HOW MANY ARE LIVING?

We Would Like to Have Names of Living Pitt Countians Who Surrendered at Appomattox.

Appropos of the approaching event of the Confederate monument at Appomattox by North Carolina on April 9th, it would be interesting to know the names of the living Confederate soldiers in Pitt who surrendered their muskets at that place on April 9th, 1865.

Mr. R. R. Fleming, of Pactolus, one of the first and best citizens of the county, was in Greenville Monday and suggested this thought. He says he would like to know how many there are now living who volunteered under Col. G. B. Singletary and followed the varying fortunes of the Confederacy until the close at Appomattox. Mr. Fleming volunteered April 20th, 1861, was enrolled in Co. H. 27th Regiment, took part in some of the hottest battles of the war, was surrendered at Appomattox April 9th, 1865, and reached home on the evening of April 19th, being absent from home and at the front during the entire period of the war.

THE REFLECTOR would be glad to know the names of those living now who surrendered at Appomattox and also those who belonged to Co. H. We will appreciate this information from any and every source.

Always Liberal to Churches.

Every church will be given a liberal quantity of L. and M. paint. Call for it.

4 gallons Longman & Martinez L. and M. Paint mixed with three gallons linseed oil, will paint a house.

W. B. Barr, Charleston, W. Va. writes, "Painted Frankenburg block with L. and M. stands out as though varnished."

Wears and covers like gold.

Don't pay $1.50 per gallon for linseed oil, which you do in ready for use paint.

Buy oil fresh from the barrel at 60 cents per gallon and mix it with L. and M.

It makes paint cost about $1.20 per gallon. Sold by H. L. Carr.

THE WEATHER

Increasing cloudiness tonight, rain in western portion. Thursday rain, colder in the interior.

Census Bureau Report on Cotton Ginned.

Washington, March 28.—The Census Bureau today issued a bulletin showing the total crop of cotton ginned for the season of 1904 to be 13,597,782 bales. These figures include linters and count round bales as half bales and the total is equivalent to 13,574,457 bales of 500 pounds. The figures for the different states on running bales are:

Alabama 1,458,966; Arkansas 883,967; Florida 86,642; Georgia 1,960,14; Kentucky 1,922; Louisiana 1,105,466; Mississippi 1,738,638; Missouri 48,447; North Carolina 743,404; Oklahoma 341,497; South Carolina 1,189,134; Tennessee 316,790; Texas 3,134,671; Virginia 17,216.

Peanut Factory Blazes.

Norfolk, Va., March 28.—The immense five story brick building occupied by the Farmers & Manufacturers Peanut Company, in Norfolk county, a short distance outside the city of Portsmouth was completely destroyed by fire tonight. It caused a monetary loss of over $50,000 and created a panic among three thousand spectators when several large boilers in the burning building exploded and hurled large pieces of brick and steel through the air. So far as could be learned no one was fatally injured.

Miss Mildred Lee Dead.

New Orleans, March 28.—Miss Mildred Curtis Lee, youngest daughter of the noted Confederate chieftain Robert E. Lee, died here suddenly last night of apoplexy. Miss Lee visited New Orleans during the carnival and remained over a. the guest of Mrs. Wm. Preston Johnson. She was to have left today for her home in Virginia. The body will be sent there for interment. Miss Lee was born at the Lee homestead at Arlington during the civil war.

Who is Guilty?

It is awful to think that people will go to a cemetery and pull flowers that have been planted there to beautify the home of the dead, but we sometimes hear of it being done. In the last few days flowers have been pulled in Cherry Hill cemetery. Surely no grown person of sound mind or proper self respect would be guilty of this, and if the act is committed by children their parents should show them how wrong it is.

Married.

Tuesday evening at the residence of Rev. W. H. Laughinghouse, father of the bride, in South Greenville, Mr. E. B. Dixon and Miss Nora Laughinghouse were married by Rev. S. B. Stephens. The couple left today for the home of the groom's father, about 5 miles from town.

Plenty of Water.

It is much easier to sprinkle the streets now than when water was so hard to get. Now the sprinkler can drive up to one of the hydrants and be filled in a few minutes. With plenty of water convenient the street can be sprinkled often enough to keep down the dust.

STOLEN—A black frame, red head bicycle. When taken front tire had tape band around it, rear tire slipped and tube slightly torn. Reward for information leading to recovery.

Earl Harrington, Greenville, N. C.

For Sale—A 10 syrup, 3 draft soda fountain and outfit, including marble counter. Apply this office.

The pumps have put about 35 feet of water in the standpipe and will soon have it full.

W. S. Moye has sold the remainder of his grocery stock to D. W. Hardee.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Mar. 29.

Mrs. Jno. McGowan, of Washington, has been here on a visit.

Miss Lena Spain, of Kinston, came up Saturday to visit at the dormitory.

Miss Geneva Forbes, of Greenville was here last Sunday visiting Miss Bonner Kittrell.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Fletcher, of Greenville township, were here Saturday night and Sunday visiting relatives.

Mrs. Sidie McGlohon, of Ayden, and Mrs. Nora Hart, of Kinston, have been visiting Mrs. W. L. House.

Mrs. W. C. Parser and children, of Gardner's X Roads, spent Sunday at J. H. C. Dixon's.

Miss Ethel McDonald arrived on Monday's train.

Nineteen persons were baptised in the Baptist church here Saturday night as a result of the recent revival.

Joshua Manning is home again. Glad to welcome him back.

Several of our young couples attended the closing exercises of Miss May Anderson's school, at Renston last night. They are all reporting a very enjoyable event.

Geo. Kittrell is the circus now. He has a gasoline bicycle and is giving free open air concerts at all hours.

D. G. Campbell, of Norfolk, has been here a few days.

We have said and still say that Winterville is by far the most desirable place in the county for the coming teachers institute. The teachers are fully aware of her advantages. But Winterville people, you will have to do some work, for other towns are doing their best to get it from you.

ORMONDSVILLE ITEMS.

ORMONDSVILLE, March 28, 1905.

Since the clouds of winter have passed away the sun seems to shine with renewed brightness.

Raymond Turnage, of Ayden, came over yesterday and his sister accompanied him back.

Misses Carrie Rouse and Cora Grimsley and Miss Parker, of Lizzie, were the guests of Miss Lena Denton last Saturday night and Sunday.

Eld. J. M. Barfield, manager of the Free Will Baptist Publishing Co., of Ayden and wife spent Saturday and Sunday visiting relatives in this section. This is their old home and the people are always glad to see them.

An unusually large congregation attended the quarterly meeting at St. Delight last Sunday. Services were conducted by the pastor.

Mrs. Lydia Wainwright who lived near Marlboro, died last Friday night and was buried near her home on Sunday evening. The funeral services were conducted by Eld. R. I. Corbitt, of Ormondsville.

Ormondsville High School is in an excellent condition. The building has been very much improved by placing a new floor and a full supply of the modern improved desks. This is a lovely place for a school as there are no such temptations offered here as are in the towns and cities.

Homes Being Offered

Mayor E. M. Wooten tells us that enough people have already reported to him that they will take teachers to board during the institute, to make homes for fifty. With this many responses before the committee begins work indicates that there will be no trouble in getting boarding places at a reasonable rate for all the teachers who will attend the institute.

The new town cart was picking up trash today.

By the time Mrs. Chadwick serves her ten years' sentence she may forget how to work the banks.

As the coal season is about over, an ice trust is being talked. The trust wants to control all the plants between Richmond and New Orleans.

The legislature of New Jersey appropriated $25,000 for the state to participate in the Jamestown exposition in 1907. That exposition is going to be a big affair and will mean much to all this eastern section.

One editor in Memphis, Tenn., has sued another publishing concern in that city for $500,000. Goodness, his feelings must have been "awfully hurt." But he should not want so much remuneration all at one time.

The Wilmington Star has so brightened up as to hardly look like its former self. It has installed a battery of linotype machines and put on an entire new dress giving the paper a decidedly improved appearance. The Star is the oldest daily paper in the state, having been in existence nearly forty years, and its editor, Maj. W. H. Bernard, has been the longest in continuous service of any editor in North Carolina. In all these years the Star has never changed in style or policy. It occupies a place in the esteem of the people of North Carolina that no other paper can fill. May prosperity continue with it.

STATE NEWS.

The State Agricultural Department has issued a circular regarding labor in the State and also in the line of securing immigrants, if the people desire them. With the circular goes out a question blank, the answers to which will give the Department an idea of what the North Carolina people really want, and will show whether the immigration of farm labor upon a wage basis is desired by the laborers. Thousands of the circulars and blanks will be sent out.

A small negro boy, living in East Durham, died Friday afternoon as a result of drinking too much whiskey. The little fellow, Elbert Jefferies, who was about 7 years of age, was playing with his cousin when they found, in an old unused out house, a pint of corn whiskey. Elbert found the whiskey and he liked it so well that he would allow his cousin but a small quantity. He himself drank the remainder of the whiskey. As a result he went into a sleep from which he could not be aroused and died late in the afternoon.

The penitentiary authorities announce that two convicts, both negroes, escaped from the convict camp at Bowden's. One is James Wilson, from Pitt county, serving ten years for burglary, age 22. He has a scar on the back of the left hand. The other is Lee Jackson, from Mecklenburg, for burglary, ten years, 45 years old, has a broken nose.

At Wilmington several runaway freight cars crashed into one of the office buildings of the Atlantic Coast Line and demolished the brick wall for four stories. It happened at an hour when only two clerks were in the office, and these had a narrow escape.

For the lack of funds it is announced that no summer school will be held at the A. & M. college in Raleigh this year.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Yerkes perhaps did not know it, but he was talking to some of his friends the other night at banquet. For instance, Mr. B. F. Sprinkle was there recently convicted of defrauding the government and sentenced to two years in jail and a fine of $5,000, and out pending an appeal. Mr. L. E. Davis, it is said, was there; he was convicted for a like offence and paid $800 and is now out of jail on good behavior—money seeming to be no object to him. One gentleman, however, was absent—Mr. A. J. Davis. He is serving time in the prison at Atlanta and came under the head of "unavoidably detained." Money may not have been any object to him, but time is; he don't want to lose any. The district attorney who convicted these gentlemen was not on hand at the banquet; he was not even invited. Must have been an oversight! A gentleman in Greensboro who sat on the jury that convicted Sprinkle, was invited, but did not attend. Mr. J. L. Casper, twice convicted of using the mails for fraudulent purposes, was also here.

And these were some of the men Mr. Yerkes talked to on "political peonage," a rather suggestive subject to these gentlemen, being as how some of them are in "peonage"—these are some of the men in the gathering, we repeat, called—ostensibly—for the purpose of making inroads on the Democratic party!—Greensboro Record.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some soured meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store.

Bad Money in Kansas City.

"I never saw such a town for bad money," said a Kansas man who spent a vacation in Kansas City recently. "I came here with $100 in $5 and $10 bills. Every time I had a bill changed, it seemed, I got one or more pieces of bad money. Plugged coins, Canadian dimes, smooth dimes and lead coins all came my way. I put all my bad money in one pocket, thinking at first that the sum total of my loss wouldn't be much. After being here four days, however, I found that I had several dollars' worth of bad change in my pocket. Then I began to think the matter over. I knew I would probably be unable to pass the money up home so I decided to get rid of it here. It was easy. By the next night I had passed nearly all of it, and the following day I got rid of the last bad piece. Then I began refusing to take bad coins and people began to look at me in surprise. They took it and they couldn't see why I didn't want to. Kansas City is a great town for bad money.—Kansas City Times.

A Dinner Invitation.

After a hearty meal a dose of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will prevent an attack of indigestion. Kodol is a thorough digestant and a guaranteed cure for indigestion, dyspepsia, gas on the stomach, sour rising, bad breath and all stomach troubles. N. Watkins, Lesbury, Ky., says: "I can testify to the efficacy of Kodol in the cure of Stomach Trouble. I was afflicted with Stomach Trouble for fifteen years and have taken six bottles of your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which entirely cured me. The six bottles were worth $1,000 to me." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest any quantity of all the wholesome food you want to eat while your stomach takes rest—rejuvenates and grows strong. This wonderful preparation is justly entitled to all of its many remarkable cures. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The papers are always springing something new. The "How Old is Ann?" problem was meant for the public at large. The newest is for railroad men exclusively. It is this: "A train one mile long starts from the station at Gladen. The engine leaves the station and the conductor waits until the caboose comes, when he jumps on the caboose and walks forward over the train. When the engine reaches the next station, Oxley four miles distance from Gladen, the conductor steps off the engine. How far does the conductor ride and how far does he walk?" This problem originated in West Virginia and the train hands there are so absorbed in their efforts to work it out that train service is in danger of becoming demoralized.—Charlotte Chronicle

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

Raising a Girl The Wrong Way.

An Atchison girl of fifteen gets up in the morning, eats breakfast which her mother has prepared, goes upstairs and takes care of her room, and then goes down town, sometimes taking two hours to buy a spool of thread. She eats dinner which her mother has prepared, wears clothes her mother has made, spends the afternoon reading story books or gadding with her friends, eats supper her mother has prepared, and spends the evening with her girl friends. She has done nothing wicked at all all day, and her mother is satisfied that she is bringing her up right. But is she?—Atchison Globe.

A Destructive Fire

To draw the fire out of a burn, or heal a cut without leaving a scar, use DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A specific for piles. Get the genuine. J. L. Every family should keep it on hand." Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

Dear Mr. Munford:—

Your communication of the 4th is before us at present. Low prices and holding back the cotton crop from market has place hundreds of Solid Southern Merchants in just your position. There is one thing that we do not claim in our business to do and that is to sell goods cheaper than they can be bought—neither do we want to create the impression that our store is full of shop worn, out of style goods nor by filling our store with show bills and sign boards will we try to impress false ideas in your mind that we are going out of business, but we do wish it understood that we are receiving daily shipments of the newest things in

WRECKED IN MIDAIR.

The Way Santos-Dumont Was Once Rescued by Small Boys.

This incident occurred during one of Santos-Dumont's first flights in No. 5. Everything was going smoothly, and the airship circled like a hawk, when the spectators, who were craning their necks to see, noticed that something was wrong. The motor slowed down, the propeller spun less swiftly, and the whole fabric began to sink toward the ground. While the people gazed, their hearts in their mouths, they saw Santos-Dumont scramble out of his basket and crawl out on the framework, while the balloon swayed in the air. He calmly knotted the cord that had parted and crept back to his place as unconcernedly as if he were on solid ground.

The earth seemed to be leaping up toward Santos-Dumont, and destruction stared him in the face. A hand air pump was provided to fill an air balloon inside the larger one and so make up for the compression of the hydrogen gas caused by the denser, lower atmosphere. He started this pump, but it proved too small, and as the gas was compressed more and more and the flabbiness of the balloon increased the whole thing became unmanageable. The great ship dropped and dropped through the air, while the aeronaut, no longer in control of his ship, but controlled by it, worked at the pump and threw out ballast in a vain endeavor to escape the inevitable. He was descending directly over the Longchamps race course when he caught sight of some boys flying kites in the open space. He shouted to them to take hold of his trailing guide rope and run with it against the wind. They understood at once and as instantly obeyed. The wind had the same effect on the airship as it had on a kite when one runs with it, and the speed of the fall was checked. Man and airship landed with a thud that smashed everything but the man. The smart boys that had saved Santos-Dumont's life helped him pack what was left of the wrecked airship into its basket, and a cab took inventor and invention back to Paris.—From "Stories of Inventors," by Russell Doubleday.
