The Greatest SALE OF SEASONABLE MERCHANDISE

A ROUSING BIG CLEARANCE SALE.

There is one great object in all sales, and that is to sell goods. Just how successful a sale of this kind can be made depends entirely upon the honesty of purpose, at the back of it, depends upon the seasonableness of the merchandise and the price reductions.

We have planned to make this sale an overwhelming success, planned intelligently.

We have taken into due consideration the great loss of profit which such a sale as this means; we take the loss cheerfully, wisely, believing it to be the very best kind of business sense to clean up all winter surplus stock at a great sacrifice, and to do it now while the weaving season is at its height. As we said above we believe this to be the greatest money saving sale of the season, and we want you to believe it also. If you will compare the printed offerings with the actual merchandise, you are bound to believe it. The loss is ours, the saving yours; we have explained the way of it, now we invite you to come and look and investigate the merchandise offered. Come and buy as liberally as you wish. You can make no mistake.

Are Confederate Bonds Good.

Periodically some unsophisticated Englishman rises to remark that it is high time the government of the United States should take steps to bring about the payment of the bonds of the Southern Confederacy. A correspondent of The London Financial News directs attention to the highly interesting fact that "within 100 yards of the Mansion House" in the British metropolis are deposited over $200,000,000 of these bonds. He eagerly observes that the Southern states are prevented from paying them by act of Congress; that the anger which prompted the destruction of the cotton deposited as security for these bonds and the passage of an act rendering repatriation to the bond holders illegal, should have been appeased by this time. Therefore it is suggested that the United States should now, permit the South "to do what it can toward an amicable settlement of the debt." These, it should be remembered, are not the repudiated bonds of the reconstruction period, but old Confederate bonds, which the South would surely have redeemed had the fortunes of war been on the side of Dixie. There is not the remotest possibility that they will ever have any value except to curiosity hunters. Since the war there has been some speculation in these securities but, as our London contemporary, The Financial News says: "A person who bought chances for a re-payment of these bonds at a cent per dollar would be guilty of a rash, hazardous speculation within the meaning of the act forbidding the taking of such chances." The Confederate bond was born in honor; the reconstruction bond was born in dishonor. Neither is worth the paper on which it was printed as an investment; but there will, perhaps, always be unsophisticated persons to believe that one day both will be quoted on the London and New York stock exchanges—Baltimore Sun.

Over Production Sole Evil.

New Orleans, Jan. 24.—At its night session the cotton convention listened for an hour to an address by President A. Brittin, of the New Orleans cotton exchange.

Mr. Brittin denied that low prices were in any sense due to futures sales. Low prices were due to one cause, and one cause only, that of over-production. With the removal of that cause, values would go up with a bound, regardless of all the future sellers of Europe, Africa or America.

Let the acreage be reduced 25 per cent, and all the speculators on earth cannot keep cotton from going to ten cents. Speaking of the growing consumption of cotton, Mr. Brittin said if this year's crop was kept within ten million bales, in three to five years the world would require a crop of 13,000,000 bales more. Referring to the importance of the present convention, he said that any resolutions it might pass would amount to little if they were not followed up with earnest, sincere and determined work. In the solution of the problem confronting it, the most serious since the civil war, he said the convention had the best wishes of the great exchange he had honor to represent.

After naming vice presidents and committees, the convention adjourned until tomorrow morning.

North Carolina at Appomattox.

The North Carolina Appomattox Monument Commission, composed of Messrs. H. A. Landon, E. J. Holt, W. T. Jenkins, C. B. Watson and A. D. McGill, met in Raleigh, and elected Mr. Landon chairman, and J. Bryan Grimes secretary of state, its secretary. A design for a monument of North Carolina granite was accepted. The monument will be unveiled and a memorial celebration will be held at Appomattox Courthouse, April 9th, the fortieth anniversary of Lee's surrender. The chairman was directed to arrange for transportation. Special trains will be run, with special rates from all points in North Carolina and Virginia.

The governor, Supreme court judges, senators and representatives of North Carolina and the governor, senators and representatives of Virginia will be invited. All Confederate veterans in North Carolina and Virginia, and especially veterans who surrendered at Appomattox, the daughters of the Confederacy, and members of ladies' memorial associations will be invited to participate. Generals W. P. Roberts and W. R. Cox, and other prominent soldiers who surrendered at Appomattox, will be guests of honor. Major George A. Ames, United States army, retired, who generously donated the site for the proposed monument, was voted the thanks of the commission and was invited to be present. The North Carolina national guard will be invited to participate.

THURSDAY, JAN. 26, 1905.

TO INCREASE JURY TAX.

A bill to be entitled: An act to increase the jury tax from two dollars in criminal cases and three dollars in civil cases, to five dollars in all cases where a jury is empanelled, in Pitt county.

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That section 732 of the first volume of the code be and the same is hereby amended by striking out the word "two" in line four of said section, and inserting in its stead the word "five," and by striking out the word "three" in line six of said section, and inserting in its stead the word "five" provided this amendment shall apply only to the county of Pitt.

Section 2. This act shall be in force and effect from and after its ratification.

The foregoing is a copy of bill introduced by Senator Fleming, and as it has been reported on favorably by the committee will likely become a law. The purpose of this bill is to make offenders and litigants pay a higher jury tax and thus save the county the burden that would arise from the law enacted early in the session increasing the pay of regular jurors in this county.

The investigating committee as to the number of employes in the legislature reports that the services of ten of them might, on a squeeze, be dispensed with. Let the ten be dispensed with then. Every little saved it that much.

The farmers who are holding their cotton should be careful to protect it against exposure to the weather. There is as much danger of loss by neglect in this particular as there is from the low price.

The National Association of Retail Grocers in session at Cincinnati expressed disapproval of premiums and gift schemes and formulated a crusade against such methods of drawing trade.

The legislature sat down on the proposition to amend the constitution and make the time of meeting April instead of January. Did not realize what was best for themselves that time.

We have not seen any account of Lieutenant Peary cutting down the North pole and bringing it back with him, but this weather feels like something of the kind had happened.

All the same some people are talking that a building and loan association would be a good thing for Greenville, but the talk should develop into action.

You can listen out for sick members of the legislature. If this weather does not turn the grip loose among them we shall be surprised.

China is getting her quene up and is itching for a scrap with somebody. Better keep that "pig tail" easy.

With Mrs. Chadwick, Miss Patterson and Mrs. Duke all in jail it looks like gay times in the cells.

It would be the proper thing now for Brodie Duke to exert himself to get his wife out of prison.

Not many people are hankering for the job held down at present by the czar of Russia.

The Merchants are Right.

Petitions from hundreds of North Carolina merchants were presented to the legislature yesterday asking for the repeal of the law requiring them to pay a purchase tax in addition to the ad valorem tax on their stocks. The appeal is reasonable and the remission of this tax would be nothing more or less than simple justice. It is past understanding that the general assemblies of the past have not taken such action as the merchants desire. No grosser injustice is inflicted on any class of men than the merchants through the imposition of this tax which is simply double taxation. Auditor Dixon, who is as thoroughly familiar with the State's resources as any man in North Carolina, recommends the repeal of this law and in his recommendation has the report of all fair thinking men.—Salisbury Post

In the years following the civil war, a smallpox epidemic such as is now prevailing in certain sections of the State, would have created a reign of terror in North Carolina. Now no more attention is paid to it than if it were only an epidemic of measles—not as much, for in the latter case, parents would be concerned for their children, while neither child nor adult seems to give smallpox a thought.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The Teachers' Assembly of North Carolina will meet this year at some point in the interior of the State and not at a coast resort, it being felt that there is to be such a change from time to time.

Fashionable dressmakers are struggling with a plan to make summer ball room clothes warmer. Probably the idea of wearing more has never occurred to them.—Atlanta Journal.

Friday Night

There never was a grander or more happy state of society than that which obtained in the agricultural South before the war. The large and magnificently equipped plantations of those days, gave to the southern planter a fame and prestige world wide. The war drama blotted this civilization from the earth and it exists now only as a memory. It is preserved only in story and song but those who wish can get a glimpse and a refreshing one indeed of this life as it was actually lived by hearing Polk Miller.

A verdict for thirty cents was what a Chicago jury awarded to a woman who sued a man for $30,000 damages for backing out of his promise to marry her. Hereafter that woman will know how things on the bargain counter feel about being marked down below cost.—Wilmington Star.

A woman gets very suspicious of her husband when he goes a long time without doing anything that looks suspicious.

It is so expensive being married a man could pay a bachelor tax of all his income and be better off.
