FAY STOCKINGS

TRADE WITH A STORE That you have faith in.

The ethics of retailing have changed vastly in recent years, despite the old methods. This store well remembers the first axiom of salesmanship expressed to him twelve year ago when it was being initiated into commercial life. The highest salesmanship in those days was expressed in these words:

"Any body can sell a customer what they want—the smart salesman can sell them what they don't want."

That day has passed; the modern store has reserved the old method; to-day the shrewd retailer follows the lines of least resistance. Instead of buying whatever merchandise offers, and depending on smart salesmanship to get rid of it, he follows the law that exists at

Visit of Bishop Strange.

Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, D. D. bishop coadjutor of the Diocese of Eastern North Carolina, made his first visit to St. Paul's parish, Greenville, on Sunday and preached both morning and evening. The church was filled to overflowing at both services and our people were delighted with Bishop Strange. His sermons were magnificent and delivered with force and eloquence. At the evening service a class of three young ladies received the rite of confirmation and the ceremony was most impressive.

STATE NEWS

B. Bringhaus, one of the most prominent business men of Elizabeth City, committed suicide, Friday, by drinking carbolic acid.

H. W. Brooks, a wealthy New Yorker who was hunting in Chatham county, accidentally shot himself Friday. Both barrels of his gun were discharged, the loads entering his left side and passing through the body.

Two Guilford county boys went out together to hunt squirrels. One boy was trying to climb a tree and the other was pushing him up with the butt of his gun. The boy slipped back, his foot struck the trigger, the gun discharged and his companion was killed.

Livingstone Johnson, corresponding secretary of the Baptist state convention, read at the session in Elizabeth City, shows there has been a gain of 23 churches and a net gain in membership of 4,779 during the year. Farmers' Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting of the farmers of Pitt county is called to meet at the court house in Greenville on Saturday the 17th inst to discuss the present low prices at which cotton is now selling and to devise some way by which the farmers can procure better prices for the remainder of the crop.

The farmers of Georgia, Texas and all of the cotton growing states are taking similar action.

Let every farmer in the county who desires to see cotton bring better prices attend this meeting.

Can Afford to Wait.

The farmer who has plenty of hog and hominy can afford to hold his cotton. A farmer who was recently in town with a load of fresh pork, said he brought the pigs along to sell for enough to pay his taxes, as he had not yet sold a pound of his last cotton or tobacco crops. And he says he is not going to sell until the price suits him.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, DECEMBER 12, 1904

The anti-holiday disorderliness has set in early.

Mrs. Chadwick will have a merry time suing all the papers that have published her financial papers.

If all things told about Mrs. Chadwick are true it is a wonder that she did not get in jail sooner.

The paper that found Dewey did not create as much stir as the paper that Dewey found and made away with.

The excellent financial condition of the affairs of state in North Carolina show the difference between Democratic and Republican rule.

They say President Roosevelt is planning to come to North Carolina with Judge Pritchard to take a bear hunt. The bears had better go in their hole.

The Charlotte News is sixteen years old. It has had a brilliant career and its success has been remarkable. The News is an excellent paper, ably edited, serves its patrons well and richly deserves all the success that comes to it.

If we were asked to name the class of people that are capable of doing the most good to the country, and are doing the most good, we would unhesitatingly name the public school teachers, and yet there is no class of people more abused and criticised.—Clarkton Express.

President Roosevelt's fourth annual message has the fault of most of his State papers. It is much too long and much too prolix. The President has discussed pretty nearly everything in the heavens above, the earth beneath and the waters under the earth—except the tariff.—New York World.

The Winston Sentinel says a firm of wagon manufacturers of that town some months ago offered a new wagon as a prize to the Forsyth farmer who would raise the largest amount of corn on one acre. Mr. Junius Spens, of Vienna township, Forsyth county, raised 95 bushels and 33 pounds on one acre, and he is expected to get the prize. The same farmer also gathered 700 bushels from 12 acres.

As Solomon said, "there is a time for everything under the sun," and then he proceeded to specify. If he had lived in this part of the country in our day he would have said "There is a time to sell cotton and a time to hold it." The time to sell is when cotton is high and the time to hold is when it is low; but there are people in North Carolina who reverse the rule in practice. Strange, isn't it? But it is true.—Raleigh Post.

New York is trying to get theaters to cut down the price of admission and some paper suggests that more money could be made by making the price lower all over the country. What would beat this two in the game would be to kill about half the shows that come down this way before they get a chance to show. A performance that is not worth a dollar is not worth anything. The trouble is that those worth nothing charge as much as those of merit.—Greensboro Record.

There is a man in Iowa who is credited with having added $30,000,000 to the wealth of that state during the past year—Prof. Holden, of the Iowa Agricultural College. He traveled thousands of miles all over the state, lecturing to farmers, and showing them how to increase their corn from 27 bushels to the acre to 40 bushels. And the harvest justifies his claim. The farmers listened to him gladly, and have added 100,000,000 bushels to the customary yield of the state. All this was done by selecting the best seed, and following scientific methods of tillage.—Durham Sun.

Circuses Point the Way.

The circuses depend for their very existence on advertising. Therefore, the fact that the proprietors of the two largest circus shows in the country have agreed to cut down window and billboard poster displays to a minimum and put the money thus saved into newspaper advertising is a pointer that no man who solicits the patronage of the public can afford to overlook. It is an infallible indication that the newspaper is the best medium of publicity.—Wilmington Dispatch.

Director John P. Kerr is making a determined effort to have the penitentiary board establish a reformatory for young criminals, using the surplus funds from the State's prison for that purpose. That appears to be an excellent idea. There is something repulsive about a State making money out of its criminals, and this use of funds accruing from their labor seems to be most appropriate. The fact that there is opposition to the plan on the part of members of the board is to be regretted, for the State certainly needs a place for its youthful criminals, and a direct appropriation by the Legislature for such a purpose is indeed doubtful.—Charlotte Observer.

A gentleman who came in on the N. and W. train this afternoon from Roanoke related a rather peculiar story which he said was being told at the station in Roanoke this morning. According to the story a well-to-do merchant of that city reported to the police that parties were breaking in his store at night. The officers were requested to watch his place of business. Last night an officer was on guard when the merchant was discovered breaking the glass in his store door. When the policeman called to the man to stop, the merchant turned around and fired upon the officer, the ball striking a rib near the heart. The wound is said to be a serious one, but the attending physician believes that the man will recover. The merchant, whose name is not learned, was arrested. He is unable to give a satisfactory explanation of his action. Some of his friends believe that he is insane.—Winston Sentinel.

The Raleigh Times makes the following very appropriate reference to a very important matter:

There are some people who object seriously to being vaccinated.

We can understand this in the case of a very delicate person or one who is naturally timid. We frequently hear reports of how badly vaccination served this one and that one, and all of us rightly have our fears sometimes.

The reports which we hear of the bad results of vaccination are nearly always grossly exaggerated, and when we stop and realize that vaccination is the only way to prevent smallpox or to stamp out this dreaded disease when it once gets started, it seems to us that no one should hesitate to submit to vaccination, unless it be some very delicate person.

We have only a few cases of smallpox in Raleigh, and we do not much fear an epidemic, but such a thing as an epidemic would be an impossibility if everybody would be vaccinated.

It therefore seems to be the part of wisdom for every citizen to submit to vaccination voluntarily, and without delay.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some sausage meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I was looking for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the box I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store.

Many a man who has smoked and treated all his money away sits down and wishes he had never got married.

Beware of Counterfeits.

"DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker, of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for Piles, Cuts and Burns for years and can recommend it to be the best Salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as is an invaluable household remedy, and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage, of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures without a scar. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

The wise man knows there are lots of easier and nicer ways of convincing a woman than by reasoning with her.

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, our stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

It's astonishing sometimes to find out the true inward outfit of one of those innocent, quiet and demure girls.

A Pleasant Pill.

No Pill is as pleasant and positive as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are so mild and effective that children, delicate ladies and weak people enjoy their cleansing effect, while strong people say they are the best liver pills sold. Sold by J. L. Wooten, druggist.

Hardly any of us are much surprised any more when we hear the most grievous scandal about some of our friends.

Cured of Lame After 15 Years of Suffering

"I had been troubled with lame back for fifteen years and I found a complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says John G. Bisher, Gilliam, Ind. This liniment is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. It is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

If a woman burned up as much money a day as her husband does in cigars, he would think it awful.

Mothers Be Careful

Of the health of your children. Look out for Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough. Stop them in time—One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy. Harmless and pleasant. Sold by J. L. Wooten, druggist.

Notice—Life insurance companies will reduce the rate 33 per cent to all who agree to use Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. A wise measure. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

CONDENSED STORIES.

How a Reporter Smoked With King Edward of England.

One of King Edward's little weaknesses is said to be a fondness for witnessing a fire.

A writer in the People's Friend tells of him that when he was Prince of Wales one evening on hearing the rush of fire engines passing he followed them to see their operations.

While looking on he entered into conversation with a reporter who was taking notes of the occurrence, and when about to return home again he drew out his cigar case and offered the reporter a cigar, which he willingly accepted and, tearing out a leaf from his notebook, proceeded carefully to roll it up.

On the prince asking the reason for his doing so he replied, "I may never again have the honor of receiving a cigar from your highness and should like to keep this one as a souvenir."

The prince observed: "You know me then. I did not think I should be recognized," and, again producing his cigar case, said, "Will you have a cigar?"

The reporter, nothing loath, accepted again the kind invitation, the prince remarking as he did so, "But to smoke this time."

Stories of Emerson.

When Emerson was a boy he often helped with the housework. One day he was scouring knives and began to hum "Harp of Memnon, Sweetly Strung." This was hardly in accord with the harsh sounds he was producing, and he composed the following lines as a substitute:

Melodious knife, and thou, harmonious hand,
Touched by the poet scourer's rugged hand,
When swift ye glide along the scouring board,
With music's note your happy bard reward.

When a Second Adventist went from Boston to Concord to warn Emerson of the approaching end of the world, on the way from the city he met Theodore Parker returning from a call on Emerson. Recognizing him, he delivered his message, whereupon Parker replied: "Oh, that makes no difference to me. I live in Boston." The prophet went on until he found Emerson, whom he warned that the world would soon pass away. "No matter," said Emerson; "we can do very well without it."

A Disraeli Story.

Mrs. Disraeli was taken out first at a dinner party, her husband being at the time premier. This office, of course, confers no right of precedence either on him or his wife, but courtesy often grants it, as on this occasion. Lady Chelmsford, whose husband was lord chancellor at the time, was heard to remark, "Why is that woman going into dinner before me?"

The next day Lord Chelmsford was requested to surrender the great seal. When he gave it up to the queen he began a complaint and explanation. But the queen stopped him, saying she always acted in accordance with the counsel of her ministers in public affairs. It was rumored that a royal duke who was present at the audience repeated the story outside.

The story also goes that Mrs. Disraeli became Viscountess Beaconsfield the next week and, of course, henceforth took precedence of Lady Chelmsford, who was only a baroness.—T. P. O'Connor in M. A. P. In Fever Cases.

Fever patients are no longer deprived of water, but, on the contrary, are allowed all they want. It can be given frequently, but never in large quantities at a time. It should always be sipped slowly. No solid food of any kind should be permitted. Drinks may be varied by giving toast water, jelly water, cold whey or lemon or orange juice in cold water. Occasionally, when it is desirable to promote perspiration, it will be better to have drinks given hot.

Wheeled Saucers For Plants.

For the woman who keeps house plants there are a growing number of conveniences. For large and heavy plants a fiber saucer or tray on wheels will be found of special advantage. Not only do these hold the pot high enough from the floor to keep the moisture from injuring the carpet, requiring no other stand for that purpose, but they facilitate the moving of even the heaviest plant with no injury to the plant, carpet or the mover.

Indian Territory Farm Land.

The available farm land in Indian Territory is estimated at 15,000,000 acres. These figures are taken from the records of the Dawes commission. Of this 15 per cent was in cultivation last year. There are about 2,000,000 acres of land where pine is found in commercial quantities, and there is an abundance of hard woods of all kinds. The latest statistics obtainable give the value of farm animals at $55,000,000. The per cent of the population engaged in agriculture is exceeded in only three states—Mississippi, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

German Puns.

The Germans are given to punning after a ponderous sort, and their language is well adapted to it. The eastern war gives them plenty of opportunities. At Berlin the newest name for the commander of the Russian armies in Manchuria is General "Kuroki-paekten," meaning thereby that he has been "collared" (gepacht) by Kuroki.

At the time of the Dreyfus "affaire," too, the Berlin wits asked, "Wie tief ist Frankreich gesunken?" ("How far has France sunk?") "Dreyfus," was the answer—"three feet."

Sheep For Warm Climates.

The department of agriculture has recently imported five woolless sheep—four ewes and a ram—for use in the extreme southern states. A heavy crop of wool is a burden in hot, dry districts, resulting in a direct ill effect on the quality of the mutton. These sheep are being experimented with by the bureau of animal industry. They are hardy and are easy keepers. They were brought from the Barbados, where they proved profitable.—Country Life in America.

No More Suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thomson, of Spencer, Ia., says: "I have had Dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago, and even went to Norway with hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good, and I heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or Dyspepsia should use it." Sold by J. L. A. Wooten, druggist.

BENSONIZER LUNG CURE

NO MORE EXILE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

A Cure at Last Obtained, After a Searching Investigation, by St. Louis Inter-see.

A few months ago the attention of a few scientific and philanthropic gentlemen of St. Louis was directed to an entirely new method of combating that most dreadful of all diseases, tuberculosis, commonly called consumption. Out of 125 test cases, 12 were completely cured and 28 have shown such improvement that their ultimate recovery is but a question of a few weeks.

So astonishing have been the results and absolute cures in cases pronounced incurable by all old methods that a company has been formed and is now prepared to furnish at a normal cost this cure to all sufferers of the "White Plague." One of its chief features is that patients can remain at home, surrounded by friends and relatives, and in a great many instances, especially the incident or early stages of the disease, pursue their daily vocations and still become completely cured.

Patients receiving the same treatment here in St. Louis have completely recovered as rapidly as those in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas. The wonderful results in question have been accomplished by the Bensonizer, and the company which controls this marvelous medical device have located their main office at 417 North Seventh street, St. Louis.

They have also located a factory on Easton avenue and a laboratory has been built at Hillside, Mo. The cure will be known as the Bensonizer Lung Cure, and Mr. C. P. Benson, the discoverer of the fluid inhalants which are used, will personally have charge of the affairs of the company. Mr. Benson will personally meet all who call at the office of the company on Seventh street, and will answer all communications from sufferers who are unable to make a personal call.—From the St. Louis Globe Democrat.

ABOUT RAIN COATS AND OVERCOATS.

The very height of fashion, according to whispered rumors from good tailors—for, to be honest, the good tailors set the fashion—is just a little bit of brown, or a big bit of brown, according to how much a man can stand. Here are the "Rosenwald & Weil" Mackinette coats some almost brown—other just flackered brown and speckled with combinations of blue and grey and red invisible plaids. Perfectly stunning patterns yet not "loud" either.

Just Conspicuously Swell.

"Griffon" Overcoats in all patterns are here, with or without belts, loose or close fiters just as you prefer. And now is the time to make your purchase. Our sizes are not broken. We fit others, we can fit you. We suit others, we can suit you.
