IN MEMORY OF ALLEN WARREN.

The quiet unostentatious life of the good man may not be chronicled and gazetted while he discharges his daily duties, but it is sure to be felt and appreciated by those among whom it is spent. The lives of such men teach by example, day in and day out, and draw men to them because in them men see a sincerity and an honesty that never fails and that no temptation can shake. The wicked respect and the righteous love such a man. Every home and every heart is open to him. His kind words and his good deeds fall upon willing ears and touch responsive hearts because of the meek and gentle spirit with which they are spoken and performed. His influence for good cannot be computed. His example of right living is taken up by one and transmitted to another. It goes on moulding and fashioning the lives of others. The lives of such men are benedictions to any community. Greenville had and lost such a blessing in the noble life and lamented death of its beloved citizen, Allen Warren.

It is our purpose, on this his natal day, Dec. 20th, to briefly trace the career of this unostentatious, honest, good man. He was born of studious parents on the 20th day of December, 1829, in the Cometoe section of Edgecombe county, one mile south of Little Creek meeting house, and within two hundred yards of the Pitt county line. His father being in moderate circumstances with a large family to support, young Allen labored on the farm 'till he reached his majority. He attended the neighborhood schools as circumstances allowed and when he arrived at manhood he attended the High school at Tarboro where, by diligence and attention to his studies, he received a practical education. After quitting school he married a daughter of Capt. William Edwards and settled in Bartfield district, where he taught school with great usefulness to his pupils and great satisfaction to their parents.

When Joseph Cobb was elected sheriff of Edgecombe he appointed young Allen Warren his deputy, which position he held for six years, and whose duties he discharged with such tact and fidelity as to receive the commendation of all with whom he came in contact. He volunteered in the Confederate service but, owing to a broken limb, he was discharged and he then acted as Confederate state tax collector.

In 1867 he purchased a farm near Falkland in Pitt county, to which he moved and on which he lived for several years. He was fond of the independence of farm life and of agricultural pursuits. He read the best agricultural publications and applied what he learned with a practical intelligence that made him one of the best farmers in that fine farming section of his adopted county.

While living on his farm he became a justice of the peace in Falkland township and discharged its duties with great acceptability to the good people of that section.

In 1878 he was nominated and elected to the responsible office of sheriff of Pitt county by the Democratic Party. He was again nominated and elected to the same office in 1880. He has held this office four years and I risk nothing in saying that it is the unanimous verdict of the people that the county never had a better sheriff. He was gentle and kind, but firm and positive in the discharge of his duties. It often happens that a sheriff has a great many unpleasant duties to perform and this was true of Sheriff Warren. But the people soon learned that he was thoroughly impartial, honest and just in the administration of his office. He demanded full compliance with the law which he executed firmly but never harshly. He left the office after four years of faithful service with a clean record and without enemies. When he was elected sheriff he removed with his family to Greenville where he lived 'till his death. In 1884 when the great state exposition was held in Raleigh, Sheriff Warren undertook the work of collecting an exhibit for the county of Pitt. This was a labor of love and patriotic pride with him, but he went about the work in such a systematic and intelligent way that he soon found the people ready and willing to help him. As a result of this combined effort of leader and people he took to Raleigh and displayed in that great exhibition hall a collection of the treasures of his county that excited the pride and admiration of the thousands who visited the exposition. Had he rendered his county no other service this alone would cause the people to hold him in grateful remembrance. It was about the time of the great State exposition that Sheriff Warren conceived the idea of establishing the Riverside Nursery near Greenville. He went about this work in that same quiet, methodical way that had become one of his chief characteristics. His new enterprise grew and prospered and his plants and his flowers became his companions and his pets. He lived with them and they almost seemed to become more fragrant and more beautiful at his approach. He worked and lived among them for twenty years and his gentleness commingled with their fragrant odors, and he has left behind him a name as stainless as their virgin leaves. Sheriff Warren died on June 30th, 1904. His faithful and affectionate wife had preceded him by about four years. He leaves five children to mourn his death and to rejoice in his good name. He was my close friend I knew him well. He was a good man, greatly beloved and universally esteemed. If I had an enemy I did not know it and yet he made no compromise with wrong doing. His life was an open book to be read by all men, and in it they read of justice, honor, integrity and right living. We laid his body to rest a bright summer evening when all was peace and quiet. He walks no more among us in human form but his good name and noble life will long live as a guide and an inspiration to us. THOS. J. JARVIS, Greenville, N. C., Dec. 20th, 1904.

AYDEN ITEMS.

AYDEN N. C., Dec. 16, 1904. Around about—Henry Morris a very old gentleman hailing from Graubville county arrived in our city yesterday on the morning train. Mr. Morris had quite a time in reaching this point. Leaving his home Friday morning a first necessary change of cars he missed his train, becoming confused he boarded another train and from that misfortune seemed to beset him at every point. He went to Greensboro, to Durham and Raleigh but being a man his perseverance knew no bounds. With a well filled wallet he at last arrived safely at his destination and is now rustating by the quiet fireside of his son, James Morris who lives about ten miles from here. The old gentleman is certainly entitled to a pleasant visit which we hope he will realize and may his next trip be unaccompanied by trials so sore and perplexing. Miss Julia Brady was shopping at Greenville Saturday. Mrs. M. M. Sauls and little daughter, Barrus, returned from a visit of several weeks to Richmond last Thursday.

THE REFLECTOR, FOR FINE JOB PRINTING

There are only eleven days left for the girls to pop the question.

It is generally conceded by business men that this is the dulllest fall since '94.

Tom Lawson, Nan Paterson and Mrs. Chadwick have completely obscured the war in the far east.

All the world is looking forward to Christmas. Some with glad hearts—others with sad hearts.

Any Greenville dirt offered for sale is quickly taken at a good price. Which shows that people have faith in the town.

Perhaps the additional slump in cotton immediately following the farmers' meetings is a bluff the speculators are trying to work.

Yes, little girl, the reason we have the longest nights of the year just at Christmas is to give Santa Claus plenty of time to make his round.

Reports say it will take 15 years at a cost of $300,000,000 to construct the Panama canal. It will take a long time for it to be worth that much.

An exchange says "Mrs. Chadwick does not sleep well at night." We are thinking that some of those Ohio bankers are not resting very well at night either.

The president now says if we will wait two years he will show the South how much he thinks of her. That is a right long courtship, but we have known of longer.

The Charlotte Observer has just installed the largest and finest printing press ever brought to North Carolina. The Observer is an able paper and nothing is too good for it.

One of our exchanges says "not a single Mormon voted the Democratic ticket in the recent elections in Idaho." Good for the Democrats. This ought to strengthen the cause of Democracy from one end of this Nation to the other.

Railroad wrecks seem to follow in spells. The Southern and the Seaboard Air Line both had a siege of wrecks, and now the Atlantic Coast Line is taking a turn at it. The latter has recently had three serious wrecks in quick succession.

SOUTHERN SOLIDITY.

One of the speakers at the dinner of the Southern Society, of New York, took exception to the expression of the hope by another speaker who preceded him that the solid South would remain solid. He did so, however, in a way that is entirely inoffensive. He gave out the idea that the South has been made solid by the treatment of the North, and is kept solid by persistent nagging in that section. The situation is not desirable, but before there can be a change, the pressure must be withdrawn. The idea is that the North is responsible for the South's solidarity, and it makes itself so by perpetually menacing this section in one way or another. Yet, when the South reveals its solidarity in an election, the North affects surprise and assumes an attitude of innocence. In its last National platform, the Republican party deliberately pledged itself to make an effort to reduce Southern representation in Congress and then directly after the election leading Republicans pretended ignorance of any occasion for Southern solidarity.

There is an impression in some quarters that some leading Republicans want the South to be solid because it tends to solidify the North and insure Republican ascendancy. This may be true, but, being true, the sham surprise might very well be omitted. This method of keeping one section arrayed against the other is really not the best thing for either, out the responsibility should be placed where it belongs and the assumption of innocence in the North should not permanently exempt that section from its share of responsibility. If there is really a desire that the South should cease to be solid, let the nagging cease. Withdraw the pressure and let there be an end of threats to do things which menace the civilization and progress of this section.—The Danville, (Va.) Bee.

We find in one of our exchanges the following luminous essay on tobacco by a boy: "Tobacco grows something like a cabbage, but I never saw one cooked; though I have heard men say that cigars given them on election day were mostly cabbage leaves. Tobacco stores are mostly kept by wooden Injuns, who stand at the door and fool little boys by offering them a bunch of cigars which is glued into the Injun's hands, and is made of wood also. I tried to smoke a cigar once, and I felt like Epsom salts. Tobacco was invented by a man named Walter Raleigh. When people first saw him smoking they thought he was a steamboat, and was frightened. My sister Nancy is a girl. I don't know whether she likes tobacco or not. There is a young man named Lerry who comes to see her. He was standing on the steps one night, and he had a cigar in his mouth, and said he didn't know as she would like it, and she said: 'Lerry, the perfume is agreeable.' But when my big brother Tom lighted his pipe Nancy said: 'Get out of the house, you horrid creature; the smell of tobacco makes me sick.' Snuff is Injun meal made out of tobacco. I took a little snuff once, then I sneezed."

It is said every living member of the "Rough Riders" will attend the inauguration of their old lieutenant colonel as president of the United States on March 4. Test Farms for Fruits.

The State Board of Agriculture took action in the matter of experimentation and test farms for large and small fruits which may be productive of very important results. It appointed William Dunn, Newbern, A. T. McCallum, Red Springs, of the Board, and State Chemist Kilgore and State Horticulturist Hume, a committee to confer with representatives of the East Carolina Fruit and Truck Growers' Association for the location of an experiment farm for the strawberry and truck section, the farm to be purchased and operated by the Agriculture Department. With this end in view, the experiment farm conducted for some years near Red Springs is ordered discontinued.

The board has also ordered that a test farm be purchased in Transylvania county for experiments in apple growing and other western fruits. It will cost $2,000, the farmers in that section subscribing one fourth of the amount.

Beware of Counterfeits.

"DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker, of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for Piles, Cuts and Burns for years and can recommend it to be the best Salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as is an invaluable household remedy, and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage, of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures without a scar. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago, and even went to Norway with hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good, and I heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with Indigestion or Dyspepsia should use it." Sold by J. L. Wooten, druggist.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Simple Remedy For Mild Cases of Catarrh and Sore Throat.

Several years ago an expert in nose and throat diseases gave a simple remedy for mild cases of catarrh or the common cold. It is not guaranteed to cure cases of long standing. The formula has been widely printed and is as follows:

Bicarbonate of soda, as a snuff, the nostrils kept well smeared inside with vaseline. The bicarbonate or cooking soda is to be snuffed as far back into the nose as possible. It is not a pleasant sensation, but clears away the mucus, which should be blown out. The vaseline in the nostrils is also "snuffed up." In addition to this, the bicarbonate of soda is used on the throat as a gargle and in bad cases blown dry through a tube inserted through the mouth against the upper part of the throat. The first time you do this you may think the top of your head is coming off, but it will stay on. It is a useful treatment for nose and throat and when mild catarrhal symptoms are noticed.

Praise For a Poet.

The late Richard Henry Stoddard received many little books of poems from would-be poets who hoped to be given a word of praise, says the New York Tribune.

Once while Stoddard was acting as literary editor of a certain publication there was sent to him a book of poems published at the author's expense, the edition of which was limited to 100 copies.

One hardly can imagine the shock the author must have received when he opened the paper containing Stoddard's review of the book and read the following: "The best thing that we can say of this volume of poems is that the edition is limited to 100 copies."

Words Cheaper Than Stones.

George Meredith, whose novels deal with English high life, lives simply. He built himself a house not long ago. It is charming, but small. A young woman with a letter of introduction visited Mr. Meredith as his home was being completed. With some pride he showed her over the building, but she, a little disappointed, said: "In your books you describe huge castles and spacious baronial halls, but when you come to build you put up a little bit of a house like this. Why is it?" "It is because," replied the poet, "words are cheaper than stones."

Phil Kearny's Grave.

The only thing that marks the spot where General Phil Kearny fell in the battle of Chantilly, Va., is a rough cross of pine, and that was placed there by an old Johnny Reb—Captain J. N. Ballard. General Lee's old chief of scouts, Captain Stringfellow, has told the story of how the tears came into the eyes of Lee and Stonewall Jackson when they heard of Kearny's death. He had been with them in the Mexican campaign, and they loved him.

Sailors as Spenders.

When the British Mediterranean squadron of forty-three warships visited Smyrna at the end of last March the sailors got a day ashore and squandered $150,000 in the town. One sailor at the end of his day found he had $2.50 left. So he hired ten boatmen at 25 cents each to row him out to his ship and arrived there in style.

A Great Fish Ball.

Two thousand disciples of Izaak Walton held recently on the banks of the Seine the greatest fishing contest ever known. After the contest there was an anglers' ball. This is the greatest fish ball on record, and since there was a banquet, too, bread on this occasion went with one fish ball.

A Dead Sea Monastery.

"The Prison of the Ten Thousand" is the name given by the wandering Arabs of the district across Jordan to the fortress monastery of Mar Saba, on the Dead sea. Not many years ago there were actually 10,000 monks living in this grim retreat, and even today there are more than a thousand left. The monastery is one of the oldest in the world, having been founded about 1,300 years ago by Euthymius.

To Remove Stitch Marks.

To remove the marks of stitches in a made over garment moisten the marks thoroughly and let dry. Smooth out the material, cover with a wet cloth, steam over boiling water and press with a hot iron.

A Pleasant Pill.

No Pill is as pleasant and positive as Dewitt's Little Early Risers. Dewitt's Little Early Risers are so mild and effective that children, delicate ladies and weak people enjoy their cleansing effect, while strong people say they are the best liver pills sold. Sold by J. L. Wootch, druggist.

BENSONIZER LUNG CURE

NO MORE EXPENSIVE CONSUMPTIVES.
A Cure at Last Obtained, After a Searching Investigation, by St. Louis Internists.

A few months ago the attention of a few scientific and philanthropic gentlemen of St. Louis was directed to an entirely new method of combating that most dreadful of all diseases, tuberculosis, commonly called consumption. Out of 115 test cases, 77 were completely cured and 28 have shown such improvement that their ultimate recovery is but a question of a few weeks.

So astonishing have been the results and absolute cures in cases pronounced incurable by all old methods that a company has been formed and is now prepared to furnish at a normal cost this cure to all sufferers of the "White Plague." One of its chief features is that patients can remain at home, surrounded by friends and relatives, and in a great many instances, especially the incipient or early stages of the disease, pursue their daily vocations and still become completely cured.

Patients receiving the same treatment here in St. Louis have completely recovered as rapidly as those in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas. The wonderful results in question have been accomplished by the Bensonizer, and the company which controls this marvelous medical device have located their main office at 417 North Seventh street, St. Louis. They have also located a laboratory on Easton avenue and a laboratory has been built at Hillside, Mo. The cure will be known as the Bensonizer Lung Cure, and Mr. C. Benson, the discoverer of the fluid inhalants which are used, will personally have charge of the affairs of the company. Mr. Benson will personally meet all who call at the office of the company on Seventh street, and will answer all communications from sufferers who are unable to make a personal call.—From the St. Louis Globe Democrat.
