THE REFLECTOR, FOR FINE JOB PRINTING

DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFERACY ENTERTAINED.

Reported for Reflector. Notwithstanding the severity of the weather quite a number of the Daughters assembled at the beautiful home of Mrs. E. G. Flanagan on Thursday evening last, and were cordially received by the gracious hostess, who was assisted by her sister Mrs. John L. Wooten. Delicious hot negus was served in the entrance hall, while the lurid glow of the drawing room fires soon rendered the shivering guests entirely comfortable.

The president reported ten dollars given toward a portrait of the late Gen. Matt W. Ransom for the Confederate museum at the Davis mansion in Richmond in which the North Carolina room is taking rank with that of other states in affording objects of interest to tourists from all parts of the world. This has been the work of the Daughters and cannot receive too much praise, as the museum has been rendered absolutely fire proof and will consequently stand to tell the story of the chivalry of her soldiers, as long as deeds of valor shall arouse the admiration of the world.

Some holiday charities were dispensed to the needy veterans and their descendants, after which delightful refreshments were served and an interesting question contest submitted, the prize being won by Mrs. L. C. Arthur.

The chapter then adjourned to meet with Mrs. T. J. Jarvis on Lee's birthday, the 19th of Jan., 1905.

Christmas Gifts.

The Charlotte Observer says that some one has suggested that the women of Charlotte meet in the public square on Christmas morning and swap dollars. This suggestion was doubtless made with the mind that many people give Christmas presents in the spirit of trying to pay back what some gave them last Christmas or may give them this Christmas. Such Christmas giving as that is altogether unworthy of the true Christmas spirit and would as well be taken out in swapping dollars as in any other way. The truth is there are many unwise things done in the matter of Christmas presents. It is all right to make Christmas gifts, but the value of the gift ought not to be thought of as much as the spirit in which it is given. Thousands and thousands of Christmas presents have already been selected and many thousands more will yet be selected; but the Christmas present that carries with it some suggestion that will impress the recipient with the great Gift of God to the world—Christ our Saviour—is the most valuable of all, whether its purchase price be large or small. The Christmas time should be one of real rejoicing but should not be given up to sinful levity, rowdiness and riotousness, as is often the case. Like-day of Thanksgiving, it should be regarded as a day for meditation on the goodness of God in the great Gift of life through Christ the Lord—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

The date is Tuesday night, 29th.

John Thompson, the great imitable comedian, conducted a delightful audience at the theatre last night "Around the World in Eighty Minutes."

Mr. Thompson is the finest comedian who has ever entertained a Miami audience, and his impersonations of various characters from a Yankee farmer to a Bixter street barker are simply killing.

He is a fine musician, also, and plays any instrument constructed. His entertainment is clear, wholesome and excruciatingly funny, and he had his last night's audience on the verge of hysterics.—Miami, Fla., Evening Record.

MONDAY, DEC. 19, 1901.

Possibly the reason Roosevelt did not tackle the tariff was because his ink gave out.

Visitors are denied to see Mrs Chadwick. No doubt they think she is a full show.

Turkeys are very much like politicians, they are not appreciated until they are dead.

When we think of Roosevelt being hearty and hale, it is not strange that he loves a CRUM.

Congress is again showing smut by investigating Smoot. Better rub him off the roll entirely.

The railroad may invent some other plan to delay it, but it looks like the Selma connection must come.

There is no telling how long the President's message would have been if he had dived into the tariff.

The farmers have declared that they will hold their cotton. Now let the speculators take a turn at putting up the price.

While the farmers are holding their cotton they should not forget to pay up their accounts as fast as possible. Do not let business get at a standstill.

We see that people in some sections of the state have been making good money shipping evergreen and mistletoe to the Northern cities for Christmas decorations.

The trouble with those who talk tariff revision is that they do all their talking before the election, and then go "way back and sit down" and listen to the standpat banquet.

As the Supreme court can bring about the Selma connection, why not get that tribunal to work on the morning gap between the Atlantic and North Carolina and the Atlantic Coast Line at Kinston?

The insurance people of North Carolina seem to be doing what they can to keep insurance money at home. The report of Commissioner Young is a very encouraging one. He says that in 1899 "there were no stock or legal reserve companies of North Carolina origin doing business in the State and only one assessment association, the total assets reported being only $2,530 by these companies, which are life. Now such companies report capital $325,000; assets $876,000; business in force $2,238,000; premiums received $91,000. The fire insurance companies organized in the State make a splendid exhibit, showing an increase in capital during the past four years of $687,000; assets $2,448,000; surplus $2,200,000; yearly business $32,212,000; increase in yearly premiums $70,000; increase in insurance in force $33,330,000. This indicates a very gratifying progress in this line of business in the State - Charlotte Chronical.

Cured of Lame After 15 Years of Suffering

"I had been troubled with lame back for fifteen years and I found a complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says John G. Bisber, Gilliam, Ind. This liniment is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. It is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

HONESTY IN GIVING

With the coming of the holiday season, there arises the disposition on the part of some and the supposed duty on the part of others, to give presents at Christmas.

No season or day brings with it sentiments which are so varied and conflicting as are those at the Christmas tide. With those who desire to show their loving appreciation, there is no boundary or limit to the gifts, except it be hedged in by financial limitation. And to many there is the social obligation requiring the Christmas gift, which is given not from an affectionate heart, but purely as paying a debt transaction.

But however the spirit which prompts the Christmas gift, there should be with it, honesty, not merely in tendering it, but in giving a present within the means of the giver.

How many gifts are given at Christmas which are unpaid for at the time of presentation, and perhaps never paid for? The disposition is to make a beautiful and costly gift, but the giver has not the money at hand to pay for it, and the storekeeper, too much for business, charges the customer for the amount, and suffers for it very often.

Upon whatever terms a gift is made, it should be an honest giving throughout. An expensive gift from one in moderate circumstances, deceives only the tradesman who charged the presenter for it. The recipient feels that the gift is beyond the financial resources of the giver to honestly make it, while the giver, after the excitement of securing and sending the gift, is honest, apt to roundly abuse himself or herself for the foolish and unwise action.

Christmas remembrances are with in the means of nearly every one, who feels prompted to give. It is not the actual value of the dollars and cents which make gifts fully acceptable, as it is the love and affection which prompts the sending of the gift.

This being true, why should not every giver be honest, and send such gift as is paid for, and being paid for has not embarrassed the giver because of its costliness.

If Christmas giving could be conducted upon the plan of affectionate and honest gift sending, there should be greater joy and happiness all around, and the season would be indeed a "merry" one, for there would be no after reflections and troubles due to the really dishonest giver upon credit which was too limited or false in the creating. - New Bern Journal.

Not many years ago bank robbing was a successful occupation for crooks and thieves. This is now comparatively rare owing to the improved methods of constructing bank buildings, and the use of burglar-proof safes and vaults. Postoffices have taken the place of the old time banks and present a wide and easy field for the burglar. During the last fiscal year no less than 1,593 postoffices in this country were robbed, or at the rate of over four for each day! In addition to these crimes 940 street and rural free delivery boxes were rifled of their contents. Exactly how to account for this increase of crime may be difficult, but it is plain that the postoffices are not protected as they should be. Since the postoffice is a government institution, destined to exist as long as the government itself why not begin to make it permanent, safe and secure from burglars? - Durham Sun.

The Sentinel had occasion, several days ago, to call attention to the fact that there exists in Winston-Salem right now a class of negroes, who seem to work with peculiar disfavor upon work of any kind. The fact that cold weather is here again has caused some of them to go to work, but there are still many who cannot be induced to engage in profitable labor upon any terms. Some action should be taken with reference to the conduct of such worthless vagrants. - Winston Sentinel.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some southerly and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I had for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store.

Beware of Counterfeits.

"DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker, of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for Piles, Cuts and Burns for years and can recommend it to be the best Salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as is an invaluable household remedy, and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage, of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures without a scar. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

No More Suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thomson, of Spencer, Ia., says: "Have had Dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago, and even went to Norway with hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good, and I heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with Indigestion or Dyspepsia should use it." Sold by J. L. Wooten, druggist.

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, your stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. ## ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

How to Clean Linoleum So That It Will Appear Like New.
For ten square feet of linoleum allow two eggs. Break these into a basin and beat sufficiently to partially mix them, and then add one quart of lukewarm water. Dip a soft flannel cloth in this mixture and go over the linoleum. Wring out the cloth and wipe a second time, using care not to step where this has been done, then leave it to dry in the air, not using the room till the floor is thoroughly dry. The linoleum will look like new.
If some of the woodwork has had to be scrubbed vigorously because of fly traces and is a little dull in consequence try rubbing it with equal parts of turpentine and sweet oil. Then wipe the paint occasionally with this mixture, and it will not be necessary ever to scrub it again. Flies seem to avoid woodwork that has been so treated, and the finish produced is like new.

Helpful Hints.
Linen may be given a pleasingly delicate scent of violet by being boiled in water to which a little piece oforris root has been added.
White garments wrapped in blue paper when put away will not turn yellow.
Creases may be removed from clothing by steaming. Hang garments over a tub of steaming water.
To clear the house of any unpleasant odor pour spirits of lavender over bicarbonate of soda.

Restoring Old Matting.
If light colored or white matting on a floor has become discolored go over every inch of it with hot water in which a handful of baking soda has been dissolved. This will turn the matting a darker shade and yellowish, but it will be all one shade and not variegated, and its appearance will be much improved. If there is a darker figure in it that has faded this can be touched up with an old toothbrush dipped in dye of the right shade.

Left Over Chicken.
To use up the left overs of chicken when the supply is limited chop the meat. Put a layer of it into a baking dish. Over it spread a layer of breadcrumbs. Season with salt and pepper and bits of butter. Add more chicken and continue in this way until all the meat is used. Then turn in chicken gravy to moisten the mixture, cover the top with buttered crumbs and bake. Serve hot. Cold boiled ham is delicious warmed over in this way.

Hickory Nut Ice Cream.
Pound one pound of shelled hickory nut meats in a mortar until they are a fine paste; add them to a quart of cream and set one side while you prepare a custard made from a pint of milk, three eggs and a cup of sugar; keep stirring until it thickens, so that it will not curdle; take from the fire, add another cup of sugar and set where it will cool. When quite cold add the cream with the hickory nut meats, then freeze.

Long Lived Birds.
A golden eagle which died at Vienna in 1719 was known to have been captured 104 years previously, and a falcon, of what species is not recorded, is said to have attained the age of 102 years.
A white headed vulture taken in 1708 died in the zoological gardens at Vienna in 1824, thus living 118 years in captivity.

Birds and Lizards.
Birds, it may come as a surprise to learn, are nearest related to lizards of any other families of living creatures. There is a South American bird, the hoatzin, of which the young are provided with lizardlike claws on their wings. They also possess a very reptilian appearance for their short life.

The Soldier Boy.
Oh, come, little boy, it is time now for bed. The sun has gone down, and the west doors are red.
All night the tin sentries stand guard in your stead.
So lay aside your gun until the morning.
Oh, look, little boy, see the stars where they peep.
When taps upon has sounded, then soldiers should sleep.
The foe they must conquer, and watch they must keep.
When reveille shall call them in the morning.
Oh, rest, little boy, in your bed soft and white.
It's drizzle for the daytime, and dreams for the night.
You're a soldier, little boy, while the moon's shining.
But you shall be a soldier in the morning.

A Pleasant Pill.
No Pill is as pleasant and positive as DeWitt's Little Early Bitters. DeWitt's Little Early Bitters are so mild and effective that children, delicate ladies and weak people enjoy their cleansing effect, while strong people say they are the best liver pills sold. Sold by J. L. Wooten, Druggist.

BENSONIZER LUNG CURE

NO MORE EXILE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.
A Cure at Last Obtained, After a Searching Investigation, by St. Louis Interests.
A few months ago the attention of a few scientific and philanthropic gentlemen of St. Louis was directed to an entirely new method of combating that most dreadful of all diseases, tuberculosis, commonly called consumption. Out of 115 test cases, 77 were completely cured and 28 have shown such improvement that their ultimate recovery is but a question of a few weeks.
So astonishing have been the results and absolute cures in cases pronounced incurable by all old methods that a company has been formed, and is now prepared to furnish at a nominal cost this cure to all sufferers of the "White Plague." One of its chief features is that patients can remain at home, surrounded by friends and relatives; and in a great many instances, especially the incipient or early stages of the disease, pursue their daily vocations and still become completely cured.
Patients receiving the same treatment here in St. Louis have completely recovered as rapidly as those in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas. The wonderful results in question have been accomplished by the Bensonizer, and the company which controls this marvelous medical device have located their main office at 417 North Seventh street, St. Louis. They have also located a factory on Easton avenue and a laboratory has been built at Hillside, Mo. The cure will be known as the Bensonizer Lung Cure, and Mr. C. P. Benson, the discoverer of the fluid inhalants which are used, will personally have charge of the affairs of the company. Mr. Benson will personally meet all who call at the office of the company on Seventh street, and will answer all communications from sufferers who are unable to make a personal call.—From the St. Louis Globe Democrat.
