BIG PIANO PURCHASE. 50 STIEFFS—BARNAU COLLEGE.

Gainesville, Ga., May 16, 1904
Chas. M. Stieff,
9 Liberty St., Baltimore, Md.
Dear Sir: I beg to enclose you an order properly executed for the purchase of fifty (50) Stieff Pianos, to be delivered at Brenau Conservatory, Gainesville, Ga. This will equip the Conservatory with Stieff Pianos exclusively, with the exception of one Concert Grand which we have on hand.
When I began to investigate pianos with a view of taking out all and putting in an entirely new supply, the Stieff came to my notice. I have studied pianos closely during the last ten years and have purchased ninety instruments in that time. After visiting the factories in a number of cities, I inspected your plant in Baltimore. I felt sure that no factory in the United States was better equipped to produce a strictly high-grade piano than the Stieff factory.
We have had one of your instruments in the Conservatory for one year, and have tested the tone, quality and mechanical construction. After thoroughly testing it for eight or ten hours per day, I have placed an order for fifty new Stieff Pianos. I find the action of this piano in every way desirable to the artist and to the student.
While the cost of your piano is considerably more than I have to pay for others, it has greater merits, and I considered they very best none too good for Brenau Conservatory.
I take pleasure in saying that after we have secured the pianos ordered all of our practice rooms, both for teachers and students, will be supplied with your excellent instruments. Yours very truly,
A. W. VANHOESE.

Rarest display of these artistic pianos now on at Greenville, N. C., direct from the factory at factory prices. Terms to suit.

CHAS. M. STIEFF.

G. G. FINEMAN, Factory Representative.

AYDEN ITEMS.

AYDEN N. C., Sept. 30, 1904.

Miss Dessie McKinnie left Tuesday morning for Baltimore where she will attend the Chasburg college.

Mrs. Beach, of Washington City, who has been visiting Mrs. Charles Summerrell, left here for her home Wednesday.

Mrs. Jesse Cannon has returned home from a visit at Grifton.

Miss Fannie Hardee of Greene county passed through one day this week to visit friends up the road.

Rudolph Croom, of Kinston, was here Tuesday.

Heber Coward, of Greenville, has been visiting to our town.

Ben Sheppard went to and returned from Weldon one day this week.

Mrs. F. F. Brooks, of Kinston, has been visiting her brother, J. F. Barwick, this week.

New goods, new clerks, new cotton and tobacco, with these there is no reason things shouldn't hustle, and they are hustling. Ayden is getting better every day. The longer we stay here the better we like it, and if we stay much longer, we shall grow here.

Elder S. B. Jones, of New Bern, has been here this week.

W. O. Bilbro and wife spent the day in Greenville yesterday.

What a fine time the farmers are having to harvest their crops.

Teet's circus came near making a water haul here. Owing to the smallness of the crowd they did not show in the day, but at night gave an entertainment, pronounced by those who attended, as fairly creditable, considering the price. We couldn't go for we had no kids to carry.

Elder C. C. Bland spent the day in Greenville Wednesday.

Josh Mills is having a very large sales stables built on West Railroad street.

Mrs. Mary Hart and Mrs. Ed Garris spent Tuesday with Mrs. W. F. Hart.

Mrs. Bette Kinsaul has been visiting in Greenville this week.

There has been some few cases of sickness in town, but all are about well and it seems to be remarkably healthy.

We thank our friend W. L. Tucker for a handsome walking cane. It is pretty.

Miss Overton after spending the summer at her old home, Abookie, returned Wednesday evening and will conduct a millinery store at the place formerly occupied by Miss Annie Smith.

Harry Kittrell, of Winterville, had business here Wednesday.

J. J. Edwards has come home from Hookerton after an absence of 8 or 10 days.

Whenever a murder case is carried over from one court to another the common expression is "Money behind the muder and no trial will be the result." Hence so much dissatisfaction at the tardiness of courts.

The Matter En'ed.

Ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis, who was one of the attorneys for the state in the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad matter received a telegram this morning from Raleigh stating that Judge Funnell had decided against making any allowance to Cuyler, Finch and others for attorney fees and expenses. This decision was based on the discretion of the court which makes appeal impossible and brings the matter to a close.

SUPERIOR COURT.

September Term in Session.

The following cases have been disposed of since last report:

John Allen Kinton, assault, fined $25 and costs.

Richard Teel, appeal from Mayor's court, pleads guilty.

John Stancil, carrying concealed weapon, guilty, fined $15 and costs.

John Moore and Cornelius King, affray, guilty, Moore fined $35, King $10.

Joab Cox, assault with deadly weapon, guilty, sentenced 30 days in jail to be assigned to roads.

Zeb Gattin, carrying concealed weapon, not guilty.

Sentence against John W. Carlsen of 12 months in jail was stricken out and judgment suspended over h.m., he having surrendered his stock of liquors under the order of the court.

Court adjourned this afternoon for the term.

Five Persons are Bitten by Mad Cat.

Dr. J. Allison Hodges will today begin to apply the Pasteur treatment at the Hygeia Hospital, in this city, to Mr. J. L. Baldwin and four members of his family from Mangum, N. C., who have recently been bitten by animals that died of hydrophobia.

Three negroes were also bitten but none of them have developed the dread disease, though the white persons come here to take the treatment, as a precaution.

The case is quite an interesting one though the full details could not be secured last night.

A dog in the town was suffering from hydrophobia, and before he could be killed he bit a cat. All these were either killed or died, but not until they had bitten all the persons mentioned above. The family physician of the North Carolina people accompanied them here, and will be with them during their treatment. Dr. Hodges will have them in direct charge.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Under Guard.

The man Ed Weatherington, who came in town some days ago with a case of smallpox, was here again Thursday. The county superintendent of health at once notified the mayor who called a special meeting of the board of aldermen and provision was made to detain Weatherington until arrangement can be made for a pest house. He will not be allowed to go at large.

They are Hustlers

Parham's warehouse has hustling men behind it and is selling large quantities of tobacco. The farmers know that when they go to Parham's with their tobacco every effort will be made to make it bring the very highest prices. This is the kind of work that counts. Ltd sw

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight, cooler in western portion. Saturday fair cooler in the interior.

Some people are more discouraged by the success of others than by their own failures.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, SEPTEMBER 30, 1904.

There is no need of any alarm because a man with a case of small-pox wandered in town. It will be properly looked after.

Rev. Dr. A. J. McKelway, who for the past year has been on the editorial staff of the Charlotte News, has resigned his position to take other employment.

Rev. Dr. Strange, bishop coadjutor-elect of the diocese of East Carolina, before a large audience in St. Thomas Protestant Episcopal church, New York, declared that the one set factor in any real and practical solution of the negro problem was the entire separation of the races in social, scholastic, religious and domestic affairs.

Some days ago we published two squibs as follows:

"Beards must be growing unpopular when men go four or five times a day to get a shave."

"Query—We have been requested to ask the question, what sort of combination does a blind tiger and a tonsorial establishment make?"

We are informed that Mr. S. J. Nobles feels aggrieved at this publication and he requests us to say if the squibs referred to him. We say they did not. We have no evidence that Mr. Nobles has engaged in any illegal sale of liquor and we do not charge it.

We were wondering the other day what had become of Colonel Harry Skinner and we are interested to learn that he is still in the middle of the road. At Greenville, recently, he made a speech in which he charged that taxes in Pitt county are twice as high at present under the Democratic rule as they were when the fusionists were in control several years ago. The Greenville REFLECTOR tells Colonel Skinner that "when his crowd had control of Pitt county, the poll-tax was two dollars, against one dollar and ninety-two cents this year, and the tax on property was in the same proportion." Put this aside. What we wanted to say is that we are glad to know that Colonel Skinner is still an humble plodder in the Populist ranks and has not yet become one of the plutocrats. —Charlotte Chronicle.

Your felicitations are a little misplaced, brother Chronicle. You seem to overlook the fact that the Colonel is holding down the job of United States district attorney. His purpose in the Populists convention was to spring a nicely planned trap to catch them for the Republicans, and his failure at that time was quite amusing.

We want to call the attention of Confederate veterans to the fact that not a penny has ever been appropriated for them in this State except by authority of democratic legislation. The last legislature appropriated the handsome sum of $200,000 a year for pensions to Confederate soldiers, and since 1885, when they made the first appropriation for this purpose, they have paid the veterans the munificent amount of $1,685,000. If the Republican party is a friend to the old soldiers it has never shown it. The only Confederate soldiers to whom they have given liberal pensions are those who deserted their colors in a pressing time of need and entered the Union army to fight against their own section and their own kin. —Concord Times.

There is considerably copied and commented upon, a recent article from the Sanford Express to the effect that "a man who recently moved to this place to put his children in the cotton mill, was asked the other day if he wouldn't send his children to school. 'No,' said he, 'I took care of my children when they were small; now they must support me.'" People who have read of the "vampire parent" without knowing exactly what was meant by them, can gather a perfectly clear idea from the narrative of this incident. This gentleman is a vampire parent right down to the ground. His young children must support him, which support includes all the whiskey he can drink, along with the other necessities of life. Every mother's son of them ought to be breaking rock on the roads. —Charlotte Observer.

"People on the other side of the Atlantic," says a contemporary, "are said to be almost unanimously in favor of Roosevelt's election." That is because they are on the other side of the Atlantic. —Charlotte Observer

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Clebourne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some souse meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Cholera, Colera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store.

A weak stomach weakens the man, because it cannot transform the food he eats into nourishment. Health and strength cannot be restored to any sick man or weak woman without first restoring health and strength to the stomach. A weak stomach cannot digest enough food to feed the tissue and revive the tired and run down limbs and organs of the body. Kodol Dyspepsia cure digests what you eat, cleanses and strengthens the glands and membranes of the stomach, and cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

A Power For Good

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than calomel, blue mass or any other pill I ever took and at the same time the effect was pleasant. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by Wooten's Drug Store.

BENSONIZER LUNG CURE

NO MORE EXILE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

A Cure at Last Obtained, After a Searching Investigation, by St. Louis Interests.

A few months ago the attention of a few scientific and philanthropic gentlemen of St. Louis was directed to an entirely new method of combating that most dreadful of all diseases, tuberculosis, commonly called consumption. Out of 115 test cases, 77 were completely cured and 28 have shown such improvement that their ultimate recovery is but a question of a few weeks.

So astonishing have been the results and absolute cures in cases pronounced incurable by all old methods that a company has been formed and is now prepared to furnish at a normal cost this cure to all sufferers of the "White Plague." One of its chief features is that patients can remain at home, surrounded by friends and relatives, and in a great many instances, especially the incipient or early stages of the disease, pursue their daily vocations and still become completely cured.

Patients receiving the same treatment here in St. Louis have completely recovered as rapidly as those in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas. The wonderful results in question have been accomplished by the Bensonizer, and the company which controls this marvelous medical device have located their main office at 417 North Seventh street, St. Louis. They have also located a factory on Easton avenue and a laboratory has been built at Hillside, Mo. The cure will be known as the Bensonizer Lung Cure, and Mr. C. P. Benson, the discoverer of the fluid inhalants which are used, will personally have charge of the affairs of the company. Mr. Benson will personally meet all who call at the office of the company on Seventh street, and will answer all communications from sufferers who are unable to make a personal call.—From the St. Louis Globe Democrat.

HOW JACK PROPOSED

"It's no use," said Jack, throwing himself into my most comfortable easy chair and looking the picture of misery. "It's not a bit of use!"

"What isn't?" I asked.

"Trying to propose to her," replied Jack.

"Why isn't it?"

"Because I can't!" moaned, or rather howled, the poor boy, savagely kicking my waste paper basket over.

"Why can't you?"

"The fact is," said Jack, sitting down again and assuming a sepulchral tone, "if I don't bring it off I'll—"

"What?"

"I'll die of felo-de-se."

Here was my dear chum, six months since the brightest, happiest, merriest fellow in London, deeply in love with a young person called Cissy (I don't to this day know her other name; Jack never mentioned it), and in the depths of despair because he couldn't "bring it off," if I may use his own terse phraseology. We held conversations of this sort about six times a day on an average, but never before had he threatened to—

"It shall be either by pistol or rope," growled Jack hoarsely, and for the moment I believe he was thoroughly in earnest.

I thought I'd try the cynical, man of the world method and scoff him out of his foolishness, so I said:

"Fancy being knocked over in this way by a puling girl, a weak, silly creature, who isn't even a new woman!"

Jack was all on fire in a moment.

"She's not a weak, puling, silly creature, and she is a new woman," he shouted, forgetting for the nonce that it is not altogether a desirable thing to be in love with that feminine novelty. "So now!"

(Parenthetically I may ask, Why is it that people always end up de-fiances of this kind with those mystic words, "So now." Why is it?)

"Jack," I said, "write to her."

"Splendid idea!" said Jack, who had been thinking of different ways of proposing for six months and now hailed that of doing it by post as an entirely new and original idea. "Here goes, and thanks awfully, old chap, for giving me the tip."

Seizing quite a quire of note paper Jack scribbled and tore up about a dozen proposals in writing. Then he turned round, almost crying, and said that he couldn't do it that way, and he wouldn't, and he'd hang himself, and perhaps then she'd be sorry, and—and—and—why was he born?

"My dear boy," I said, laying my hand on his shoulder in the most fatherly way imaginable, "let's talk over the matter quietly. Now, suppose I propose for you?"

"No," said Jack. "She'd think I was afraid to ask her myself and refuse me on the spot. No. I won't write, and I won't do it by proxy. Isn't there some other way? Why don't you suggest something, you great, long idiot, instead of sitting there and grinning all night?"

Now, I wasn't grinning, and I had been suggesting things all the time, so naturally I felt much hurt. I therefore curled up and was silent.

For some time Jack smoked savagely without speaking a word. After about twenty minutes of this he laid down his pipe and began in a very apologetic tone:

"I say,"

"Well?"

"Can't you think of any other way of proposing?"

"Wear a flower which means 'I love you.' A pansy or crocus or something. Then, if she wants you, she'll wear one meaning, 'Your sentiments are reciprocated.'"

"Don't think much of that way," said Jack. "Know any other?"

Now, I have never been in love in my life and never intend to be, and so I found it rather hard to give Jack advice. However, I racked my brains and at length evolved this startling method:

"Propose to her through her father!"

"Oh, you hopeless mass of imbecility!" yelled Jack, bouncing up and grabbing his hat. "How am I to do that when she hasn't got a father?"

And he flung himself out of the room in a towering passion and did not come near me again for quite a period. Well, how was I to know that the wretched girl hadn't a father? Was I expected to keep a register of all the births, deaths, marriages and divorces which occurred in those families which contained girls Jack was in love with? No, thank you. I had not quite come down to earning my living by being a love register.

Well, you will no doubt want to hear how Jack really did propose. In telling you I must give you plainly to understand that I am only repeating what Jack told me. I was not an eyewitness of the heartrending scene. It was like this:

I was sitting one afternoon trying to find instances of men marrying their mothers-in-law (I never came across one who did yet), under an encyclopedia heading called "Matrimonial Madness, Types of," when Jack suddenly burst into the room with his face all aglow with delight.

"I've done it!" he shouted.

I shut up the encyclopedia with a bang. No need to go on looking for types of matrimonial madness when I had one in front of me, I thought.

"How?" I asked coldly. "How did you do it?"

My manner did not damp him in the least.

"I did it—this very afternoon, and I'll tell you all about it."

He sat down close to me, breathing very hard, and commenced:

"You must know that Cissy told me last night that she was going down to Devonshire today to stay with her aunt. You can bet I felt cut up. Well, after some hesitation, I asked her whether she would allow me to see her off at Paddington. She demurred a little and then said 'Yes.' You can't think what a pretty way she has of saying 'Yes.' Well—don't be impatient, I'm coming to it—you may feel pretty sure that I was at Paddington an hour before she drove up. And when she did arrive you can imagine how I looked after her, and got her ticket, and saw that her boxes were labeled, and bought her all the illustrated papers and a luncheon basket, and told the guard to keep an eye on her, and all that sort of thing.

"She was so awfully nice that I almost went crazy when I thought of her being away for a month, all among a lot of other beggars. Well, she took her seat, and I tipped the guard to lock the door and not let any one else in. I wanted to have that last five minutes all to myself, you see?"

"So she made herself comfortable and told me I looked awfully red, and judging by my feelings I should think I looked quite purple. Well—don't be in a hurry—the guard whistled and called, 'Stand away, please!' and the train began to move slowly out of the station. Just to say 'Goodbye' I got on the footboard and put my hand in at the window. I had said 'Goodbye' twelve times already, and she looked so pretty and all that that I suddenly screwed up my courage and said:

"Cissy, will you?"

"The guard called out, 'Stand away, please, there!' but I kept on the footboard, and Cissy said: 'Oh, get off, please. You'll be hurt.'"

"The train was going faster by this time, but I stuck there and yelled out: 'Will you? Will you?'"

"She looked awfully scared—all the porters and guards and passengers were shouting at me by this time—and said: 'Oh, do get off. Will I what?'"

"We were almost at the end of the platform now, but I still held on, and said: 'Will you? Will you? You know what I mean.'"

"She blushed awfully and said: 'Pray—pray get off! Oh, what do you mean? Will I what? Do get off!'"

"We were just at the end of the platform now, but I was determined not to get off.

"Will you? You know, will you?"

"What?"

"Marry me?"

"There were about 150 porters rushing up the platform to pull me off, but I still hung on and waited for her answer. She looked at me most imploringly and said:

"Do get off, dear Jack, do!"

"I shouted out: 'Will you? Say?'"

"And she answered, 'Yes.'"

"I jumped off just as we got outside the station, fell down, and two porters snatched me out of harm's way. I gave them a sovereign each and took a cab here to tell you about it."

"In the event of her refusing to marry you," I said in my best legal manner, "you will not be entitled to any damages for breach of promise, as the defendant's assent was obtained under compulsion."

But Jack didn't care in the least for my law.

The sickening part of it was that the girl really was in love with him and had been waiting for him to ask her quite as long as he had been hesitating.

They committed the fatal act the other day and have gone to Nice for the honeymoon. Bah!

Suitable Name For It.

The artist was of the impressionist school. He had just given the last touches to a purple and blue canvas when his wife came into his studio.

"My dear," said he, "this is the landscape I wanted you to suggest a title for."

"Why not call it 'Home?'" she said after a long look.

"Home? Why?"

"Because there's no place like it," she replied meekly.

From 148 to 92 Pounds

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down down in weight from 148 to 92 lbs. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

What's in a Name

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases, DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's, the genuine. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

Let us speak of man as we find him, And censure only what we can see, Remembering that no one can be perfect, Unless he uses Rocky Mountain Tea.

Greenville's Great Department Store

THREE times a day you sit down with your China and Glass. That is the best we can think of for having plenty and for having it dainty and attractive.

There is a saying that "Appetite oft bred on dainty China," and if this should prove true in your case and you not be able to fill the vacuum, just call in our Grocery Department where the very best is kept for the inner man, and if you should eat too much (and we expect you will if you buy our Groceries) examine our immense Furniture Department where you will find Conches, Lounges, Beds, Chairs, &c., on which you can rest until you are cured of the Gout. If you don't believe this call on
