February Delineaor.

The Delineator for February, with a beautiful art cover and a varied table of contents is a most attractive number. As a special feature, Lionel S. Mableson gives an account of Grand Opera on its travels, a paper that is full of humor as well as of genuine interest and strikingly illustrated. The romance of Chopin and the beautiful Countess Delphine Potocka is charmingly related by Gustav Kobbe in the "Composers Series," and in an interesting paper Allan Sutherland tells something of the origin and romance of that matchless hymn of Henry Francis Lyte, "Abide With Me." There are also good stories by Mary Stewart Cutting, Aung O'Hagan and Owen Oliver, in addition to the children's corner, which includes one of L. Frank Baum's "Animal Fairy Tales" and a "Son Riley Rabbit" story by Grace MacGowan Cooke. Some of the early Spring styles are shown, and of further interest to women is the chapter on "The Making of a Housewife," containing a world of suggestion. The department "Good Looks," which discusses the forehead, and Mrs. Theodore W. Birney's contribution on "The Mistakes of Mothers" are other items especially helpful.

First Week of Prohibition in Greensboro.

It has been suggested to Mayor Osborn that the first man that is brought into his court on the charge of drunkenness should be fined $50, this being the limit, and if he will inform the court where he secured his whiskey the fine should be refunded.

At midnight last night the first week of prohibition ended. During this time the police officers have not arrested a man on the charge of drunkenness, and they say they have seen no one under the influence of whiskey to any great extent. This is a remarkable record.—Greensboro Telegram.

Called to Asheville.

Montclair, N. J. Jan. 9.—Rev. John C. Love, pastor of the Union Baptist church here, has received and will probably accept a call from the First Baptist church in Asheville, N. C., which is one of the largest in the South. Mr. Love has been pastor of the church here for six years.

THE LEGISLATURE.

MONDAY.

There was not much business in either branch on Monday.

Ex-Senator F. G. James, being a visitor in Raleigh, was extended the courtesies of the senate.

Senator Fleming introduced a bill to authorize the commissioners of Pitt county to levy a special tax.

In the house Representative Stronach introduced a bill to prevent misrepresentation in connection with the sale of merchandise.

Representative Graham introduced a bill to make the minimum allowance to fourth class prisoners $20.

Edi or Loses His Home.

Newton, N. C., 9.—The home of F. M. Williams, editor of the Enterprise, was destroyed by fire today, most of the furniture and clothing being saved. The house was too far from the center of town to be saved. The fire started in a closet supposedly from a coal in the children's nightclothes. The building was insured but the loss was a severe one.

Second Crop Pears.

Elder A. A. Tyson, of Asheville, who is down here visiting in his native county, keeps an eye open for things out of the ordinary. Today he brought THE REFLECTOR a bunch of small pears which he says he found on a tree at Tobe Hardee's. He says that Mr. Hardee, in calling his attention to the pears, said the tree bearing them was in bloom in September and that the pears had formed and been growing right along through the fall and winter.

Result of Inquest.

Dr. William Fountain, coroner, today filed with the Superior court clerk the papers in the inquest held Saturday over the body of John Duke, found dead near Farmville. The evidence at the inquest showed that Duke was under the influence of liquor, that he in some way got on the railroad track and was killed by a passing engine. The verdict of the jury was in accordance with these facts.

Duke was a white man and leaves three small children. His wife died about a year ago.

Farmers Preparing to Put Out Large Crop of Spring Lettuce.

The acreage of the spring lettuce crop will be increased fully 20 per cent, over that of the previous year and the other truck crops will be increased in like proportion.

At the present time the farmers are busy planting their spring crop of lettuce and some few farmers have already got their crop planted. The spring lettuce crop is the one the truckers always regard as a safe crop and they reap rich returns from it. More money was derived from the crop last spring than ever before. The crop of last fall was somewhat of a failure, first by reason of the fact that it was so very dry early in the fall the farmers had a difficult time getting a stand and consequently the crop was late and before it all could be placed on the market the Florida crop came in which meant the prices drop so low that the truckers in this section could not afford to market the remainder of their crop.

In addition to planting the lettuce crop, preparations are now being made for radishes and green peas, which will be planted about February 1st. Truck farmers will be busy from now until the latter part of next summer when there are no crops to be worried with for a short time.

THE WEATHER.

Partly cloudy and much colder tonight; cold wave in western portion. Wednesday cloudy probably snow.

TUESDAY, JAN. 10, 1905.

If wheat keeps soaring it will get out of sight.

If cotton would take a tilt after wheat it would change the shape of some people's faces.

Whom does the milk punch?—Wilmington Star.

The pocket book, of course.

Ex-Governor Lloyd Lowndes, of Maryland, died suddenly on Sunday morning at his home in Cumberland.

When a man cuts too many capers these days he is pronounced crazy. Mr. Duke has got himself in that class.

That was a slick move of "Buddie" Butler to introduce a bill in the legislature for the State to pay those old bonds and enable "Buddie Mary Ann" to pull a big fee. The other members will not be caught on a thing like that.

Five hundred Japanese residents of New York city held a mass meeting and celebrated the fall of Port Arthur. In this they have the sympathy of most Americans. No nation ever fought more bravely and heroically than have the Japs in the war with Russia and we want to see them come out winners.

The board of commissioners of Craven county passed a resolution condemning Governor Aycock for his action in pardoning the "James City rioters."

Our Raleigh correspondent, in his letter in yesterday's paper, says that a bill is to be introduced by Representative George A. Butler, of the lower house, a brother of ex Senator Marion Butler, providing for the payment by the State of the $10,000 Western North Carolina Railroad bonds, on which the State of South Dakota secured judgment against North Carolina from the United States Supreme Court, and also for payment of all other such bonds held by Simon Schaffer, of New York, he having given the bonds to South Dakota at the instance of Senator Pettigrew, Marion Butler and others in order to bring suit. The Democrats in the House will fight the bill and it will, of course, be killed in short order. The only result will be to show that Mr. Butler has his nerve with him in thus endeavoring to favor his brother.—Charlotte Observer.

It is given out that Mr. J. D. Murphy, member of the House from Buncombe county, will introduce a bill in the General Assembly increasing the legal rate of interest from 6 to 8 per cent. He says that such a law would have beneficial results in western North Carolina; that the present law is evaded and that it does not protect the small borrower. We hardly think the bill will pass and as we see it, it ought not to pass. About 15 years ago, when the legal rate of interest was changed from 8 to 6 per cent., there were predictions of all sorts of disasters in consequence and there was much talk that money should bring whatever anybody was willing to pay for it, etc., etc. But as a matter of fact the greatest era of development in the history of the State has resulted since the change in the law. We do not claim that the law was solely responsible for these conditions, but the fact remains that the disasters predicted not only did not occur but there was improvement instead.—Statesville Landmark.

The war is costing Russia and Japan about $1,000,000 each a day, exclusive of the red blood of her brave men, which is about the only thing upon which a financial value has not been placed.

An Arkansas woman offers a reward of $1,000 upon the return of her missing husband "dead or alive." If he is a live man he will return and get the thousand, but if the dead returns it would be worth the money to see the ghost walk.—Wilmington Star.

The people of North Carolina will not approve any backward step in temperance legislation, such as has already been proposed in the Legislature as for example the bill to repeal the anti-jug law. The continuation of that law is necessary to give effect to prohibition where it has been voted by the people.—Raleigh News and Observer.

A Raleigh dispatch says the law against carrying concealed weapons is to be made much stronger. There are certain things it does little good to legislate against, and the matter of going armed is one of them. A better plan is to make more certain adequate punishment for the unlawful use of concealed weapons.—Charlotte Observer.

These protective associations the cotton planters are forming in different parts of the South may amount to something but we hardly believe it. Organization on the part of the farmers has never been successful, to any considerable extent, and there is nothing in the situation now to indicate that the present movement will be different, in this respect, from the rest.—Winston Sentinel.

An Extended Chair.

When President Eliot of Harvard toured on the Pacific coast some twenty years ago, one of the Western seats of learning which he visited was the University of Washington at Seattle.

He became much interested in Professor O. B. Johnson, a well-known figure on Puget Sound in those days, who was one of the college's leading lights, and in the course of a conversation asked the Western man what chair he held.

"Well," said Johnson, "I am professor of biology, but I also give instruction in meteorology, botany, physiology, chemistry, entomology and a few others."

"I should say that you occupied a whole settee, not a chair," rejoined Harvard's chief.—Sunday Magazine.

Immigration Measure.

A resolution providing for a commission of immigration in this State has been introduced in the Legislature. This is one of the most important matters that will engage the attention of the State law-makers at the present session. The opportunity is ripe for strong legislation creating this important department. And when the commission is created ample provision should be made for the conduct of the business. A liberal appropriation should be made to sustain the commissioner and his department in such a manner that there will be no cramping. North Carolina is badly in need of a desirable class of immigrants and the Legislature will no doubt grasp the importance of supplying the means for satisfying the demand.—Wilmington Dispatch.

Farm Coming Back to Its Own.

Things on the farm are changing and we already observe, if we watch the barometer of social life, that there is a tendency to get back to the country. Fifteen years ago, for instance, less than 50 per cent of the population were moving countryward; in 1900 the statistics show that 70 per cent were seeking out homes in rural districts, and it is likely that the population now going away from the city reaches 75 per cent. At last, with Solomon, they are discovering that "all is vanity" in the cities; that friendships are difficult, that neighbors don't know the names one of the other, that noise, confusion are there and the struggle to live is at the desperate stage all the time.

The telephone, the trolley line, free rural mail delivery—these are mitigating the unsocial side of rural life, and the beauty of nature is doing the rest.—Opportunity.

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

The name of what author would you use in calling for an encore? Moore

Tonic to The System.

For liver troubles and constipation there is nothing better than DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. They do not weaken the stomach. Their action upon the system is mild, pleasant and harmless. Bob Moore, of Lafayette, Ind., says, "No use talking, DeWitt's Little Early Risers do their work. At other pills I have used gripe and make me sick in the stomach and never cured me. DeWitt's Little Early Risers proved to be the long sought relief. They are simply perfect." Persons traveling find Little Early Risers the reliable remedy to carry with them. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

What authors name does a child often use in calling for entertainment story.

Speedy Relief

A salve that heals without a scar is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. No remedy effects such speedy relief. It draws out inflammation, soothes, cools and heals all cuts, burns and bruises. A sure cure for Piles and skin diseases. DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve. Beware of counterfeits, they are dangerous. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

What author inhabits the highlands? Scott.

No Moore Stomach Troubles

All Stomach trouble is removed by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It gives the stomach perfect rest by digesting what you eat without the stomach's aid. The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. Eskine, of Allenville, Mich., says, "I suffered Heartburn and Stomach trouble for some time. My sister-in-law has had the same trouble and was not able to eat for six weeks. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she was entirely cured. She sweats heartily and is in good health. I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some soured meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Cholera, Colera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better; he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store.

Cured of Lame After 15 Years of Suffering

"I had been troubled with lame back for fifteen years and I found a complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says John G. Bisher, Gilliam, Ind. This Balm is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. It is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

THE COWARDLY SHARK.

Splash in the Water, and You Can Easily Scare Him Away.

Every sailor in the south seas, declares a writer in the Washington Star, knows that the shark is a coward. A man who has served many years in the navy tells of an experience with sharks at Tahiti. A crew of seamen gunners had obtained permission to take a beach swim and had not given a thought to sharks, although they had seen numbers of them about the harbor.

In addition to being young, writes the sailor, I was more self confident than I've ever been since, because there wasn't a man or boy on board that could teach me anything about swimming. That's how it came about that as soon as we jumped into the water on the Papete beach I proceeded to outswim all the rest, just to show 'em.

I didn't turn to look back until I was about 300 yards from the beach. The only reason why I turned around then was because I heard a lot of noise from the beach.

When I turned I saw about a hundred naked natives and all of the fellows from our ship lined up on the beach at the edge of the water, jumping up and down and waving their arms at me and yelling with all their might. But I saw something more important than that. There were, it seemed to me, about a million huge, wet and shiny shark fins between me and the beach. Some of them weren't more than ten yards from me.

I stopped and trod water and nervously slapped the surface of the water with my hands. I noticed that when I slapped the water particularly hard the sharks that were nearest to me edged back and circled at a greater distance from me. So I kept on slapping the water.

The sharks were waiting for me to get tired, and they took it easy. Forty natives put out after me in one of those sixty foot long and two foot wide canoes with the outrigger arrangement familiar in the south seas, and in the bow of the boat and directing them was an old quartermaster from a British trading schooner in the harbor.

"Splash, keep a-splashing, you Yankee pup idiot!" he bawled at me as the canoe approached where I was in the middle of the semicircle of waiting sharks.

I was a good deal scared, but as the canoe approached I noticed that all of the natives that weren't helping to pull the canoes were leaning over the side and slapping and churning the water with all their might and main. That settled it. The sharks dispersed like a bunch of stampeded mountain goats, and I was hauled into the canoe and scolded by the British quartermaster for my folly until we pulled up on the beach. That was my first experience with the cowardice of sharks.

Rival Organizations.

The man who had been keeping his seat in a crowded street car spoke at last to the young woman who had been cying him intently for five minutes or longer.

"I know I ought to get up and let you have my seat, madam," he said, "but I'm pledged against that sort of thing. I have just joined the Sit Still club, an organization we have formed in our part of town, and if I should violate the solemn obligation I took when I became a member of that body I should be expelled and held up to the execration of all the other members."

"That is all right, sir," replied the young woman. "You mustn't mind my looking at you. I'm a member of the Stand and Stare club."

-After which she continued to stand and stare at him.—Chicago Tribune.

Fooling Her Father.

Irritable Father—Want to marry my daughter, hey? I suppose she thinks I am fool enough to take such a young man as you are into my family, does she?

Young Man—No, sir. She didn't think it would be of any use for me to ask you. She said you were so cross, and so contrary you would order me out of your office the moment I spoke to you about it.

Irritable Father—Oh, she said that, did she? Well, I'll show that impudent young thing she doesn't know what she is talking about. You can have her, sir, any day you please!—London Fun.

An Up to Date Diogenes.

An eccentric old gentleman placed in a field on his estate a board with the following generous offer painted thereon:

"I will give this field to any man who is contented."

He soon had an applicant.

"Well, my man, are you a contented fellow?" asked the old gentleman.

"Yes, sir, very."

"Then why do you want my field?"

The applicant did not wait to reply.

Awkwardly Expressed.

Newlywed—You bachelors are foolish. Now, when a married man gets a few dollars saved up he doesn't go and spend it on some woman he admires. Bachelor—Doesn't he? Newlywed—No. He buys something for his wife.

Crosses on Beer Barrels.

Beer barrels are invariably marked with a series of crosses, which nowadays denote the quality of the beer contained in the cask. These crosses were originally put on by the monks, who then made all the malt liquors, as a sort of trademark. The crosses were not of the same shape as now shown, but were more akin to the shape of a crucifix and were intended to show that by "their oath sworn on the cross" the beer supplied was of a fit and drinkable condition.—London Times.

Why Babies Look Old.

When we think of the physical martyrdom the babies go through in the way of dress and of the mental torture they must endure when they observe how thoroughly and hopelessly they are always misunderstood can we wonder at the look of age and care that settles so early on their infant brows?—Marie Corelli.

They Got Married.

Tom (who has been away)—Did you and that girl you were engaged to last summer get married? Jack—Yes, but we're not living together. Tom—Why? What's the trouble? Jack—Oh, no trouble at all. She married another man, and I married another girl.

THE AMERICAN REVIEW OF REVIEWS

The more independent system of Reviews

"Independent" is the word that I must take. "The world's greatest" is a claim that I must not make. The Review of Reviews is a journal of the highest quality, and it is the only one of its kind. It is the only journal that is not controlled by any one man or any one group of men. It is the only journal that is not controlled by any one country or any one race. It is the only journal that is not controlled by any one religion or any one sect. It is the only journal that is not controlled by any one party or any one interest. BENSONIZER LUNG CURE

NO MORE EXILE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

A Cure at Last Obtained, After a Searching Investigation, by St. Louis Inter-sts.

A few months ago the attention of a few scientific and philanthropic gentlemen of St. Louis was directed to an entirely new method of combating that most dreadful of all diseases, tuberculosis, commonly called consumption. Out of 115 test cases, 72 were completely cured and 23 have shown such improvement that their ultimate recovery is but a question of a few weeks.

So astonishing have been the results and absolute cures in cases pronounced incurable by all old methods that a company has been formed and is now prepared to furnish at a normal cost this cure to all sufferers of the "White Plague."

One of its chief features is that patients can remain at home, surrounded by friends and relatives, and in a great many instances, especially the incipient or early stages of the disease, pursue their daily vocations and still see me completely cured.

Patients receiving the same treatment here in St. Louis have completely recovered as rapidly as those in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.

The wonderful results in question have been accomplished by the Bensonizer, and the company which controls this marvelous medical device have located their main office at 417 North Seventh street, St. Louis. They have also located a factory on Easton avenue and a laboratory has been built at Hillside, Mo. The cure will be known as the Bensonizer Lung Cure, and Mr. C. P. Benson, the discoverer of the fluid inhalants which are used, will personally have charge of the affairs of the company. Mr. Benson will personally meet all who call at the office of the company on Seventh street, and will answer all communications from sufferers who are unable to make a personal call.—From the St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Free booklet on request. BENSONIZER COMPANY, 417-19 N. Seventh St., St. Louis, Mo.

Program for Teachers Meeting Saturday January 14th 1905.

10:00 a. m.—Opening exercises by Rev. H. H. Moore.
10:15 a. m.—Reading minutes and roll call.
1:30 a. m.—Miscellaneous business.
The committee on program believe that at this stage of the work it would be wise to have an informal meeting at which any phase of the school work may be discussed. There may be many things which the teachers would like to hear discussed which would have never suggested themselves to us, therefore we have decided to request any and every teacher of the county to suggest any phase of the school work which he or she may desire to hear discussed and it will be done at this meeting. We request that any teacher desiring to suggest a topic, send it at once to the president, T. H. King, Ayden, N. C., and thereby give him an opportunity to select for its discussion the person best fitted to do so. You need not give your name but simply send your request to the president as above directed.
We desire to call attention to the date of this meeting—January 14, 1905. We do this because the second Saturday comes the day before the 3rd Sunday. Last year when this was the case some of the teachers came the Saturday before the Second Sunday. If you will send in your questions this will be an interesting and profitable meeting. Let us keep these meetings up to the "high water mark" reached in the last two.
