

SPRING OPENING.

An event of first importance, the result of careful planning and weeks of faithful work.

The formal opening of the

SPRING GOODS AND MILLINERY

was a triumphant success unprecedented, surpassing any similar occasion of the past.

The unanimous expression of delighted visitors was that never before had an opening exhibited so vast and charming selection of Spring Merchandise.

The Ladies of Greenville and vicinity are not slow to appreciate styles and fine goods.

New Spring Goods

ARRIVING DAILY.

There is one thing that we do not claim in our business to do and that is to sell goods cheaper than they can be bought—neither do we want to create the impression that our store is full of shop worn, out of style goods nor by filling our store with show bills and sign boards will we try to impress false ideas in your mind that we are going out of business, but we do wish it understood that we are receiving daily shipments of the newest things in and kindred materials so desirable with the women folk of Greenville and Pitt county, and we do hope that you will at least favor us with a visit to see these many new things.

RIBBONS, SILKS, EMBROIDERIES, LACES

MISS COWARD'S SCHOOL.

Closes with Splendid Entertainment.

Miss Nancye Coward's school near Greenville closed Thursday night with an entertainment. There was no one present who was not astonished that such exercises could be had at the close of a school in a small building, as most of the public school buildings are.

The program was admirably selected and rendered in such a way as to do great credit both to the teacher and every pupil. Some of the pieces were exceptionally fine and beautiful.

There was a large crowd present, everybody was delighted. Everything that was done or said showed the hand of a teacher and exhibited talent in the children. At the close of the exercises three prizes, which had been offered by the teacher, were presented to the successful competitors. These were won by hard work and the contest was close. The community is, and ought to be proud of their school and they showed their interest by being present almost as entire community, and their outspoken appreciation of the entertainment.

The school will continue a month longer as a private school.

A number of people from Greenville were present and they are all lavish in their praise of the exercises.

RENTON ITEMS

RENTON, N. C., March 30, 1905.

The farmers are very busy. E. E. Dail went to Greenville yesterday.

Miss Sarah Barker, of Winterville, is visiting in this neighborhood.

Misses Pearl and Swante Nelson, of Grifton, spent Tuesday night with Miss Annie McLawhorn.

Jerome McLawhorn spent Tuesday evening with Miss Allie Dail.

H. Bentley Harris, of Greenville, was in the neighborhood Wednesday.

Miss Hattie Armstrong, of the F. W. B. Seminary, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Allie Dail.

Miss Tessie Speight returned to her school near Robersonville Monday.

We are sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Malone Tucker, who died Wednesday. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo McLawhorn, and liked by all who knew her. May God comfort the bereaved ones.

Charlie Fair, of Ayden, entertained the young people of our neighborhood last Saturday night with the music of his phonograph at the home of F. E. Dail. The music was of the highest type and the evening passed off very pleasantly indeed.

On Tuesday evening last it was our pleasure to attend the closing exercises of the Renton school. The sentiment of the entire crowd of spectators was that they had never been more highly entertained. At the conclusion of the exercises Miss Anderson, the teacher, was the recipient of a lovely bouquet of flowers from the Riverside Nursery by some of the pupils. Prof. Bagdale, after presenting the flowers in his most eloquent language, closed the exercises with some very appropriate remarks on education.

After Our Preacher.

The Fairmount Baptist church at Richmond has extended a call to Rev. A. T. King, pastor of the Memorial Baptist church in this town. He has the call under consideration, but has not yet decided what he will do about it. Greenville does not want to give him up.

DISTRICT CONGREGANCE.

Meets in Greenville April 25 30.

The District Conference of the Washington district will be held in Greenville Methodist church April 25th to 30th. The conference will be presided over by Rev. J. D. Bundy, Presiding Elder of this district, and a large number of ministers and lay delegates will be present. The first two days of the session, Tuesday and Wednesday, will be devoted to the consideration of the subject of missions, while the other work of the conference will last through Sunday.

Among the visiting ministers that are expected to attend the conference is Dr. Jno. C. Kilgo, president of Trinity College, and it is hoped that the Greenville people will have an opportunity to hear this distinguished orator preach during his stay among us.

SHELMEKDINE ITEMS

SHELMEKDINE, N. C. Mar. 31, 1905

Dr. L. E. Ricks was called to Patego Wednesday to be with his mother, who is quite sick.

Mrs. W. A. Bowen and son, Frances, and Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, of Greenville, visited Mrs. F. G. Whaley this week.

Miss John Whitfield continues very sick.

Dr. Hyatt, of Kinston, is in town this week.

Dr. E. A. Moye, of Greenville, visited Shelmerdine Thursday.

H. B. Phillips and J. D. Cox are in town this week.

L. Summeret, of Ayden, was in town today.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Dixon, who has been sick for several weeks, is no better.

Will Tyson and Miss Ellen Munford, of Grifton, were in Shelmerdine Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Whaley spent Sunday in Greenville with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Little.

April Weather.

DeVoe's weather forecast for April promises to bring mild weather, with frequent showers and some heavy rains, which may interfere locally with farming operations. From the 1st to the 4th of April it will be mild and pleasant. A storm period will advance from the 4th to 6th, causing cloudy weather and local showers. 7th to 9th warm and pleasant. 13th to 14th local thunder storms, 15 to 18th saltry. 19th to 21st heavy local rains and thunder storms. A storm will advance from the Gulf of Mexico and move up the Atlantic coast 24th to 26th, causing rains and cold weather, 27th to 28th cold and squally. 29th to 30th pleasant, followed by warm, growing weather.

Don't Get Too Close.

It is not the safest thing, if you want to keep dry, to stand too close to the street sprinkler when it is being filled at a hydrant. One gentleman who was not cautious in this particular got his toilet so disfigured that he had to go back home and put on his other clothes.

It Did Not Pay.

The bowling alley in the Quinley building is being torn out to make room for the building to be used for something else. Interest in the alley was short lived and as a money making investment it was a failure.

Club Meeting

There will be a business meeting of Carolina Club tonight to vote an application for membership. All members should be present.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Saturday

AYDEN ITEMS.

AYDEN, N. C., March 30, 1905

Mrs. Calvin Tucker, of Grifton, came up again Wednesday to be with her brother, Claude Quinley, who is still quite sick.

Mrs. J. M. Dixon went to Parmele Wednesday.

Rev. Mr. Barker has been here during the week.

We want Brother Whichard to hold his 'tater. We are not mad, even if we are a little off. [Same here.—Ed.]

Work on the brick stores has been temporarily suspended owing to a lack of cement.

R. J. Little, of Kinston, a former Pitt county boy, paid us a very pleasant visit Wednesday.

A gentleman in our town bought a new pair pants the other day, and in changing for his old pair he made a very serious mistake by unknowingly leaving the contents of the pockets at home. Coming down town he was not long in missing a very valuable pocket book, notes, money, &c. Of course he had plenty of sympathy and many joined in the search for the lost book. The advertisement given those pants can never be equalled by the best circulated paper in the kingdom. Ayden can boast at least of one wide-awake and far-seeing citizen, better than whom it will be hard to find, when new pants are to be advertised.

Weak minded, we are free to admit. But really, can THE REFLECTOR show a single line where it 'invited the teachers' to hold their institute in Greenville. Weak minded, maybe so. Jealous! absurd! [It is not THE REFLECTOR doing the writing, but the people of Greenville—one of whom we are Whichard—as a whole, and it is with them in all good movements.—Ed.]

Town election! Fellow citizens prepare your ballot. First Monday in May.

W. J. Munford has been confined at his home during the week with chill and fever.

Mrs. Samuel Tyson is away on a visit to friends.

Miss Lula Smith is in Parmele with her sister.

Miss Annie Dudley & Co. will have their spring opening April 5th and 6th. The public are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Jeanie Morrison, after a long visit to her home in Bertie, returned here Tuesday and resumed her place in her millinery department.

We are pleased that the condition of Claude Quinley is so much improved. He was able to be out riding yesterday eve.

Tuesday evening just at sundown the alarm of fire was sounded and upon rushing to the scene it was discovered that the home of John and Gatsy Braxton, two worthy colored people, was in flames. The fire had gained such headway it was impossible to save the building and only very little of the furniture was saved. It is supposed two little children left in the house alone caused the fire. This old couple had the best furnished home among our colored people in town and their loss is a severe one, as it was the work and accumulation of their lifetime. The entire people of Ayden will respond promptly to their needs and we hope this unfortunate couple may realize they are not entirely without friends.

To Clean Cemetery.

The town will soon have Cherry Hill cemetery thoroughly cleaned out, and the cemetery committee desires that all lot owners there have their lots cleaned off, first so the town hands can remove all the rubbish when they go to clean the walks. Lot owners should attend to this at once.

And the Southern will make them pay their fare from Durham to Asheville.

The fruit prognosticator is saying the cold spell to come in April will catch it at about the right stage to kill most of it. He might have waited awhile to tell us.

"What and how to eat" is the heading of an article in some of the papers. It is the what and not the how that troubles us down this way. If the what to eat is forthcoming we can show you how mighty quick.

Kinston is going at the matter right by ordering compulsory vaccination and enforcing it. Greenville took that step last fall with the result that the threatened invasion of smallpox was quickly checked and none has been here since.

Should a Newspaper Make Money.

Why it should be so we cannot tell, or where it came from we do not know, but there is an opinion more or less prevalent in the public mind that the chief business of a newspaper is to be a moral educator and an advocate of industrial enterprises, and the like. Along with this opinion is the other opinion that a newspaper has no use for money except just enough to pay printers, rent and postage and barely bar the door from the door. In what we are here saying we do not have in mind the great metropolitan papers, such as are printed in London, Paris, New York, and other great cities; but we have in mind the country papers, dailies and weeklies, such as are printed in the ordinary North Carolina town. We heartily assent to the proposition that newspapers should be moral educators and advocates of industrial and agricultural progress; but we do not see why there should be any prejudice against a newspaper having a good bank account. Almost any man will tell you that a good newspaper is one of the most helpful influences of any town and community; but the average man is sure to act as if he cares little about the paper other than that it exist and do good work for its community. The average subscriber prefers to read his paper a year before he pays for it, when the fact is he ought to pay the cash when he subscribes just as readily as he would pay the cash for a hat. The hat will last him a year, and he pays for it before he uses it. The newspaper will last him a year but he does not want to pay for it until he has used it a year, and a great many refuse to pay for it then. The average merchant in a country town will kick like a Texas steer on paying five dollars a month for a half a column advertisement to be changed every insertion, but will plunk down seven dollars and a half to some sharp talker who prints just one card three by four inches for the same merchant, slips it in the hotel register and leaves it there just so all the year. The average man who patronizes a newspaper has the attitude of trying to beat it down in price, whether it be for advertising, job printing, or what not. The average newspaper in North Carolina does twice as much service to its community as any other institution for the same money, and then has to take much criticism and abuse because it doesn't exactly please the whims of everybody in the community. All things considered, we believe that a good, safe newspaper is entitled to a good bank account just as much as the merchant or the manufacturer, or the professional man.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Japan's Tobacco Monopoly.

Japan has recently taken over to herself a monopoly of the manufacture and sale of tobacco in the flowery kingdom. It has strengthened her credit wonderfully. Now that another war loan is asked for we find prospective investors in London literally clamoring for the opportunity to take up the proposed loan. This indicates the financial value to Japan of the big monopoly. With this as security she finds all the money she wants at easy rates. To be sure this step is somewhat socialistic; but all monopolies point to that end. The artificial monopolies in this country which are so nearly perfected under the name of trusts are the most powerful breeders of socialism possible. They point to an ultimate assumption of many socialistic activities by the government, unless their power can be broken and a wholesome degree of competition restored.—Kinston Free Press.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates on experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some souse meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store.

The Farmers And Sully.

Turn about is fair play, so we think the farmers ought to come to the assistance of Mr. Sully, the ex-cotton king of New York and help him to put back some of the many thousands in his pocket that he put in theirs last year. Indeed, if they had taken Sully's advice and held off they could have gotten $1 cents for their cotton last week as easily as they got 8. From all accounts it was a costly experiment for Sully and his crowd. They hoped that there was still magic in his name and presence by which to conjure, but there was too much cotton unsold and too many farmers afraid that their neighbors would let go before they themselves could and in the rush the market broke and their bull friend has unfortunately lost, we suspect, some more of his money and certainly some more of his prestige. But if the farmers will stand by Sully he will do all that any man can for them (and for himself, too), and that may be a good deal.—Charlotte Chronicle.

A Dinner Invitation.

After a hearty meal a dose of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will prevent an attack of indigestion. Kodol is a thorough digestant and a guaranteed cure for indigestion, dyspepsia, gas on the stomach, sour rising, bad breath and all stomach troubles. N. Watkins, Lesbus, Ky., says: "I can testify to the efficacy of Kodol in the cure of Stomach Trouble. I was afflicted with Stomach Trouble for fifteen years and have taken six bottles of your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which entirely cured me. The six bottles were worth $1,000 to me." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest any quantity of all the wholesome food you want to eat while your stomach takes rest—recuperates and grows strong. This wonderful preparation is justly entitled to all of its many remarkable cures. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Prof. Williston, of Chicago University, declares that man is to become extinct and ultimately birds will dominate the earth. Fessor knows what he is talking about, for it is even so in this day and time that every man who is a high flyer meets up with many a gay bird.—Wilmington Star.

A spring tonic that makes sick people well. Drives out all impurities that collect in your system. A family tonic for the sick and afflicted. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

Scratched Up Pot of Gold.

A gentleman here Monday says that a dog belonging to Gilmore Taylor, of near Handy, recently scratched up $10 in gold in Mr. Taylor's yard, and this led to the discovery of a considerable amount of money. Mr. Taylor noticed a bright piece of metal shining under the dogs feet. He picked it up and found it to be a $5 gold piece. Mrs. Taylor joined in the search and also found $5 in gold. Mr. Taylor then secured a mattock and after a little digging unearthed a sum of money—just how much he refuses to tell, but acknowledges it is quite a tidy sum.—Lexington Dispatch.

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

If farmers do not cut down the cotton crop this year, they will have themselves to blame when they get five cents for their old and new cotton next November. A small crop guarantees a living price. A big crop guarantees starvation prices.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Pleasant and Harmless

Don't drug the stomach to cure a cough. One Minute Cough Cure cuts the mucus, draws the inflammation out of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes, heals, soothes and cures. A quick cure for Croup and Whooping Cough, One Minute Cough Cure relieves a cough in one minute because it acts first on the mucous membrane right where the cough troubles—in the throat or deep-seated on the lungs. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

A Destructive Fire

To draw the fire out of a burn, or heal a cut without leaving a scar, use DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A specific for piles. Get the genuine. J. L. Tucker, editor of the Harmonizer, Centre Ala., writes: "I have used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve in my family for Piles, cuts and burns. It is the best salve on the market. Every family should keep it on hand." Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

By the Tonic Route

The pills that acts as a tonic, and not as a drastic purge, are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cure Headache, Constipation, Biliouness, etc. Early Risers are small, easy to take and easy to act—a safe pill. Mack Hamilton, hotel clerk at Valley City, N. D., says: "Two bottles cured me of chronic constipation." Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

Cured of Lame After 15 Years of Suffering

"I had been troubled with lame back for fifteen years and I found a complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says John G. Bisher, Gilliam, Ind. This liniment is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. It is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

If you want your little ones strong, healthy and robust, give them Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea this month. A tonic for the whole family. The children's friend: 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

THE FOLLOWING CORRESPONDENCE EXPLAINS ITSELF.

GREENVILLE, N. C., March 4th, 1905.

Wood Brothers,
New Sale Conductors,
New York, N. Y.,

Gentlemen:-

While have received considerable financial relief from our over stocked stores and maturing obligation through the sales you have conducted for us since February 1st, we are still in an unpleasant and over stocked position relative to disposing of the merchandise and shall be pleased to employ you to map out a further course for us by which we may be able to dispose of the remaining lots of choice merchandise and enable us to get the quickest relief at the earliest possible moment before receiving Spring Shipments which we have agreed to take. Please give this your best efforts and let us hear from you at once.

Yours very truly,

C. T. MUNFORD

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 7, 1905.

Mr. C. T. Munford,
Greenville, N. C.,

Dear Mr. Munford:-

Your communication of the 4th is before us at present. Low prices and holding back the cotton crop from market has place hundreds of Solid Southern Merchants in just your position. The only course we can advise, is to throw your entire stock on the market at prices so low you can dispose of the stock quickly and take the sacrifice best you can. Holding together thousands of dollars of idle merchandise means final ruin to any merchant. Advertise diligently give your costumers the best of values. Thereby protecting both you and your costumers' interest. With best wishes for your success. We remain,

Respectfully yours,

WOOD BROTHERS.

PAPOOSE POPCORN

A New and Delicious
FORAGE, POULTRY, POPPING

A subscriber to the Southern Agriculturist secured the original seed from an old Indian in Northwest Texas. After experimenting with it seven years he wrote that paper: "With good ground and care it will make from 50 to 100 bushels to the acre, and planted thick and cut stalk and all it will make more feed and better feed than anything I ever saw. The old Indian said poultry fed on it would never have the cholera. I have not lost a fowl with cholera since I have been raising it. It also pops beautifully." This article brought hundreds of requests for seed, and now only a few bushels are left. Send 10c for a 3 months' trial subscription to Southern Agriculturist, 39 C. P. Bldg., Nashville, Tenn., and you will get 100 seed by return mail, also details of $50 prize seed-growing contest.

GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

WHAT "HORSEPOWER" IS.

It Means the Average Work One Horse Does in a Minute.

What is the relative amount of work that a man can do in comparison with a horse or machinery? At his very best the strongest man stands in pretty poor comparison even with a horse for hard, continuous labor. He might perform for a few minutes one-half horsepower of work, but to keep this up for any great length of time would be impossible.

Thus the gain in forcing horses to do a part of the world's work was enormous. One horse could exhaust a dozen men in a single day and still be ready for the next day's work.

The measurement of a horse's power for work was first ascertained by Watt, the father of the modern steam engine, and he expressed this in terms that hold today. He experimented with a great number of heavy brewery horses to satisfy himself that his unit of measurement for work was correct. After many trials he ascertained that the average brewery horse was doing work equal to that required to raise 330 pounds of weight 100 feet high in one minute, or 33,000 pounds one foot in one minute. So he called this one horsepower.

This work, however, is not continuous, for the horse would have to back up after each pull to lower the line of the pulley, and thus he would work four hours a day in pulling 330 pounds in the air at the rate of 100 feet a minute and four hours in slacking up the rope. Consequently no horse can actually perform continuously what is generally called one horsepower. The horse was never born that could tug at a rope for eight hours a day, pulling 330 pounds 100 feet each minute without rest or change. Consequently when we speak of horsepower we refer only to the average work a horse can do in one minute—that is to say, the rate at which he can work.

A strong man might pull half that weight 100 feet in the air in two minutes, but he could not repeat the operation many times without being exhausted.

For all needful purposes the expression of one horsepower is accurate enough and practically shows the measurement of an average horse's abilities for working. As a rule, a strong man can in eight hours work at the rate of about one-tenth of one horsepower—that is, it would require ten men to pull 330 pounds 100 feet in the air in a minute and then slack up and repeat the operation throughout the eight hours of a working day. The world's gain in labor when horses were first employed to help man in his work was thus tenfold.—St. Nicholas.

As She Would Have Been.

A gentleman in Paris paid a visit to a lady in whose drawing room he saw a portrait of a lovely woman of, say, five and twenty.

Upon the entrance of the lady her visitor naturally asked her if the picture was a family portrait and was told that it represented her deceased daughter.

"Is it long since you lost her?" asked the gentleman.

"Alas, sir," replied the lady, "she died just after her birth, and I had a portrait painted to represent her as she would have appeared if she had lived until now!"—London Mail.

A Death of Oxygen.

The wide awake student in his haste occasionally puts a question which the next minute he might regret. The New York Tribune reminds us of the story of a Harvard instructor who was lecturing on oxygen.

"Oxygen," said he, "is essential to all animal existence. There could be no life without it. Yet, strange to say, it was discovered only a century ago."

"What did they do then, sir," a student asked, "before it was discovered?"

Not What She Meant.

"Your little birdie has been very, very ill," she wrote to the young man. "It is some sort of nervous trouble, and the doctors said I must have perfect rest and quiet and that I must think of nothing. And all the time, dear Gussy, I thought constantly of you."

The young man read it over, and then read it through very slowly and put it in his pocket, and went out under the silent stars and kept thinking and thinking and thinking.

A Crocodile's Appetite.

On the banks of the Teluga river, in Cutch, there was recently killed, says the King, a crocodile, and the following inventory was made of the contents of the brute's stomach: A half digested little calf, a human skull, a silver bangle, some brass ornaments, a little tin box containing tobacco, a lime case, a nutcracker, a railway ticket, a horn case containing twelve annas, six pie in copper and a soda water bottle containing some mustard oil.

You will need to prepare your system for the coming hot weather, get your organs to work like clock work. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea taken this month will do the business. 35 cents, 75c or 1.00 per box. Wooten's Drug Store.

Scaring Him Away.

The musical young woman and her father were on their way home after Professor Fortissimo's piano recital.

"He has all the pupils he can take at $10 a lesson and more opportunities to play in concert than he can accept," said the young woman enthusiastically. "And just to think that five years ago—he has told me himself—the wolf was always at his door!"

"Well, then, I'll venture to say he didn't pound as loud as he does now," said the unfeeling parent.

An Eye to Business.

He (just refused)—Then life has no further charm. I shall kill myself.

She—By poison?

He—Probably.

She—Well, you'll excuse my mentioning it, but my brother Jack has just opened a chemist's shop, and you may as well buy the poison of him. It would encourage poor Jack and prove your devotion to me.—London Telegraph.

Applying a Test.

"It shall be my ambition, father," said a young man who had finished his education and was ready to lift the cares of business from the parental shoulders, "it shall be my ambition and my motto to keep the family name free from stain."

"All right," said the old man. "Tell the office boy to give you the whitening and ammonia, and then go and polish up the brass door plate."—London Star.

Objectionable Antique.

Mr. Cribbs—Mrs. C., I have borne with resignation—nay, even cheerfulness—antique chairs that wobbled, antique clocks that were always thirteen hours behind time, antique rugs that some prehistoric Turk wove, antique china, antique bowls, pans and kettles. All this I have smiled at, but when you give me antique eggs for breakfast I draw the line.

A Juvenile Critic.

The celebrated soprano was in the middle of her solo when little Johnny said to his mother, referring to the conductor of the orchestra:

"Why does that man hit at the woman with his stick?"

"He is not hitting at her," replied his mother. "Keep quiet."

"Well, then, what is she hollerin' for?"—Answers.
