by the government, at a cost of $14,000, exclusive of wrapping; addressing and postage, (some thousand more) and steel engravings costing $500 to $1,000 each. One hundred copies constituted an edition de luxe in morocco and gold for the widow. How does congress dare to inflict such expense upon the American tax-payer?

There is a national convention in this city every day in the round year, comprising people from every state in the Union. Today we fill into the hands of the Knights of Columbus, 10,000 of whom come flocking from every point of the compass to present to the Catholic University here $50,000 to endow a chair of secular history. This is probably the largest check ever drawn, for it is on card board ten feet long and four feet wide, ornate in high colors. The Knights might have stayed at home and by saving expenses have sent a smaller check four times as large, but they wouldn't have seen the capital or had the fun. We see them all coming before it is light, and salute them at sunrise, good morning, good knight.

The horrible accident so our warship Missouri following the loss of the Russian battleship, creates consternation here. It is felt that it resulted from rivalry, to see which gun crew could fire the fastest and that it is only a part of the "strenuous life" whose champion and apostle is in the White House.

A Horsewhip Might Help.

The New York Times notes the case of a young woman who has taken steps to prevent the use of her picture as a magazine advertisement, wherein she is represented in a bathtub with only one arm and her face visible. Nevertheless, this outraged young woman is informed in advance by the Court of Last Resort that the offense of which she complains is not one of which the law can take cognizance, and that she cannot maintain an application for injunction or for damages. In which case she would seem to be justified in resorting to a horsewhip. —Boston Herald.

A Lesson For Wives.

Nothing under heaven cuts the grit from under a man quicker than does discord and unhappiness in his home. Some men, but they are rare exceptions, are strong enough to be something in spite of home troubles. The man whose wife makes an unpleasant home for him knows a good deal about hell long before he dies. And on the other hand a man whose wife makes a pleasant home for him is thrice as long-lived and panopied for life's battles, and heaven will not seem strange to him. —Monroe Enquirer.

A poor excuse is better than none —if it goes with the boss.

Best Cough Medicine for Children

When you buy a cough medicine for small children you want one in which you can place implicit confidence. You want one that not only relieves but cures. You want one that is pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all of these conditions. There is nothing so good for the coughs and colds incident to childhood. It is also a certain preventive and cure for croup, and there is no danger whatever from whooping cough when it is given. It has been used in many epidemics of that disease with perfect success. THEY TOOK TURNS.

There Was a Reason for the Pupils Not Attending Together.

In her "Colonial Memories" Lady Broome gives a vivid picture of New Zealand about the beginning of the last quarter of the nineteenth century. That was before the building of schools and the systematizing of education, in the days when few of the settlers knew even how to read. To remedy this lack Lady Broome started a school—that is, she was at home every evening at 8 o'clock to teach any of the planters who could manage to reach her house over the trackless hills and swamps. Her pupils—only four or five at a time—were big and desperately shy. One gigantic Yorkshireman would only read or attempt to read with his broad back turned to her, and others almost wept over their difficulties. But the following story must be told in her own words:

Some of the incidental difficulties were very absurd. Two men lived in a hut up a lonely and distant river gorge who were among the earliest pupils, and they also came regularly on Sunday to the little afternoon service. But they never came together, and their brand new suit of shepherd's plaid had always a strange effect. First they tried my gravity by invariably stepping up to me with their prayer books to find their places for them and saying loudly each time, "Thank you kindly, mum." I dared not say a word for fear of frightening them away. But one day I ventured to ask why they could not come together, either to the lessons or the service, and was informed that the clothes were the difficulty.

"You see, it's this way, mum: We've only got one suit, and we got it a between size on purpose. Joe, he's too tall, and I'm too short, so I turns it up, and Joe he wears leggin's and such like, and so we makes it do till after shearin'."

A Stuttering Story.

The poet Lamartine, who declined to serve under Louis Philippe, was at one time intensely popular with the Parisians, and in topical plays actors often "got themselves up" to resemble him. One evening when some comedian did this a spectator in the balcony seats rose to vent his enthusiasm. Unluckily he had an impediment in his speech. "Vive la"—he began, but was unable to get further. "Vive la"—he tried again, with a like result. "Vive la reforme!" now suggested a compassionate bourgeois in the stalls. "No, no!" replied the stammerer. "Vive la—la"—"La republique!" called an appreciative pitite. "No, no!" the other repeated desperately. "Vive la—la"—"La revolution!" now thundered a Montagnard among "the gods." "No, no, no!" shouted the balcony man, who had become as red as a turkeycock, and then, making a supreme effort, he managed to articulate, "Vive Lamartine!" whereupon the whole house guffawed.

The physicians of Pitt county in Convention assembled announce that their Black List will be placed in the hands of the publishers by May 1st. Any one indebted to a physician for medical service had best settle their account prior to this date and avoid being placed upon the list. D Sw-24 to 1.

Whiskey and Beer Habit

PERMANENTLY CURED BY

"ORRINE,"

A SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS SPECIFIC

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine eats away the stomach lining and stupefies the digestive organs, thus destroying the digestion and ruining the health. No "will power" can heal the inflamed stomach membranes. "ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, improving the appetite and restoring the health. No sanitarium treatment necessary; "ORRINE" can be taken at your own home without publicity. Can be given secretly if desired.

CURE GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Mrs. E. Wycliff, New York City, writes: "ORRINE cured my husband, who was a steady drunkard for many years. He now has no desire for stimulants, his health is good and he is fully restored to manhood. He used only five boxes of 'ORRINE'."

Mrs. W. L. D. Helena, Mont., writes: "I have waited one year before writing you of the permanent cure of my son. He took sanitarium treatment, as well as other advertised cures, but they all failed until we gave him 'ORRINE'. He is now fully restored to health and has no desire for drink."

Mr. A. E. L. Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I was born with a love of whiskey and drank it for thirty-two years. It finally brought me to the gutter, homeless and friendless. I was powerless to resist the craving and would steal and lie to get whiskey. Four boxes of 'ORRINE' cured me of all desire and I now hate the smell of liquor."

Price $1 per box. Mailed in plain, sealed wrapper by Orrine Company, 817 14th St., Washington, D. C. Interesting book—Treatise on Drunkenness, sealed/free on request. Sold and recommended by MEETING CLOSED.

Best Meeting Held Here in Years.
 The meeting conducted in the Baptist church during the past two weeks by Rev. J. E. Hutson, of Richmond, closed Friday night. It was the best meeting that Greenville has had in many years. There were quite a number of professions, and while the meeting was in progress eighteen people united with the church and others have expressed their purpose to join soon.
 This was the fifth meeting Mr. Hutson has held in Greenville, and he has become very much endeared to the people here. He preaches the gospel plainly and with power. This town is better from his having come here. From Greenville he went to Franklin, Va., to hold a meeting, and after closing there he will return to this state for meetings at Winston-Salem and at Morganton.
