THE REFLECTOR,

FOR THE YEAR 1905.

C. E. Spier was released from taxes on $250 real estate erroneously charged.

Jesse Murphy, Farmville, was released from special school taxes for 1904.

J. O. Proctor & Bro. listed real estate in Pactolus township at $7,000 for 1904, erroneously listed in 1903 at $9,000.

W. G. Sermons, J. W. Fizzle, D. W. Manning, W. J. Pope, W. E. Stocks and Alonzo Allen were released from poll tax for 1904.

Pauper allowance of Patsy Teel was increased from $1 per month to $2.

The board refused to consider the petition presented at last meeting to reopen public road from McGowan's to Hardee's run.

Joseph Andrews, Bethel, released from special school taxes.

L. W. Lawrence was appointed keeper of Greenville bridge.

The sheriff was ordered to lay off a public road in Belvoir township as ordered at October, 1902, meeting.

Joseph McLachorn was appointed superintendent of convicts at a salary of $75 per month.

C. E. Fleming, standard keeper elect, tendered his official bond which was accepted.

License to run a bowling alley was granted L. W. Morris.

License to retail liquor were granted to sixteen applicants.

It was ordered that the clerk of the board request Hon. J. L. Fleming to ask the legislature to grant the privilege of levying a special tax in this county of 16 cents on real and personal property and 50 cents on each poll for the years 1905 and 1906.

Some of a Year's Wastes.

Men killed in the wars of the world in 1904 make up a waste of 400,000 lives, according to the Chicago Tribune's statistical estimate.

Russia's contribution in money alone to the war waste of the year was $364,000,000.

Waste by fire in the United States and Canada amounted to $215,000,000. We lead the world in production of great ash heaps where homes and business blocks have previously stood.

Delinquencies, embezzlements, forgeries and bank wreckings in this country in 1904 led to the waste of $4,742,507.

Waste of life by violent causes other than war—such as the Stockton horror, various railroad accidents, explosions, &c.—approximated 20,000. There were more than 7,000 homicides in the United States and eighty-seven lynchings.

The amount of human activity in the aggregate that goes for nothing and worse than nothing is astounding.—New York World.

A wise girl learns to cook—then proceeds to marry so well that she doesn't have to work at it.

Boys and Cigarettes.

The following article from the Cincinnati Post may be read with profit by parents.

"Probate Officer W. C. Johnson, of Kansas City, addressing an audience of several hundred boys in that city, said cigarettes cause nearly all the downfalls among youths.

"Out of 450 boys who have been taken into the Juvenile Court," said Mr. Johnson, "95 per cent. were cigarette smokers. I never saw a boy who played hooky from school who did not also smoke cigarettes. This habit is the beginning of crime.

"I know a little fellow on the West Side who lies on the bed for two and three hours at a time smoking cigarettes. He has become addicted to the habit and says he cannot stop it. He will be sent to a reform school where he cannot get the poisonous things.

"Two boys were caught stealing in a store not long ago. Each was a cigarette smoker. In nearly every case where a boy breaks into a store the first thing he steals is tobacco."

"The injury of cigarette smoking to a boy is not merely physical. It usually leads him into bad associations that pervert his ideas of manliness.

"A gang of boys secretly smoking cigarettes submits to the leadership of the toughest in the gang. There is a magic power in the practice to lower all to the level of the lowest.

"The boy who thinks it is manly to smoke has a wrong notion of manliness. He is training himself to admire and emulate man's vices instead of his virtues. He is cultivating the qualities that count for failure instead of success."

Pitt Gets In.

D. H. James, of Pitt county, was elected assistant door keeper of the house of representatives. Mr. James is a one-legged Confederate soldier and his election is a worthy one.

Looks like there is more snow close by.

Terms of Surrender.

The text of the articles of capitulation of the Port Arthur garrison signed by the commissioners representing General Stoessel and General Nogi has been made public. All Russian soldiers, marines and civil officials of the garrison and harbor are made prisoners; all forts, batteries, vessels, munitions, etc. are transferred to the Japanese in the condition in which they existed at noon on January 3, violation of this clause to operate as an annulment of the negotiations, given the Japanese army warrant to take free action; the Russian military and authorities are to furnish to the Japanese army an exhibit of all fortifications underground and submarine mines, a list of military officers, of ships and the numbers their crews and of civilians of sexes with their race and occupations; and all property as buildings, munitions of war, etc. to be left in the present position pending arrangement for their transference. Officers of the army and navy are permitted to retain their swords and such of their personal property as is directly necessary for the maintenance of life and with one servant, each may upon signing their parole not to take arms during the continuance of war, return to Russia. Spread of the Mob Spirit.

An Arkansas mob Saturday lynched a man charged with criminal assault and murder. He was not, however, a negro, as is usually the case, and therefore the incident is not likely to attract much attention in the North. But it shows a spread of the mob spirit that is not at all reassuring to Southerners themselves. It is only a step from lynching negroes to lynching white men, and then only a step further from taking action in other than the most heinous crimes. This lynching business is dangerous any way it is considered.—Charlotte Observer.

Bennett Everett.

Mr W. B. Bennett and Miss Maggie L. Everett, both of Hamilton, were married Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, in the Episcopal church in that town. Rev. W. E. Cox, of Greenville, officiating.

Marching up the aisle after the ushers came little Misses Fannie Clomen Gladstone and Emma Baynor, the former carrying a beautiful white bouquet containing the marriage service and the latter the wedding ring on a silver tray. The bride leaning upon the arm of her sister, Miss Ruth Everett, was met at the chancel by the groom, who came in from the vestry room, and was led by him to the altar where they were made man and wife.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr and Mrs Bennett left on the evening train for Greenville which place they expect to make their home.

A Company of Men.

Williams Comedy Company closed a three nights engagement here last night and left this morning for Selma. The company did not have the audience here that it merited owing to the bad weather, and also to a mistake made by the company in putting on a play for the first night that had been used here.

The two last night's entertainments were splendid and the audiences were well pleased. The ladies in the company are especially fine actors and the little girl is seldom equalled anywhere. The entire company is good and deserves a liberal patronage.

Suggestions to the legislature are in order.

It was a new year fall that Port Arthur took.

The Japs are doing the ditching, and they ought to.

Charlotte has got in the ring and invited the president.

We were mistaken. Durham is not happy. She has got the union depot but can't get to it.

With the legislature and congress both at it things ought not to get dull in the law making line.

Wonder if Raleigh is going to repeat the Haywood episode when the Bynum case comes on to be heard.

The Daily Times, of Florence, S. C., has had to suspend temporarily because of smallpox among the employes of the paper.

Governor Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, wants the legislature to further curb the newspapers of his state. Possibly some of them need curbing.

Since Port Arthur has surrendered Russia seems madder than ever. If she has not had enough of the rum-puss possibly Japan can give her a few more rounds.

Abolishing Grand Juries.

How many of the readers of this article will not be surprised to learn that there is a state in the United States which for years has had no grand jury—which years ago abolished this fundamental principle of the common law of England and of our own country? Nevertheless it is a fact. The state of Michigan years ago abolished this mode of institution of criminal proceeding against persons charged with crime and violation of the criminal laws of the state. Another state, that of Minnesota, has put herself in line with Michigan in this matter. By an overwhelming popular vote her people have adopted an amendment to the state constitution which does away with the grand jury, which from the time thereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary has been the basis on which is founded every prosecution for crime and which has been considered the bulwark of safety to every British and American citizen against the unjust and false accusation of crime. From time immemorial it has been the boast of the Anglo-Saxon that no citizen of a country ruled by him could be brought to trial for a crime until "twelve men, good and true," had declared that there was reasonable ground for supposing him guilty of the offense charged against him. This doing away with the grand jury is an innovation indeed—a startling one in fact. It places immense power in the hands of one man—the prosecuting attorney. Under the recently adopted amendment to the constitution of Minnesota, the prosecuting attorney takes the place of the grand jury. Reverses are made to him. He is to sift the case and he alone decides whether in each instance the accused shall be allowed to go free or shall be prosecuted and tried before the petit jury—too much power over the life and liberty of the people to be placed in one man's hands—too great temptation for fraud, favoritism and bribery. Under such a law it will be necessary that there shall be a prosecuting attorney in each county. It would be impossible to work such a system in a state where there is only one state representative in a district composed of several counties. Such law means the doing away with the district solicitor as we have in this state, and the substitution thereof of a man in each county who has in his hands the entire control and management of the criminal law. This is one feature of the march of progress that we do not approve in this as in many other things the old ways are the best—Wilmington Messenger.

There ought to be reforms in our jury system, but abolishing the grand jury is starting at the wrong end of it.

No Moore Stomach Troubles

All Stomach trouble is removed by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It gives the stomach perfect rest by digesting what you eat without the stomach's aid. The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. Eskine, of Allentown, Mich., says, "I suffered Heartburn and Stomach trouble for some time. My sister-in-law has had the same trouble and was not able to eat for six weeks. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she was entirely cured. She now eats heartily and is in good health. I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

The Kindly Japs.

An interesting bit of gossip is furnished by George Kennan, in the outlook, that has a bearing on the characteristics of the Japs in war time.

Kennan was allowed to visit the prisons at will. He talked with Russians by the score, and with them investigated the treatment they received at the hands of their captors. And as a result he has nothing but kind words for the Japs.

The Russian officers are fed on bread, fish, vegetables, and have tea, sugar, salt and some luxuries. Their allowance of clothing is ample, and every two officers are allowed to have one servant from the ranks, and on giving their simple word not to attempt to escape the prisoners are permitted to wander about the adjacent country with a guard. The Japs are so courteous that they do not speak of the officers' place of detention as a prison. Instead, it is an "asylum."

Further, there is no embargo on mail, and the officers may receive as many letters as they choose, money at will, and spend it as they like. At Tokio there is a special bureau of prisoners, and once in ten days there is sent to Russia a detailed report on the health of prisoners, both officers and men, with full particulars.

In closing his most interesting description Mr. Kennan says: "Japan treats her enemies better than Russia does her subjects."

While the treatment of prisoners may have no bearing on the ultimate result of the war, it does emphasize national characteristics and shows way the sympathy of the civilized world is with the little nation in the great struggle.

A people that are kind and humane from principle, and courageous in the face of great disadvantages, at least deserve to become powerful in the affairs of the world, and the nation that attempts to coerce them reaps the condemnation of humanity.

Saved From Terrible Death

The family of M. S. M. L. Bobbitt of Bartlett, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and his continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The Worst

The ills of life are hard to bear, Which you'll admit is true; And of those ills I've had my share In numbers not a few. But most of them I bear with ease, Save this, the worst of them; It's crawling out of bed to freeze At 6 o'clock a. m. —Savannah Labor Herald.

Has the modern Utopia been discovered? It seems at least that an island of contented people has been brought to light. Fristan D'Achunha is a rocky island half way between Cape Horn and the Cape of Good Hope, and it has a population of seventy-five people. They have no laws, no taxes, no money, no post-office, no schools, no shops, no politics and no jail. The inhabitants, living upon the scanty produce of the land and leading inactive lives, declare that they are perfectly happy. Their morals are good and it is their boast that no crime has ever been committed on their island. The only communication which these people have with the world is through a British man-of-war which touches there once a year. The island is known to navigators as the loneliest inhabited spot in the world. Recently England offered to transport the inhabitants to South Africa, where every colonist would be given a fertile tract of land in a country which was rapidly developing. Much to the astonishment of the English government, the offer was courteously declined. What a paradise D'Achunha would be for tramps if they only had some way of getting there—Charlotte Chronicle.

Tonic to The System.

For liver troubles and constipation there is nothing better than DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. They do not weaken the stomach. Their action upon the system is mild, pleasant and harmless. Bob Moore, of Lafayette, Ind., says, "No use talking, DeWitt's Little Early Risers do their work. All other pills I have used gripe and make me sick in the stomach and never cared me. DeWitt's Little Early Risers proved to be the long sought relief. They are simply perfect." Persons traveling find Little Early Risers the reliable remedy to carry with them. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

Dead Men, Dogs and Chickens.

Congressman Morrell, of Pennsylvania, wants the representation of the South placed on the basis of votes cast. Suppose the South were to come back at Morrell and his kind and demand that the representation of Pennsylvania be reduced to the honest voting strength of the state. It is an open secret that Pennsylvania votes dead men, dogs and chickens at every election.—Savannah News.

A Very Close Call

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by J. L. Wooten. Price 50c.

Speedy Relief

A salve that heals without a scar is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. No remedy effects such speedy relief. It draws out inflammation, soothes, cools and heals all cuts, burns and bruises. A sure cure for Piles and skin diseases. DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve. Beware of counterfeits, they are dangerous. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

Domestic Troubles

Much trouble they save by their great work in Stomach and Liver trouble. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25c at J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The Clergyman's Hobbyhorse.
Visitors to a quaint little church in England observe a curious relic in the shape of a high stool with a leather top like a saddle. The parish clerk shows not a little pride in this relic and tells its story with relish. During the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the country parsons were accustomed to spend much of their time hunting with their country squires. Oftentimes the fox got more attention than the sermon on the following Sunday. Such was the case with the parson who left the saddle stool behind him as a relic of the days of fox hunting parsons. He was a good deal more at home in the saddle than in the pulpit, so in order to introduce some of the life and spirit into his discourses which he felt while in the hunting field, the reverend gentleman had this saddle stool made. It was placed in the pulpit before the parson mounted the steps. Once astride this hobby the parson was able to reach a much higher degree of enthusiasm and eloquence than he could have unmounted.

A Disconcerted Committee.
Ferdinand Hassler, the father of the United States coast survey system, was once waited upon by a committee of congress sent to inquire into the progress of the work. The committee reached New York and wended their way upstairs to the room where Hassler was drilling his classes and preparing them for the work. Hassler, who allowed no intruders, met them at the door and inquired their business. They answered that they had come to investigate. "What part of the work do you wish to inspect?" inquired the Swiss mathematician. Congress had no definite idea on that point. "Then you had better go and find out," returned Hassler as he shut the door in the faces of the astonished committee. The committee looked at each other and on second sober thought concluded that Hassler was about right and quietly wended their way downstairs and back to Washington.

A Toad's Cunning.
A scientific journal tells this story of a toad's cunning: A brood of chickens was fed with moistened meal in saucers, and when the dough soured a little it attracted large numbers of flies. An observant toad had evidently noticed this, and every day toward evening he would make his appearance in the yard, hop to a saucer, climb in and roll over until he was covered with meal, having done which he awaited developments. The flies, enticed by the smell, soon swarmed around the scheming batrachian, and whenever one passed within two inches or so of his nose his tongue darted out and the fly disappeared. The plan worked so well that the toad made a regular business of it.

Fever and Foods.
In typhoid fever the intestines are the seat of the trouble, and all solid foods should be debarred. Here nutritious broths and liquids are needed, but no meat should be given until the temperature has been normal for several days. In scarlet fever avoid all nitrogenous foods, because the kidneys and skin are congested, and those are the organs that excrete nitrogen. Their work should be lessened, not increased. For this reason any of the legumes, beans, peas or lentils should not be used. Broth made from them would be most disastrous, while beef or mutton broth, which is less nutritious, can be readily assimilated.

A Good Blower.
A worthy dame of Dundee, Scotland, in order to keep down her gas account was in the habit of blowing down the pipes, thus reversing the hands of the registering dial of the meter. All went well until a new inspector came. After examining the meter he ciphered long and earnestly. At length the old lady anxiously exclaimed, "Am I not the best mem." said the inspector. "It's the other way about. The company's owing you tuppence. You have surely been blowing verra hard this time."

Domestic Diplomacy.
Grimes—I suppose you tell your wife everything when you get home? Grant—No, not everything. Grimes—Of course not, but the things she wants to know. Grant—My dear fellow, those are the things I don't tell her. I use up so much time telling her the things she doesn't care to know that there is no time left for her to question me about the things she does want to know.—Boston Transcript.

Get Out of the Rat.
It is never best to travel in a rat. It is wearisome. It is nerve destroying. Wise people choose the smoother road, or if that road must be traveled they try to fill up the ruts with stones and gravel. There is such a thing as getting out of the rut, and the world would be better and happier if more of us did it.

Charm of Poverty.
Poverty adds a thousand charms to love. If there is more than enough for all one never knows the pleasure of choosing the nastiest piece of bacon when there are only two on the dish and love sits opposite.—Hubert Henry Davies.

The Shallow Waterman.
"He talks a great deal about his family tree."
"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne. "A family tree is much like other trees: the smallest twigs do most of the rustling."—Washington Star.

Two Varieties of Unpopular Men.
There are two kinds of unpopular men—first, those who are naturally meant second, those who do right and stand firm for the right.—Charlotte (N. C.) Chronicle.

Love lives on hope, therefore few cases of hopeless insanity can be attributed to it.

BENSONIZER LUNG CURE

NO MORE EXILE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.
A Cure at Last Obtained, After a Searching Investigation, by St. Louis Internists.

A few months ago the attention of a few scientific and philanthropic gentlemen of St. Louis was directed to an entirely new method of combating that most dreadful of all diseases, tuberculosis, commonly called consumption. Out of 115 test cases, 77 were completely cured and 28 have shown such improvement that their ultimate recovery is but a question of a few weeks.
So astonishing have been the results and absolute cures in cases pronounced incurable by all old methods that a company has been formed and is now prepared to furnish at a nominal cost this cure to all sufferers of the "White Plague." One of its chief features is that patients can remain at home, surrounded by friends and relatives, and in a great many instances, especially the incipient or early stages of the disease, pursue their daily vocations and still become completely cured.
Patients receiving the same treatment here in St. Louis have completely recovered as rapidly as those in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas. The wonderful results in question have been accomplished by the Bensonizer, and the company which controls this marvelous medical device have located their main office at 117 North Seventh Street, St. Louis. They have also located a factory on Easton avenue and a laboratory has been built at Hillside, Mo. The cure will be known as the Bensonizer Lung Cure, and Mr. C. P. Benson, the discoverer of the fluid, will personally attend to all communications from sufferers who are unable to make a personal call.—From the St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Program for Teachers Meeting Saturday January 14th 1905.

10:00 a. m.—Opening exercises by Rev. H. H. Moore.
10:15 a. m.—Reading minutes and roll call.
1:30 a. m.—Miscellaneous business.

The committee on program believe that at this stage of the work it would be wise to have an informal meeting at which any phase of the school work may be discussed. There may be many things which the teachers would like to hear discussed which would have never suggested themselves to us, therefore we have decided to request any and every teacher of the county to suggest any phase of the school work which he or she may desire to hear discussed and it will be done at this meeting. We request that any teacher desiring to suggest a topic, send it at once to the president, T. H. King, Ayden, N. C., and thereby give him an opportunity to select for its discussion the person best fitted to do so. You need not give your name, but simply send your request to the president as above directed.

We desire to call attention to the date of this meeting—January 14, 1905. We do this because the second Saturday comes the day before the 3rd Sunday. Last year when this was the case some of the teachers came the Saturday before the second Sunday. If you will send in your questions this will be an interesting and profitable meeting. Let us keep these meetings up to the "high water mark" reached in the last two.

THE COMMITTEE.

Natives of the San Blas Coast.

The natives of the San Blas coast, part of the western coast of South America, have many peculiar customs. The Indian boy after his marriage becomes the slave of his father-in-law and must submit in all things to his will until emancipated by his own daughter's marriage, when he sets up his own home and becomes thenceforth master of his son-in-law. The men are very jealous of their women, and in case of war or other grave danger their first step is to kill their wives and children. They believe dreams and insanity to be the work of evil spirits, and the dreamer upon telling his dream is killed. The insane are burned alive. They allow no foreigner to sleep in one of their villages.

A Famous Aqueduct.

One of the most imposing architectural relics of western Europe is the aqueduct of Nismes, in southern France. After the lapse of sixteen centuries this colossal monument still spans the valley, joining hill to hill in nearly perfect state. The highest range of arches carries a small canal just wide enough for a man to creep through and still retaining a thick lining of Roman cement. The height of the structure is 183 feet and the length of the highest arcade 872 feet. Its use was to convey to the city of Nismes the water of two springs twenty-five miles distant.

A Right of the British Navy.

The British navy since the time of Alfred the Great has claimed the position of being "first among equals" and has maintained this position to the present day. It is acknowledged by the navies of the world in the fact that on meeting a British man-of-war they first salute, the courtesy being returned by the British ship. The Dutch resisted this demand until 1673 and the French until 1704, since which date it has been an item of international law.

"Ye" For "The."

"Ye" for "the" is not now and never was a proper form of expression. The word "ye" as it appears in all old books and legal documents, should always be pronounced as "the," the "y" being only a corruption of the thorn letter, a symbol which stood in place of "th" and which was formerly used by printers when difficulties were experienced in "spelling out."
