BY RAIL FROM GREENVILLE TO FARMVILLE.

Best Agricultural Section of Eastern Carolina.

[By J. M. Hines, Correspondent St. Louis Daily World and Industrial Press Syndicate]

Level Lawn Farm, Near Farmville, N. C. April—Leaving the enterprising young business city of Greenville, that is located on the banks of the Tar, commonly known as Tar river, and the capital of the banner agricultural county of the state, "Old Pitt," as it is known from ocean to ocean and from Canada to Cuba for its bright golden tobacco, taking prizes when ever exhibited.

We boarded one of the trains of the great Atlantic Coast Line for Farmville. This system gridrons Eastern Carolina with its many branches leading to any habitable point that the tourists, commercial messengers, homeseekers and investors may desire to visit within the limits of the old North state and her sister, South Carolina.

After crossing the Tar river at Greenville, the tourist, and especially the agriculturist, becomes interested in the physical features of the country. Before him lies broad fields of many acres of fertile, level land, where can be seen the plowman at the handles and other laborers engaged in farm work preparing the soil for the seed, on the other hand can be seen thousands of woodland acres, not yet touched by the woodman's axe and saw. But there are evidences of the enterprising lumbermen left to show that he has been there. As we pass along this line of road—the stumps that now stand, where once the tall forest pines reached their lofty tops towards the skies and gathered the sighing bees through their green needles—tell the story enterprise, the trees have been cut and converted into commercial lumber.

When Parmele is reached a change of cars is made for Tarboro and Farmville. A short stop is made at this place to meet trains for other points. When the conductor gives the signal for leaving, a smile of pleasure passes over each passenger's face as much as to say "Farewell Parmele, thou art absent but still remembered."

From here we start for Tarboro, passing over a fine country, with many inducements for settlers and investors. From this old town, Tarboro, the head of navigation on the Tar river, we start for the new town of Farmville on a branch road, which has its beginning here and ending at Farmville, passing through what has long been known as the finest farming section of Edgecombe and Pitt counties. Although the road has not been in operation but a short time there are many evidences developing to show what great advantages are to be gained for the people by its construction. It has opened up a fine country for agricultural and industrial pursuits.

A gentleman in Iowa wrote me the other day asking what was the best section of North Carolina to locate where he could raise truck and garden stuff for market. He said he wanted land enough for eight families and not more than 160 acres to the tract. They want to locate near rail and water transportation. He says the severe past winter has caused a great many people in the Northwest to think seriously of moving South to avoid the rigors of the winters in that section. He said he had been over the Southwest but wanted to get into a section where he would not have to remain indoors eight months in the year.

Another gentleman from Nebraska asked if land can be bought on time by making a good cash payment at time of purchase. He says his attention was attracted to the South, by the splendid agricultural, industrial, and mineral exhibits he saw at the world's fair at St. Louis.

DEATH OF MR. BAKER.

Highly Respected Citizen Passed Away.

Mr. Allen Baker died at his home about three miles from Greenville this morning shortly after three o'clock. Mr. Baker retired as usual last night, and was heard strangling in bed about three o'clock, and died in a few minutes.

The deceased was a good farmer and a highly respected citizen. He was an active member of the Free Will Baptist church, and was a man of high Christian character. He was about sixty five years old and leaves a wife, and three grown sons, all of whom live near Greenville.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon but at the present time we are unable to find out where the interment will be.

Story of a Check.

About three years ago Mr. J. W. H. Bonitz, proprietor of the Bonitz Hotel cashed a check for a stranger who was visiting in Wilmington.

The check was deposited in a local bank by Mr. Bonitz, who was surprised several days later to learn that the bank in the north on which the check was drawn, had returned the paper with the information stamped on the bank, "No deposits" or words to that effect.

Mr. Bonitz took the matter in a philosophical manner and quietly posted the check in a conspicuous place at his hotel, and waited.

Yesterday Mr. Bonitz learned that the maker of the check, who had not been seen by him since the paper was cashed, was in the city.

Mr. Bonitz went behind the counter in the hotel—took off the check—picked up his hat—and went to see Magistrate Bornemann. The circumstances were explained to the magistrate, who also picked up his hat and walked quietly out, looking for the man who gave the check.

Mr. Bonitz returned to the hotel and apparently forgot all about the matter. Thirty minutes later Magistrate Bornemann entered. "I have a check," said the magistrate. "Thank you," said Mr. Bonitz. "Please take out the fees," and the incident was closed.—Wilmington Dispatch.

LETTER TO J. S. SMITH.

Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir: We bid on a job, and somebody else underbid us 5 cents a gallon—and got it. Devoe is all paint; the other was adulterated 38 percent.

Three hundred gallons of it contains less paint than 200 of Devoe. They saved $5 on each hundred gallons and lost $100 to $500 on each extra hundred gallons they had to use.

The job was Hotel Chamberlain, Old Point Comfort, Va. big job as hotels go.

It shows the wisdom or folly of buying by price per gallon.

Go by the name, Devoe. Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & Co. P. S. H. L. Carr sells our paint.

Bank Officers.

At the recent meeting of the stock holders of the Greenville Banking & Trust Co., L. I. Moore and R. J. Cobb were re-elected president and cashier respectively. J. R. Spier was elected vice-president, C. S. Carr was promoted to assistant cashier and T. J. Moore was added to the clerical force as assistant book keeper.

If some men were to refrain from telling what they don't know it would be a great surprise to their acquaintances.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Friday, warmer Friday.

Cleanliness is said to be next to godliness, yet one seldom sees a laundry next door to a church.

It's as cowardly to speak ill of a man behind his back as it is dangerous to say it to his face.

A man is so unreasonable he would rather pay doctor's bills than milliner's bills.

A man imagines he meets a lot of his inferiors daily—but he doesn't.

Don't imagine that a man can talk on any subject just because he does.

The Right Name is DeWitt

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures, soothes and heals cuts, burns, blisters, bruises, piles and all skin diseases. K. E. Zekhouse, Adolph W. Va., says: "My little daughter had white swelling so bad that piece after piece of bone worked out of her leg. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured her." It is the most wonderful healing salve in the world. Beware of counterfeits. Sold by J. L. Wooten's drug store.

FITTED FEET.

A man can make himself a big lot of misery by wearing wrong shoes—and it often proves the "wrong shoe" when one Man insists on having a style just like some friend wears.

There are several radical families of feet. Let us fit yours—for the fitted foot looks better than one cramped or twisted into a wrong shaped shoe. Straight lasts, swing or Common Sense lasts. Any normal foot can be fitted and fitted well from one of these three shapes.

HAVE YOU SEEN This Seasons styles?

They are splendid specimens of structurality of au less Footwear. Such Men's Shoes are not sold anywhere else for less than a half to a dollar more in price. All leathers in a galaxy of stylish toes.

ARRIVING DAILY.

There is one thing that we do not claim in our business to do and that is to sell goods cheaper than they can be bought—neither do we want to create the impression that our store is full of shop worn, out of style goods nor by filling our store with show bills and sign boards will we try to impress false ideas in your mind that we are going out of business, but we do wish it understood that we are receiving daily shipments of the newest things in

The Panama canal may be completed by the next century.

When all danger of frost has passed truckers will have lost that anxious feeling.

Some of our Justices are from Missouri—that is when vagrants say they have visible means of support.

"All coons look alike" whether in Kentucky or North Carolina. A colored lawyer was going from Washington City to Lexington, Ky. Arriving at the Kentucky border he was sent to a seat in the "Jim Crow" car according to the laws of that state. He entered suit against the railroad for $10,000 damages, but will hardly remember recovering it.

In these days mountains do not stand in the way of railroads, and the great transportation companies in order to shorten and straighten their lines, understand feats of engineering that make the world look on in astonishment. It sometimes takes years of labor, millions of money and scores of lives to accomplish these. The Southern railway has recently awarded a contract for a tunnel under Lookout mountain in carrying a branch of that road from Chattanooga to Stevens, Ala. The cost will be between two and three millions dollars.

The Good Old North State.

More than 5,000 people met on the old Appomattox battlefield Thursday to attend the unveiling of a monument erected as a tribute to the gallantry, daring and patriotic devotion of the soldiers of North Carolina who fought for the Confederate cause. Virginians and North Carolinians vied with each other in paying affectionate tribute to these heroes. It matters not whether North Carolina troops were "first at Bethel" and "last at Appomattox;" it is established beyond a doubt that they were always where duty called, no matter how hot the fight, and always gave a splendid account of themselves.

We have no quarrel with our brethren of Old North State. We may feel a little piqued that they should claim so much for their soldiers. Yet in our heart of hearts we cannot but admire the spirit of pride behind the claim. In all ages men have been proud of victory, proud of any cause which they may have won in any way, for success, however achieved and for whatever purpose, carries with it a certain prestige and gives a certain exhilaration. But for a State to be proud of a "Lost Cause," and to be proud of the achievements of her soldiers who fought for that cause, and to boast forty years thereafter that her soldiers were first in the fray and last to leave, is so delightful that resentment is lost in wonder and admiration. Three "rebel yells" for the Old North State and her noble soldiers.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Sing Him to Sleep.

Tired of his playthings
When he see da shadders creep,
He climb ter kiss his mammy—
Sing him ter sleep!
Den it is he always
Lovin' her a heap,
Wid her arms aroun' him—
Sing him ter sleep!
Worl' is full er trouble:
Home's de place ter keep
W'en de shadders fallin'—
Sing him ter sleep!
—Atlanta Constitution.

It is a shameful fact but selfishness is more highly developed than any other quality in man. He hears the fire alarm, counts the strokes, and if they indicate some other block than that in which he lives, he loses interest in the fire and turns again to his work. A Calcutta dispatch of the 8th tells that more than 10,000 people lost their lives in a recent earthquake which practically swallowed up the town of Palanpur, India, and that of the population of 17,000 less than 100 are believed to have escaped unscratched. Yet a man at this distance reads of this fearful destruction of human life with less concern than he would experience if he missed his cup of coffee at breakfast.—Charlotte Observer.

Forget About Your Stomach.

If your digestion is bad the vital organs of your body are not fed and nourished as they should be. They grow weak and invite disease. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, cures indigestion and all stomach troubles. You forget you have a stomach from the very day you begin taking it. This is because it gets a rest—recuperates and gradually grows so strong and healthy that it troubles you no more. E. L. Babcock, Amherst, Minn., says: "I have taken a great many remedies for indigestion but have found nothing equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure." Kodol digests what you eat, cures indigestion, Dyspepsia, sour stomach, belching, heartburn and all stomach troubles. Its preparation is the result of many years of research. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

The British House of Commons Saturday for the seventh time passed a bill permitting a man to marry the sister of his dead wife. This bill has always been defeated in the House of Lords and it is believed that it will be defeated again. It will probably be news to many people to know that English law forbids a man to marry the sister of his deceased wife, but such is the fact, and the rules of the Southern Presbyterian church also forbade such a marriage until a few years ago. The marriage which was made a test case and which finally resulted in the rules being changed, occurred in Iredell county.—Statesville Landmark.

A Tried and True Friend.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use it. Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., says: "Coughing and straining so weakened me that I run down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. After trying a number of remedies to no avail, One Minute Cough Cure entirely cured me." Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

On the scaffold they usually announce that they are going straight to heaven, but we have come across an exception in the case of a man who was hanged in Pennsylvania, a few days ago. He died mad. He said that certain parties had sworn his life away, and he prayed the "good Creator" not to take him to heaven, but let him return to earth in the shape of a "haunt" so that he could make these men miserable day and night, until they die. If his enemies are at all superstitious it is likely that they will spend many an uncomfortable hour in anticipation of a visit from the "haunt."—Charlotte Chronicle.

It appears that the farmers think they have to have so much money and if they cannot get ten cents for cotton they will raise enough of five-cent cotton to bring the amount needed.—Durham Herald.

A number of Pittsburg girls among others, have set their small feet down against the cigarette, and have adopted a "lips that touch tobacco shall never touch mine" platform. So far, it has set them back many plates of ice cream, but up to going to press, they were still holding out, says Tobacco World. The fiat is that no boy in their set may smoke cigarettes. If a boy in their set does smoke a cigarette and they find it out the boy is no longer in their set. In some cases it is reported as having come rather hard for the girls, but they declare they will carry it to a finish.—Winston-Salem Tobacco Journal.

Won a Name of Fame.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills, have been made famous by their certain yet harmless and gentle action upon the bowels and liver. They have no equal for biliousness, constipation, etc. They do not weaken the stomach, gripe, or make you feel sick. Once used always preferred. They strengthen. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The tobacco planter's association is congratulating itself over the fact that it has succeeded in curtailing the new crop. What we would like to know is, how do they know it will be curtailed. It is one thing to speculate, but taking the past as a criterion, whenever this has been undertaken, somehow when the crop comes in there is very little curtailment.—Durham Sun.

Don't let the children suffer. If they are fretful, peevish and cross, give them Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. The best baby tonic known. Strength and health follow its use. 35 cents. Wooten's Drug Store.

"The best way to pity a man is to pick him up," observed Henry Cope in the Washington Post, and immediately the bulls eye ball scored a centre shot. The windy, hot air, non-performing "sympathizers," of a brother in hard luck don't count for much in this world and will not be allowed to cut any ice in the next one.—Raleigh Times.

Replenishing a wardrobe. She (coaxingly) — Your little wifey is very anxious to see her mother again. He—Yes, of course — er — very natural. She—I cannot go to visit her, you know, without a complete new traveling suit and a few new dresses for extra occasions, but if you feel very poor, my love, I can stay at home and have mother come here, you know. He—Poor! Nonsense. I'm making money right along. Here's a check.

A Solution. The schoolmaster of a certain vil lage asked his pupils the following question: "Suppose in a family there are five children, and the mother has only four potatoes between them. Now, she wants to give each child an equal share. What is she going to do?" Silence reigned in the room. Everybody calculated very hard till a little boy stood up and gave the following unexpected answer: "Mash the potatoes, sir."

A Natural Conclusion. "So you want to marry my daughter," remarked the old gentleman. "I certainly do," replied the youth. "Well, what are your prospects?" persisted the old gentleman. "My dear sir," replied the youth, "the prospects of any fellow who marries the daughter of a man as rich and influential as you are ought to be splendid."

Autocrat of the Table. Indulgent Father—Now, children, your mother tells me you are ex travagant in the use of butter; that you take a great deal more on your plates than you really need or even consume. When I was a boy at home we never had any butter. Six-year-old Hopeful—Ain't you glad you're livin' with us now, papa? —New York Press.

The Family Circle. A countryman and his bride ap plied at the box office for tickets. "Orchestra chairs, parquet or fam ily circle?" asked the ticket seller. "Which'll it be, Maria?" asked the groom. "Well," she replied, with a blush, "as we're married, now, p'rhaps it would be proper to sit in the family circle." — Nashville American.

O. K. The original of the symbol "O. K." is attributed to John Jacob Astor, founder of the Astor family in this country. If a note of inquiry as to any particular trader's financial con dition or credit responsibility came to him and he found the trader re sponsible, he would write across the note the letters "O. K." Astor was unable to read or write English cor rectly, and he supposed O. K. to be the initials of "All Correct."
