J. L. FLEMING

Senator From Pitt County.

James Lawson Fleming was born in Pitt county in 1867. He was educated at the public schools and academy of his county and completed his education at Wake Forest College. He was married June 21, 1899, to Miss Lula B. White, of Greenville. He is a Baptist. Upon securing license to practice law, Mr. Fleming located in Greenville, where he has met with large success. He has been solicitor for the inferior court, mayor of Greenville and member of the county board of education.

He practiced law with his partner, Mr. Larry I. Moore, solicitor of the Third Judicial District. Mr. Fleming was elected by a majority of 2,400. He is an effective and popular campaigner and a ready debater.

Mr. Fleming served as member of the following committees: Judiciary, Salaries and Fees, Judicial Districts, Claims and Military Affairs. Mr. Fleming was greatly interested in legislation that would promote every interest in his county, and took a leading part in important matters put before the Senate. He favored the bill giving married women the same right as men in making contracts, and made an able speech in favor of that bill. He strenuously opposed the Ward bill, saying that the people of his county were opposed to further temperance legislation, and in opposing it he was carrying out their wishes. He was strenuously opposed to the so called barratry bill and stood for the amendment that would make it apply equally to the law agents of railroads as well as to the attorney. Mr. Fleming was popular with the senators and took part in the discussion in many matters before the senate and always spoke with force and power.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Loon, of Baltimore, on March 9th, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride in Washington City. They spent several days in Washington City before coming to Greenville.

INVITATION TO THE TEACHERS.

Greenville, N. C., March 23rd.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

It is a cause of congratulation to the people of the town of Greenville and to the community, and we congratulate the board of aldermen for the timely cordial invitation to the teachers of the public schools of the county of Pitt to hold their institute this summer in the town of Greenville in the graded school building, at such time as they may hereafter select. And we congratulate the teachers of the various schools of the county that cordial, earnest desire for them to spend a month in our town has been so sincerely manifest by our town authorities, and the spirit that prompts the invitation is earnest and cordial. The teachers life is not always rosy, the good women who are doing so much to shape the lives and train the children who are to be the men and women of the country for weal or woe are entitled to the very best of every effort the people can put forth in making their assembling together once a year as pleasant, instructive and recreative as their time and means will permit. There is nothing that can be bestowed upon these brave, heroic good women too good for their reward in service so well done. Pitt county is sincerely proud of her splendid women and well she has a right to be.

Greenville has not heretofore been in a fitting position to offer to the summer school the advantages and delights that these women and men comprising the teachers institute were worthy of because of the fact there was no suitable assembly hall to make their meetings comfortable. Now Greenville has the most ample place in the county, the graded school building, and the good people of the town have the kindly spirit of hospitality that is the great cynosure of success to all gatherings of good people. It is accessible to all, and the social, mental, physical and religious recreation is so well diversified that the stay of one month in Greenville would be a delight to all who would attend. As a business feature the town would be greatly benefited and as a social feature the people of the town would be honored to have this magnificent array of womanly splendors constitute a part of our body politic for such time as the assembly would continue. We sincerely trust that the people of the town and community will graciously and cordially respond to the request of the committees appointed by the aldermen to arrange for this great enterprise and we do hope and believe the good people of the town and vicinity will show their splendid hospitality and open their hearts and homes and prove their magnificent appreciation of the great service the teachers are rendering in our great county of Pitt.

The writer only regrets that he is so situated that he cannot furnish the welcome hospitality to each and everyone of them at his own cost, but he assures the teachers, one and all, he will contribute gladly to their pleasure and enjoyment while lingering in Greenville. The citizens of the town should take this matter up in a mass meeting held at an early date, and provide such ways and means as is commensurate of the cause and occasion. I. A. STOGG.

None Here.

Kinston on one side of us and Tarboro on the other side both are having many cases of smallpox. We expect the general vaccination of people in Greenville last fall is keeping this town clear of it.

FIRE AT SCOTLAND NECK.

Several Buildings Burned—Loss Between $10,000 and $15,000.

Scotland Neck, N. C., Mar. 23.—About 1:30 o'clock this morning this town was visited by a fire that consumed property to the value of between $10,000 and $15,000, and upon which there was a very small amount of insurance.

The fire started in an old unoccupied shop, but now it originated is not known. It burned Biggs & Johnson's office, Wilson Alibrooks' store, A. C. Peterson's store, the Carter building (unoccupied) Biggs & Johnson's stables and a number of small shops. Peterson lost nearly all of his stock, while Allbrook saved most of his. Both buildings occupied by these were owned by John Lewis and were insured for $500.

The houses burned were frame buildings and it is thought the stores will be replaced with brick buildings.

Wilkinson's Opening.

C. L. Wilkinson gave the ladies a feast today in his spring display of new dress goods and millinery. The arrangement of his store was artistic and attractive, showing the beauty and texture of the goods for this season's style. Anything desired in dress goods from silks down was on display. His trimmed hats were marvels of beauty.

New Spring Goods ARRIVING DAILY.

There is one thing that we do not claim in our business to do and that is to sell goods cheaper than they can be bought—neither do we want to create the impression that our store is full of shop worn, out of style goods nor by filling our store with show bills and sign boards will we try to impress false ideas in your mind that we are going out of business, but we do wish it understood that we are receiving daily shipments of the newest things in

THURSDAY, MAR. 23, 1905.

The Southern railway and the city of Durham have locked horns again.

If the squabble at Durham keeps going it will be the best advertised town on the map.

If New York succeeds in exterminating the gamblers there may yet be some hope for slight reform in the city.

Philadelphians elect the biggest rascals in the city to office and then try to remedy the trouble by praying for them.

From the official statistical report in the Southern Tobacco Journal we see that North Carolina ranks second in the production of leaf tobacco in the United States. Kentucky is first, North Carolina second and Virginia third. The number of acres in North Carolina last year was 144,000, the yield per acre 685 pounds, and the price 8.6 cents per pound.

United States District Attorney Harry Skinner was one of the speakers at the banquet of the Tar Heel club at Greensboro, at which Vice-President Fairbanks was the guest of honor. Col. Skinner responded to the toast "What Republican policies mean for the South." We do not know what he said on this subject, but take it for granted that he made a good speech, as he usually does. But the best response to his toast could have been made in six words, to wit: "Government jobs for men like me."

A Queer Place.

This surely is a queer place; this world. Some of the people are queer, too. Chicago policeman, for instance, are arresting hundreds of men for spitting on the sidewalks. Now, spitting on the sidewalks is a dirty, unhealthy habit, but as a matter of fact no one has ever known with absolute certainty that any one has ever taken into his system a deadly germ which some careless spitter has left on the sidewalk. Yet by actual count there are over 7,000 places in Chicago which are publicly selling stuff which is killing, sometimes directly and sometimes indirectly, hundreds, perhaps thousands, of people annually—and the city is actually licensing these places to sell the poison. Furthermore, the stuff they sell, at an enormous profit, makes men spit, too. It is, indeed, strangely inconsistent, the fining of spitters and the licensing of saloons. If spitters are to be fined, it would seem that no punishment short of hanging should be meted out to whiskey-sellers.—Chicago Standard.

The movement for the formation of a new state out of parts of east Tennessee, western North Carolina, southeast Kentucky and southwest Virginia will have few supporters. None of these states will consent to it, and the federal constitution provides that no new state can be formed without the assent of those from which its territory is to be taken. Congressman Semp, the lone republican representative from Virginia, is, we believe, the champion of this measure. He may as well give it up. We do not think he will be able to win any glory as a statesman. He can hardly induce congress to again violate the above mentioned provision of the constitution, taking the West Virginia case as a precedent.—Wilmington Messenger.

Must Pay Damage for Calling a White Man Colored.

An important decision was handed down in the Supreme court today, involving libel suits of $10,000 each against the Charleston News and Courier and the Charleston Post by Augustus M. Flood, who was referred to in both publications as a "colored man," in their mention of his suit against the Charleston Street Railway. The decision is against the newspapers and the cases go back to Charleston for the assessment of such damages as a jury may see fit. The reference to Flood as a colored man was an error which the one paper fell into by reason of the other's lack of diligence, and both papers promptly apologized when the mistake was called to their attention.—Columbia, S. C., Dispatch 15th.

A Dinner Invitation.

After a hearty meal a dose of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will prevent an attack of indigestion. Kodol is a thorough digestant and a guaranteed cure for indigestion, dyspepsia, gas on the stomach, sour rising, bad breath and all stomach troubles. N. Watkins, Lesbus, Ky., says: "I can testify to the efficacy of Kodol in the cure of Stomach Trouble. I was afflicted with Stomach Trouble for fifteen years and have taken six bottles of your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which entirely cured me. The six bottles were worth $1,000 to me." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest any quantity of all the wholesome food you want to eat while your stomach takes rest—recuperates and grows strong. This wonderful preparation is justly entitled to all of its many remarkable cures. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

We have a greater state than most of our own people are aware of. For instance, who knows North Carolina's record as a producer of corn? The Wilmington Messenger, which has had access to a late copy of the government crop reporter, finds that only fifteen states produced more than North Carolina in 1904, her crop amounting to 40,705,478 bushels. Of this amount 51 per cent. was on hand March 1st. Of this crop only 5 per cent. has been shipped out of the counties where grown. The percentage of the North Carolina crop merchantable was 86. Only ten other states have greater percentage, Nebraska leading with 97, Illinois following with 93 and New Jersey and Mississippi third with 90 per cent.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Pleasant and Harmless

Don't drug the stomach to cure a cough. One Minute Cough Cure cuts the mucus, draws the inflammation out of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes, heals, soothes and cures. A quick cure for Croup and Whooping Cough, One Minute Cough Cure relieves a cough in one minute because it acts first on the mucous membrane right where the cough troubles—in the throat or deep-seated on the lungs. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

A Young Colored Giant.

Uncle Austin Ramsey, who works in Mr. Ed. Brower's shoe shop, has just finished what is probably the largest pair of shoes ever made for a person in North Carolina. The shoes are No. 16 and had to be made on a specially prepared last, as there was not a last in the shop large enough for the shoes. The shoes were made for a colored youth only 17 years of age, John Huntley by name. John lives with Mr. Albert Smith, of Guldridge township, and is not only noted for the tremendousness of his feet, but for his great height as well. He is six feet and eight and three-quarter inches tall and weighs 212 pounds.—Wadesboro Messenger.

A Destructive Fire

To draw the fire out of a burn, or heal a cut without leaving a scar, use DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A specific for piles. Get the genuine. J. L. Every family should keep it on hand." Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

By the Tonic Route

The pills that acts as a tonic, and not as a drastic purge, are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cure Headache, Constipation, Billiousness, etc. Early Risers are small, easy to take and easy to act—a safe pill. Mack Hamilton, hotel clerk at Valley City, N. D., says: "Two bottles cured me of chronic constipation." Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

A Yadkin county map and his wife were in jail together—what for is not stated—and the husband managed to give bond and get out, leaving his wife in jail. The conduct of the husband has been severely criticized, as is natural. He should have been gallant enough to allow his wife to pass out first—but maybe he knew the woman better than the rest of us.—Statesville Landmark.

Cigarettes are now absolutely prohibited in Wisconsin and Indiana, and they are forbidden to minors in this State. The possibility of drastic legislation against cigarettes may be due to the fact that their especial devotees are too young to vote.—Philadelphia Press.

If you want your little ones strong, healthy and robust, give them Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea this month. A tonic for the whole family. The children's friend. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

WILSON'S CORN

As a subscriber to the Southern Agriculturist secured the original seed from an old Indian in Southwest Texas. After experimenting with it several years he found that the product with good ground and care will make from 50 to 100 bushels to the acre, and planted the seed out last fall and all it will make more feed and better food than anything I ever saw. The old Indian said poultry fed on it would never have the cholera. I have not lost a fowl with cholera since I have been raising it. It also pops beautifully. This article brought hundreds of requests for seed, and now only a few bushels are left. Send 10c for a 3 months' trial subscription to Southern Agriculturist, 39 C. P. Bldg., Nashville, Tenn., and you will get 100 seed by return mail, also details of $50 prize seed-growing contest.

HUMAN FRACTIONS.

The Relations They Bear to the Mathematical Brand.

Fractions have never occupied my mind since that golden age out of which I was rudely thrust some thirty years ago. But recently the curious personality they used to have for my childish terror was recalled to me. "I know fractions," my niece, Marjory, declared to me the other day, with conscious wisdom. "There are two kinds—common fractions and decimals. All that are not decimals are common or vulgar."

"Common or vulgar!" The forgotten names came back from afar, mere conjunctions of curious syllables without mathematical significance, but pushing strange ideas ahead of them. Why should there suddenly have been opened up to me a strange and human aristocracy among fractions whereby one order should be assigned the place of exclusion and made the shibboleth, even among boys—that single class of humanity to whom we look for a virgin and therefore a true judgment—while all the rest of this mathematical half world should be tagged with a double derogation? Whence is the sinister power and the smug respectability of the decimal? Has it to do with the money that it stands for? Has the calculating arithmetic done this human thing also?

"Marjory, there is such a thing, is there not, as an improper fraction?"

"Oh, yes, there is. I know about that too. An improper fraction is a vulgar fraction whose numerator is greater than its denominator."

It would appear, then, that the arithmetic appreciation of good behavior is close to the human. A fraction has no business to be greater than it appears to be, no matter how many integers it may actually contain. Having the body of a common fraction, a common fraction it shall be, and an improper one besides—a case of explicit misbehavior grafted upon a general vulgarity.—Scribner's.

A Double Loss.

Mrs. Rankin endeared herself to the stout and sentimental cook by interested inquiries after the cook's numerous relatives, and the answers she received often compensated her amply for the time she thus spent. "Was your cousin Celia married the last of June, as she expected to be?" asked Mrs. Rankin on her return to town one autumn, and the cook's face changed from cheerfulness to gloom in a moment.

"She was not, poor Celia!" she said mournfully. "He was took off sudden wid a fever. It was to her a double loss. There was the loss ay a man, and there was the loss ay the marriage."

He Gave His Address.

An Englishman, a temperance lecturer, was invited to speak on total abstinence. Being nobody in particular, he was placed last on the list of speakers. The chairman also introduced several speakers whose names were not on the list, and the audience was tired out when he said, "Mr. Bailey will now give us his address."

"My address," said Mr. Bailey, rising, "is 45 Loughborough park, Brixton road, and I wish you all good night."

A Simple Remedy For Acquiring Hard Muscles and a Sound Body.

A number 12 bore gun when loaded with three drams of powder will send a load of shot further and shoot harder than if double this amount of powder is used.

If too much powder is used, all of it will not explode until it leaves the muzzle of the gun.

That portion which does not explode at the proper time, interferes with the direction, and checks the velocity of force of the shot.

Hard muscles and a strong body do not depend on the quantity of food, but on its perfect digestion and proper assimilation.

If the nutrient properties of all of the food that may be eaten are appropriated by the blood and tissues, the muscles of the body will grow harder and stronger, whether you eat much or little.

You may be well, but not strong. What you want is strength,—physical force.

You do not have to be sick to need Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.

Thousands of men and millions of women have need for just what Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will do for them.

A little Kodol after meals, will enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate every atom of all of the wholesome food that may be eaten.

It will do more.

It will enable the stomach to extract from the food all its nutrient properties, and contribute the same to the blood.

It will enable the blood to circulate freely and deposit a full quota of this tissue building and strength giving material into every nook, corner, muscle and fibre of your whole being.

The result is perfect strength.

And perfect health. Disease cannot lay hold on the man or woman whose physical condition is thus fortified. Recommended by J. L. Wootter, druggist.

LETTER TO W. S. ATKINS

Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir: A barber in Erie, Pa., has been teaching two hotelmen how to paint.

Mr. Christ Wissard is the barber. Three years ago he painted his house and shop Devoe.

A year afterward, the hotels across the street—they are all on corners—were painted, not Devoe.

The story don't tell the first half of the facts: how much the three paints cost per square foot. It tells how they looked last year.

The laugh was not on the barber. His house and shop looked new; the hotels had begun to look old; they'll paint Devoe next time; and next time will come pretty soon.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.
