ROUNTREE FOR MAYOR.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Without in the least meaning to reflect upon any one who may be mentioned for mayor of Greenville, for two reasons I want to second the suggestion for that place the name of C. D. Rountree.

1st, Mr. Rountree is as well qualified to discharge the duties of that office as any man in Greenville, and in many respects he possesses superior qualifications. His previous experience as a conservative, cautious, prudent, painstaking business man especially commend him for the work the next mayor of the town will be called upon to discharge. His instinctive knowledge of human nature trained in the right field of experience, his common sense knowledge of the application of law, and his desire above all to do right regardless of consequences, combine to make him from the business man's standpoint an ideal mayor.

2nd. The second reason is purely a sentimental one. The writer is well aware that in the push and press for place at this day, sentiment is a quantity unknown and foreign to the minds of most men, and if the subject of this sketch had nothing to offer to commend him than the fact that he was a brave, true and loyal Confederate soldier, mention of his name for the place would not be made.

This fact is cited here only for the purpose of refreshing the minds of the aldermen elect for the town they will soon have an opportunity of voting for a man who possesses every necessary qualification to discharge the duties of the office, and who in addition to this is one of the few surviving patriots who forty years and more ago answered first from Pitt county his country's call, and in the terrible bloody years that followed he never shirked duty. First from Pitt county to volunteer, he fought through it all, and several months after Lee had surrendered he was paroled by the Federal authorities at Fort Delaware. The heroism, valor and sacrifice of the Confederate soldier should and will for numberless yet unborn generations awaken deep patriotic inspiration, and now while we still have a few of them left among us let us show our appreciation for them while they yet live. Pretty words tenderly spoken, fragrant flowers garlanded into wreaths of loving remembrance are all well enough and in their place for the dead, but a little of these during life often cheers the lonely heart and costs the donor nothing. All things being equal this writer is at all times for the old soldier. His place among us will soon be vacant never more to be filled and while we yet have time let us honor him.

Died.

Little Sadie, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Higgs, died Saturday afternoon at Beaufort, where they carried the child Thursday in the hope of improving its health.

The remains were brought to Greenville Sunday evening and interred in Cherry Hill cemetery immediately after the arrival of the train. Services were conducted at the grave by Rev. J. A. Hornaday. The pall bearers were Messrs. C. T. Munford, J. S. Tunstall, L. M. Savage and Z. P. Vandyke.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Dixon, of Rocky Mount, parents of Mrs. Higgs, accompanied the remains from that point to Greenville.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Higgs sympathize with them in their bereavement.

SILVER WEDDING.

Senator and Mrs. Alex. L. Blow Celebrate Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of Their Marriage.

On Saturday evening at their home on Pitt street Senator and Mrs. Alex. L. Blow celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage.

Their handsome home was decorated in keeping with the happy occasion and was indeed a scene of beauty. The lawn and veranda were lighted with Japanese lanterns. The hall was draped in red and silver, the parlor in white and silver, the sitting room in white, green and silver and the dining room in pink and silver.

There were a large number of callers to extend congratulations and wish them many more happy years.

The guests were received at the front door by Miss Alice M. Blow and Alex. L. Blow, Jr., and in the hall by Mr and Mrs. Richard Williams.

Senator and Mrs. Blow received in the parlor as they stood between two arches, one bearing the figures 1879 and the other 1904. Mrs. Blow was handsomely attired in gray crepe de chine trimmed in white and silver and carried pink carnations. They were assisted in receiving by Gov. and Mrs. T. J. Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Fulford, of Washington, and Mr. and W. H. Dail, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wilson and Mrs. Harry Skinner received in the sitting room, and Mrs. M. D. Higgs, Miss Martha O'Hagan and Mrs. Charles Skinner in the dining-room.

Misses Lottie Blow and Winnie Skinner presided at the punch bowl.

In the sitting room were displayed a large number of beautiful silver presents expressing the esteem of friends.

Greenville has no more popular people than Senator and Mrs. Blow, and it is the wish of all that their wedded life may continue for many years to come as happy as it has been through the first quarter century of their union.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, JUNE 13, 1904.

Raleigh is the centre of a great upheaval of sentiment against the lax divorce laws that prevail in North Carolina. Every section of the state should join the movement to have the divorce laws changed by the next legislature. The law that is now in force is a disgrace to the state.

Double tracking main lines is coming in for consideration by the larger railroad systems to facilitate better and safer handling of their growing business. The Atlantic Coast Line is preparing to double track the portion of its road between Rocky Mount and Elm City. No doubt this double tracking will ultimately extend along the entire main line of the road.

Laurinburg, June 11.—A record-breaking hail-storm fell upon this county yesterday afternoon, beginning about 5 o'clock and continuing an hour. The hailstones were drifted from one to two feet deep and were five to six inches deep on the level. Hail was still on the ground this morning. The growing crops in its path, principally cotton, were totally ruined. Its sweep was some three miles wide, and is known to have been 20 miles in length. The damage cannot be safely estimated. Twenty-five farmers in town today reported their crops either wholly or partially devastated. This disaster covers some of the finest cotton farms in the state.

A Sad Story.

A short distance below Nashville and before reaching Murfreesboro, Tenn., our attention was called to a man standing on the railroad embankment, and a very pathetic story is told concerning his sad life. When he was a young man his mother left him at home to go on a visit to relatives, but was killed in a railroad wreck.

He was told of his mother's terrible death by wire, and the shock caused him to lose his mind. It is said that for 25 years that man has stood at that place every time a train passes, looking for the return of his mother. Disappointment is stamped on the poor fellow's face when the train pulls out and leaves not the tender, loving mother of his youthful days.—Moorsville Enterprise.

Couldn't Stand "The Second."

The Pythians in Asheville are considerably stirred up over a suit of a singular nature, which is thus reported:

On the night of April 4, 1904, District Deputy Grand Chancellor George L. Hackney, of the Knights of Pythias, in company with other Pythians of this section instituted a lodge at Canton. One of the candidates for membership in the order was John Curtis, a lumberman of Haywood county. Curtis had paid $10 initiation fee, had taken his first rank and was almost through with the second when he refused to go any further and demanded his $10 be refunded to him before leaving the hall. Little attention was paid to the demand, as it was thought that Curtis would either drop the matter or conclude taking his rank. Several days after the incident at Canton, and after Mr. Hackney had returned to Asheville, he received a letter in which the writer stated that the $10 must be returned or there would be trouble, but nothing has since been heard of the matter until Friday, when Mr. Hackney was served with a State warrant, charging him with assault on Curtis, and with taking and carrying away and still retaining the sum of $10.

The battleship Kentucky would be a bad ship to get "bottled up" in a harbor by an over audacious enemy. She would pull out her cork screw, open the mouth of the harbor and make the enemy "take water."—Wilmington Star.

A severe windstorm at Whitesburg, Ky., picked up a hive of bees and dashed it through a farm house window. The hive was demolished, and the liberated bees soon made it so uncomfortable for the human occupants of the house that they were compelled to vacate it and rushed out in the storm.

Kansas Stories of a Tornado.

One of the freaks of the McPherson tornado was to lift a barn and carry it away without injuring or disturbing five horses which stood within it on the dirt floor. Another was the flight of a house some distance and its landing upside down without breaking a single window.—Kansas City Journal.

IN THE SUBURBS

"It isn't because I am tired of our flat that I want to live in the suburbs, but the doctor says we both need change," concluded Mrs. Perry Thorne, who was making her first plea for country life. "And, oh, Perry, I know of such a dear cottage, one of a row. Mrs. Smead has one in the same row, and she told me about ours. It is the southwest corner house, while hers is the southeast. Isn't it strange, Perry, that I have never been introduced to Mr. Smead? I wouldn't believe there was any such person if I had not seen him."

"Nothing strange about it," growled Perry, in what his wife called his "bulldog" voice. "I suppose you want to know him because he has the reputation of being a lady killer."

"Perry!" "I am told by fellows we both know that he prides himself on his beauty."

A week later both families were settled in the row which fronted a street and a railroad track and was equidistant from two depots. Mr. Smead did not take as kindly to the change as Perry Thorne did, but he told his wife thoughtlessly that one good feature of suburban life was having the Thornes for neighbors.

"Where have you ever met Mrs. Thorne?" asked his wife suspiciously. "Don't know her from Adam, my dear, but isn't she your friend, and haven't I heard her praises sung ever since we were married?"

"I'm! We have a calling acquaintance, and now that we are to be neighbors I suppose you will meet. But you are so susceptible and she is so giddy I just know you will set people talking."

"Great Caesar, Laura! You give your best friend a great send off. I susceptible and she giddy! We must be made for each other."

Mrs. Smead looked volumes at her handsome husband, but where is the man who does not enjoy being a bone of contention among his women folk, and if Smead had a special and particular virtue it was that of being good natured.

Mrs. Smead, like the woman of history, had two treasures—her sewing machine and her husband—and she drew the line at lending either, and if people wanted to call her selfish they might. Fortified by this law, she rented the southwest cottage.

A great throng of people was hurrying homeward, and all bore the happy burdens of Saturday night—new shoes for the feet of the little burden bearers, a new bonnet for mother, the Sunday dinner—and among them Perry Thorne and Amos Smead, who had struck up a neighbors' acquaintance and were now hastening to the same train, going out to their suburban homes for their first Sabbath of rest. They were both laden to the ears with brown paper packages and had just time to make the train after purchasing their commutation tickets. They went loping through the gates in approved suburban style and caught on just as the train moved out, and then Perry shouted in a voice that sounded above the roar of escaping steam:

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets Better than a Doctor's Prescription.

Mr. J. W. Turner, of Truhart, Va., says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than anything he could get from the doctor. If any physician in this country was able to compound a medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach troubles, biliousness or constipation, his whole time would be used in preparing this one medicine. For sale by Wooten Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis & Bro. Farmville.

For sick headache take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and a quick cure is certain. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. Davis & Bro. Farmville.

Thrown From A Wagon. Mr. George K. Babcock was thrown from his wagon and severely bruised. He applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely and says it is the best liniment he ever used. Mr. Babcock is a well known citizen of North Plain, Conn. There is nothing equal to Pain Balm for sprains and bruises. It will effect a cure in one-third the time required by any other treatment. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

Triumphs of Modern Surgery. Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and live injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bros. Farmville.

BENSONIZER LUNG CURE. NO MORE EXILE FOR CONSUMPTIVES. A Cure at Last Obtained, After a Searching Investigation, by St. Louis Interests. A few months ago the attention of a few scientific and philanthropic gentlemen of St. Louis was directed to an entirely new method of combating that most dreadful of all diseases, tuberculosis, commonly called consumption. Out of 115 test cases, 77 were completely cured and 28 have shown such improvement that their ultimate recovery is but a question of a few weeks.

So astonishing have been the results and absolute cures in cases pronounced incurable by all old methods that a company has been formed and is now prepared to furnish at a normal cost, this cure to all sufferers of the "White Plague." One of its chief features is that patients can remain at home, surrounded by friends and relatives, and in a great many instances, especially the incipient or early stages of the disease, pursue their daily vocations and still become completely cured.

Patients receiving the same treatment here in St. Louis have completely recovered as rapidly as those in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas. The wonderful results in question have been accomplished by the Bensonizer, and the company which controls this marvelous medical device have located their main office at 417 North Seventh street, St. Louis. They have also located a factory on Easton avenue and a laboratory has been built at Hillside, Mo. The cure will be known as the Bensonizer Lung Cure, and Mr. C. P. Benson, the discoverer of the fluid inhalants which are used, will personally answer all communications from sufferers who are unable to make a personal call. From the St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Free booklet on request. BENSONIZER COMPANY, 417-19 N. Seventh St., St. Louis, Mo.

Waited For Himself. One of the latest and best stories of absentmindedness concerns a Pennsylvania professor. Being called out on some urgent matter recently and expecting to be engaged for some hours, he affixed a notice to the door of his private sanctum stating that he would not be back till 3 o'clock in the afternoon. As it happened, he was able to get away earlier and arrived back at his chambers a little before 2 o'clock. Seeing his own notice, which he had quite forgotten, on the door, he read it carefully. When he had thoroughly digested its contents, he took a seat on the stairs and waited patiently until 3 o'clock.

Sued by His Doctor

"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White, of Coachella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Co. Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath that it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, R. L. Davis & Bro. Farmville.

THE ULTRA SHOE.

The salient features of The Ultra are its fine workmanship, excellence of material, desirability of style, and elegance of fit and consequent comfort to the wearer. These form the sine qua non of desirable footwear.

In addition The Ultra is equipped with our patent cushion insole, a device which gives the shoe flexibility and durability, insuring a maximum of ease and comfort to the wearer, and protecting the foot from the ill effect of the hot sidewalks of summer as well as from the dampness of wet weather. This feature alone is well worth the price of the shoe.

We present a wide range in styles and finish, and are able to meet the requirements of the most fastidious as the more conservative patron and we invite a thorough inspection of our line. Ultra in name, Ultra in character, Ultra in every feature that contributes to fit, comfort and style. In finish, material and workmanship we are proud to present to all lovers of good taste in footwear a shoe for which we have never yet had to make an apology.
